Forest County Board meets on the budget and $46,000 allocated for proposed MRA Park

By Mike Monte

Last Tuesday evening, the Forest County Board met to discuss and pass the annual budget. The proposed motorized recreational area (MRA) was discussed at length.

At issue was whether or not the county would budget $46,000 to provide matching funds for a possible grant of the same amount in the event of a successful grant award to Forest County from the Wisconsin Economic Development corporation's Community Development Investment grant program.

The budget issue was passed unanimously by 19 board members with DeHart and Landru not present.

This money would be held in a fund and used for preliminary work, such as engineering costs, and paid out by the county as services were rendered on the project.

During the discussion, some of the details of the proposed park were brought to light by UW Extension Agent Steve Nelson.

According to Nelson, the park would be most active from May to October, and the anticipated number of people using the park would total about 30,000 people. The timeline for the opening of the park is from six months to two years from present. The Wisconsin Off-road Vehicle Park Inc. could use the land by renting or leasing.

Nelson said that the estimated cost of buying the 10,000 acres was $12 million, with another $1 million for building infrastructure. The county would own the land, and would enjoy any timber revenue from the property.

Where the money would come from was covered, with a HUD grant from the federal government and a loan from the Wisconsin Bureau of Commissioners of Public Lands. The limit for a loan from the Commissioners to a municipality is $10 million, and the amount of the grant request wasn't mentioned, or it was missed by this reporter.

This means that Forest County would own the land, should a deal be made at what is still an undisclosed location. A deal could then be made with the Wisconsin Off-road Vehicle Park, Inc. to operate the proposed park. And, if Forest County does own the land, it is not a part of the county forest system. If the land goes to private ownership, the severance fees for removal from Managed Forest would have to be paid.

What, it was asked would happen if the park should fail? The answer by Nelson was that the land would probably then be part of the county forest system and managed by the county forester. The taxpayer would then pay off the loan.

County Board Member Paul Cleereman, Caswell, asked what would happen to Caswell's tax base should the county own the land and Caswell wouldn't get their share of the taxes or any of the severance payments, and there was no answer given.

Questions were asked about rescue squad costs at the site, and the answer was that there should be sufficient revenue generated by the park to handle medical emergency costs.

Board Member Bunda, Town of Lincoln, pointed out that if there were 30,000 visitors to the park per year, and the projected increase in county sales tax revenue was the $300,000 projected, then each visitor would have to spend $2,000 per visit to the park.

Lemaster, Argonne, asked if there would be public hearings, and he was assured by Chairman Millan that there would be three public hearings on the subject.

Town of Lincoln citizen Dave Meier wanted to know when the board and the citizenry could view a final business plan before committing to a large debt by the county, and was told that the plan is being fine tuned and finalized. He said that we are given the conclusions but not the reasons for the conclusions.

It was agreed that WORVPI would not be given the $46,000 unless there application for a grant was approved.

The annual budget was passed.

Salvation Army can use bell ringers-Need not be musically gifted!

The Salvation Army purchased an ad this week looking for Bell Ringers to help raise money for those who could use a hand getting through tough times.

People, especially during the cold season and the holidays, need help with food, shelter, clothing and much more, which is why they come to the Salvation Army.

First, donate when you see somebody outside a business place ringing a bell, and second, you can volunteer to be a bell-ringer.

Volunteers are needed, and if you would like to lend a helping hand, call Jackie at 715-478-2683. Your help will be much appreciated.

It should be noted that the Salvation Army is a charity that has an extremely low administration cost. Almost all of what you donate goes where it is needed.

Commemorating Erhardt Huettl

Before the start of the County Board Meeting last Wednesday evening, a plaque was presented to the family of the late Erhardt Huettl, giving special recognition to his many years of service on the Forest County Board. The plaque was accepted by members of the family, with wife Mary Huettl accepting the plaque. It will hang in the County Board meeting room in the Forest County Courthouse.

Celebrating our Veterans

By Boyd Monte

Veteran's Day is a day to celebrate all of the people that have served their country in war time and in peace. If a person served, November 11, is the day that is set aside for them. All of the towns across the United States have services to honor their veterans. Forest County is no different.

