Wabeno School Superintendent Gives Presentation on School Funding With an Eye toward the Future

Healthy Schools are a Cornerstone to Economic Development

Forest County-Dr. Kim Odekirk, Superintendent of the School District of Wabeno Area gave a presentation at the Forest County Economic Development Partnership (FCEDP) monthly meeting held at the Armstrong Creek Community Center last Thursday. Also present was new Laona Superintendent, Laurie Asher. The meeting was chaired by FCEDP Vice-President Paul Millan. Millan stated "Forest County schools have been suffering declining enrollment and this is causing strains on school budgets due to the way schools are funded."

"In school finance, there are some unique features to revenues, with districts receiving funds from a combination of federal, state and local sources," began Kim Odekirk. Her presentation then encompassed all the aspects of school funding as well as historical decisions impacting all state schools including revenue limits. Kim Odekirk ended her presentation by pointing out that due to the current structure of school funding that many school districts have had to utilize referendums for operating expenses. Laona passed such a referendum in 2010 and the Wabeno Area district will be seeking support for a referendum on the ballot in April, 2013.

FCEDP's executive director Jim Schuessler noted that historically, if a community loses the local school, the town does not recover. "We can't let that happen in Forest County," he added. "By creating new jobs, diversifying our economy and supporting expanded retail and enhanced communities we enrich the quality of life here, give people even more reasons to plant their roots here."

The employment picture in Forest County is improving right now. Although Forest County's August unemployment rate was the 4th highest in the state, there are over 100 living wage jobs, with benefits, available at several businesses in the county.

DNR to update Wolf Hunt on website

The inaugural Wisconsin wolf season opened Monday, Oct. 15, 2012. The Department of Natural Resources will be updating the wolf hunting and trapping page of its website (dnr.wi.gov -- search "wolf") with wolf harvest by zone as wolves are reported. Hunters and trappers have 24 hours to report harvest. Four wolves were reported as harvested during the opening day of the season, one each in Zones 1, 2, 3, and 5. The season runs until the quotas for all zones are met or until February 28, 2013.

Walleyes planted in Lake Lucerne

Lake Lucerne Advancement Association purchased 950 six to nine inch walleyes from Silver Springs Hatchery and planted the fish on Tuesday, October 16th. Sokoagon Chippewa members were present to help monitor the size as they were released into the lake.

The Tribe has conducted a thorough study of Lake Lucerne to determine the future direction of the planting of various species of fish. They also monitored the lake for invasive species, and at this point we are fortunate to have not been invaded by invasives present in other area lakes.

Be sure to clean your boats! The Lake Association has received grant money from the DNR to pay for the manager of the volunteers who do the work at the Lucerne boat landing each weekend.

Crandon Library News

Collection on Display

During the month of October, the David Brezovar Memorial Display case at the Crandon Public library contains a whimsical collection of reading figurines by Friend of the Library and retired teacher/librarian Gerianne Whitney of the Wabeno area. Gerianne has collected these figurines over many years and from many places with one of her favorite being the Mother Goose figurine, one of the first that she bought, because she loved to teach reading to children. Gerianne has about 200 figurines in her collection and the library has a good sampling of these currently on display. Each figurine features someone reading including people, animals, Shrek (who is reading to his kid) along with many, many others.

1st Annual Crantucky Doe Fest

Ladies & Gents, get your buck on opening day-guaranteed!

Join the fun at the Northwoods Recreation Center's (formerly the old high school) First Annual Crantucky Doe Fest on Saturday, November 17, from 10:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. and receive your Doe Buck, value one dollar, to spend at the many vendors, silent auction, bake sale, resale of small and big ticket items, or buy a fry bread taco, to eat indoors for a change, or an organized tour of the former school for a memory recall.

The NRC has received many requests to re-open the gymnasium for community use and we have had to decline due to the high cost of electricity. But! if we can replace the lights with more efficient lights, we can reopen for the winter season. We need to raise $3,000 to upgrade the gym lights, which will decrease the current utility by two-thirds.

We are asking for the community's support to make this possible while joining neighbors in having fun finding bargains for the gifting season ahead and to satisfy your curiosity about what's going on with the old school.

