The Cowboys return to the Lumberjack Steam Train

The final weekend of the Fall Festival at Camp 5 is on Saturday, October 4th, with visitors boarding the Lumberjack Steam Train on Highway 8 west of Laona, and enjoying a ride on an authentic steam train that saw service hauling logs and lumberjacks in the early days of the logging industry. They will ride on vintage passenger cars and cabooses to the Camp 5 Museum complex, a restored logging camp.

But wait! There may be hazards on the trip. The rumor is that the train may be robbed by a gang of desperadoes before it reaches Camp 5! Passengers shouldn't worry, however, because we know that a group of dedicated lawmen are on the trail of the bad guys. You can bet they won't get away with it! You will be a witness to a grand spectacle of beautiful horses, great horsemen and women, all wearing clothing from the era, shooting authentic firearms (blanks of course!), and of justice being served!

It is always a special event when the cowboy reenactors come to Camp 5 complex on the Lumberjack Steam Train. All walks of life from the Old West are depicted from preachers to dance hall girls, and you find yourself wondering if you are in the present or transported back in time.

In addition to the cowboys, there is pumpkin decorating for the kids, a marshmallow roast, and, of course, the beautiful autumn color that adds to the experience. The regular features of the Camp 5 Museum will also be open, like the petting zoo, the logging museum, the working blacksmith, the computerized history available for those who want to look up logging history, The Green Treasure Forest Tour, and the Cracker Barrel Gift Shop, complete with great fudge.

The Lumberjack Steam Train leaves the depot on Highway 8 at 10:00 a.m. and every hour on the hour with the last run leaving at 2:00 p.m. The last train leaves Camp 5 for the depot at 4:00 p.m.

For more information or to make a reservation, call 715-674-3414. To find out more about this premier attraction, visit, lumberjacksteamtrain.com. Active military service personnel and their families ride free at Camp 5.

The bad guys rob the train!

See a real blacksmith perform his art

Ever wonder what the world looks like when photographed from one of those little quad helicopter drones flown by a guy on the ground with a remote controller? This is it. The view is of Art in the Square this year. As can be seen, the wide angle lens gives a fish-eye look to the photo, but we look alright here in downtown Crandon!

The film "Secret Life, Secret Death to screen at the Crandon Library October 7th

The independent film, Secret Life, Secret Death, will screen at the Crandon Library on Tuesday, October 7th at 7:00 p.m. The film details the true story of a young mother who fell into crime in gangland Chicago in the Roaring 20's. Later she ran a shady hotel in northern Wisconsin during the Great Depression. The film was produced entirely in Wisconsin, with Wisconsin actors, antique trains, vintage cars, and period costumes.

The screening is free and open to the public, and it is for mature audiences.

Secret Life, Secret Death is a critically acclaimed, award-winning film, which has played from Chicago to L.A. and London to Rome. With its themes of Wisconsin history, trafficking, alcoholism, and the lethal burden of family secrets carried into the present, the film educates and provokes. The movie shows the unglamorized underworld of gangsters in Wisconsin and Chicago.

A question and answer session with Director, Genevieve Davis, will follow the screening. Davis spent ten years researching the story behind the movie. She wrote the book of the true story, also called Secret Life, Secret Death.

Jamie Anderson to succeed Chuck Sleeter as Chairman Town of Nashville

Jamie Anderson was appointed by the Nashville Town Board to finish the term vacated by Chuck Sleeter. He was sworn in last week and is the new Chairman for the Town of Nashville.

Chuck Sleeter resigns as Nashville Town Chair

By Walt Ferguson

Not all heroes are found in the sports pages or on the battlefield. Political life in the Town of Nashville has given us a hero in its former Chairman, Chuck Sleeter. Chuck retired from his chairmanship on Oct. 1st after eighteen years of leadership during which our communities and lakes benefitted markedly and directly.

Chuck came to us as a retired police officer on disability. He built a home on Pickerel Lake and found himself drawn into the divisive Crandon Mine controversy motivated by his wanting to protect area lakes from mine waste and mismanagement. He opted to run for town chairman in 1997 and was elected. His election was contentious and witnessed a 97% voter turnout based on whether a voter was for or against the mine.