Saturday, November 9, The Forest County Veterans held a supper. The guests of honor were, Steve Conway, Bill Bates, Norm Knoll, Homer Rosa and Win Abney. These veterans recently took the Old Glory Flight

School District of Wabeno Area Budget Update

Submitted by the School District of Wabeno

At the Annual Meeting on Monday, October 28, residents of the School District of Wabeno Area approved a tax levy of $4,428, 871 for the 2013-14 school year, resulting in a mill rate of 5.624. This is a decrease in the tax levy from the 2012-2013 year in which the mill rate was 6.171. The decrease is primarily due to the school district retiring its remaining outstanding debt during the 2012-2013 school year.

Unlike other districts in the state, the primary revenue source for the School District of Wabeno Area is the local tax levy. The School District of Wabeno Area receives approximately 79% of the general fund through local sources, 11% from state sources, 6% from federal sources, and 4% from other sources.

The legislation that Governor Scott Walker signed on October 20 to increase state general aid for schools did little to offset property taxes in the School District of Wabeno Area. Because the district receives little state aid, the new legislation brought only $30 additional state dollars to the district. This, in turn, merely decreased the total district tax levy by $30.

In 1993, Wisconsin Statute 121.90 placed a limit on the revenue a school district is entitled to receive from general state aid and local tax levies. The maximum limit is based upon enrollment changes, legislative action, and each district's prior year controlled revenue. Therefore, these revenue limits more severely affect school districts with declining enrollment.

Due to several years of declining enrollment and the affect of revenue limits, the School District of Wabeno Area is utilizing its fund balance to help meet expenses. Spending fund balance cannot be used as a long term solution; some fund balance must be maintained to ensure cash flow and to prevent short term borrowing. Therefore, the School District of Wabeno Area will be putting an operating referendum back on the ballot in April, 2014. More information about the referendum will be published in the upcoming months.

Angel Collection on Display

In our display case for the month of November is the angel collection of Zelma Carlson of Laona. Zelma began this collection in 1954 and her daughter, who is an over-the-road truck driver, has helped develop the collection by finding many of the angels at truck stops during her travels. Many of the items in the display are from South Dakota and Wyoming while others were discovered in the Mississippi area. The display includes angels made of natural wood papers and twines, an angel made of shining stainless steel with engraved designs, a strikingly beautiful stained glass angel of deep red as well as a delicate group of crystal merry-go-round angels that spin. Zelma's collection is a delightful variety of angels and we're thankful that Zelma chose to share it with us and the community.

Changes for shore land zoning in Town of Lincoln and Nashville

By Boyd Monte

A Forest County Zoning meeting on shore land zoning took place on Wednesday, November 6th, in the county board room in the Forest County Courthouse.

John Rhode, assistant cooperation council to Forest County, was present to answer any questions and explain the decision of the District II Court of Appeals, Stephen Hedgwood versus Town of Eagle Board of Appeals, that has given the State of Wisconsin a new shore land zoning law. This law would affect the Town of Lincoln and the Town of Nashville. The decision decided that the towns have no shore land zoning authority. This is just shore land zoning and does not affect other zoning in the towns. The case is being appealed to the Wisconsin Supreme Court. As of the writing of this article, Forest County will not know if the supreme court will hear the case and predictions are that the people may not know until the spring of 2014.

To the Editor:

As a member of the Laona School Board I am afforded the opportunity to tour urban schools in southern Wisconsin. After one such tour, on the bus ride back, I was left wondering where or what I might be today if my parents had not had the chance to bring me back to the north woods before I started school. Needless to say, I got a little emotional. This is the exact opportunity that I believe we will be depriving our children and grandchildren of if we push away yet another chance for job creation and economic development. I've spent the last 40 or more years hunting and fishing the land of one of the proposed sights of the off road vehicle park. I would gladly give it all up for only a fraction of the jobs and revenue that are projected to come to this area in the name of our youth and tax relief for our seniors here in Forest County.

I think the reward far out weighs the risk. 10 years from now I would hate to look back and think we had squandered yet another opportunity.

To the Editor:

Well, I haven't at this writing received any answers to the questions that I have raised here concerning the "Proposed" Off Road Vehicle Park, to be located here in Forest County, from anyone associated with the "proposed" Park, actually, the silence from that group has been deafening.