If you are an interested vendor, please call Jennifer at 715-784-1011 to reserve a space in the gym while tables are still available, and if you would like to donate new or quality used items for sale or auction, call Kathy at 715-493-3628.

The cost of a table is $25, and some of the vendors currently include: Celebrating Home, Thirty One, Lemongrass Spa, It works! Wrap, and Mary Kay, to name a few. We also have signed crafters, which include to date, Hillbilly "Green" Gadgets, Wreath Creations, and Christmas Crafts.

For our silent auction, we have a snow blower, a hand-crafted child's playhouse, commercial arcade games, a fiberglass canoe, a refrigerator, an upright freezer, a race car bed, and a hand-crocheted queen coverlet. The resale items have items for camping, boating, sports, holidays, household, clothes and hunting gear.

The entry fee of $40.00 must be received by November 1.

Each division will receive 4 individual 1st and 2nd place medals. Registration forms are available in your High School Office.

Please direct all questions to Michelle Boor (715)473-5122 ext. 5133. Admission for spectators will be $3.00 for adults and $2.00 for children over 8. Concessions will be available both days. The sound of work manpower and equipment

Members of Wabeno American Legion Sylvan Post 44 were busy again.

To begin-- plans, blueprints and permits were gathered for the new Menards pole barn located on property across from Veterans War Memorial Park in Wabeno The sound of work followed with buzzing saws, trees falling, brush stacking and logs being removed. The noise of heavy equipment, cement trucks and the final noise of carpenters' tools completed the building, which will store military vehicles and equipment to maintain the park.

The Legion is proud to acknowledge everyone who has been a part of this tedious and wonderful accomplishment. Butch Piontek, Paul Piontek, Blackwell Job Corp's Labor and Construction Class under the guidance of Jason Flannery, Geitor Septic Pumping Inc., Stone and Boulder Co. of Wabeno, Tony's Wabeno Redi-Mix, Smith Contractors and Pole Barn Builders, LLC., Herman Wessbroecker and crew. Included also are, Legion Post 44 members, Commander, Ron Boeldt, Co-chairman, Byron Erdman and Al Morrison and Todd Veaser Your valuable contributions made this project possible.

Future plans will include yard work and seeding.

The Alzheimer's Association Maintain Your Brain campaign suggests these self-care measures may help protect your mind:

Head injuries increase the risk for AD. To protect your head, wear a seatbelt and use safety helmets.

Challenge your mind with puzzles, crafts or reading-anything that requires thinking, reasoning and learning.

Get medical care if you suffer from chronic stress, insomnia, depression or other mental conditions.

Excess stress hormones damage the hippocampus, an area of the brain that shrinks in AD. Try relieving stress with meditation, yoga or relaxation exercises.

If you smoke, kick the habit, smoking interferes with blood flow and oxygen to the brain.

Exercise vigorously on most days, physical activity increases blood flow to the brain and improves mental agility and alertness.

Early evidence suggests eating foods rich in vitamins B, C and E as well as folic acid, and eating fish once a week, may reduce the risk.

Stay socially active. Researchers have found that people who maintain positive relations with others and participate in social events have a lower risk.

Our best hope for fighting AD is preventing or delaying the disease, and that calls for maintaining good overall health now.

Are You Still Registered to Vote?

In May 2011, the Wisconsin Government Accountability Board sent postcard notices to Wisconsin voters who had registered to vote prior to January 1, 2007, but have not voted in a state or national election since that date. "If you did not vote in the last Presidential election in 2008, and if you didn't vote in the congressional election in 2010, and if you did not respond to the postcard within 30 days, you may no longer be in the Statewide Voter Registration System," warns Mary Bartelt, the Oneida County Clerk.

In 2011, 240,000 voters statewide were mailed postcards warning them of the pending deactivation of their voter registration. Some of those voters may have missed the postcard mailing or otherwise not responded in time. If those voters request an absentee ballot, or go to the polls on November 6, 2012, to vote in the next Presidential election, they will find their names have been removed from the poll list. Active duty military personnel are exempt from this four-year voter record maintenance.

