Rail historian, author Jeff Terry to visit Lumberjack Steam Train

Author of The Story of the Lumberjack Steam Train to visit July 7
In real life, Jeff Terry works as a real railroad man, making his living as a locomotive engineer for the Canadian Pacific Railroad. Even on his days off, Terry is never far from the rails as a rail historian, author and all-around railway buff.

Terry writes the preservation column for Railfan and Railroad Magazine. He's visited Laona four times, resulting in two published articles and photographs on the Lumberjack Steam Train.

"The '4 Spot' is the last remaining logging steam train operating within the state of Wisconsin," says Terry. Number 4 is also one of only 11 'Prairie' type (2-6-2) locomotives still running in the United States."

Terry will be taking a "railman's holiday" and making a return visit to the Lumberjack Steam Train and riding the rails out to Camp Five.

"The railway is still going strong in Laona," according to Terry. "The opportunity to ride a real steam locomotive is very limited. Thanks to Camp Five and the Laona & Northern, the logging and railroad boom times can still be celebrated with a trip aboard an authentic coal-fired steam train."

Terry will be riding the 11 a.m. train out to Camp Five on July 7, where he will be available to meet fans and sign copies of his book, The Story of the Lumberjack Steam Train. Copies of the book will be available for purchase on the day of the event.

The Lumberjack Steam Train is located in Laona, Wis., within convenient driving distance of Chicago, the Twin Cities and all points in the state. Tickets on the Lumberjack Steam Train include the round-trip ride and admission into the Wisconsin Forestry Museum Complex of historic and natural attractions, including the Logging Museum and Blacksmith Shop, Green Treasure Forest Tour, Animal Barn and Corral, the Nature Center, Cracker Barrel Store, Francis Weiner Diesel Static Display and Choo Choo Hut Restaurant & Picnic Area.

Group rates are available. For additional information go to <http://www.lumberjacksteamtrain.com> or contact the Lumberjack Steam Train by phone at 715.674.3414 or by e-mail: info@lumberjacksteamtrain.com

Mecikalski Stovewood Museum Annual Fund Raiser on July 4th

If you haven't toured the restored Mecikalski store, now the Stovewood Museum in Jennings, you have missed a chance to see a vintage store, bar room, and living quarters, most of which, from the early part of the last century, are lost to time.

The Annual Fund Raiser will be held on Wednesday, July 4th at the Schoepke Town Hall in Pelican Lake, and there will be museum tours for those who haven't had the experience.

The event lasts from 10:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m., and there will be a braat feed, pie sale, beverages, crafts and a good time.

Happy 4th of July!

These two bald eagles, our national symbol, have a battle in midair. Reminds you of congress, but we can't tell which is the Republican and which is the Democrat! Maybe it doesn't matter!

Don't forget the Newald Fire Dept. Mud Drags & Mud Bogs! This Saturday, June 30th

The Newald Volunteer Fire Department is holding a Mud Drag and Mud Bog event that will be just right for lovers of big V8 engines, big knobby tires and plenty of loud exhaust noise. Don't knock it, this is lots of fun. The mud bogs will be held after the drags.

There will be plenty to eat and drink, and no carries are allowed. After all, the fire department has to make a few bucks!

If you want to get in the mud, the blood and the beer, go to Newald. And yes, that is from a Johnny Cash song called a "Boy Named Sue."

Nu-Roc Resident of the Month Ray Piper

Nu-Roc Community Healthcare is pleased to announce that Ray Piper has been chosen as the May 2012 Resident of the Month. Ray was born and raised on his parents' dairy farm in Sturgeon Bay, WI, where he helped with the farm work along with his 3 older brothers. After graduating from high school, he enlisted in the Army. World War II was just ending so Ray did not see battle; instead, he was assigned to the Army Band. He traveled with the band playing clarinet and saxophone at Army functions. After his time in the Service, Ray worked as a deckhand on a Great Lakes freighter for a season, then moved to Green Bay where he worked at paper company. Eventually, Ray started with the Post Office as a letter carrier. He enjoyed delivering mail in Green Bay for 30 years.

It was at a friends wedding that Ray met his wife, Grace. They will be celebrating 62 years of marriage this year and have been blessed with 4 children, 7 grandchildren, and 4 great-grandchildren.