And considering that I have received only support from those that have personally contacted me, concerning the questions I have publicly asked, I decided to dig a little deeper.

I started searching the internet for Wisconsin Off Road Vehicle Park Inc. And came up with their website, at www.worvpi.org Which has a list of the 33 most asked questions about the "Proposed" Off road vehicle Park. I really suggest that you yourself go to the website and check it out, I found it very, very eye opening.

Did you know that the park is such a certainty already, that you can purchase from Wisconsin Off Road Vehicle Park Inc. a Charter VIP pass to the "Proposed" Park, for only $150.00? This will entitle you to an Annual pass to use the park, an annual parking tag for your vehicle, and 50% savings off camping fees at the "Proposed" park campground. There are several other perks for becoming a "Charter VIP Pass holder" for the "Proposed" park, I guess my immediate question would be, What do you get for your $150.00 if the "Proposed" Park never happens, and, in that case, do you get your $150.00 back?

Moving on, to my already asked question. Who is going to own the Proposed Off Road Vehicle park? Well Question number #6 of the most asked questions, doesn't really answer this question, in fact it states that "Operational Details" have not yet been finalized. But does state that WORVPI is capable of undertaking development, management and operation or the Park. I guess they must be, if they are already selling a VIP passes to use the "Proposed Park".

I also found it interesting that Question number 3, "Where will the Park be located?" has the following answer "WORVPI's feasibility Study has identified as many as seven viable locations here in Forest County. A site {or sites} which are publically acceptable, environmentally responsible, and economically viable has not yet been decided upon." I find the "publically acceptable, and environmentally responsible" part very interesting, how can the Forest County Public accept anything they know little to nothing about?

I guess I would again urge any of you that can, go to WORVPI's website and read through the questions and answers being given, I find reference in several of the answers given on this website about having to adhere to "Forest County Regulations", Why would Forest County have regulations for this private park? Seems that whoever wrote these answers is assuming that Forest County is going to be the controlling agency?

Which brings me to another website I found on line concerning the Wisconsin Off Road Vehicle Park. While doing my research, I came across a website at www.ufwda.org {United Four Wheel Drive Association} in which John Schnorr posted details of a meeting held on 08-07-13 at the Forest County Chamber of Commerce building in Crandon, in which WORVPI introduced details off "Our" Off Road Park project. The details were given to an "elite group" of invited leaders, the posted article goes on to say that it was a small gathering in a casual and relaxed setting. John goes on to say that Wisconsin Off Road Vehicle Park Inc. has invited representatives of major motorized trail recreation groups to a "private" meeting later in the month. He also states that meetings with all stakeholder groups are being scheduled for later this year.

I will ask you to recall R.T. Krueger's letter to the editor in this paper, which actually started my questioning this "Proposed" ORV Park. R.T.'s letter stated that he realized there would be opposition to the proposed park, but that negotiations about the park were at a sensitive point, where "justifiable confidentiality" was required. It appears that some details concerning the Proposed Park are available, and will be presented, if your one of the "elite group" being invited.

Again, I would urge you to contact your elected County Board representative if you have any questions or concerns about the "Proposed Off Road Vehicle Park" and ask them for the answers, or just express your opinion, either way.

I was taught that "Anything that sounds to good to be true, Usually is". I read Jim Schuessler's letter to the editor last week, and I'm going to quote him. "We can have those things such as hunting and silent sports that we hold dear and still take an unobtrusive four mile square in a county of nearly 670,000 acres and have a place where people with pockets full of money come, have fun, empty their pockets, and head back home." Sounds awfully good, doesn't it? Personally, I don't think I will be sending Wisconsin Off Road Vehicle Park Inc. $150.00 for my VIP pass to the "proposed park".

Jim Odekirk, County Rd. O Cavour

To the Editor:

A wise person recently said that not investing in your future is like cutting off your feet in order to save money on shoes. Forest County's Board has recognized the development of an off-road park as a priority, as demonstrated by resolutions of support, the comprehensive plan, and prioritization through the recreational plan. It is crucial to invest in the future of our county's economy so that we can stop the decline in population that is having a negative impact on local businesses and schools.

