New Community Center in Nashville open for business

The commons area, where town board meetings can be held, and it can be rented for special events.

It all started about three years ago when two civic-minded residents of Nashville, Jim Stormer and Bob Erdman, persisted in their appeal to Town Chairman Chuck Sleeter for a new community center. The conservative Chairman was moved enough to find out how costly it would be to rehab their existing facilities that date back to the '60s and '70s. Then the stock market crashed and the federal government created the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, or, as we know it, "federal stimulus money". This then led to the Town inquiring about grants and loans under the new Act, how they trickle down and how a municipality qualifies. It became a "perfect storm" as contractors and subcontractors were very eager in bidding on a new facility just to keep people employed and cover their fixed costs.

The outcome became a new 15,000 sq ft building on County Rd Q off of County Rd DD near Arbutus Lake that is a contemporary model of energy efficiency and financial discipline.

There is ample space for parking town equipment and two more bays for equipment repair. The Fire Department also has a place to store and maintain equipment. Continued on pg. 22

Community Thanksgiving Dinner Arbutus Lutheran Church

A Community Thanksgiving Dinner will be served at Arbutus Lutheran Church on Thanksgiving Day from 11:30-1:00. Thanksgiving Worship begins at 10:30am at the church, located just off Highway 55 near County T, Pearson. Everyone is welcome. There is no charge for the meal. Freewill offerings will go to the Elcho Food Pantry. Carry outs available.

The families of Arbutus church make this dinner every year as a service to the community. Head Chef Herm Wissbroecker roasts twelve turkeys, mashes 100 pounds of hand-peeled, locally grown potatoes, and cooks a couple roasters of stuffing. Dinner includes all the fixings like gravy, cranberry sauce, fresh breads, and homemade desserts including pumpkin pie.

"We hope that those who otherwise would be alone or wouldn't fix a Thanksgiving dinner will come and be part of our Thanksgiving celebration. Singles, families, couples and hunters are all invited," said Pastor Nancy Richmond.

For information call 715-623-6850.

Yoga Workshop at Crandon Library to benefit Forest County Humane Society Beginners Welcome!

On Tuesday, November 29, Julie Schmitt, RYT of Horizons Yoga will be holding a hands-on, experimental workshop for those wanting to learn simple, proven methods to help take control and combat stress in their everyday lives.

"In our lives today we take very little, if anytime for ourselves. We tend to be either on the go or "plugged in" constantly. We usually think the time spent being quiet is wasted, there's always something that we should be doing. In actuality, by allowing ourselves to take as little as 5 minutes to be still, we will be equipped with more clarity and focus to face the tasks at hand," says Julie.

Participants will gain understanding as to how the body responds to stress with focus being brought to the breath and its' role. Gentle movements will be practiced to help alleviate tension, as well as relaxation techniques to create comfort and calm.

The workshop is being held at the Crandon Public Library, lower level. Registration opens at 5:30 p.m. with the workshop starting at 5:45 p.m. The cost to attend is $10 per person, $15 for couples, with 100% of the proceeds going to benefit the Forest County Humane Society. Open to ages 13 and over - minors must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

This is a wonderful opportunity to enhance your well-being and at the same time help our animal friends in need. Hope to see you on November 29!

Julie can be reached at 715-478-5649.

Thanksgiving Dinner

By Angie Alexander

Exhausted, Tina rubbed her eyes and yawned while reaching for some hot coffee. She had spent the last two days preparing for the family dinner. Every year, Tina promised herself she was going to simplify, but every year she continued to strive for perfection. Sipping on her coffee, she thought, Gosh, I'll be glad when tomorrow is over.

She had cleaned the windows, polished woodwork and waxed floors. She had spent two hours at Sentry picking out firm vegetables. Her pumpkin pies, asparagus casserole, chop meat stuffing and potato cheese bake were ready to reheat before serving. Her orange sherbet Jell-O mold, already setting, was to be her finale. She had pre-cut the vegetables for her salad, placing wax paper between each layer to preserve individual flavors. She took the turkey out of the freezer and placed it in the microwave to speed defrosting. She planned to make her salad dressing and roast the turkey tomorrow morning.