He was severely tested during his first years in office by the duplicity and self-interest in the mining issue fostered by the influence that a global corporation can bring to bear in a rural community. His election became subject to recall within a year. He not only survived, he was re-elected the following year. His sense of justice and his belief that democratic government means "the greatest good for the greatest number" won him many followers among voters and organizations interested in environmental issues. The hallmark of his leadership struggle was the passage of the Mining Moratorium law under then governor Tommy Thompson.

Wisconsin statute describes the duties of the town chairman as: to preside over town meetings, appoint committees, oversee the creation of budgets, the payment of bills, and to provide basic services. Chuck's annual salary ranged from $4,513 to $7,039 over the eighteen years. Every year he donated his salary back to the town, giving the town a windfall of over $117,000 during his tenure.

Chuck was a micromanager and a doer. He was

A good time was had by all at the First Annual Homecoming Harvest Festival

The crowd is waiting to sample some pulled pork sandwiches

Saturday, September 27, was a beautiful day for getting outside and enjoying the Northwoods. People in Wabeno did just that and attended the 1st Annual Homecoming Harvest Festival. Crafters and antique vendors set up in the park in front of the museum to sell all of these goods. Food and refreshments were on hand. There was something for everyone to enjoy. There was even a dessert tent!

As the day was drawing to an end, Lariat, entertained the crowd from 6:00 to 10:00.

School District of Wabeno Area Meets Expectations on State Report Card

This week, the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction released all of the district and school report cards. Districts and schools are evaluated on four priority areas: student achievement in reading and mathematics on statewide assessments; student growth in those assessed areas; closing gaps for reading and mathematics achievement and graduation, based on student subgroups; and postsecondary readiness which uses several measures as predictors of college and career readiness. Accountability is calculated on a scale of zero to 100.

The School District of Wabeno Area scored as follows: Student Achievement, 59.5; Student Growth, 72.0; Closing Gaps, 66.2; On-Track and Postsecondary Readiness, 84.2. There were no deductions made for Student Engagement Indicators for test participation, absenteeism rate and dropout rate. The School District of Wabeno Area's overall accountability score and rating is 70.5 and meets expectations. More information and details can be found at <http://reportcards.dpi.wi.gov/>.

Putting the Cart before the Horse

Have you ever heard this old saying, and have you ever seen a horse behind a cart pushing it forward? Seems to me, that's just what's happening with W.O.R.V.P.I.'s "Lambeau Field" of off-road parks!

So, what do you think about the news that WORVPI and several of our County Board Members, are still trying to force the idea of a Forest County Taxpayer owned offroad vehicle playground and campground down our throats?

You know, there are several county board members, that sit both on both the county board and on the WORVPI board, {a private corporation} that still believe that an off-road vehicle park is the answer to all of Forest County's problems. They keep telling us, that WORVPI will answer all our questions on "Their" off-road park, one of these days, soon.....You know, we've been asking questions of WORVPI for over a year now, but back then, you might remember, the project was so close to purchasing land, that there were "justifiable confidentiality" issues and signed "non-disclosure" agreements. I wonder, are the non-disclosure agreements signed by county board members, still in effect?

Now, instead of "justifiable confidentiality" and "non-disclosure" agreements, WORVPI is looking for an "M.O.U." or Memo of Understanding with our county board members, stating that the county taxpayer owned "Lambeau Field of Off-Road Parks", will move forward, with WORVPI at the Helm. Seems nobody, including WORVPI, can tell us why, where, when or what, makes Members of WORVPI qualified to lead the project, that they are pushing down our throats, but everybody, lets just have a little patience, please.

Well, perhaps, next week on Tuesday October 7th, 2014, WORVPI will suddenly have all the answers. Our Forest County Forestry Committee will be holding a meeting that night at 4:00pm in the board room at the courthouse, to decide/vote on whether or not Forest County should amend our 15 year land use plan to include a campground, and off-road vehicle park on county lands.

Since new rules have been put into effect, excluding public comment at these meetings, I highly suggest that you contact the Forestry Committee members, before this meeting, to voice your concerns. The Forestry Committee members are Larry Sommer, Paul Cleereman, Dave Campbell, Bill Connors, Don Dehart, Bill Chaney and Don Lemaster. Their contact phone numbers are listed on Forest County's website, under "Forest County Supervisors". After you find your way to the website, just click on each listed members name, for phone numbers and contact information.