Our local businesses are cornerstones of each community in Forest County. Already, some townships have no gas station, something many take for granted. Wabeno is currently without a grocery store. Folks in Crandon, for example, might take that for granted, since they have options. Not so in some of our towns. We are fortunate to have several options for hardware in Forest County, but to keep them sustainable, we need to grow our county. All our county businesses deserve our support.

In order to maintain future success of our restaurants, we need to draw new guests to Forest County. The $300,000 in added county tax revenues that the proposed park will bring to Forest County each year will be passing through the cash registers of county businesses first. That is good for the business, and good for the taxpayer.

Many of us can think back to lost economic opportunities from the past we can't get those back. What we can do is make a very small investment in our economic future. We don't have to chose to either have hunting or a park. In our county, we have plenty of room for both-we can find a way to have both.

Sincerely,
Mike Gruett, President
Forest County Chamber of Commerce

To the Editor

As an insurance representative by week and avid off-roader by weekend I felt I needed to write in objection to your article regarding the proposed OHV park after I had read some of your comments. First off and foremost, I myself love the outdoors and am an avid hunter and hiker myself, therefore I feel you have misrepresented what a true "off-roader" is. Now I can't say this for 100% of us offroaders, as you are aware that a few bad apples always wreck it for the bunch, but 95% of us don't go offroading just to go "play" in the mud, most of us like to "trail-ride" and conquer certain rock obstacles or hill climbs, in fact, most of us avoid the mud because, #1, the damage it does to the environment, and #2 it just reeks havoc on our vehicles and cause more damage than what's it's worth. The majority of people that are going to be coming to the off-road park are avid outdoorsmen and hunters like myself and are also trained to "tread-lightly". I'm not sure if you are aware of what that means exactly, but "tread-lightly" principles are meant for us to leave as little impact to the environment as possible, for example, pack out what you pack in, leave no garbage, don't spin your tires and dig ruts, avoid ruts and mud on trails, use tree-savers if having to winch and so on. These principles are taught through many training classes and seminars put on by WOHVA or <http://treadlightly.org/> and several other organized wheeling clubs.

Right now, avid off-roaders do not have a large, legal "wheeling" area in our state and many of us spend thousands of dollars to travel to other states to recreate. Many other OHV parks have seen the huge, beneficial fiduciary advantages of what an off-road park can bring to the economy of their particular areas. Some of these parks to look up and see what kind of monetary economic impacts that have been seen are: Gilbert's Iron Range offroad MN http://www.dnr.state.mn.us/ohv/trail_detail.html?id=13/DrummondIsland, MI http://www.drummondlandchamber.com/index.php?page=ATV_ORVAtticaINBadlandsOHVPark <http://www.badlandsoffroad.com/> just to name a few. It'd be worth it to do your research next time before misrepresenting us off-roaders and the economic advantages of having an OHV park nearby. That $47,000 that the county is going to help out with will be a small investment in the overall big picture of what the Park will help bring in for revenues for the county, not to mention all the additional jobs that will be implemented in helping with running the park.

Please do me a favor, do the research on the positive economic impact that the aforementioned parks have brought to their community.

The question is Mike, We are going to spend our money on off-roading no matter what, but Wouldn't you much rather have the money staying in this great state of WI and more particularly the great area of Crandon, which has seen financial hardship for many members of the community?

Anyways, thanks for reading and I hope this may broaden your prospective on the OHV Park and who we are as "offroaders"
Enjoy the day and have a great weekend,
Josh Shymanski

"Forever Loved"
"Love" is a simple thing you see,
A hold so strong it will forever be.
No matter the distance, through the fullest sky,
It's faith that keeps the connection between you and I
Through friendship, a laugh, or a simple touch,
"Love" fills the heart ever so much.
Ten years I've written with both sorrow and joy,
And now understand how "Love" fills the heart's void.

Senior Chatter

Physical Activity & Older Adults

Older adults can benefit from regular physical activity daily. Longer sessions of walking or shorter sessions of fast walking or stair walking can lead to health benefits. Because the risk of injury increases at high levels of physical activity, care should be taken not to engage in excessive amounts of activity.

Previously sedentary older adults who begin physical activity programs should start with short intervals of moderate physical activity (5-10 minutes) and gradually build up to the desired amount.

Older adults should consult with a physician before beginning a new physical activity program.

