Special session of Forest County Board has a surprising conclusion

By Mike Monte

The Forest County Board met in special session on Tuesday, April 22nd. The special session was set at the regular board meeting held on the previous Tuesday to give the Wisconsin Off-road Vehicle Park, Inc. (WORVPI) a chance to present the completion of their "scoping" to the board and to discuss the purchase of three parcels of land that would be the site of the proposed ORV park.

At the regular board meeting, the board voted to give County Forester Dave Ziolkowski the authority to purchase a tract of land called the Roder Block, but they tabled the resolution giving him the authority to negotiate for another tract called the BPLC block. The purpose of the tabling was to combine the request for DNR and Stewardship funding with an upcoming resolution to purchase 2000.13 acres for the proposed park.

At the special meeting, the group from WORVPI was prepared to present their scoping efforts to the board, but wanted to do it in closed session. A vote of the board was required to go to closed session, and when the roll call vote was taken, the board voted against the motion for a closed session with a total of 13 votes against 7 votes for the closed session, with Supervisor Stormer absent due to illness.

Those voting against the closed session were: Campbell, Shaffer, Chaney, Lemaster, Connors, Dehart, Gifford, Tauer, Cleereman, Collins, Savard, Landru and Stamper. Those in favor of the closed session were: Otto, Lukas, Albrecht, Millan, Berg, Dailey, and Sommer.

The vote surprised all in attendance, especially the WORVPI people, who held a conference in the hallway and came back into the room and announced that they didn't want to present their information to the public, whereby they picked up their computer and projector and left the meeting.

The next item on the agenda was to authorize the Forestry office to negotiate on the possible land purchase that was tabled at the last meeting, and it was unanimous to do so, giving Ziolkowski the green light to continue his job of increasing the amount of viable county timber land.

The resolution to purchase the 2000.13 acres for an ORV park was tabled by the board until further meetings on the subject.

Where does the proposed park project go from here? That's up to the WORVPI organization.

Why did the board refuse to go into closed session? That would take an answer from each board member that voted no to the closed session. Possibly, it could be from constituent pressure. The park is not popular with everybody, and many don't want the county board to put the citizens in debt for a project that they view as having dubious value. It may be that many of these constituents view the project as having too much secrecy wrapped around it.

Whatever the reason for the surprise vote at the special session, it appears that the WORVPI promoters have to try a different approach to attain their goal.

Controlling invasive terrestrial species

By Mike Monte

We are all familiar with the huge amount of information put in front of the public on aquatic invasive species, but are you aware of the problems we have with terrestrial invasive species?

A meeting held at Crandon's Community Building provided a wealth of information on the problems we have with invasive species in our landscape.

The meeting was presided over by Emily Anderson, WRISC Project Manager. WRISC is an acronym for Wild Rivers Invasive Species coalition. She is based in Kingsford, Michigan and does work on invasive species over a large area.

Tom Moris is a Forest Service employee, who lives in Crandon, and is having a one-man contest with invasives, and says he is winning some battles but losing the war. He admits that invasives are here to stay, and says Crandon is a place where he has noticed a spread of invasives. That doesn't mean that you give up on the control of these terrestrial menaces. He said that vacant lots, abandoned pastures and roadsides are great breeding grounds for plants that aren't native and can take over the landscape.

There are 60 plants on the list of invasive species at this time, but another 85 species are being considered for the list. He encourages people to take an interest and do some eradication around their homes and in adjoining lands where they have permission.

Roadsides are a great gathering place for terrestrial invasives, as cars and ATVs running the ditch lines can spread seeds.

Allison Shaw is the invasive species coordinator for the Forest County Potawatomi. For the past year, she has been conducting an inventory of invasives on tribal lands. According to Allison, thistles, of course, are very common. Buckthorn is making its entry into our ecosystem as are bush honeysuckles. Japanese Barberry is another villain in the invasive list.

John Preuss, the invasives specialist with the Lumberjack RC&D, spoke about the Japanese Knotweed, and said that the root structure is so strong that it can break foundations. This plant is bad for streams and will promote erosion. Preuss told us about wild parsnip, a

A great blue heron makes an early return on an area stream. No doubt wondering why he came back so soon!

Northwoods Shriners Vidalia Onion Sale

The Northwood's Shrine Club will be selling their annual Shriver Vidalia Onion's Friday & Saturday May 2nd and 3rd from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. in Rhinelander, Eagle River, Crandon, Minocqua, St. Germain, Three Lakes, Tomahawk, Lake Tomahawk, Land O' Lakes, and Wabeno at various outdoor locations. Look for our signs!