Tina took her coffee and walked into the dining room to give it one last look before going to bed. The crystal chandelier glistened. Her white Damask tablecloth, the bone china trimmed with a platinum edge, polished silverware and a fresh bouquet of fall flowers resembled an advertisement from Better Homes and Gardens. She had to admit that the room looked absolutely elegant.

Tina awoke early on Thursday. After breakfast and a quick shower, she went to the refrigerator to get the turkey. It wasn't there. At first, she was puzzled, and then she became frantic. She realized she had left the turkey in the microwave all night. She let out a pained scream and uttered a few foul words. Her husband Jim heard her and hurried into the kitchen to see what was the matter.

"What's wrong with you? Are you trying to wake the dead?"

"Oh Jim, I left the turkey in the micro all night. What the hell am I going to serve now?"

"Honey, relax, maybe it's okay. It smells all right. Maybe we can still cook it."

"For God's sake Jim, everyone will get salmonella or something. I'm such an idiot. Damn, my beautiful dinner is ruined."

"Calm down. I'll call Sentry and see if they are open and if they have anymore turkeys."

"It's too late. I'll never get it defrosted and cooked in time," said Tina as she twisted her fingers through her hair.

Jim called Sentry and was told they had a few birds left. He quickly threw on his clothes and went to buy another turkey. He was back home in half an hour, and Tina defrosted the turkey in cold water, hot water and by using the microwave. With Tina's instructions, Jim helped her prepare the rest of the meal.

Five hours later, Tina and Jim's families arrived. As they came into the house, Tina's mother raved that Tina's table never looked prettier. Jim's father told her the food smelled great. Tina's Aunt Josie said, "Tina you look fabulous. You really are a wonder, but you really shouldn't trouble yourself so much for us."

Tina smiled and said, "Oh Aunt Jo, it was no trouble at all."

Jim grinned and almost choked on a celery stick.

Recall Walker crew begins to collect signatures

By Mike Monte
Pat DiMartino, Pete and Brenda Davison were on the courthouse lawn this week gathering signatures to recall Governor Walker. Some people were stopping to sign, others passed. Politics has been a little rougher in Wisconsin these past few months.

Whether or not you are for Walker, the great thing about this effort is that we can! We can gather in public places and ask for signatures recalling public officials if we want to. And, we can walk by and not sign. Either way, it is our right as a citizen in this country, and we should appreciate that right.

Speaking of public places, while I was there to take the photo, the three people pictured were told that they couldn't take signatures on the courthouse grounds. They simply moved to the highway right-of-way. The question remains, however, if the courthouse square is a public place, and can it be used in the democratic process.

How many cranberries are grown in the USA?
In 2006, there were 6,780,000 100-lb. barrels of cranberries harvested. There are about 440 to 540 cranberries in a pound depending on the size of the berries, and 44,000 to 54,000 cranberries in a 100 lb. barrel. That's 3 to 3.5 billion cranberries harvested a year! In 2006, there were 39,000 acres harvested. The bulk of them are grown right here in Wisconsin. Cranberries are one of the few fruits native to North America.

October winners for Crooked Lake/Mountain Lions raffle

After only the second month of drawings for winners on the Crooked Lake/Mountain Lions Club raffle calendar, $825.00 has already been awarded to 21 lucky individuals. Ten people have a little more to be thankful for after their names were pulled from the drum during the month of October. Unless otherwise noted, the following received $25. Flo & Bob Kusters, Suring; Ron Froesch ($100), Green Bay; Brenda Hansen, Shawano; Dean Haas, Hortonville; Dan Roznowski, Lakewood; Patti Schmatz, Reedsville; Lora Yahr, Lakewood; Sherri Ables, Crooked Lake; Toni Pietkowsk, Neenah; Jerry Wieland, DePere.

The drawings will continue through the end of August, 2012.