Voters may register at any time up to and on the day of the election, but to avoid inconvenience or having to stand in line on Election Day, previously registered voters who have not voted are encouraged to confirm their registration status with their municipal clerk. Late registration begins in Wisconsin on October 17, 2012, so would-be voters are encouraged to take action confirm their registration as soon as possible.

Other considerations may impact voter registration. In order to register to vote in a municipality in Wisconsin, a voter must prove that they have lived in that municipality for at least 28 days. If a voter is moving between towns or cities during the election cycle, they must return to their former polling place where they were registered to vote for the election, or request an absentee ballot from the municipality. If a voter has not been in a single location in Wisconsin long enough to qualify to vote in a city or town, or does not want to return to the former municipality, they still have a right to vote for president. Questions about residency and voter registration can be brought to the municipal (village, town or city) clerk. They will confirm a voter's qualifications and residency status with the Government Accountability Board (GAB).

A photo ID is not required to register or to vote in Wisconsin, but proof of residency is required. A complete list of acceptable forms of Proof-of-Residency is available on the Wisconsin Government Accountability Board website (<http://gab.wi.gov/elections-voting/voters/registration-voting>). The list includes these items that have the voter's current name and street address:

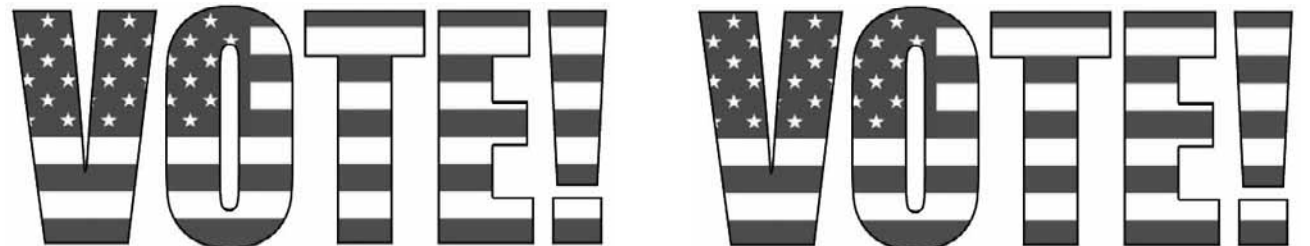

1. A current and valid Wisconsin driver license.
2. A current and valid Wisconsin identification card.
3. Any other official identification card or license issued by a Wisconsin governmental body or unit.
4. Any identification card issued by an employer in the normal course of business and bearing a photo of the card holder, but not including a business card.
5. A real estate tax bill or receipt for the current year or the year preceding the date of the election.
6. A residential lease which is effective for a period that includes election day (NOT for first-time voters registering by mail).
7. A university, college or technical institute identification card (must include photo), ONLY if the bearer provides a fee receipt dated within the last nine months or the institution provides a certified housing list to the municipal clerk.
8. A gas, electric or telephone service statement (utility bill) for the period commencing not earlier than 90 days before election day.
9. Bank statement.
10. Paycheck.
11. A check or other document issued by a unit of government.

Note: Post Office Box numbers are not considered proof of residence only the full street address. Also, an expired driver's license cannot be used to register to vote. Currently the DMV is mailing all renewed licenses to the holder, and this may take 6-8 weeks. Voters who want to use their driver's license to register must have both the proof of renewal form along with the expired license to register.

Where to register
 Voters may register by mail by filling out the GAB-131 registration form and mailing it to your municipal clerk's office, or register online at <http://myvote.wi.us>. You may also register in person at your municipal clerk's office during normal business hours through the Friday before the election. Registration can also be done at the polling place on Election Day, but registering before the election to prevent delays.

Updating voter registration
 Voters who move their residence or change their name are required to update their voter registration information, whether they have voted in recent elections or not.

For more information on voter registration, visit <http://gab.wi.gov/elections-voting/voters/registration-voting>, or call or visit your municipal clerk's office, or contact Mary Bartelt, Oneida County Clerk, at 715-369-6230.