Ray has always been a big Packer fan (he's a season ticket holder), baseball fan (his favorite team is the Cubs), and an avid golfer. He also enjoyed bowling, camping, and dancing with Grace. He coached Little League baseball and served as a commissioner for several years. Ray was active at his church in the lay ministry and singing in the church choir.

Ray and Grace retired and moved to Lakewood in 1984 to a home built in their ideal location, next to the golf course. They spent their winters in warmer climates, eventually becoming "snowbirds" in Brownsville, Texas. They spent 25 happy and warm winters at Winterhaven Resort. After retiring from golf, Ray enjoyed walking, music, dancing, and singing. At Nu-Roc, he enjoys the musical entertainment and listening to his CD's, especially gospel music.

The staff and residents at Nu-Roc are happy to have Ray with them and congratulate him on this honor.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO MY TWO HANDSOME LIL BOYS!

Zady Ryder Ingram Devon "Lil" Bradley Webb
 Zady Ryder Ingram Happy 1st birthday on 7-7-12 to the little boy who brightens our everyday, who made his big brother so proud in every way and gave us something to look forward to again. Mommy, Daddy and the entire family love you to the stars and back!

As I sit in Heaven, and watch you everyday, I try and let you know with signs, I never went away. I hear you when you're laughing and I watch you as you sleep, I even place my arms around you to calm you as you weep. I see you wish the days away, begging to have me home. So I try to send you signs, so you know you're not alone. Don't feel guilty that you have life, that was denied to me. Heaven is truly beautiful, just you wait and see! So live your life, laugh again, enjoy yourself, be free. Then I'll know with every breath you take, you'll be taking one for me!

Happy 5th Birthday to everyone's favorite Super Hero in Heaven,
 Devon "Lil" Bradley Webb
 Your family loves & misses you "Lil"
 May you rest in peace until we meet again.
 6/24/07 - 5/09/12

THANK YOU
 To the good samaritan that returned a wallet untouched. There are still honest people in this world. P11

Merci!

- Watermelon - Fruit or Vegetable?

Watermelon is a fruit: Watermelon is the fruit of a plant originally from a vine of Southern Africa. The watermelon fruit, loosely considered a type of melon (although not in the genus Cucumis), has a smooth exterior rind and a juicy, sweet, usually red interior flesh. The species description Citrullus vulgaris is sometimes, synonymously, used to refer to this plant (vulgaris meaning "common" - Shosteck, 1974).

Like the pepper, tomato, and pumpkin, watermelon is botanically a fruit. According to Webster's dictionary and Wikipedia, a fruit is the ripened ovary of a seed plant and its contents and a watermelon is a large oblong roundish fruit (2004-2006). Consumers use watermelon primarily as a fruit because of its sweet flavor and refreshing qualities.

Watermelon is also a Vegetable: According to Webster's dictionary a vegetable is anything made or obtained from plants (2004). Watermelon is a member of the cucurbitaceae plant family of gourds (classified as Citrullus Lantus), related to the cucumber, squash and pumpkin (Maynard, 2001). It is planted from seeds or seedlings, harvested and then cleared from the field like other vegetables. Since watermelon is grown as a vegetable crop using vegetable production systems, watermelon is considered a vegetable (Wolford, 2004).

How Watermelon is used as a fruit or a vegetable: Watermelon is popularly used as a fruit, to be a sweet enhancer or fun accompaniment to our everyday meals. The watermelon is often cut into bite sized squares or balled, or very often simply sliced and enjoyed. It's also used in the types or recipes that are created using fruit.

However, the whole watermelon is edible, even the rind. In places like China, the watermelon is stir fried, stewed and often pickled. In this case, the watermelon is being used as a vegetable. Pickled watermelon rind is also widespread in Russia. (Wikipedia, 2006).

Scientifically Speaking: The scientific name of watermelon is Citrullus lanatus. It is a member of the cucurbitaceae family. Life: Embryophyta (plants): Angiospermae (flowering plants) Order: Cucurbitales (pumpkin and melon family): Family: Cucurbitaceae.