Lights are strung at Riverview Ice Rink

The Lights are Strung, BUT, where are my adopting parents? A Xmas tree needs ornaments, lights and ownership. I look for someone to adopt me. The fee is small compared to the joy it brings to the children and the ice skaters. All monies collected by the Town of Riverview from the adoption fees are used to support the hockey rink and the family ice rink. We now have two warming sheds and lights for night skating. All ice skates are free to anyone who needs them no matter where you reside. The sport is fun for the family, free, and good exercise.

Applications are online or can be mailed to you. The cost is: $35 for families and non-profits, and $60 for businesses and organizations. The lights go on December 1st. The lighting celebration and the arrival of Santa on the fire truck to his village, is scheduled for Saturday, December 10th, 4 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Pictures with Santa will be available on the internet. Adopting parents will be verbally recognized that evening and publicly thanked in the newspapers at season's end. For more info, call 276-6914 or go to www.townofriverview.com.

Veteran Day Services in Crandon

Steve "Bus" Conway giving Veteran's Day speech

By Boyd Monte

This past Friday, November 11th, 2011, was the 93rd anniversary of the end of World War I. It is also known as Veterans Day. Veterans from all over the state held programs to honor past and present vets, Crandon had a few different programs.

The first was held at the United Methodist Church in Crandon. Steve "Bus" Conway, a World War II veteran, was the speaker. Mr. Conway gave us a history of Veterans Day. He started with World War I that was fought from 1914 until 1918. This was the war to end all wars. In 1919, November 11th was known as Armistice Day. Mr. Conway remembers standing in silence facing East at 11 o'clock. Conway stated, "I don't recall doing much more than that."

In 1938, Armistice Day was recognized by Congress as a holiday. Then in 1939, Germany invaded Poland and World War II was started. The United States entered the war after Japan attacked Pearl Harbor in Hawaii. World War II was fought from 1939 until 1945. There were sixteen million people were drafted in World War II, 410 thousand of those people lost their lives. While Eisenhower was President, Armistice Day was renamed Veterans Day. It is a day to remember all of the people in our armed services. Mr. Conway ended his speech by reminding everyone that, "A veteran is a veteran. It does not matter when you served, where you served or how long you served. A veteran is a veteran." At 11 o'clock, taps were played and there was a three volley salute.

That evening, a Veterans Day dinner was held at the community building in Crandon. World War II veterans were honored. A table was set up in the front of the building and all the vets were named. Present were; Richard Ackley Sr., Don Dehart, Steve Conway, Rod Shepard, Homer Rosa and Wynn Abney.

The guest speaker was Col. Vincent Boyd Barker. Col. Barker thanked the vets of World War II for their service and then spoke about his time in the service and two people that inspired him, George Tupper and Sargent Alcott. He also told us that we should always be thankful for what the men and women in the service do for us each day.

The Forest County Veterans then announced the winners of the appreciation awards for the year. Beth Zellmer received the D.A.V. Appreciation Award. Bill O'shaunessy received the Veteran of the Year Award and Frank Lotter of Lotter's Mobile Station was the Business of the Year.

Help Wanted

Community Coalition of Forest County
AmeriCorps Worker Needed

Position: AmeriCorps Worker - Tribal AmeriCorps Program-Community Coalition of Forest County
Background: AmeriCorps, often referred to as a domestic Peace Corps, places individuals who give a year of their life to serve their communities. The Tribal AmeriCorps Program places members with host site coalitions to help "Get Things Done". The ultimate goal of this program is to strengthen the capacity of coalitions and achieve positive outcomes related to the reduction and prevention of substance abuse among youth. To reach this goal the Tribal AmeriCorps program places members to help support out-of-school time activities and other evidence-based approaches to prevent youth substance use.

The Community Coalition of Forest County (CCFC) was formed "To benefit all community members by promoting a process to effectively utilize community resources to address and identify community problems and goals. These efforts shall include all interested citizens of Forest County. This will be undertaken collaboratively by all members. To achieve this mission the Community Coalition of Forest County will focus on the following: Participating in community education, identifying community issues and resource assistance, promoting and developing alternative response methods to selected issues, and exploring appropriate funding sources."