In addition to cardio-respiratory endurance (aerobic) activity, older adults can benefit from muscle-strengthening activities. Stronger muscles help reduce the risk of falling and improve the ability to perform the routine tasks of daily life.

Benefits of Physical Activity

Physical activity helps maintain the ability to live independently and reduces the risk of falling and fracturing bones.

It also reduces the risk of dying from coronary heart disease and of developing high blood pressure, colon cancer, and diabetes.

Another benefit, it can help reduce blood pressure in some people with hypertension, help people with chronic, disabling conditions improve their stamina and muscle strength.

Also reduce symptoms of anxiety and depression and fosters improvements in mood and feelings of well-being.

Being physically active helps maintain healthy bones, muscles and joints, also, helps control joint swelling and pain associated with arthritis.

What can you do?

- If you have questions about physical activity, talk to your health care provider.
- Make a plan for getting some exercise every day.
- Walk with a friend.
- Take advantage of indoor walking programs such as senior meal sites or your local schools. Crandon school has an indoor walking course available in the mornings.
- This spring plan to check out some of the parks in the area, many of them have a walking path.
- Take part in Walk with Ease programs that offer aerobic, strengthening, and flexibility components specifically designed for older adults; the Health Department will be sponsoring a class this spring.
- Try swimming at one of the local hotels.
- Plant a small garden or container garden.
- Do light yard work.

Legislature approves Mursau Annexation Zoning Bill

Madison ... Bipartisan majorities in the Wisconsin State Legislature approved Representative Jeff Mursau's (R - Crivitz) bill to streamline municipal zoning in Wisconsin. The bill will allow cities and villages to have one zoning law instead of a patchwork of zoning laws when they annex land from towns without their own zoning.

"Without this bill, cities and villages have to inspect when each property is annexed and compare it to the county zoning ordinance at the time it was annexed," Mursau said. "It is ridiculous to expect cities and villages to implement more than one zoning standard in its own territory."

The legislation also narrows regulations to ensure they apply only to natural water bodies. Current law has required cities and villages to regulate land adjacent to drainage ditches and retention ponds as if they provide the same public benefits as lakes, streams and rivers.

"This bill will help local officials better spend their time and effort improving our environment and build our communities through sensible development."

Senator Tom Tiffany (R - Hazelhurst) was the lead author in the Wisconsin State Senate. The bill now heads to Governor Scott Walker for his consideration to sign it into law.

If the Wisconsin Supreme Court does not hear the case or affirms the case, the law will stand. The court can modify it and then the law will change. Until there is any decision, the law will stand. The Forest County Zoning Department, Lynn Black, chairwoman for the Town of Lincoln and Chuck Sleeter, chairman for the Town of Nashville, both agreed to work with the zoning department. There will be two more meetings to adjust to the new law and to work out a plan to work together with the county.

The two meetings will be in the county board room, room 107 in the Forest County Courthouse both meetings starting at 5:00 p.m. the meetings will be Monday, November 18th and Wednesday, December 4th.

to Washington D.C. to tour the monuments and memorials on the National Mall. The vets shared how the program works and what moment was most memorable to them while on the trip. All of them agreed that the welcome committee that filled the airport when they left Wisconsin and returned was truly amazing.

On Monday, November 11, veterans were treated to breakfast with the Crandon elementary students and then a wonderful program was given by the children. Patriotic songs were sung and each branch of the military was honored. The Northwoods Veterans presented each grade with a patriotic plaque to show thanks for all the support that was given.

At 11:00 a.m. veterans met at the Forest County Memorial and held a short ceremony. Don Dewing opened the ceremony with a prayer. Honor guard gave a 21 gun salute and the flag was raised to full mast. Lee Joyner spoke briefly on the support needed to care for all veterans that come home and need support in some way.

DNR to offer Wolf Tracking Classes

For years, the WI DNR has been determining a minimum wolf count with the assistance of volunteer trackers. These trackers have provided great assistance to the state, both financially and in terms of developing the most complete wolf count in the country.