Proceeds from this and other Club events helped us make a $10,000 donation to Shriners Hospitals for Children in 2013, with a $5,000 donation to Chicago's Shriners Hospital and a $5,000 donation to the Minneapolis's Shriners Hospital. These funds were for the purchase of wheelchairs for children. The Northwood's Shrine Club's area includes Oneida, Vilas, Iron and Forest Counties. The child's family under the care of the Northwood's Shrine Club is reimbursed for their gas, lodging, and meals when visiting one of our hospitals for care. The Northwood's Shrine Club is committed to Fun, Fellowship and Philanthropy.

Currently the Northwood's Shrine Club is actively hosting five area youths that are receiving care at Chicago or Minneapolis hospitals. If you know of a child that could benefit from one or more of our services, we would send the child to one of our hospitals for an evaluation at no charge to the family. For information in our area contact Roger Tesch 715-479-1603 or go to shrinershospitalforchildren.org

Headquartered in Tampa, Florida, the hospitals, known as "The Worlds Greatest Philanthropy," are owned and operated by Shriners International, formerly known as the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, a Freemasonry-related organization (all Shriners are Masons) simply known today as the Shriners. Patients must be minors under the age of 18 and are not required to have any familiar affiliation with the Shriners order nor Freemasonry.

Color Your Meals Yellow-Orange with Fruits & Vegetables

Yellow-orange phytonutrients
 Carotenoid pigments are the yellow-orange color in fruits such as pumpkin, cantaloupes, grapefruits, oranges, papayas, and peaches and vegetables such as carrots, squash, sweet corn and sweet potatoes. Carotenoids are thought to play a role in improving immune function and preventing cancer and heart disease.
 Carotenoids, including lutein, help reduce the risk of age-related macular degeneration, the leading cause of blindness among U.S. adults over the age of 65.
Easy ways to add YELLOW-ORANGE phytonutrients to your diet:

- To boost your intake of vitamins A and C, make tossed salads using a variety of deep-green leafy vegetables - and sprinkle on shredded carrots. For an extra dose of lutein (along with high-quality protein), top salads with sliced hard-cooked eggs.
- For a refreshing summer dish, cook a small pasta shape, such as elbow macaroni or rotini. Add cooked fresh kernel corn and fresh peas along with fresh shredded carrots. Toss with reduced-fat salad dressing.
- For a healthy twist on a fall favorite try adding a can of pumpkin to your favorite chili or spaghetti sauce. Sounds strange, tastes great, boosts nutrition and is oh so yummy!
- Use fresh sliced thawed frozen or drained canned peach slices on top French toast, pancakes or waffles.

25th Laona Golf Tournament

This is our 25th anniversary of the Laona Golf Tournament! We would like it to be a great celebration of years past, success we have accomplished and for many more future years to come!

The Laona Quarterback Club is holding their annual golf tournament on Saturday, June 14th, 2014. The Laona Quarterback Club is the booster club for all sports teams offered to students in the Laona School District, including all combined athletics. All proceeds from this tournament go directly to the financial support for continued athletic programs.

We are seeking donations from businesses/people for this golf tournament. Donations may be auction items, monetary donations to purchase items, or a hole sponsorship. Hole costs are $75.00 for new sponsors (to cover the cost of a new sign) and then will be $50.00 every year that you elect to do so after the initial year. The signs are placed on the tee boxes for advertising.

All donations can be dropped off at The Laona State Bank in Laona, sent to:

Laona Quarterback Club
PO Box 187
Laona, WI 54541

Or you can call Chad Albrecht for pick-up: 715-889-1472. With the funding for schools being cut, the future of these programs depend on this annual fundraiser.

Death Notices

KENT EDWARD HALUSKA rushed into this world April 22nd, 1982 and left just as quickly March 24th, 2014. He was almost 32. As a baby, Kent embraced the light of morning, always ready to greet the day with excitement and a smile. Growing up in East De Pere, he found escape in water swimming or fishing. As he grew into a man, he found peace in the woods, but was also entranced and excited by the thrill of the hunt.

Kent was preceded in death by his grandfather Frank Canaday, grandparents John and Ernestine Haluska, Uncle Paul and Aunt Chris Canaday, his beloved ferret MacGyver and most recently his father, Paul Haluska.