The Forestry Committee, has been handed a hot potato by WORVPI and our county board chairman. The question is, does Forest County and the Forest County taxpayer wish to pursue changing its forestry plan to accommodate an off-road vehicle park on county-owned land.

In case I haven't made it clear yet, I as a Forest County taxpayer, do not wish to go millions of dollars in debt to create a publicly owned off-road vehicle playground. I plan on both contacting each of the Forestry Committee members to voice this opinion, and I'm going to the meeting on October 7th, hopefully to watch democracy in action.

To those many of you who have personally offered me support, I'm urging you, to personally contact all County Board Forestry members and give your opinion. Let us put this idea to bed, once and for all and quit wasting time and resources.

You can be sure that WORVPI, and the few county board members that support the county going further into debt, will be loudly voicing their opinion.

As always everything I have written is my opinion and my opinion only.

To the Editor:

On September 24, 2014 when I returned home from subbing I noticed that my two campaign signs, one for Mary Burke and one for Kelly Westlund, had been removed from the front my house. This happened previously during the Presidential campaign and I let it go, but I didn't want to ignore it a second time. I went to the police station, whereupon Chief Packard suggested I go out to the highway department and inquire as to whether or not they could have been removed as an obstruction on the right-of-way. If that were the case I was going to see if they could be retrieved so I could re-locate them appropriately.

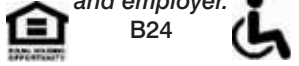

As it turns out they had not been removed by the highway department crew, so I will be reporting them as stolen. Coincidentally, a Walker sign appeared across the road, I believe on the same day that my signs were removed. I hope this will be investigated to see if the two events are connected.

While some may think it unreasonable to make an issue over stolen campaign signs, I feel not only have my free speech rights been violated, but someone was on or near my property in order to accomplish the removal and that is disturbing.

Why don't we let everyone express his or her political views and not try to silence opposing views?

always looking to lower spending by finding some way lue creation that his integrity and service to the community become truly distinctive. Early in Chuck's administration, the town was among several application partners, which included area tribes, to be awarded "Enterprise Community Status" by the USDA during the Clinton Administration. There were only ten communities in the United States to receive this distinction. Competition for the award took almost a year of community research and form preparation; an effort in which Chuck and Nashville's elected Town Clerk, Joanne Sleeter, personally undertook leadership and coordination.ess expensive. He was handy and if he could fix something rather than shop for outside services, he would do it. Rather than pay an annual fee of thousands for outsiders to pick up and lodge stray dogs, Chuck became the town's dog catcher. He would insist on a credit for materials unused on any construction project. He personally performed maintenance cleaning services in the new town center building. He and his cell phone were available every day.

His personal commitment and governing style directly resulted in the town's tax levy being lowered 13 of his 18 years, unchanged for three and increased in only two. Never was there a reduction in town services to the citizenry. The total cost of the new town center facility on County Hwy. Q was $1.2 million. It was completed under budget and without raising taxes.

Enterprise Community Status carried with it a $2.5 million award. The application partners formed a representative Board of Directors called NiiJii to handle the distribution of money based on the projects undertaken. About $100,000 came directly to Nashville, which was used for professional grant writing and seed money for the $400,000 Rural Business Opportunity Grant that followed. In all, 20 grants, directly benefitting the town, were awarded during his tenure with a record of 95% successful conversion from request to award.

There were organized volunteer efforts for fund raising as well. A Human Resources Development Fund was active from 1999 to 2004 that included Ainsworth, Langlade and Nashville. This effort raised thousands per year in cash and goods and services that benefitted perhaps 50 poor and needy families in the area. A Legal Defense Fund raise low six figures in donated legal services and cash contributions during the polarizing Crandon mining issue. The corruption pervasive in the mine proposal produced a successful town lawsuit recovering over $40,000 in legal fees from fraud and racketeering charges against one of the lawyers.

In total, about $2 million in grant and volunteer revenue flowed beneficially into the area during Chuck's years of service, including approximately a quarter-million dollars in grants from both USDA and the Wisconsin Department of Commerce related to the construction of the new Town of Nashville Community Center.