There are about 120 genera and 735 species of Cucurbitaceae worldwide, with 18 genera and 76 species native to southern Africa. Some well known vegetables fall in this family such as watermelon, Hubbard squash, butternut, pumpkin, sweet melons and cucumber.

All a Matter of Perspective: Depending on how you want to classify it, a watermelon can be considered a fruit or a vegetable. No matter which way you slice it, watermelon is fun to eat and very good for you!

Fourth annual Landing Blitz for aquatic invasive species doubles coverage

MADISON – Citizen volunteers and aquatic invasive species experts will be teaming up to educate boaters at more than 200 landings across Wisconsin over the week of the Fourth of July. This is the fourth annual "Landing Blitz," where participants will provide free boat inspection and remind boaters how to avoid spreading Eurasian water-milfoil, zebra mussels and other aquatic invasive species. The program has grown over the years, with the 200 landings staffed this year more than double last year's coverage of 90 landings staffed by boat inspectors.

Aquatic invasive species (AIS) can crowd out native species, disrupt lake ecosystems and interfere with boating, fishing and other recreation. They create extra costs and lost value to homeowners and to state industries such as utilities, real estate, manufacturing, shipping, tourism, fishing and recreation. Invasives and fish diseases (such as viral hemorrhagic septicemia or VHS) spread to new waters primarily aboard boating and fishing equipment, or when live fish or water moved from one water body to another.

This year's Landing Blitz runs from June 29 to July 9 and has drawn volunteers from 40 counties trained through Wisconsin's Clean Boats, Clean Waters program. These inspectors will demonstrate the required prevention steps boaters must take before they leave a landing, provide reminder stickers for trailers and talk about Wisconsin aquatic invasive species laws. Boaters found practicing good boat hygiene can be rewarded with a free boating towel.

"We know that most folks on the water are aware of the aquatic invasive species laws and are concerned and want to take the steps to clean their boats and equipment," says Bob Wakeman, Wisconsin's Statewide Aquatic Invasive Species coordinator. "But until we have 100 percent compliance, the week of July Fourth is a great time for us to be on the water spreading the word, as well as show our appreciation for the boaters and anglers who are taking care of their lakes."

For many citizens, keeping invasive species out of their favorite lakes and rivers has come to mean not just cleaning their own gear, but getting active in community education as well.

"The level of support this year has been incredible. So has the diversity of participants. It's great to see people getting involved in protecting their lakes and rivers is on the rise," says Mike Putnam of DNR, Landing Blitz coordinator.

Oneida County has one such growing program. Aquatic invasive species staff and volunteers will cover 28 county lakes over the week, up from a total of 17 last year, with 23 of these staffed by lake association volunteers. Aquatic Invasive Species County Coordinator Michele Sadauskas says it's increased citizen involvement that's been getting the word out on invasive species prevention.

"Although we do put a lot of focus on the Landing Blitz, most lake associations will be out there anyway for the Clean Boats, Clean Waters program. We get great participation," explains Sadauskas. "For example, Three Lakes Waterfront Association has 800 members and a good volunteer base. This allows Oneida's AIS county staff to cover other areas. We're very grateful for their help."

Landing Blitz inspectors come from a diverse partnership that includes citizen volunteers, AIS county coordinators, UW-Extension interns, lake associations, resource conservation and development councils, nonprofit organizations, Boy Scout troops, the University of Wisconsin Sea Grant and DNR.

They'll be reminding boaters, anglers and others enjoying Wisconsin waters that they are required to:

- INSPECT boats, trailers, and equipment;
- REMOVE all attached aquatic plants and animals;
- DRAIN all water from boats, vehicles, and equipment; and
- NEVER MOVE plants or live fish away from a water body (limited exceptions apply. Visit DNR's website and search keywords "bait laws").

Nicolet College Geocache Poker Run July 14 features GPS unit as prize

Geocaching enthusiasts will have the chance to win a Garmin Nuvi GPS unit at the Nicolet College Geocache Poker Run from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, July 14, starting on the Nicolet College Campus just south of Rhinelander.

During the event participants will get the coordinates for five locations in or near Rhinelander. At each location they'll answer a question and receive a poker chip. At the end of the event they'll exchange their chips for playing cards back on the Nicolet Campus. The highest hand will win the GPS unit.