Kent loved and was loved by his dogs (aka "kids") Lady and Drake, his grandmother Grace Canaday, mother Sandra Haluska (Lorren Schrenk), sister Heather Haluska, brother Steven Haluska, brother and sister-in-laws Nathaniel Reindl and Trisha Haluska, nephew Talen Haluska, nieces MacKenzi Meyer, Jaylen Haluska and Caitlyn Vandebush, his Auntie Donna Haluska, Uncle Tim Canaday, Aunt Michelle "Mitzi" Mahlik, cousins Edward "Fred" Short, Adam "Clyde" Short, Patrick "The Incredible Elf" Short, Juanita (Short) Firkus, Valarie Canaday, Amber (Kincaid) Mayer, Joshua Mahlik, Ross Kincaid, and Isabella Mahlik, their loving spouses and "significant others", as well as many other family friends and relation throughout Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

"Dear Lord, Please give your blessing to our family. We want to give love and support to each other. Send your Holy Spirit into our hearts. Help us listen to one another, and honestly share our feelings and always reverence you as the source of the unity."

Amen, Kent 3/20/14

Please come celebrate Kent's life and birthday with the family Tues April 22nd, 2014 at Hansen Funeral Home 1644 Lime Kiln Rd Green Bay from 6 p - 8p. ## "Brewing" up Donations

APPLETON, April 21 - As we gear up for Spring, the Community Blood Center is asking people to donate blood. "Blood donors impart a life-saving gift that benefits hospital patients on a daily basis," explained John Hagins, President and CEO, of the Community Blood Center. "Every day, patients in communities throughout Wisconsin receive blood transfusions. These transfusions are available through the generosity of volunteer blood donors."

"For many of us, Spring is a chance to enjoy the weather and spend time with our families. As you plan to attend activities, please think about serving your community by donating blood. Volunteer blood donors provide a valuable service to our community, and blood donations are especially needed this Spring," said John Hagins, President and CEO at the Community Blood Center.

From April 25 - May 11, the blood center is hosting a "Brewing" up Donations! program, where blood donors can enter a drawing to win one of three sets of tickets to a Brewer game June 1st against the Cubs. Blood donations collected during this time will help sustain the blood supply this Spring. Official rules are found at.

Donations may be made by calling the Community Blood Center at (800)280-4102 or visiting. Walk-in donors are welcome, but scheduling an appointment keeps the total time required for a donation to less than an hour.

Blood donors must be at least 17 years old (16 with parental permission), weigh at least 110 pounds, be in general good health, and bring a photo ID. Donors are encouraged to eat a regular meal and drink plenty of fluids prior to donating.

Since 1955, the Community Blood Center has worked with volunteer blood donors to provide a steady, reliable blood supply for hospitals. Today, the blood center remains a nonprofit organization committed to serving hospital patients. The blood center is also a donor center with the National Marrow Donor Program, facilitating transplants for patients with life-threatening diseases.

Letters to the Editor

We welcome letter to the Editor; however the letters should be legible, in good taste, not libelous and pertinent to current issues. Names will not be withheld upon request, except for very special circumstances. NAME AND PHONE NUMBER SHOULD BE INCLUDED FOR VERIFICATION PURPOSES. We reserve the right to reject any and all letters.

Dear Editor:

Yesterday, April 22, 2014, the Forest County Board was convened by direction of its chairman, Paul Millan. The purpose of the meeting was to listen to a presentation by WORPVI and to then pass a resolution authorizing Mr. Millan to apply for grants and loans for at least $2,500,000.00 to begin County land acquisition for the proposed 10,000-acre off-road vehicle park.

In keeping with the veil of secrecy that has attended this dubious proposal for years, the meeting was proposed by Mr. Millan to be held in "closed session". That is, he and WORPVI wanted the Forest County Public to be excluded from the meeting and kept in ignorance as to the expenditure of their public funds and the use of their public lands.

The Chairman and key members of the Board have become accustomed to controlling public issues with their influence from the core of the Board, a core made up of about six of the 21 member Board. It was natural for them to expect, therefore, that when one of their group made a motion to close the meeting to the Public, all remaining members of the Board would fall in behind and vote in favor of the motion. Equally expectant of a summary approval of closure were representatives of WORPVI who were standing by to have the confidential attention of the Board.

But, then began what was expected to have been a routine vote to close. Only it was not routine at all. The motion ran into the conscience of this community and was soundly rejected by a vote of 13 to 7. Yes! Without discussion of any kind, a roll call vote was taken and there were thirteen clear and resolute votes against secrecy... and for the rights of the Citizens.