The host site for this position will be at New Hope Shelter & Transitional Housing, Crandon, WI 54520

JOB DUTIES:

- Assist the coalition and the host site by gathering and disseminating information to coalition members and the public pertaining to projects undertaken by the CCFC.
- Manage electronic and print media, including e-mails, meeting notices, and newspaper articles.
- Work as a team player with organizations and community residents to organize, promote, and coordinate positive opportunities for indigent individuals and at-risk youth.
- Attend coalition meetings and provide outreach to the community.
- Provide assistance to the coalition through researching and writing grants to ensure the sustainability of program adopted by the CCFC and the New Hope Shelter & Transitional Housing.
- Collect data and coordinate activities that increase awareness of county needs including needs of the indigent populations, youth at-risk, and housing needs, etc.
- Assist with activities related to hosting planning meetings and conferences.
- Provide interface with local and regional partners by attending conferences, training, and meetings.
- Compose grant applications and solicitation letters for financial assistance.
- Assist Director with day-to-day office operations to include tasks such as submittal of weekly comprehensive timesheets, monthly reports to CCFC and quarterly reports to AmeriCorps.

QUALIFICATIONS INCLUDE:

- Must be 21 years of age by November 1, 2011.
- Possess a high school diploma or GED/HSED.
- Agree to a criminal background check and Division of Motor Vehicles check.
- Valid Driver's license and access to reliable vehicle.
- Interest in fields of human services and community service facilitation.
- Self-starter attitude and ability to work independently.
- Well-developed research, writing, and editing skills.
- Excellent computer skills including knowledge of MS ACCESS for management of donor database.
- Education or experience pertaining to grant writing, business management, marketing and non-profit corporation operations.
- Commitment to serve as an AmeriCorps member and agree to the protocol set forth by the Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS)
- Experience in the provision of human services to include indigent populations, persons with disabilities and at-risk youth.

TERMS OF SERVICE:
 Work schedule average 40 hours per week. Possible evening and week-ends hours required.
 Ability to start position immediately after acceptance.
 A modest living allowance is provided at $452 (gross) every two weeks.
 Must commit to complete 1,700 hours in order to receive education award of $5,350.
 For a complete summary of benefits visit www.americorps.gov.
 Close of applications at 12:00 P.M. (noon) November 21, 2011. Please be available on this date for interviews.
 This placement is for less than one-year from the start date. Term will expire on Aug. 31, 2012.
 For more information, and to apply, please submit resume and cover letter with two references to:
 New Hope Shelter, PO Box 187, Crandon, WI 54520 * Phone: (715) 478-3669 * Fax: (715) 478-2731

Fruit Sale! The Crandon MS/HS band is holding their annual fruit sale. The sale runs from November 14-November 28. Fruit may be ordered from any 6-12 Crandon Band member or by contacting Jennifer Pulvermacher at (715) 478-6180 or email at pulvejen@crandon.k12.wi.us.

Christmas Heart Tree at Lakewood Super-Valu

Once again Lakewood Super Valu is teaming up with The Christian Food Pantry of Townsend to help make Christmas a little nicer for some of the area children. The "Heart Tree" is located by the deli in the Super Valu grocery store in Lakewood. Hanging from the branches are paper hearts with the gender and ages of children written on them and a brief description of that particular child's likes. It's so simple to participate! While you're doing your grocery shopping, pick a heart off the tree. Purchase and wrap a present and be sure to tape the heart with the number on it to the outside of the package. Return your gift to the store by December 5th for distribution. The hearts disappear fast so you might want to get yours as soon as possible.

WHY RECALL SCOTT WALKER? PART 1

SCOTT WALKER IS NOT ON THE SIDE OF WORKING FAMILIES

He is making massive cuts to education and health care so he can pay for tax cuts to big corporations that ship Wisconsin jobs overseas and drive wages and benefits down for everyone.