"During the event participants will have a great deal of fun searching out each cache and also have the opportunity to learn more about the new Geographic Information System associate degree program at Nicolet," said Brigitte Parsons, dean of Trade and Industry at Nicolet College. "GIS is an up and coming career field that is used in a wide variety of different industries. This new program at Nicolet is a great way for people to learn the skills necessary to enter the workforce as a GIS professional."

The geocaching event is free and there is no need to register. Teams can consist of one to four individuals. It will take place rain or shine. Participants will meet at 9 a.m. Saturday, July 14, at the front of the Learning Resources Center on the Nicolet Campus, located one mile south of Rhinelander just off of Hwy. G.

The question at each site will be about geocaching or GIS. When teams are done getting as many chips as they can, they'll return to Nicolet's GIS lab in room 110 of the Tamarack Center on the Nicolet Campus to exchange their poker chips for playing cards. Teams will then put their cards on the table to see who has the winning hand and who will walk away with the Garmin Nuvi GPS unit.

For more information, contact Devon VandenHeuvel, Nicolet GIS instructor, at (715) 365-4521, 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4521; TDD (715) 365-4448 or 711 relay; or by email at dvandenh@nicoletcollege.edu.

Project Adam brings defibrillator to Wabeno Library

An AED (Automated Electric Defibrillator) can mean the difference between life and death, and the Wabeno Public Library is now a local site for public access to one of the devices under the auspices of Project ADAM which originally brought AED's into public schools. Under the terms of the program public libraries are eligible for half of the cost of the device, on the contingency that matching funds be raised. The Wisconsin Masonic Foundation is one of the major charities working with Project ADAM, and granted $800 towards the goal of a Project ADAM (Automated Defibrillators in Adam's Memory)

Crandon Lodge 287 worked with the library to apply to the Masonic Medical Fund of Wisconsin to receive the match dollars needed to purchase a brand new defibrillator. Other major donors were the Wisconsin Dual Sport Riders, and the President of the Torke Coffee Company, Ward Torke. Without these generous donors the device could never have been purchased.

Project ADAM began in 1999 after a series of sudden deaths among high school athletes in southeastern Wisconsin. Many of these deaths appear due to ventricular fibrillation. After Adam Lemel, a 17-year-old Whitefish Bay, Wis. high school student, collapsed and died while playing basketball, Adam's parents - Patty Lemel and Joe Lemel - along with David Ellis, a childhood friend of Adam's, collaborated with Children's Hospital of Wisconsin and the Wisconsin Masonic Foundation o create this program in Adam's memory at help prevent sudden cardiac arrest.

"The device is exactly like those found in airports that are completely automatic" explained library director Carol Lee Saffioti-Hughes. "Absolutely no training is required, with voice instructions as soon as the device is opened. The members of the Library Board were extremely supportive once the project was described and proposed to them, and they unanimously supported our goal to have one in the library."

Under the terms of the program, the device is registered with the state, and with the Emergency Plan of the town of Wabeno, and is accessible from the street within three feet of the front entry of the building. Many larger cities are promoting the acquisition of these devices so that they are place in every tenth store or business, or within a three minute walk from one device to another. Many churches are also decided to acquire similar devices. The Library's AED is the first to be permanently installed in a public building in Wabeno other than the public schools, United Area Rescue Squad, and local law enforcement access.

Intoxicated boaters will be watched with Operation Dry Water

Boaters will see Wisconsin's conservation wardens and local boat patrols on the water looking for impaired boat operators whose blood alcohol level is over the state limit of 0.08 percent as part of the national Operation Dry Water campaign slated for June 22 through 24.

"We want to enhance everyone's safety by removing intoxicated boat operators from the water. We hope to educate as many boaters as possible about the hazards of operating while intoxicated," said Roy Zellmer, Department of Natural Resources boating law administrator.

A boat operator or passenger with a blood alcohol concentration above the legal limit runs a significantly increased risk of being involved in a boating accident. When impaired by alcohol, boating accidents are more likely and more deadly for both passengers and boat operators, many of whom capsize their vessel or simply fall overboard.