Now, this development amounts to something of an insurgency on the Board, a rebellion against those half dozen members who have asserted control and, most importantly, an outright rejection of the notion that WORPVI has somehow been granted authority to govern in this County. It also gives pause to us, as citizens, to ponder the workings of our Government, to reassess and discuss whether our interests are being properly represented and to formulate a plan to improve our representation as needed.

A small group of us intend to study the functioning of this County Government with a critical eye. We intend to foster gatherings of citizens who feel it necessary or appropriate to participate in overseeing the workings of their government. We intend to foster a public discussion, through this paper and other members of the media, so that elected representatives might become sensitive to the wishes of the People.

It may well be that the vote that occurred last night signals a sea change in the way the Board operates. That would be a very healthy change for Forest County. We are proud of those 13 members of the Board for not going along with more secret government. They deserve our respect, our thanks and our support as this process plays out.

Dave Meier.

Don't Miss the Forest Through the Trees Bipartisan group of 29 Members urge Senate Committee to advance forestry reform legislation

Washington D.C. - U.S. Congressman Sean Duffy (WI-07) led an effort with a bipartisan group of 28 of his House colleagues urging the Senate Energy & Natural Resources Committee to advance legislation that will increase state and local participation in forest management, improve forest health and give the Forest Service the tools it needs to streamline and expedite timber sales and salvages.

In the letter, which was delivered to Chairwoman Mary Landrieu and Ranking Member Lisa Murkowski this week, the Members acknowledge the progress that has been made with the recently passed Farm Bill, but reiterate the need for further action:

"Federal forests throughout our nation protect and enhance our water supplies, provide habitat for wildlife and offer amazing recreational opportunities for outdoor enthusiasts, including hikers, bikers, fishers, hunters, and snowmobilers."

They go on to say, "The overall health of our national forests is integrally tied with the industries that rely on this resource... The Forest Service must continue to make a concerted effort to meet timber sale goals and Congress should continue to advance reforms to assist in this effort."

CBCW Workshop In Townsend
 "The Oconto County Land Conservation Division is hosting a Clean Boats, Clean Waters (CBCW) training. The workshop will be held at the Townsend Town Hall, 16564 Elm St, Townsend, WI 54175, Saturday, May 10th at 9:00am-11:00am.
 Interested in a rewarding volunteer opportunity this summer? Join Amanda Strick, Aquatic Invasive Species Coordinator and current Clean Boats, Clean Waters volunteers and learn to conduct boater education interviews at local boat launches. As a volunteer you will show boaters how and where aquatic invasive species (AIS) are most likely to hitch a ride on their watercraft and be transferred to other water bodies. Volunteers also perform boat/trailer checks for AIS, distribute informational brochures, and collect and report any new AIS infestations.
 **NOTE: New CBCW forms for 2014, new training and updates about current AIS programing in Oconto County!** All ages are welcome to participate. For questions, please contact Amanda Strick, Oconto County AIS Coordinator, at 920-834-7155 or amanda.strick@co.oconto.wi.us. For more information on the CBCW program, visit <http://www4.uwsp.edu/cnr/uwexlakes/cbcw/>."

WWF: Mursau "Legislator of the Year"

(R to L: John Wagner, WWF President; Rep. Jeff Mursau; Rep. Fred Clark; George Meyer, WWF Executive Director)
 The Wisconsin Wildlife Federation has named Assembly Representative Jeff Mursau (R-Crivitz) "Legislator of the Year" for his work on behalf of sportsmen and environmental conservation around Wisconsin as chairman of the Assembly Committee on Environment and Forestry. Mursau passed legislation increasing outdoor recreational access for Wisconsin's youth, disabled, veterans, and senior citizens throughout the state.
 "Conservation and recreation go hand-in-hand," Mursau said. "I am grateful for the Wildlife Federation membership and the work they do to help make Wisconsin a great place to live and recreate."
 Mursau in particular praised the assistance he has received from Townsend resident and past WWF president Ralph Fritsch and the many other citizens of the 36th Assembly District for helping him oversee the Department of Natural Resources and craft better legislation:
 "My accomplishments are a direct result of the great input I get from all the people of the 36th District," Mursau said. "This is absolutely an award I share with them."

Long-Term Caregiving at Home

Odds are we will most likely need some sort of long-term care and/or the assistance of a caregiver at some point in our lives. Although we may need care at any time, the likelihood increases as we grow older. Not all U.S. adults have a long-term care insurance policy or have sufficient resources to pay private rates for care - and not all qualify for government assistance under the strict long-term care Medicaid criteria. It's a myth the Medicare will cover extended long-term care needs and Medicare does not cover custodial care. These restrictions leave a significant gap for those who need care. Often, families fill in as uncompensated caregivers for those who need care the most.

