Everybody can use some Group Therapy

Sherry Nickel is now running the large tavern started by her late father, Jim Sparks, which opened under the name of Sparky's. After several other managements, Sherry and her brother, Jimmy, decided that the place should be a family-run business again.

Sherry is in a partnership with her brother, but Sherry is the lady operating the establishments. There have been some changes made since her opening on August 3rd.

Booths have been added along one wall and another cozy booth in the back. The stage has been enlarged to accommodate the bands that are planned for future weekends, and the plan is to have a live band every Friday night.

The bar area has been re-decorated and another small bar has been added near the dance floor. The sound system has been revamped so there will be a higher quality sound to the music. That includes the sound from the juke box, which is now a TouchTunes photo jukebox. You can also log on to Facebook and send your photo to your friends and play songs from your phone. There is also an ATM, just in case you are having fun and run short of cash.

The new dart board is also online, and dart throwers can compete with other throwers in a different country, just in case the local talent isn't challenging enough.

Eventually, Group Therapy will be open for lunches, but for now, you can order pizzas, burgers and nachos. In the future, the famous ham and cheese sandwiches that were served in the original establishment will be available.

Sherry would like to have an open-mike night, when musicians can set up their equipment and get experience in front of a live audience.

Group Therapy is next to Subway, in the big building across from the courthouse square.

Sherry and her crew of bartenders welcome everybody to experience Group Therapy, stop and play cards, visit with friends and feel at home.

You are all welcome!

Arrests made in drug case in Forest County

The Forest County Sheriff's Department in a joint effort with the Langlade County Sheriff's Department, North Central Drug Enforcement Group, and the Wabeno Police Department have recently arrested several individuals as part of a year long investigation into the sale and use of marijuana and prescription narcotics.

This is an ongoing investigation and more arrests will be forthcoming. The individuals arrested: David Tallier, Joseph Adkins, Brian Connor, Donna Whitefish, and Michael Johnavin. Investigators are still looking for Paul Davis.

The investigation is still on going as the Forest County Sheriff's Department feels others are involved.

The On Deck Platter is open for business

Kyle and Yuna Palmer went out to eat in Rhinelander one day and noticed that a lot of people from the Crandon area were eating out in Rhinelander too. They realized that Crandon does not have a restaurant that offered any ethnic food on a regular basis. They found the perfect spot on main street and with a year of planning and some hard work preparing the building, The On Deck Platter opened their doors.

The On Deck Platter offers char broiled burgers, hot dogs, homemade pizza, and all the other usual meals, but they also offer selected Asian foods. Sushi, fried rice, dumplings, noodles and stir fry, just to name a few. It is made fresh when ordered. Kathy's famous Italian fries are back as well!

The On Deck Platter is family owned and operated. Kyle, Yuna, Mary Sue Engebretson, Ardys Duff and Kathy Palmer are ready to give you an excellent dining experience.

The Palmers want to have a fast food service with a sit down mentality. Call ahead and eat on the go or stay and relax. Baked goods and pies will be made daily. Enjoy a soda or beer and reminisce about the good old days.

To place an order call 715-478-0077 or 715-478-0078. Please give a few extra minutes to prepare the Asian food.

The Pioneer would like to wish the Palmer family good luck in their new endeavor.

Mole Lake Chippewa donate to kids at the Fair

Some of the kids attending the Forest County Fair this year received a big boost from Sokaogon Chippewa on Monday, August 27th, when two $1,000 checks were given to help the underprivileged children attend the fair and enjoy the many entertainments offered there. One of the checks was given by Mole Lake Gaming, and the other by the Sokaogon Mole Lake Chippewa.

Calling all bakers!

The Forest County Chamber of Commerce is calling all bakers for the second annual Art in the Square pie contest to be held on Saturday, September 15. Organizers of the event were thrilled at the number of delicious entries last year, and are hoping that this year surpasses their maiden voyage - not only in number of entries, but also in creative flavors.

The rules are simple but some do differ from last year:

- Contest is for amateur bakers only. Pie must be entered in the name of the person who made it, and entrants must be 18 years or older to participate.
- Pie categories are limited to three: fruit/vegetable, cream, and nut. Each pie must be baked in a disposable pie pan, and must be made from scratch. Store-bought pie filling or crust may not be used.
- Pies must be dropped off at the Chamber office accompanied by a registration form and recipe (which includes ingredients, recipe name, contestant name and phone number) between the hours of 8 and 10 a.m. on Saturday, September 15. Absolutely NO exceptions! Registration forms may be obtained by contacting the Chamber at (715) 478-3450 or info@visitforestcounty.com.