For example: Under Scott Walker, unemployment has risen from 7.4% to 7.9%.

Wisconsin has lost not just public sector jobs, but also private sector jobs under Scott Walker's failed policies. Wisconsin has lost private sector jobs every single month since his budget was passed- and there are 7,000 more job seekers than there were at this time last year.

Wisconsin leads the nation in cuts to education, averaging $635 less per pupil- even while corporations get big tax breaks. Seven out of ten students are attending a district with fewer teachers, 40% of our schools have larger class sizes and over 60% of our school districts say they will have to make more drastic cuts in the future.

Poverty has increased under Scott Walker, while median household income has gone down.

Walker's budget cut $1.6 billion from education and affected 97% of school districts THIS year.

Meanwhile, Scott Walker is taking a $7,000 pay raise next year.

NO CLASS ON THANKSGIVING
Spicy Pumpkin soup

- 4 Tbsp unsalted butter
- 2 medium yellow onions, chopped
- 2 teaspoons minced garlic
- 1/8 to 1/4 teaspoon crushed red pepper
- 1 1/2 tablespoons chili powder
- 2 teaspoons curry powder
- 1/2 teaspoon ground coriander
- Pinch ground cayenne pepper (optional)
- 3 (15 oz) cans or 5 cups
- 5 cups of vegetable broth
- 2 1/2 cups of milk
- 1/4 cup agave nectar

- 1 Melt butter in a 4-quart saucepan over medium-high heat. Add onions and garlic and cook, stirring often, until softened, about 4 minutes. Add spices and stir for a minute more.
- 2 Add pumpkin and 5 cups of chicken broth; blend well. Bring to a boil and reduce heat, simmer for 10 to 15 minutes.
- 3 Transfer soup, in batches, to a blender or food processor. Cover tightly and blend until smooth. Return soup to saucepan.
- 4 With the soup on low heat, add agave nectar and mix. Slowly add milk while stirring to incorporate. Adjust seasonings to taste. Yield: Serves 8.

Wabeno Public Library Adds Computer Stations

The Wabeno Public Library is pleased to announce a total of five computer stations available to the public, three more than those available 2009. These acquisitions have been made possible through the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, and matching funds which were required to be raised in the community. "We had several major donors step forth including the Wisconsin Dual Sport Riders, and the president of the Torke Coffee Company.

Librarian Carol Lee Saffioti-Hughes pointed out: "We have not only been able to purchase several new computers, but also we are upgrading existing peripherals including monitors for the older computer stations. We were able to upgrade the administrative computers as well, making a significant difference in our ability to handle high-speed data." The technology project, and related fund-raising, will continue, as they pursue further grant funding to enable the library to have a fully automated patron usage data-base system. "We don't want to lose the charm of our log cabin heritage, and even if we barcode, we are going to find a way to keep the rubber stamping process."

The library continues to offer free WI-FI service to the community from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. seven days a week. Patrons do not have to be in the library during open hours, to pick up the signal with their phones or other devices.

The library has begun an on-line mini-catalogue available for viewing on LibraryThing, which includes purchases made from 2009 to the present. For more information on how to search using it, contact the library. "With part-time hours, and part-time staff, it is helpful for folks at home to see some of our newest additions. We do not participate in the VCAT system, but we are on the statewide WISCAT interlibrary loan system which is also searchable from home. We provide access to resources such as BadgerLink, and we are part of the Overdrive borrowing system which allows patrons to borrow ebooks from all over the state." The library is also in the process of making e-readers available with books downloaded on them for patrons. "Bestsellers even on e-book format are costly, and we want to make this technology available to patrons."

The library also announces among recent acquisitions, the following books now available for check-out from the library: Children of Native America Today by Yvonne Wakim Dennis, Native People of Wisconsin by Patty Loew, Giving Thanks: A Native American Good Morning Message by Chief Jake Swamp, et.al; Squanto's Journey: The Story of the First Thanksgiving, by Joseph Bruchac, Indian Nations of Wisconsin: Histories of Endurance and Renewal, by Patty Loew. 1621: A New Look at Thanksgiving, by Catherine O'Neill Grace.