Death Notices

COLLEEN J. CONNORS, was called to her heavenly home on Friday, October 12, 2012, at her home in the Town of Freedom. At her bedside were a number of family members and Pastor Verlein. Her passing comes after a long and courageous effort to meet the challenges of numerous health concerns. Throughout the many years, she maintained an inspirational attitude, enduring with grace and humor, the limitations and impacts the illnesses placed in her way. She will be remembered for her great smile, her humor, and the inevitable response "just fine" when asked, "How are you doing?"

Her life was filled with joy and purpose as she participated in the 'auntie parenting' of her nieces and nephews. She enjoyed being involved in the activities of her church, serving as Sunday School and youth education teacher, as well as serving on organizational committees, planning and helping with church events and dinners as her health allowed. She embraced her faith in the teachings of the Lutheran Church, WELS in a confirmation rite in May, 1969. She continued through life, drawing on her strong faith to guide and comfort her in her trials. She was most grateful for the faithful visits by Pastor Verlein and his concern for her spiritual welfare.

Colleen graduated from Wabeno High School and received her degree in Education after attending Nicolet Technical College and University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh. She began her teaching career as a K-12 Librarian, employed by the Antigo School District before joining the staff at White Lake School District. Her career was cut short by the complications of her illness, but she never lost her desire for teaching 'little ones', be it bible stories, spelling, reading, or how to play a game.

She was an avid Green Bay Packer fan, celebrating wins and agonizing over losses. She also enjoyed the challenge of out-smarting her brothers and guy friends, endeavoring to be more successful in picking weekly winners. She loved to read and especially enjoyed Christian and historical novels. She served on the local election board for many years.

Colleen was a dialysis patient for 15 years and during that time was wonderfully cared for by a number of physicians, nurses, hospital and dialysis unit staff, and home care givers. Their concerns and special consideration of her needs surely lead to extending the years she was able to remain with us, adding much to the lives of those around her. The love and caring of her family and dear friends were a great blessing to her.

Colleen was the first born to Dick and Joan Connors and took on at an early age, the leadership role in marshalling the comings and goings of her four siblings. She is survived by her mother, Joan, her sisters, Kim (Billy) Liddle, Cartersville, GA; Kay (Bruce) Kortbein, Marshfield, WI; and brothers, Jim (Kay) Connors, Laona, WI; and Randy (Lori) Connors, Schofield, WI. Surviving also are nieces and nephews, Nicholas, Michael, and Haley Liddle and great-neice Adelynne Liddle, Amanda (Luke), Adam, and Samantha Yocius, Hillary Connors; Deidra, Krista, and Jenah Connors; step-neice Amy and step-nephew Kyle Kortbein. Many aunts, uncles, and cousins share in the loss of her joyful presence.

Colleen was preceded in death by her father, Richard 'Dick' Connors, Sr., paternal grandparents, William and Anne Connors, maternal grandparents, Pat and Avis Johnson, brother-in-law Richard Yocius, uncles, aunt and cousin.

Visitation and funeral services were held on Tuesday, October 16, 2012, at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Crandon, with Pastor Verlein officiating. Burial was in Trinity Lutheran Cemetery, Wabeno. Weber-Hill Funeral Home assisted the family with arrangements. In Lieu of Memorials, Colleen wished that gifts be directed to the WELS Ministerial Education Endowment. Information regarding this can be obtained from Pastor Verlein, your WELS Pastor, or the Connors' family.

New law that prohibits cell phone use for many teen drivers takes effect on November 1

A new state law that prohibits drivers with an instruction permit or probationary license—which includes many teenagers—from “using a cellular or other wireless telephone except to report an emergency” while driving takes effect on Nov. 1. A driver violating this restriction on cell phone use is subject to a forfeiture of $20 to $40 for a first offense and $50 to $100 for a subsequent offense within a year.

“We hope that the new law will deter teenagers and other inexperienced drivers from using their cell phone while behind the wheel, which can be a dangerous distraction,” says Wisconsin State Patrol Maj. Sandra Huxtable, director of the Wisconsin Department of Transportation’s Bureau of Transportation Safety. “In a national study, 43 percent of 16 and 17-year-olds said they have talked on a cell phone while driving, and 40 percent of teens up to age 17 said they have been in a car when the driver used a cell phone in a way that put themselves or others in danger.”