• Judges will not know names of the bakers; their pies will be identifiable by a number only.

• Pies will be judged on the following criteria: overall appearance, flavor of the crust and filling, and creativity.

• Ribbons will be awarded for 1st, 2nd and 3rd place in each category. A ribbon and $50 in Chamber Bucks will be awarded for Overall Best in Show. Judging will commence at 1:00 p.m. Prizes will be awarded at 3:00 p.m.

So dig out those favorite pie recipes and give it a try. And remember, the most important ingredient in baking is love!

Crandon's Art in the Square is held every year on the third Saturday in September on the courthouse square. The event features a juried art and craft show and sale, flea market, specialty food booths, live entertainment, kid's activities, including a paint your own pumpkin, horse-drawn wagon rides, and of course, the pie contest. Admission is free, so bring the whole family for a unique fun-filled event!

Armstrong Creek Sportsman's Club Labor Day Weekend gathering

With Labor Day weekend approaching and the farewell to summer, include the Armstrong Creek Sportsman's Club's annual Saturday, September 1st gathering among the plans. The event features chicken, a pig roast, corn on the cob, raffles, and music by the popular local polka band, the White Eagles, until 9:00 p.m.

The dinner begins at 4 p.m. It includes potato salad and baked beans and a dessert, though food will be available until 9:00. A quarter chicken plate costs $7. A pork plate is also $7. A "big eaters" combo plate costs $8. In the past, a limited number of chicken quarters have been pre-ordered. Knowledgeable diners arrive early if chicken is their meal choice and eat between four and six. The music begins at 6:00 p.m. Roast pork, bratwurst, and hotdogs will be for sale throughout the evening.

From 4:00 p.m. until closing, beverages including beer, wine coolers, and water will be for sale. Raffles are also part of the fundraising experience. Member David Majewski said raffles include sausages, ham, liquor, as well as some locally made items to appeal to sportsmen.

Until the late drawing, three guns will be raffled. One is a Weatherby 270 caliber rifle. A second is a 12 gauge shotgun, and the third is a .223 rifle. Sportsman's members have tickets, but raffles will be sold up to the time of the drawing.

Proceeds go to "...better the community," Majewski said, and also for "fish and wildlife projects."

Golf Outing for Vets

On Monday, September 24 a golf outing honoring military veterans is being held at Nicolet Country Club. The tournament is open to anyone, from any location, who served in the military in any capacity. The tournament is being held in September because the weather would likely not cooperate on November 11.

The cost is $30 for non-Nicolet Country Club members and $20 for Nicolet Country Club members. The fee includes lunch, golf, riding cart, dinner at T-Bob's and prizes. Additional dinner tickets for friends, spouses, or guests are available for $10.

We are not going to canvass for donations; but any individuals, businesses or organizations wishing to make a donation can do so by contacting Chuck Enders at cenders@plbb.us or 715-889-0562

Registration forms are available at Nicolet Country Club and McCauslin Brook Country Club.

We encourage any all military experienced people to participate.

Celebrate the Harvest with Us at the Forest County Fair!

On Saturday, September 8th at the Forest County fairgrounds, Forest County CAN! is hosting a Harvest Fun Walk/Run Event. Registration will start at 9:00 am. The mile run will start at 9:30 am, mile walk at 9:45 am and half mile walk at 10:15am.

In addition to the walk/run, there will also be activities for all ages, including games, taste-testing and recipes, the opportunity to meet a farmer, and health and nutrition information. This is a free event and participants will be eligible for prizes such as farmer's market coupons and fair ride tickets and more.

The goal of this event is to promote healthy eating and physical activity. Two of our community's current health priorities are to increase adequate, appropriate, and safe food and nutrition and physical activity county wide. We wish to do this to decrease our county's rates of obesity, diabetes, and other chronic conditions, which are higher within Forest County than they are in the state of Wisconsin. Come make Forest County healthier and participate in the Harvest Fun Walk/Run!

Sponsors of the event are Security Health Plan, Molina Healthcare, United Healthcare, and Potawatomi Carter Casino.