"We are increasing our holdings related to Native Americans, including people of Hawaii and Alaska, and we welcome suggestions from the public in this, as in all areas."

For more information contact the Wabeno Public Library: 715-473-4131.

GOOD LUCK!

Wabeno Elementary Class of the Week

Way to Step It Up!

The Wabeno Elementary Students have been asked to "Step It Up" by practicing responsible, respectful, and safe behaviors in our school. This last week the students worked on when and when not to interrupt and how to do it properly. Congratulations to Mrs. Laurie Christianson's 2nd grade. They "Stepped It Up" and are Wabeno Elementary's Class of the Week. Way to go!

Don't Miss Your Opportunity To Be Included In The 2012 Forest County Visitor Guide

The Forest County Chamber of Commerce would like to remind all area businesses to get their ads in for the Official 2012 Forest County Visitors Guide by November 30! Advertising reservations forms have been mailed to all businesses throughout the County. The form explains how to place an ad in the upcoming issue of the guide. Ad prices remain the same as last year, still reduced 20% (thanks to the Forest County Tourism Commission), and assistance in producing ads is available free of charge.

This beautiful, full color, full size, high quality guide showcases all Forest County has to offer. The 2011 visitor guide far surpassed the 2010 distribution numbers with nearly 24,000 copies distributed this year, so far. The guides were supplied to various businesses, chambers, and libraries throughout the state, Wisconsin Welcome Centers, as well as mailed to thousands who requested area information. It was also featured at four tourism trade shows during the year. Countless people also accessed

FCAL meeting schedule

There will be no December meeting. The next regular meeting date will be the third Friday of January, January 20 at 10:00 in the lower level of the Crandon Public Library. There will be no meeting in the month of February, but there will be a meeting March 16, same time and place.

Mccaslin Lions host Childrens Christmas Party

The McCaslin Lions Club invite all local area children 10 and under to its annual children's Christmas party on December 3, 2011. The party will be held in the Townsend town hall between 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

Twenty tricycles and bicycles will be given away appropriate for 4 age groups from 0 to 10 years old. (Restricted to one bicycle per family). Activities will include games, face painting and a visit from Santa. Pictures will be taken of children on Santa's lap. Lunch will also be served.

Parents are welcome, but due to space limitations and fire regulations, please only one adult attending with children.

the guide off the internet (in PDF version) from the Chamber's website. Improvements and additions for the 2012 guide are already underway. Don't forget about the enhanced dining section and accommodations sections, which give added value to your ad.

As always, public input and suggestions are welcomed. Area groups and organizations also need to set their event dates for 2012 and submit them to the Chamber no later than December 1 of this year to be included in the guide.

If you have not yet seen the 2011 guide, stop by the Forest County Visitor Center, at 116 South Lake Avenue in Crandon, and pick up a copy. If you didn't get a media kit, stop by or contact the Chamber office at (715)478-3450, or you can email info@visitforestcounty.com to have a copy of the media sheet sent to you.

Thank You's & Personals

A BIG THANK YOU
from Ed Smith & Family

My day started out with a plan to do some bow hunting. I went to a tree stand I had checked out the week before. The next thing I remember was waking up on the ground with such horrible pain in my ribs, back and shoulder. I was having a hard time breathing and I knew I needed help. I called 911. Sheriff John Dennee was the first one to get to me. By the time he got to where I was, our local fire departments, EMT personnel and paramedics with the Spirit Flight for Life were on their way to help.

It makes me very proud to be a part of a community where it is very apparent how much people care. My injuries were pretty severe and I could have died if not for the immediate response and the help I received from EVERYONE out there in the woods and also the doctors and nurses at Wausau Aspirus Hospital. I can't thank you all enough, you saved my life. I also want to thank my family and friends for the hospital visits, cards, flowers, phone calls, prayers and well wishes I received during this difficult time. I am on the mend thanks to all of you.