Operating while intoxicated is a primary contributing factor in nearly one in five boating fatalities nationwide, and Wisconsin's conservation wardens and boat patrols are committed to enforcing laws against this high-risk behavior to protect everyone on the water. Boaters found operating a recreational vessel with a blood alcohol concentration of 0.08 percent or higher will find their voyage terminated and they will be removed from the water for everyone's safety.

Last year, Wisconsin's conservation warden service and local water patrols dedicated 1,684 hours and contacted 1,870 boaters during Operation Dry Water. There were 14 arrests of boating under the influence and 162 other boating citations issued along with 599 boating-related warnings.

Operation Dry Water, a multi-agency, education and enforcement initiative launched by the National Association of State Boating Law Administrators in 2009 in partnership with the U.S. Coast Guard, puts thousands of local, state and federal marine law enforcement officers on the water nationwide the last weekend in June to give operating while intoxicated enforcement high visibility during the peak boating season.

"Boaters who choose to operate while intoxicated will face the consequences of that decision," Zellmer said. "We want recreational boaters to enjoy themselves, but there will be zero tolerance for boating under the influence."

Operation Dry Water is a joint program of the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, the National Association of State Boating Law Administrators and the U.S. Coast Guard. For more information, visit www.operationdrywater.org. For more information on boating in Wisconsin, search for "boat" on the DNR website.

Forest County Historical to meet June 28

The Forest County Historical and Genealogical Society will meet on June 28 at the museum, 105 W. Jackson, at 7:00 p.m. Discussion will include plans for Kentuck Day, the Business after 5 tour and work on new displays. The meeting is open to the public and if you would like to learn more about the work of the Society this is a good time to attend a meeting.

We are currently short of guides so may have to shorten our summer hours. Anyone who is interested in local history is invited to look into being a guide. It is a great way to learn about Forest County's colorful past, enjoy our comfortable rockers on the old-fashioned porch, visit with passers-by or enjoy the air-conditioning on these hot, muggy days. Each guide shift is only three hours and training will be provided. If you would like to learn more call Sandy at 715-478-3753.

Oconto County Residents Attend Republican Convention

GREEN BAY Over 1,900 people, including eleven Members of the Republican Party of Oconto County, were on hand at the 2012 State Convention of the Republican Party of Wisconsin held at the Shopko Hall in Green Bay from May 11th to 13th. The Convention, the largest in the past decade and considered the largest republican gathering in the State over the past 25 years, featured appearances by Governor Scott Walker and Lt. Governor Rebecca Kleefisch. Also speaking to the massive audience of delegates and guests was the full US Congressional Delegation from Wisconsin including, Senator Ron Johnson and Representative Reid Ribble, as well as all the republican candidates for US Senate; former Governor Tommy Thompson, Speaker of the Wisconsin Assembly Jeff Fitzgerald, former US Congressman Mark Neumann and Madison-area businessman Eric Hovde.

The Oconto County GOP was very active at the Convention with nine members serving on the Convention, Communications, Platform, Rules, Credentials and Tellers Committees. Also, the Party was one of only 25 counties state-wide to receive a Wisconsin Award for party activities and volunteerism. This was the second straight year that Oconto County GOP was honored with this award at the Chairman's Banquet. Rounding out the very busy weekend was the official confirmation and registration of Barb Finger (Oconto) and Kevin Barthel (Lakewood) as Delegates and Rick Klatt (Oconto Falls) as an Alternate to the Republican National Convention to be held in Tampa Bay, Florida on August 26th to 30th. Finger, Barthel and Klatt are three of the four northeast Wisconsin republicans who were elected to represent Wisconsin's 8th Congressional District in Tampa Bay. They were elected during the Republican District Caucus held in Seymour on April 14th. Anyone interested in joining the Republican Party of Oconto County is welcome to contact us at ocontorepublicans@gmail.com.

No fireworks allowed on the Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest

Rhinelander, Wis. (June 27, 2012) Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest Supervisor, Paul Strong is reminding visitors and campers that the use of all fireworks is prohibited on all national forests and national grasslands.

Fireworks and other pyrotechnic devices are prohibited on national grassland and national forest lands year-round, regardless of weather conditions or holidays. Regulations are enforced, and violation is punishable as a misdemeanor by a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment of not more than six months, or both.