Fall migration takes wing as experts keep an eye out for drought impacts

MADISON – The avian parade continues with hummingbirds, warblers and vireos the next species to begin their migration south, providing Wisconsin birders some great viewing opportunities and experts more insight into how the early spring and drought has affected Wisconsin's winged travelers.

"The next three weeks will be the peak of fall migration for land birds that migrate to central and south America," says Andy Paulios, a Department of Natural Resources biologist. "We're past peak for orioles, but birders should expect to see good numbers of hummingbirds, warblers, vireos, thrushes and other migrants in their local migration hotspots or even in their backyard if they have good natural cover."

Paulios says that birders should also watch the skies over the next few days as they could expect to see migrating common nighthawks and chimney swifts in the evening.

What exactly will turn up and when on the landscape and at birdfeeders, however, is uncharted territory given the warm, early spring, record heat and the drought experienced in much of the state, says Kim Grveles, an avian biologist with DNR's Endangered Resources Bureau.

"It's hard to know exactly what we'll see with migrations this fall," Grveles says. "Warm weather definitely brought the short-distance (overwinter in southern U.S.) migrants up north earlier than usual and some long-distance migrants as well. But they do not seem to be leaving for wintering grounds sooner."

Paulios suspects that migration through drought-stricken areas of Wisconsin will be more stressful this year. "My guess is that there will be less food for insect eaters in dry years as many insects have moisture-dependent abundances...but birds are very adaptable and may be able to move or adjust along their routes."

"Homeowners can always help by providing a water source and by providing native trees, shrubs and herbaceous plants that produce lots of bugs and fruit for birds to eat and shelter during migration," he says.

Gveles says that the hummingbirds she's seen in the Madison area are struggling to find food because the blossoms just aren't there because of the drought. "So the feeders become really important," she says. "There is less seed available because of things not flowering due to the drought for gold finches and even for migratory birds that depend on seeds, like towhees, finches and grosbeaks."

"Flyover land" a vital stopover in fall and birding mecca

Every spring and fall, tens of millions of migrating birds sweep through Wisconsin and other Great Lakes states and stop at a variety of sites on their way to breeding grounds as far north as Greenland and the Arctic Ocean and wintering grounds as far south as Argentina's Tierra del Fuego. These stopover sites provide birds with critical food and shelter en route, a function described in "Respite for Migratory Birds," in the August 2011 Wisconsin Natural Resources magazine.

They also provide bird watchers a unique opportunity.

"The beauty of migration is you don't have to go to the world's best birding place to see these beautiful birds," Paulios says. "On some days, these things will be in your backyard. So explore your local parks and natural areas."

Paulios says the general rule of thumb for finding fall migrants is to look for shrubby, woody edges with morning sun. These places tend to have the right mix of fruit and bugs, especially if they get morning sun. Native bushes and trees with fruit like black cherry trees, viburnum or dogwoods are a draw for many bird species.

Baltimore orioles have already peaked, and it's past peak for shorebirds as well but they are still around. Late September and early October, the sparrows and ducks will be stopping over, he says.

Paulios advises checking sites like Wisconsin ebird (exit DNR) to see what species are showing up where. Also, birders can check their local areas for sites listed on the Great Wisconsin Birding and Nature Trail (exit DNR).

Nationally and in Wisconsin, birdwatching is big and growing. Earlier this month, federal officials released national results of their recreation survey (exit DNR) and showed that 46.7 million Americans 16 and older watched birds in 2011; 33 million adults fished and 13.7 million hunted in 2011.

State statistics from the survey are to be released later, but the most recently available state statistics (which date to 2006) rank Wisconsin in the top three states in percentage of birdwatchers: 41 percent of adults 16 and older reported watching or photographing birds.

"Come On Down to the Fair"

Get out your most comfortable shoes and "come on down" to the Forest County Fair, Saturday morning, September 8th. The day will begin with a Harvest Fun Walk/Run for all age groups - children, teenagers, serious runners, casual walkers, Seniors... For each Senior (60+) participating in the walk/run, the Aging Unit will receive a dollar towards the 2013 Farmers' Market. Not only will this be the kick-off to the Fair, but the kick-off to the Aging Unit 2013 Farmers' Market funding effort. There will be two courses (1 mile, 1/2 mile) that can be walked or traversed by scooter, wheelchair or other adaptive transportation aid. Displays, "taste testing" and other activities will also be available following the Harvest Fun Walk/Run. The Aging unit will once again be providing a delicious offering as prepared by Dewing Catering and there will again be locally sponsored milk and ice cream. The Fun Walk/Run will begin at 9:00 a.m.