A Pervasive Issue: According to the Caregiver Action Network, "there's no question that family caregiving is really the backbone of the long-term care support services in this country." The data supports this statement. Thirty-nine percent of all adults aged 18 or older are caregivers for someone who has a significant health issue.

Recent data released by the Pew Research Center indicates that uncompensated caregiving by family members spans racial, educational, and other demographic lines. Thirty-nine percent of white adults were caregivers for someone, compared with 40% of black adults and 32% of Latino adults. The rates also remain similar over varying levels of educational attainment: 31% of adults without a high school diploma are caregivers, compared with 36% of high school graduates, 44% of those with some college education, and 40% of those who have received a college degree or higher.

In addition, household income does not seem to significantly change the incidence of caregiving: 36% of those with incomes less than $36,000 a year were caregivers, whereas 43% of households with incomes of $75,000 were caregivers.

These numbers show a trend that bridges demographic differences: families are absorbing the caregiving needs of members who need care and are doing so at much higher rates than in years past. While other options are available for financing long-term care needs (such as insurance policies and savings), the cost of care continues to rise. Currently, the average daily rate in the nursing home for someone paying privately is $243.

Many people try to plan ahead for long-term care needs, but planning for the unknown is difficult. It's hard to predict what type of care we may need and how much this care will cost when we need it. With so many unknown factors, families have truly become the pillar of the long-term care system with a high incidence of caregiving occurring in the home.

Food Additives 101

People have been enhancing their food for centuries - think salt and spices - and today there are thousands of food additives. Whether we should eat these altered foods is hotly debated.

The Pros: Only additives "generally recognized as safe" by the U.S. government (FDA) are permitted, and many improve food in some way. Vitamins increase the nutritional quality of foods, and preservatives increase food safety and shelf life - reducing food cost and making a wider variety of food available. Some added ingredients make food look and taste better.

The Cons: The FDA can never be absolutely certain about safety and has recalled some additives. The American Academy of Pediatrics and other groups are concerned about risks to children. Some people react to substances such as dyes, and people with phenylketonuria (PKU) can have life-threatening responses to foods with phenylalanine (example: aspartame). Manufacturers color food purely for marketing purposes, and "natural flavorings" can be as processed as artificial ones. Additives can mask low-quality food and are even in "fresh" products such as meats. Many food additives used in combination have not been tested for safety. A good approach might be to learn more about additives, then decide which you think are acceptable them.

Wabeno Students Celebrate National Library Week

Students in the Wabeno School District celebrated National Library Week, April 14-16. It was a great time to highlight the value of libraries, librarians, books, and literacy.

There were three days of activities to celebrate our libraries. At both the high school and elementary schools the students guessed the number of books in the library. A grade school student, in each class, who guessed closest to 9,271 books, won a prize. In the high school, a person in each class, who came closest to 11,144 books, won a prize.

There was a scavenger hunt throughout both schools. Prizes were awarded to students who found small images of book covers of award winning books.

On Tuesday, the highlight of the week for the elementary students was a readers' theater presentation of the book, The Library Dragon, by Carmen Agra Deedy. Nine elementary staff members entertained the students with their emotionally charged interpretation about an overly serious librarian. The students giggled and cheered through the story that reinforced the importance of libraries, librarians, literacy, and the responsible care of books.

Students in both the high school and elementary participated in a writing contest. The week ended with the awarding of prizes to students for paragraphs about their favorite book and why it was such a good book.

School libraries today are the heart of the school and hub of learning. Books and other resources are still the focus of the Wabeno School libraries today, but they are also a trusted place for students to gather, connect, and

What's Happening at Laona High?

The Laona and Wabeno Forensics Team recently concluded their season in Madison at the University of Wisconsin. The Laona and Wabeno teams traveled together down to Madison. For some students it was their first time participating in this trip. While we were in Madison the students got to experience the college campus, the winter farmers' market, and the Capital.

In order to advance to state the students had to score a 19 or higher in the sub-district competition in Wabeno. The score cut offs were even more stringent when advancing from Districts in Tomahawk, which were a 21 or higher.

The Laona students were Jonathan Ashbeck, who finished with a bronze, and Brittany Kevilus, who finished with a gold. In order to receive gold at the state level, you must have a perfect score of 25. The school district is very proud of all of our students this year.