According to Major Huxtable, cell phone use can distract a driver’s attention from traffic and road conditions. “Distracted driving is a problem even for experienced drivers. But it often is even more hazardous for teen drivers who are not experienced,” she says. “Traffic crashes kill more teenagers in Wisconsin and the rest of the nation than any other cause of death. And distracted driving is a factor in many of these crashes.”

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration reports that 11 percent of all drivers under the age of 20 involved in fatal crashes were distracted at the time of the crash. This age group has the largest proportion of drivers who were distracted.

Although the law will affect many teen drivers, the cell phone restrictions also apply to other drivers with a Wisconsin probationary license, such as:

- Drivers licensed in other countries
- Persons with suspended or revoked instruction permits or probationary licenses
- New state residents who have fewer than three years of driving experience
- New state residents under the age of 21
- New state residents who surrender a license that is expired for more than six months

Wisconsin law also prohibits texting while driving for all motorists of all ages. To prevent distractions from cell phone use and texting while driving, the State Patrol advises all drivers to:

- Turn off your phone or switch to a silent mode.
- Use voice mail to tell callers that you’re driving and will return the call as soon as possible.
- If you absolutely need to use your cell phone to call or text, pull over to a safe area.
- Ask a passenger to make a call or text for you.

Cell phone use and texting are just two of many types of distractions that increase a driver’s risk of causing a crash or failing to avoid one, according to Major Huxtable.

“Every time you drive, you are legally and morally responsible for safely operating a potentially destructive—and even deadly—force,” she says. “That’s why driving requires your undivided attention. Any lapse in attention to traffic or road conditions is a grave danger to you, your passengers and everyone else on the road. No attempt to multi-task in your vehicle, no phone call, and no text message is more important than a human life.”

Mead Witter Grant

Earlier this year, the Crandon Public Library received a $5,000 grant from the Mead Witter Foundation. The funds were specifically to be used to purchase circulating print materials allowing us to update our adult and juvenile non-fiction collections. If you haven’t stopped in the Library lately, plan to stop in and take a look at our new items.

Labels for Education

The Crandon Public Library is now a dropoff location for the Crandon PTO’s Labels for Education promotion. Some popular “Labels for Education” products that may be in your home include Pepperidge Farm Goldfish, Campbell’s Soup, Post Cereals, V8, and Dannon products. The Crandon PTO uses the “Labels for Education” points for free educational equipment.

New Seating Areas

Thanks to a generous donation from the Crandon Public Library Foundation, the Library has added additional public seating areas on the main floor and purchased additional chairs for our programming areas. The seating areas on the main floor feature tables for laptop and/or study use. The Crandon Public Library Foundation is an active 501(c)(3) organization that helps fund special projects and programs that are beyond our library budget. Tax-deductible donations to the Crandon Public Library Foundation are accepted any time. Please contact the Library if you are interested in supporting the Crandon Public Library Foundation.

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month

October is nationally recognized Breast Cancer Awareness Month and the Forest County Health Department wants you to know the facts on breast cancer, and what you can do to prevent it.

Breast cancer is the second leading killer of American women followed by lung cancer. Other than skin cancer, breast cancer is the most common type of cancer among women in the United States today. Any woman can get breast cancer with chances increasing as a woman gets older.

However, with increased use of mammography screening and self-breast exams, breast cancers are detected earlier in their development when they are more treatable. Discovering breast cancer early gives you a much greater chance of complete recovery. Yet two out of five Wisconsin women 50 and older did not get a mammogram last year. Don’t let fear stop you from getting regular check-ups.

A mammogram is an x-ray picture of the breast. It can find breast cancer that is too small for you, your doctor, or nurse to feel. Studies show that if you are in your forties or older, having a mammogram every 1 to 2 years could save your life. Getting a mammogram every year is part of staying healthy after you turn 50.

If all women over 50 followed guidelines for regular annual mammograms, the number of deaths could be reduced by 30 percent and the lives of 13,000 women could be saved annually, according to the American Cancer Society.