Participants may register the morning of the event between 8:00 and 9:00 a.m. Chairs, tables and a rest area will be available in the main display building for all who wish to take part in any activities. Baked goods and locally grown vegetables will be available for purchase Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. All Seniors are encouraged to provide Fair entries. Books and registration forms are available on the Aging Unit table in the hallway of the Courthouse.

Wolf regulations now available online and soon in hard copy

MADISON - The 2012 Wolf Hunting and Trapping Regulations [PDF] are now available on the Department of Natural Resources website [dnr.wi.gov] search the keyword "wolf." Hard copies are going to print and will be mailed to successful applicants along with notification that they have drawn a permit.

As of Tuesday morning August 28, 15,708 hunters and trappers have submitted applications for Wisconsin's first modern wolf hunting season, putting their names into the lottery for what is expected to be roughly 1,100 harvest permits. The permit application period closes Aug 31. Even if a hunter or trapper doesn't draw a permit this year, applying will give them a preference point, and a better chance, in future drawings.

A permit application costs $10 and may be purchased through the DNR Online Licensing Center, at all authorized license agents, at DNR Service Centers (Hours for service centers vary; check the DNR website for service center days and hours of operation; DNR Service Centers are not open on Saturdays), or by calling toll-free 1-877-LICENSE (1-877-945-4236).

Those selected for a harvest permit this year will receive notification by mail in early September following the drawing. Everyone else will receive a preference point toward next season's drawing.

Hunters and trappers may also wish to check out the department's wolf webpage, which offers identification tips, maps, reports and pack territory information.

Merci!

designed to encourage the creation and retention of permanent jobs. The Fund will also encourage new private investment into Forest County in the form of fixed asset investment, perpetuate a positive and proactive business climate, maintain a diverse mix of employment opportunities and minimize seasonal employment effects.

"CoVantage is deeply committed to the future success of businesses and citizens in Forest County and we are proud to make this investment to support those efforts. Our ability to make this level of commitment can be attributed to a grant we obtained last fall when our credit union was designated as a Community Development Financial Institution," stated CoVantage Assistant Vice-President Cheri Wilson.

"We have seen the tremendous impact that local loan funds have made in neighboring counties and look forward to developing the local structure to work with local lenders and help opportunities advance," said FCEDP executive director Jim Schuessler.

Florence County has had tremendous success with their $500,000 dollar fund; Oconto and Marinette Counties have several funds that have been involved in launching new business. The Brown County Micro Loan Program helped 14 businesses start or grow in its first year and is poised to do more.

FCEDP executive board member Bucky Dailey declared "The establishment of a fund is another step toward FCEDP's mission which is 'To foster an economic environment that promotes an increased tax base, an improved standard of living and quality of life for all the people of Forest County', and we look forward to investing this fund in ways to achieve that ideal."

The loan fund will take time to organize; applications will be solicited later this year. "Local lenders are still the primary way to advance business plans," added Jim Schuessler. "This is another tool in the economic development tool chest we will be able to use going forward."

FCEDP is a local economic development organization formed with the combined support of the Forest County Potawatomi Foundation, City of Crandon, Forest County Potawatomi Community, Sokaogon Chippewa Community, Forest County Government, Wabeno Chamber of Commerce, Forest County Chamber of Commerce and the Forest County Tourism Commission.

NORTHERN HEALTH CENTERS

Quality Care from Compassionate People

The Nurse Practitioners at Northern Health Centers, Inc. (NHC) in Lakewood, want to be your partner in health and wellness. Our NPs have master's degrees and practice independently, collaborating with physicians and other NPs as needed. Our backgrounds in nursing include experience in ICU, Community Health, Family Planning, Labor and Delivery units, Emergency, Urgent Care and many outpatient clinics providing primary health care similar to NHC.

Instead of just treating illness, NPs spend time treating the whole person, and work as a team to support smart health and lifestyle choices. Your team, led by a NP, can assist you with a sometimes complicated web of referrals, tests and treatments, helping to remove some of the stress.

Appointments are available and walk-in and same-day patients are welcome.