GOD BLESS YOU!

Thank You!

I would like to thank all of my dear friends and family for your cards and flowers, calls, prayers, and making the climb up the stairs to visit during my recent hospital stay and recuperation. Thank you, also, to the nurses, doctors, and other medical staff at Dr. Perry's office, St. Mary's in Rhinelander and St. Clare's in Weston. Your kindness and professional care were greatly appreciated. And last but not least, I would like to send a special thank you to my children. Your support and love mean the world to me.

Sugar: Five Sweet Ways to Cut Back

Kids love it, dentists hate it and Americans consume too much of it - more than 130 pounds per person each year. Sugar may be a key factor in metabolic syndrome, a condition that is believed to increase the risk of diabetes, heart disease and maybe even cancer.

Replacing some of the sugar in your diet with more nutritious foods is undoubtedly a good idea. The American Heart Association recommends limiting added sugars to no more than 100 calories per day for women and no more than 150 calories per day for men.

Five ways to reduce your sugar intake:

- 1: Instead of soft drinks, drink water or sparkling water with lime or a splash of fruit juice. Soft drinks are the leading source of sugar in the American diet.
- 2: Eat fewer processed foods and more whole foods, such as produce. Food labels list ingredients in descending order or quantity. If sugar is in the top 5, double-check the calories and grams per serving.
- 3: Save baked goods and desserts for special occasions. Instead, try naturally sweet fruits, fresh or canned in fruit juice.
- 4: Buy only unsweetened 100% fruit juice. Better yet, fruit beats juice any day for a healthy, sweet treat.

GOOD LUCK & SAFE HUNTING!

A complete kitchen will enable the easy serving of food at the community events that are sure to come.

The new building is four times the space of the old facilities but energy costs are projected to be equal or less. It features geo thermal heating in the offices and community rooms while the maintenance and vehicle storage areas are heated radiantly (LP gas). The town focused on receiving every stimulus energy package available. It has motion-sensored lighting, bulbs and fixtures of the latest technology, and hi-efficiency windows and doors.

The entire project was completed for the town within budget and with no increase in taxes for the citizens. None! To assure this, the town did all its own sourcing and purchasing for the project thus avoiding contractor service markups of perhaps 15%-20%. And, the Town paid no sales tax on its purchases. The Town is obligated for annual payments on a low-interest, 20-year general obligation bond (Build America Bonds) as part of the total financing for the building. However, this cost is offset by expiring existing debt and satisfied loan commitments, and by interest rebates on the general obligation bond. The Town had previous ownership of the land.

The design appeal and functionality of the building on behalf of its citizens become apparent as soon as one enters the foyer. The building is fully compliant with the American Disabilities Act. It has an emergency operations center with its own FCC license and transmitter. It will house people in emergencies in cold or warm weather. There is a backup generator in case of power outages. It offers free direct internet access for use by citizens. There is a 300-capacity great room for parties, seminars, business gatherings, wedding receptions and a host of other activities with new tables and chairs bought with funds from the sale of commemorative tiles. The great room is supported by an enclosed kitchen facility for limited food preparation, storage and service.

Lest it be forgot, the new building replaces old facilities that were not OSHA or ADA compliant, were highly energy inefficient, had rusted support beams, were so small that new emergency equipment didn't fit, where semi trailers had to be used for storage, and where land-use restrictions limited most needs for expansion.

For interested parties, the old facilities sit on a prime 3/4 acre site on County DD that is zoned residential or tourist related. The site is expected to be put up for sale in the spring of 2012 and be sold through a bidding process using minimum bid guidelines.

The success of this project has caught the attention of many town and city officials around the state, some being unsuccessful in their grant requests. Nashville's success is a tribute to what can be accomplished by disparate groups and individuals when working for the common good. It is a tribute to leaders who have the drive and talent to succeed, to scores of unsung volunteers who want to "pay back", and to hundreds of local business and individual donors who generously supported this project with their contributions. Chairman Steeter said, "The Town Board will express their thanks in an open house some time next year and we will strive to fulfill the community service potential of the building in the years to come".