Forest visitors are also reminded to ensure that all fires are extinguished and cold to the touch before leaving them.

The mission of the U.S. Forest Service is to sustain the health, diversity, and productivity of the nation's forests and grasslands to meet the needs of present and future generations. The agency manages 193 million acres of public land, provides assistance to state and private landowners, and maintains the largest forestry research organization in the world.

Friends Forever

Jim Asbach, Ron Eveland, and Bill Packard each turned 80 this year; Jim in March, Ron in May, and Bill on the 22nd of June.

The year was 1950, and all went to work in Milwaukee, and all were 18 years old. It was 62 years ago, and we all had our pictures taken. 62 years later we all had another picture taken and found there was no change.

We all had tattoos on our left wrist, "Jim, Ron, and Bill." After 62 years, they all wanted to know if they still knew who they were.

Jim, Ron and Bill all joined the Air Force during the Korean War. Jim returned from the regular Air Force, Ron from the Reserves, and Bill got out after eight years. All became non-commissioned NCO's of different grades.

All retired and came back to Crandon and all live on the same street, North Central Avenue in Crandon.

All grew up in Crandon and came home. There is something about Crandon and its people. You just can't stay away!

P.S. All were Boy Scouts in Wolf Pack.

Explore an Auto Technician career at Nicolet College Open House

Anyone interested in exploring a career as an Automotive Technician is invited to attend an Open House in Nicolet College's Auto Lab from 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 10, on the Nicolet Campus just south of Rhinelander.

Prospective students will have the opportunity to tour the recently remodeled, state-of-the-art lab, learn about the courses included in the one-year diploma program, and the job prospects after graduation.

"The Open House will also be a great chance for people to meet our two new Auto instructors," said Brigitte Parsons, dean of Trade and Industry at Nicolet. "Both have extensive experience and are experts in the automotive field."

Ken Duesing comes to Nicolet with 24 years of experience in the field. He's earned numerous high-level certifications over the years, is an ASE Master Technician, and has received GM World Class Certification. He's a graduate of the Automotive program at Wyoming Technical Institute.

Chris Kolasa has more than 20 years of experience in the automotive industry. For the past 9 years he's taught Automotive Technology at Western Technical College, serving as the Program Head since 2010. Kolasa has several specialty certifications, including ASE Master Technician and ASE L1 Advanced Engine Performance. He's a graduate of Northcentral Technical College and the University of Wisconsin - Stout, where he received a bachelor's degree in Career, Technical, Education, and Training.

At the Open House information will be available on financial aid, scholarships, and the wide variety of support services Nicolet offers to help students succeed. Refreshments will be served.

Those interested in attending the event can drop by anytime between 4:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m., Tuesday, July 10. The Auto lab and classrooms are on the ground floor of the Art Tech Center. The Nicolet Campus is located one mile south of Rhinelander just off of Hwy. G.

For more information, contact Nicolet at (715) 365-4432, 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4432; TDD (715) 365-4448 or 711 relay; or by email at tlarsen@nicoletcollege.edu.

Nicolet College cuts $500,000 from 2012-13 budget; $1.1 million over past two years

The Nicolet College Board of Trustees recently passed a new budget that cuts $500,000 from operational expenses for 2012-13 and adheres to the operational tax levy freeze which is in place for all state technical colleges.

"Everyone at Nicolet realizes that these are challenging economic times and that it is vital that we reduce operational expenses as much as possible," said Nicolet College President Elizabeth Burmaster. "The challenge is to make cuts and still move the college forward, maintain educational quality, and meet the changing needs of residents and businesses in the Northwoods. This budget does that."

The most recent budget reduction comes on top of the $600,000 the board cut from the operational budget last year for a total of a $1.1 million budget reduction over the past two years.

Much of these savings were realized through staff reductions and improved operational efficiencies. Starting July 1, the beginning of the new fiscal year, Nicolet will have the equivalent of 11 fewer full-time staff. All of these position cuts came from the administrative, support staff, and non-teaching ranks. Burmaster stressed that there were no cuts made to the number of instructor positions.

"It is critically important to maintain instructor positions in order to maintain a high level of educational quality and respond to workforce development needs," she explained.