Chuck had the ability to attract volunteers throughout his tenure. Not only for specific tasks, but many signed on year after year. Names like Jim Huss, Phil Hollmann and Les Borgwardt quickly come to mind. There were many others who are unsung heroes as well. Chuck's honesty and proclivity for doing the hard, hands-on work assured volunteers that their altruism channeled to the community.

To be sure, there was public recognition. The National Center for Small Communities bestowed the "Hometown Leadership Award" on Chuck in 1999. A Milwaukee newspaper listed Nashville as a "winner" in its compilation of winners and losers in 1999. The Wisconsin Wildlife Federation honored Chuck and the then Secretary of the DNR, George Myer, for their contributions to soil, air and water conservation in 2001. The River Alliance of Wisconsin honored Nashville as a "Decade River Champion" in 2003.

Chuck wasn't elected 10 times because everyone liked him or liked his ideas. They voted for him because he was honorable, respected by the fact that he tried, had their best interests at heart and showed results. He tried his best. Nobody could possibly care as much about this area than he does. He worked selflessly and with integrity. The town's backhoe was never seen in Chuck's yard. There were not extended trips at town expense. There was no "slush fund" in the budget to cover mismanagement.

Budgets were controlling factors and changed from deficit to surplus in two years after his first election. Zoning Administration was never "Let's Make a Deal." ATV trails were not designated because Chuck had a 4-wheeler or streets swept because he drove a motorcycle. There was no misappropriation or malfeasance that is all too common in town government. The trust of state officials was restored.

He cared. He acted. He achieved. He mattered. The community and its environment have benefitted greatly because of him. What more can be asked of a public life? Chuck, we salute you!

Cook once, eat twice!

Cook once, eat twice! How does that work? Plan meals based around a food prepared in larger amounts for use in a recipe one day and an entirely different recipe within the next day or two.

12 Ideas for Cooking Once and Eating Twice

1. Cook, drain and freeze ground beef. The crumbled ground beef can be added quickly to casseroles, spaghetti sauce, pizza or soups.
2. Grill or broil chicken breasts. Serve with rice and a vegetable or in a salad.
3. Cook a roast in the oven or slow cooker. Serve with potatoes and carrots, make hot beef sandwiches, barbeque beef sandwiches or beef and noodles.
4. Roast a turkey. Make a turkey, cheese and broccoli casserole. Make turkey noodle soup. Prepare turkey sandwiches for lunch or an omelet with turkey and vegetables for breakfast.
5. Make a large batch of rice. Use in rice-based casseroles or fried rice. Make rice pudding. Rice can also be frozen. A small amount of liquid may need to be added when rice is reheated.
6. Cook macaroni for macaroni and cheese one night. Use the extra noodles and add a can of tuna for tuna and noodles. Macaroni should be drained out but not rinsed if it will be used immediately. Rinse macaroni if it is to be used cold or if it is to be saved for another meal. Adding 1-2 teaspoons of oil to cooked pasta will help keep it from sticking together.
7. Hard-cooked eggs can be eaten alone, on a chef salad, or as deviled eggs.
8. Extra baked or boiled potatoes can be cut up and used to make potato salad. They can also be cut into cubes and heated in a skillet with a little butter or margarine and Parmesan cheese. Mashed potatoes can be mixed with

- cheese, onion flakes and light sour cream and heated in the oven.
- 4 Advantages to Cooking Once and Eating Twice
1. Saves time when planning meals.
 2. Larger quantities of food may cost less than individual or small quantities.
 3. Foods may taste better as a new dish than they do as leftovers.
 4. It provides greater variety in the foods that you eat, which means less boredom with food and more nutrition.

Thank You & Personals

Thank You!

Thank you for the surprise 90th birthday party! Thank you to my children, their husbands and wives, my grandchildren, their husbands and wives, and my great grandchildren. Thank you, also, to my old friends and my new friends. It was a WONDERFUL DAY!!

Mary Cottrell

Our Appreciation & Thanks!

We asked for a simple showing of 100 birthday cards. What we received was truly a gift. Nearly 200 friends, strangers, our grandsons third grade class, church members, and brief acquaintances responded with stories, gentle recollections, kind wishes, and encouragement. All reminding us of the beauty of a small community, and that the seeds of kindness are truly perennial.