Holt & Balcom Logging Camp museum report

Wintry weather means work on the Holt & Balcom Logging Camp Museum in Lakewood will be halted this week to resume in spring as weather permits. The Restoration Committee, a subgroup of the Oconto County Historical Society, had hoped to finish the project this fall, but work has been proceeding too slowly. One bright spot is that this gives the Restoration Committee more time to raise desperately needed funds to finish the project.

"Unfortunately, the estimated cost of completing the renovation will be twice what we previously anticipated," says Kathleen Marsh, Fundraising Chair. "I have done everything possible to raise the money, and I thought we had enough, but the bottom line is we are $20,000 short of what is needed."

"To clear up a misconception in the community, not a single dollar of taxpayer money has been used to restore the Museum. All of our funds have come from private sources: individuals, families, community organizations, businesses, and Museum fees/events."

"Jerry Dewane (Astro Log Homes) and his partner Bob Kleinhaus are doing an excellent job, with meticulous attention to detail. But the building is badly deteriorated; many of the logs the men work on crumble in their hands. Thus it is going to cost a lot more than what we thought, and we are counting on people to once again respond generously."

If you would like to help save the oldest logging camp still standing on its original site, please send a donation to Holt and Balcom Logging Camp Museum; 16965 Nicolet Road; Townsend, WI 54175. Donations of any size will be greatly appreciated. Donors who make a hundred dollar contribution are eligible for a $1000 appreciation award to be given at the Second Annual Lumberjack Links Golf Outing on June 10, 2012 at the McCauslin Country Club and Golf Course in Lakewood. Call 715-276-6515 for more details.

"When the Museum is finished next year, the site will be an historical treasure that our entire community can point to with pride," says Marsh. "I promise we are doing our best to make sure the logging camp will be there for at least another hundred years, but we need your help to get this done."

Cougar hits Northwoods in time for annual gun deer hunt

DNR News Release

A cougar ranging through west central and northern Wisconsin likely has tripped a trail camera for a third time, leading biologists to believe it is heading into the Northwoods just in time for the annual gun deer hunt. State wildlife officials are asking hunters to report any sightings of the young, wild cougar. Based on the times and locations of the three photographs, it could be in the Flambeau State Forest or in heavily wooded Price County by now.

The state Department of Natural Resources also is reminding hunters that the cougar is a protected animal in Wisconsin. It can only be shot in self defense or to prevent harm to another human being, situations that would be considered extremely unlikely but not impossible.

This cougar was photographed November 8 by a trail camera located near the Rusk-Taylor county line.

The cougar, which appears to be a young male in search of territory and a mate, was photographed Nov. 8 by a trail camera located near the Rusk-Taylor county line, just east of Hawkins and south of U.S. Highway 8.

Previously, a young cougar was photographed Oct. 20 by a trail camera near the community of Pray in eastern Jackson County. Four days earlier, it was captured by a trail camera near Mauston in Juneau County. The two locations are about 42 miles apart. Cougar sightings are tracked on the DNR website.

Adrian Wydeven, DNR mammalian ecologist, said the pattern of spots and markings on the animal in the first and second photographs appears to be the same. From Pray to Hawkins, where the third photograph was taken 21 days after the second, is about 80 miles. Assuming it is the same animal – and it does have similar markings on its rear legs – it averaged about 3.8 miles a day.

To report a cougar sighting please contact the nearest DNR office or take advantage of the DNR's rare mammal observation form located online. This page can be easily located by going to the Cougars in Wisconsin page of the DNR website (type the word "cougar" in the search box).

Also, biologists would be interested in photographs of the cougar's tracks. Pictures of tracks should include a ruler or other measuring tool in the frame. Advice for gathering and protecting any biological samples can be found at the same location online. The DNR should be contacted before any samples are shipped.