Last year Nicolet cut the equivalent of 9.8 full-time positions. This makes for a total reduction of 20.8 employee FTEs over the past two years.

Even with significant reductions in the past two budgets, Burmaster noted the college has prioritized new academic programs in an effort to expand career opportunities for residents and meet the workforce needs of Northwoods businesses. These new programs include manufacturing industrial maintenance, dental hygiene, architectural technology, geographic information systems, and two new certificates in information technology.

The 2012-13 budget is based on a 4 percent decline in equalized property value and a little more than a 2 percent increase in the total tax levy for the Nicolet District. Exact figures won't be known until fall when the state releases official equalized property values and the Board of Trustees determines the mill rate.

The mill rate is projected to be 1.22, resulting in the tax on a $100,000 home to increase by $7.24.

"Nicolet provides a quality education that prepares our students for the world of work and further education," Burmaster said. "We are committed to educational excellence which will be key to bringing economic prosperity back to the Northwoods."

Crooked Lake/Mountain Lions donate to the Fire Department

The Crooked Lake/Mountain Lions Club has several fundraisers year round to raise money in order to support other volunteer organizations in the area. If you have purchased one of their money calendars or attended the Family Fun Fest, Spaghetti Dinner or Oktoberfest, you too have helped the local fire departments. The Mountain Fire Department is one of several places that advertise our events on their sign.

Pre-College Academies for 9th, 10th graders at Nicolet College

Students in Nicolet's Pre-College Science Academy will gather water samples from Lake Julia and then test the quality of the water. They'll also survey the lake for aquatic invasive species.

Fun-filled, hands-on activities await Northwoods 9th and 10th graders enrolling in any one of three upcoming Pre-College Academies at Nicolet College.

"Everything will be designed around hands-on activities that are fun for students," said Susan Kordula, academy coordinator and director of Admissions and PK-16 Pathways at Nicolet College. "They'll learn a wide variety of skills that will help them succeed in high school and also be better prepared academically when they start college. It's also a great way for students to explore careers in these fields."

Each Academy will be held over five consecutive Saturdays this coming fall and winter on the Nicolet College Campus just south of Rhinelander. One Academy will cover environmental science, another engineering, and the third health occupations.

For more information on any of the Academies listed below, contact Nicolet College's PK-16 Pathways office at (715) 365-4464, 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4464; TDD 711 or (715) 365-4448; or by email at inquire@nicoletcollege.edu.

Environmental Science Academy

9:30 a.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Saturdays, Sept. 22, 29, Oct. 6, 13, 20

Working in small teams, students will learn about and collect invasive species, sample water quality, watch scientists shock a stream to analyze fish populations, and shoot video of the above activities. Students will then produce a digital video on how to prevent the spread of aquatic invasive species in the Northwoods. In the process students will learn about science careers and develop their skills in science, technology, engineering and math (STEM).

Engineering Academy

9:30 a.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Saturdays, Jan. 26, Feb. 2, 9, 16 and 23

Students in the Engineering Academy will learn the engineering design process to define, build, and test solutions to a variety of engineering problems. Projects will teach students how to apply math and science skills and demonstrate the importance of communication when working as an engineer. Careers they'll explore include those in the aerospace, electrical, manufacturing, architectural and mechanical engineering fields.

Health Sciences Academy

9:30 – 2:30 p.m.

Saturdays, Jan. 26, Feb. 2, 9, 16 and 23

Those in the Health Occupations Academy will learn about and get to practice a wide variety of basic medical procedures on Nicolet's new, high-tech patient simulator known as Meti-Man. This state-of-the-art, computerized mannequin can recreate hundreds of medical scenarios. Students will use critical thinking skills to work through different medical situations in a safe learning environment.

Tuition for each academy is $487, however, a grant from the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction will cover all tuition costs for students who are eligible for free and reduced lunch.

Nicolet will provide transportation to and from campus from various community meeting points in the Northwoods.

Laona Honor Society inductees

At the end of the school year the Laona Chapter of the National Honor Society conducted its second induction of the year. During the candle lit, traditional ceremony juniors Megan Milan and Danielle Flannery joined the ten standing members of the society. Milan and Flannery were honored and recognized for their scholarship, character, service, and leadership, which are the four pillars of the National Honor Society.