However, when the federal government delisted wolves, about 40% of the volunteer trackers quit. The WI DNR responded by finding current and former environmental agency personnel willing to volunteer their time to complete the tracking, and by hiring a few environmental technicians to fill in the gaps. Even with this extraordinary effort, a lack of volunteers last year forced the DNR to make some hard choices, and based on the probability of finding wolves, there were some wolf survey blocks that went uncounted or undercounted.

Of particular interest in our area are blocks in Forest, Oneida and Langlade Co. Wolf tracking block "89" runs from Antigo to White Lake to Lily and back to Antigo. This block went untracked last season.

Wolf tracking block "87" runs from Monico to Crandon to Hwy K and back up Hwy 45 to Monico. Wolf tracking block "93" runs from Crandon to Laona, south to just north of Wabeno, where it follows Hwy 52 to Hwy 55, and returns to Crandon. These two blocks were tracked by DNR personnel, but would have benefitted from more tracking done by dedicated volunteers.

Other blocks that could use a volunteer include block "86" from Monico to Crandon to Argonne to Three Lakes, block "94" from Crandon to Argonne, east on Hwy G to Hwy 8 and south to Laona, and block "88" southeast of Elcho. All these blocks received some tracking, but more could be done.

Trackers conduct tracking surveys in mid to late winter, and are required to attend a tracking course prior to signing up. There are a number of tracking courses available in the state, but the closest are at Treehaven (east of Tomahawk) on Dec. 14 - 15, and at Trees for Tomorrow on Jan. 11.

The Treehaven course is taught by professional tracker Dr. Jim Halfpenny, and costs $185 for a commuter, $245 for overnight. Contact Treehaven at www.uwsp.edu or 715-453-4106.

Deer Crashes Will Be High Again This Fall

In Wisconsin, annual fall rituals include raking leaves, watching football and waiting for repairs to your vehicle after hitting a deer.

October and November are the mating season for deer, and they are more active particularly at dusk and dawn when they move back and forth between their bedding and feeding areas. With their increased activity, deer often will dart unexpectedly into the path of vehicles.

Last year, Wisconsin law enforcement agencies reported a total of 18,895 deer vs. motor vehicle crashes, according to the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT). Dane County had the most motor vehicle vs. deer crashes reported in 2012 with 851. Shawano County had the second most with 800 followed by Waukesha County with 710. In Shawano, Green Lake, and Taylor counties, more than half of all reported crashes in 2012 involved deer. Deer are the third most commonly struck object in Wisconsin traffic crashes (behind collisions with another vehicle or a fixed object).

"To avoid hitting a deer, drivers must slow down whenever they see deer in the area. If you see one deer, there are probably more nearby that could dash in front of your vehicle," says David Pabst, director of the WisDOT Bureau of Transportation Safety. "If you can't avoid a deer, it's safer to hit the brakes and hit the deer than to swerve suddenly and try to miss it. If you swerve, you risk losing control of your vehicle and rolling over or hitting another car or a stationary object, like a tree."

Motorcyclists must be especially careful because deer crashes can be fatal to riders and passengers. Motorcycles were involved in 13 of the 14 fatal deer versus motor vehicle crashes in Wisconsin last year.

WisDOT and the Wisconsin State Patrol safety officials offer the following advice to prevent deer crashes:

- Be on the lookout for deer, eliminate distractions while driving, and slow down in early morning and evening hours — the most active time for deer.
- Always wear your safety belt — there are fewer and less severe injuries in vehicle-deer crashes when safety belts are worn.
- If you see a deer by the side of the road, slow down and blow your horn with one long blast to frighten the deer away.
- When you see one deer, look for another one — deer seldom run alone.
- If you see a deer looming in your headlights, don't expect the deer to move away — headlights can confuse a deer and cause the animal to freeze.
- Brake firmly when you notice a deer in or near your path.
-  Do not swerve — it can confuse the deer as to where to run — and cause you to lose control and hit a tree or another car.
-  The one exception to the "don't swerve" advice applies to motorcyclists. On a motorcycle, you should slow down, brake firmly and then swerve if necessary to avoid hitting the deer. If you must swerve, always try to stay within your lane to avoid hitting other objects.
- If you hit a deer, get your vehicle off the road if possible, and then call a law enforcement agency. Walking on a highway is dangerous, so stay in your vehicle if you can.
- Don't try to move the animal if it is still alive. The injured deer could hurt you.