We never know what human contact might mean, whether decades ago, today, or tomorrow. Thanks to all who remembered and touched us with your thoughtfulness.

And thanks to Nu Roc Community Healthcare for their extraordinary services and royal parties for mom. Mike, Don, and Pete Davison for Frannie D.

"Students will be able to get the industry-recognized skills they need to enter the workforce in literally a matter of months," said Kenneth Urban, Nicolet College interim president. "Many classes offer a high degree of flexibility with online instruction and weekend classes. This allows students with work and family obligations to earn a college education while still meeting their other responsibilities."

Fast-track college certificates and diplomas will be offered for those interested in careers in manufacturing, health care, early childhood education, welding, and business.

Career-upgrade classes for those with work experience in information technology and automotive technology will also begin this September, October and November.

Upcoming academic programs and when they will start include:

- Microsoft Office 2013 – Oct. 22
- Nursing Assistant – Nov. 3
- Electromechanical Technology – Oct. 21
- Preschool – Oct. 25
- Welding – Oct. 17

Individual classes to advance job skills and when they start include:

Townsend Yard Waste Collection Site Now Open

The Town of Townsend recently announced the opening of their new yard waste collection site. The site is next to the current recycling center and people will have to pass through the recycling center to get to the new site.

Yard waste will be collected at the same dates and times that the recycling center is open. Leaves, grass clippings, evergreen needles, and brush smaller than 6 inches in diameter will be accepted. The brush will be chipped and disposed of, while the leaves, grass, and needles will be mulched for future use by town residents.

Cardinal PRIDE Pep Rally welcomes back Crandon students

On Tuesday, September 2, 2014, The School District of Crandon kicked off the new school year by welcoming the entire student body (K-12) with a Cardinal PRIDE pep rally.

Students' kindergartens through seniors were excited to get back into action with the district's Cardinal mascot welcoming them as they entered the high school gym.

The band played the school song and several other tunes to notch up the enthusiasm of another great year ahead. A game of "Blind Volleyball" became quite a challenge for the administrators and those students who had perfect attendance from the 2013-14 school year. And, although the students gave a bold and fearless effort, the administration walked away with the win!

The administration, teachers and all of the staff at the School District of Crandon want to welcome all the students back to school and look forward to an exciting and productive year of learning together.

Crafters needed at the Senior Snoop Shop in Crandon

The Senior Snoop Shop will be in need of more consignees for the 2015 season. The shop is open from Memorial Day through Labor Day. If you are 55 or older and either reside in Forest County or own property in the county, you are eligible to put your handicrafts into the Snoop Shop for sale.

Since 1979, the Snoop Shop has been a place where seniors have an outlet for their creativity while giving them a sense of purpose. It has had a variety of handcrafted items available, such as knitted or crocheted sweater sets for babies, socks, quilts, ponchos, decorated shirts, pillows, fine jewelry, scarves, slippers, ice fishing chairs, ceramics, dish cloths and towels, doilies, baked potato bags, teapot cozies, soap bags, picture note cards, wooden lawn ornaments, decorative centerpieces, pictures, bird feeders, the ever popular 'scrubbies', and other unique items.

As the years pass, so do some of the consignees and consequently new consignees are needed in order for the shop to continue having items to sell. All eligible persons are encouraged to use the winter months to create and stock their own specialties for the upcoming season. For specific details on the number of items you can enter and other information, contact Marge Scardino at 715-478-1164 or Ann Koziol at 715-478-2785.

Never Stop Playing

I'm Kyle McLaughlin from Rhinelander. As a self-proclaimed water enthusiast, I spend my summer wakeboarding on the lakes in the Northwoods, but it hasn't always been smooth sailing. In 2010, I suffered my first of many shoulder dislocations, which almost always resulted in a trip to the hospital. Not wanting to live in fear of it happening again, I made an appointment to see Dr. Kent Jason Lowry, an orthopedic and sports medicine surgeon at Ministry's Northland Orthopedics, who repaired my left shoulder in December 2013. After months spent recovering, I'm excited to be back behind the boat.