Wisconsin's sustainably managed forests create economic opportunity

MADISON -- Wisconsin's strengths in sustainably managed forests, premium hardwood production and engineered wood products offer state residents something to celebrate during April, which the Legislature has designated as Forestry and Paper Products Month. Steve Hubbard, forest products services team leader for the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, says the nation's recovering housing market is providing an important boost for state mills that specialize in high quality flooring, trim and veneer wood. While Wisconsin also produces the pine 2-by-4s used to frame single family homes, Hubbard says it is the quality of the state's hardwoods such as oak, hickory and maple that truly stand out.

Just how good is Wisconsin wood? NCAA basketball fans saw it in action as teams competing in recent regional tournament games jumped, dribbled and ran on meticulously crafted maple originating from Menomonee Tribal Enterprises.

"This is not to say we don't produce significant quantities of fiberboard and other commodities, but where we win is with the quality of our hardwoods," Hubbard says.

Wisconsin also remains the nation's No. 1 paper producer, a title the state has claimed for more than 50 years. While the paper industry continues to face challenges worldwide, Hubbard says Wisconsin's sustainable forestry practices have given producers here a competitive business advantage.

Wisconsin now ranks among the nation's leaders in terms of the number of pulpwood forests certified by the Sustainable Forestry Initiative and Forest Stewardship Council. These certifications have played a critical role in recent contracts between state producers and industry leaders such as Time Warner that have goals for using sustainably sourced paper in magazines and catalogs, Hubbard says.

"We now manage more than 7 million acres of third-party environmentally certified forest land in the state," he says. "Our management practices have allowed us to benefit from consumer trends."

The future of forestry and paper products in Wisconsin promises to be no less dynamic. For example, nanocrystalline cellulose - made from the tiny crystals that give wood its strength - can be engineered with the stiffness of steel at just a fraction of the weight.

Research now underway at the U.S. Forest Products Laboratory (exit DNR) in Madison and at a handful of state companies promises to usher in completely new categories of products ranging from high-strength, lightweight fabrics that could be used in bullet proof vests to new automotive components.

"The sky is the limit for our trees," Hubbard says. "Going forward, we anticipate new forestry and paper products industries to grow alongside our existing manufacturers in the sector."

With total production valued at nearly $19 billion each year and employment of more than 46,800 based on numbers from the Wisconsin Economic Development Corp., the economic importance of Wisconsin's forestry and paper products industries is clear. Despite this level of productivity, Hubbard says, residents may be reassured to know that the number of forested acres in the state continues to grow.

"While other states incur losses, Wisconsin's forest lands have increased since 1983 and now total more than 17 million acres," Hubbard says. "Each year, we grow more wood than industry removes; our forests produce about 490 million cubic feet of growth each year, while about 332 million cubic feet is removed."

Crandon Lions Easter Egg Hunt

The Easter Bunny saying hello to the children

By Boyd Monte

The Crandon Lions Club held their Annual Easter Egg Hunt this past Saturday, April 19, at the Forest County Courthouse Square.

Children from newborn up to 10 years old are welcome to participate and line the sidewalk in front of Lake Avenue waiting for the noon whistle which is the start of the hunt. The hunt lasts only minutes as the children run as fast as they can through the lawn and collect as many eggs as they can.

The Easter Bunny made an appearance to greet all of the children at the Lions Clubhouse and handout eggs filled with candy. Every child had a smile on their face and the Lions club said the event was a great success and that they are looking forward to next year.

The two years and younger group are always cute as they learn to hunt for eggs

plant that can cause serious rashes if you pull the plant without gloves and long sleeve and pants. If the sap gets on your skin and is exposed to sunlight, you can get a horrible rash. Crown vetch is a weed that will grow to cover anything if given a chance. And there is garlic mustard that will produce 8,000 seeds and those seeds can remain viable for up to seven years.

If the problem can't be stopped, it can at least be contained. There is a program available called the Private Forest Land Invasive Control Project. This program is funded through DNR and is designed to help private landowners manage invasive species populations. They will work with the landowner to identify problem species and develop a targeted management plan for no fee, but space is limited. For more info, call Emily, the WRISC Coordinator at 906-774-1550 or email at: wildriverscwma@gmail.com. This can be important with infestations of a plant like garlic mustard that can completely take over the bottom story of a woodland, preventing new trees from growing.

More can be learned on this subject by going online to the Midwest Invasive Species Network.

For anyone who would like to lend a hand at controlling invasives, learn more about them and go to work!