Ask your doctor or nurse about getting a mammogram. If you need financial assistance in obtaining a mammogram, you may be eligible for the Wisconsin Well Woman Program (WWW). The WWW is available to women age 45-64, based on income. If you are a Forest County resident and are interested in finding out if you are eligible, please call Deb Bellamy, RN at the Forest County Health Department, 715-478-3371.

Resources.
 The DNR's weekly law enforcement summary includes the following report:
 Conservation officer Sam Hunter of Park Rapids took a call from a grouse hunter who had shot a timber wolf that was chasing his hunting dog. The dog ran back to the hunter with the wolf on its heels. The hunter shot the wolf at about 8 yards with bird shot as it was coming directly at him/his dog. Proper measures were taken by the hunter to notify the DNR and enforcement action was not necessary. It was a frightening experience during a grouse hunting trip that will not soon be forgotten."
 Killing a wolf to protect livestock or pets is legal throughout Minnesota at any time of year, provided the kill is reported to the DNR within 48 hours.
 Following the animal's removal from protections of the federal Endangered Species Act, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan have scheduled fall hunting and trapping seasons for wolves.
 Minnesota's wolf hunting season starts Nov. 3, the same day as the deer firearms hunting opener. The Minnesota hunt was challenged in court.

Elect Dorothy Kegley 36th Assembly District

A Proven Leader of Integrity Transparency, Honesty and Job Creation

I have known Dorothy Kegley since her newspaper days and later as Mayor Kegley. I have always found her to be very transparent, honest, and always striving to improve her community. She was and still is a champion for economic development.....Senator Jim Holperin

Dorothy Kegley and I cut our political teeth on the knowledge of our prodigy, an older gentleman from Crandon, Alton Ison, who was a master of politics. The main thing he taught was never forget where you came from. I have watched Dorothy develop over the years, and she has not and will not forget that she came from northern Wisconsin, and she will not let Madison forget that fact either....Dave Obey, U.S. Congressman

We are very thankful that Mayor Kegley worked with us to bring our Double K Trolley factory to Crandon. We are now in the process of expanding our facilities again in the industrial park that she implemented under her leadership. This expansion is expected to create several new jobs and open up a new line of trolleys all around the United States and abroad.....Chris & Joe Dunow

Dorothy Kegley, a proven leader with the skills and knowledge to move this state forward....Russ Feingold

**The Republican Governor who appointed me to the Boards and Councils understood that we have to work together for the good of the whole. I will work hard to bring back that value to state government.*

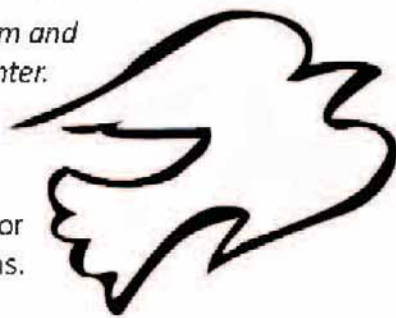

Authorized & Paid for by Kegley for 36th Assembly

Stitchin' Sisters donate to the Crandon Lions

At the October 15th meeting of the Crandon Lions Club, held at Beachside Bar and Grill, the knitting group, Stitchin' Sisters, presented over 70 hand-knit or chached hats, scarves, mittens or sets, valued at over $4,000, to be distributed with the winter jackets supplied by the Lions to people in the area in need of winter clothing.

The donation was in response to a very generous donation by the Lions to the Food for the Mind project. Food for the Mind donates children's books to county food pantries to encourage reading by and to the children who accompany their parents to the food pantries. To have a book of their own brings joy to a child. These books make a big difference in the children's reading skills and love of learning.

Stitchin' Sisters, who donated their time and yarn for this project, are Norma Anderson, Belva Houle, Sue Cronce, Chris Hosler, Marilyn Collins, Alyce Papapetru, Rose Schuenemann, Roxanne Sprehe, Donna Papak, Reverend Barbara Bolz, Pat Schultz and Winnie Krueger.

This project is a good example of organizations working together for the good of the whole community.