The guest speaker of the special event was Laona fourth grade teacher, Laura Bobbe. She spoke about the many "hats" the candidates were to be excellent students. She described the hats of perseverance, integrity, hard-work, and difficult decisions. The speech was personalized and targeted to the new inductees, but was inspirational to the current members, teachers, parents, and younger siblings who attended the induction. After the formal ceremony, inspirational speech, and solemn oath, the evening concluded with a celebration recognizing academic excellence.

Megan Milan is the daughter of Robert and Jill Milan. Danielle Flannery is the daughter of Daniel and Ellen Flannery. Both girls excel in academics and are also very active in Laona athletics and drama. To be invited for membership in the National Honor Society a student must have a 3.5 cumulative grade point average. Once invited the student must complete an application proving their merit in the areas of character, leadership, and community service.

Currently the Laona Chapter has twelve members. Sara Johnson, Hannah Tinsman, and Whitney Aschinger graduated in June. They will be greatly missed because of their active membership. Sara Johnson was the recipient of the Red Cross Scholarship, a result of the number of pints of blood collected at the club's blood drives. Whitney Aschinger was the recipient of the Laona Lions/National Honor Society Scholarship. Hannah Tinsman received the Laona NHS Chapter scholarship which is the outcome of the chapter's annual Holiday Raffle.

The Laona Chapter of the National Honor Society is an active service organization. In 2011-2012 the members hosted three Red Cross blood drives. They also planned and MC the annual Honors Breakfast and Honors Program at the end of the school year, which recognized student accomplishments throughout the year. They raised money for scholarships and this year they donated over $2000 dollars to the Red Cross, American Cancer Society, Muscular Dystrophy, and a local charity. They finished the school year with work in the Edith Evans library preparing for its recent painting. The advisor of the Laona Chapter is Carol Bartlein.

Wisconsin's gray wolf population grew in 2012

PARK FALLS, Wis. -- Wisconsin's gray wolf population at the close of the 2011-2012 winter was estimated to be 815-880, a roughly 4 percent increase over the 2010-2011 end-of-winter estimate. A total of 41-42 wolves were counted on Native American reservations and thus the total count of wolves outside of reservations was 774-838 wolves. A late winter population of 350 wolves outside reservations is the current state wolf population goal for Wisconsin.

Wolves in Wisconsin were removed from the federal endangered species list on January 27, 2012, and management authority was returned to the states and tribes for gray wolves living in the Western Great Lakes. Since 2004, the State of Wisconsin listed the gray wolf as a protected wild animal, and on April 2, 2012 it was designated a game species. The Department of Natural Resources is developing rules to allow a public wolf hunting and trapping season (PDF) starting October 15, 2012.

The annual winter wolf count relies on aerial tracking of radio-collared wolves, and snow track surveys by DNR and volunteer trackers. Also included are wolf sightings by members of the public and other agencies, including observations from trail cameras. The agency has conducted these counts since the winter of 1979-1980 when there were 25 wolves in the state.

A total of 213 wolf packs were detected in Wisconsin during the winter count consisting of at least two adult wolves each. Biologists found 51 packs distributed across central Wisconsin and 162 packs in northern Wisconsin. The largest pack in the state was Fort McCoy Pack in Monroe County with 10 wolves. At least 63 packs had five or more wolves in them.

It appeared the wolf population increased in 2012. With federal delisting and new status as a game species, controls will be applied to the wolf population to reduce conflicts, and reduce the population to more socially accepted levels, while maintaining a sustainable and healthy wolf population.

In 2010 the Wisconsin DNR initiated a Web notification of all wolf attacks on dogs for hunters and others concerned about wolf depredations. People can have their email address added to the notification list by searching for "wolf" on the DNR website and then clicking on the link for "dog depredations."

DNR continues to encourage volunteers in monitoring wolves

Wisconsin's wolf population estimate is based on data gathered by agency biologists and technicians, and more than 150 volunteers. DNR has conducted annual wolf surveys since winter 1979-1980, and volunteers have been involved in the surveys since 1995.

Forest Larger Parish prepares for Flea-Zaar
