The kids played games, won prizes, and the adults bought items from the bake sale, and the profits will be used to support the K-9 Unit. Look for the bunny to be back next year!

Crandon Senior Spotlight - Brady Weber

Brady Weber, son of Janet and Steve, said his greatest high school accomplishment was making it to state in golf to represent this community.

In his 12 years of school he has learned that it's okay to fail as long as you have tried your best and are willing to work harder to grow as an adult.

He plans to attend Lakeland College in pursuit of an education degree.

He would like to thank his family, especially his mom and dad. Also all his coaches and Mr. and Mrs. Resch for all their support at games.

Crandon Senior Spotlight - Jenna Schingeck-Jacobson

Jenna Marie Schingeck-Jacobson is the daughter of Clara Ann Schingeck-Learned, granddaughter of Clara and Albert Schingeck and great-granddaughter of the old chief Mexico. Of her immediate family (8 kids), she is the first to earn her high school diploma. Her high school program (CARS) helped her achieve this, though it wasn't easy. She has to pass a college entrance test and complete lots of work study hours.

In her work study jobs, she gained skills such as time management, preschool class management and balancing personal needs with responsibility to her bosses. She learned to be on time or early, and she never missed a full day of work or school all year, of which she is quite proud.

She is also proud that she overcame the hardships in her life such as personal conflicts and changing from Wabeno to Crandon in middle school. She had to make big changes that led her to the right path and put her on the honor roll. This year she won the Teen Character Award thanks to her teacher Jane Funk. She also won Winter's End Senior Princess with the help of her friends and her hero (Mom). Her mom also influenced her strengths - she has remarkable cooking skills, knows how to bead, respects others, loves to draw/dance/sing and is easy to talk to.

The skills she learned during her teen years will help her stick to her future goals. In the future she would like to become an ultrasound tech and maybe even a radiologist.

She would like to thank all these people for supporting her through the hard times: her mom (Clara), all her teachers throughout the years, her teachers for junior/senior years (Jane Funk and Bonnie Johnson), her entire family, her friends, her community, her tribe and her classmates. You all have been there, through thick and thin, with her and never stopped supporting her. So she thanks you and is forever grateful.

Crandon Senior Spotlight
- Tiffany Hauser

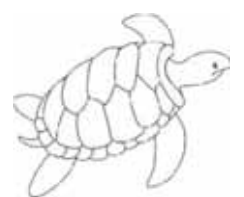

Tiffany Hauser, daughter of Corinne Krause and Dean Hauser, said her greatest accomplishments are winning three conference championships and a regional championship during her high school career in basketball. She's also proud of being on the honor roll every quarter and being introduced into the National Honor Society and Spanish Honor Society.

In the past 12 years she learned that if you don't work hard for what you want, you'll never get it. She also learned that when you work for what you have you learn to appreciate things way more than if you get everything handed to you. Always take advantage of an opportunity to learn good work ethic.

She plans on attending the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse and pursuing an accounting and finance degree. She would like to eventually go into healthcare administration but that may change.

She would like to thank her parents and grandparents for giving her pretty much everything she has and a place to live. She wants to give an even bigger thank you to her sister, whose competition with her pushed her to do so well in school. Nevertheless, she'd like to thank her coaches and teachers for teaching her lessons that she can carry with her through the rest of her life.

James A. Hegyi, 54, of Crandon, passed away on Easter Sunday morning April 5, 2015, at North Central Health Care Center in Wausau. James was born on April 6, 1960, to Richard and Barbara Hegyi.

James was married and lived in Minnesota for a time. His wife passed away of a brain tumor years ago. He has lived with his lifelong friend, Russ Hook, of Crandon since 2001.

graduated from Laona High School in 1952. He married Bev, his high school sweetheart, on August 30, 1953. After moving from Wisconsin to California, Bud began working for the Operation Engineers Local 3 building state highways for over 30 years. He was an active member of the Garberville Mounted Mt. Neers. He is preceded in death by his daughter Sena; brothers, Neil and Gary; sisters, Ruth and Colleen Grunder (Edwin).

A memorial service was held in his honor on March 2, 2015 in Bullhead City, Arizona, for the immediate family.

Guy Leslie Tice, Lakewood, WI, passed away Saturday, April 4th, 2015, at the age of 90. Guy was born March 16, 1925 in Redgranite, Wisconsin to Guy G. and Gertrude (Wagner) Tice. Guy's mother died when he was just 10 days old, and due to the Depression and other factors, he was raised primarily by his aunt Abbie (Abigail) Tice.

In June of 1942, at the age of 17, he ~~had~~ misremembered his age and enlisted in the U.S. Army Air Corps along with his brother, Carmen (Bud). In April 1943, after completing his training, his crew had a harrowing adventure flying across the Atlantic, getting off course and running out of fuel. Thankfully, they made an emergency landing outside Clonakilty in County Cork, Ireland, which is still fondly talked about by the locals to this day. You can read more at <http://tinyw.in/YtOY>.

Guy was based with the 95th Bomb Group / 334th squadron in Horham, England as a top turret gunner and navigator on a B17. He completed his required 25 bombing missions on October 2nd, 1943. After his safe return to the states in early 1944, he joined his sister Phyllis and her husband, John Thomas in Los Angeles, CA, where he began working for Southern California Bell. In 1946, Guy married the former Shirley Bolton, his first wife and mother of his two sons, Paul and Greg. Guy and Shirley moved back to Wisconsin and eventually settled in Green Bay until their divorce in 1967. His job with the phone company took him to Milwaukee in 1969. He married the former Patricia Bachhuber-Bromund in 1978 and together they retired and moved to Lakewood, WI in 1980.

During his retirement years, Guy ran the men's golf league at McCauslin Brook Golf Course in Lakewood. He also belonged to the McCauslin Lions Club and was instrumental in the original restoration of the Holt & Balcom Logging Camp buildings at McCauslin Brook Golf Course. He and Patricia wintered in Tucson, Arizona, until her sudden death in 1995. A short time later, Guy fell in love with June Alberstson, who was his companion for more than 18 years. They too spent the winters in Arizona where Guy continued to golf and volunteer at the Pima Air & Space Museum in Tuscon until his health began to decline.

Guy is survived by his son, Paul, and his children; Tiffany, Dustin, and Christopher; son, Greg (Pamela) and their children; Joey, Micah, and Bethany; great-grandchildren, Sara and Tristan; older brother, Bud.

Guy was preceded in death by his mother and father, sister Phyllis, and his wife Patricia. A special graveside service with Military Honors will be held at the Lakewood Forest Cemetery, Hwy 32, Lakewood, WI on Monday, April 13, 2015 at 11:00 a.m. In lieu of flowers, a memorial fund has been established in Guy's name.

We would like to thank a special family friend, Norb Langer, who faithfully visited Guy until the very end. We love you Norb! We also want to thank the wonderful staff at Carrington Manor in Green Bay for the love and care that they have given Guy over the last 2-1/2 years. It is not possible to put into words what you have meant to our family.

Dad, you lived a full life with humor, grace, humility, and fortitude. Even when your body was failing, you never complained and always reached for a hug or handshake. Goodbye Dad...until we meet again.

Letters to the Editor

We welcome letter to the Editor; however the letters should be legible, in good taste, not libelous and pertinent to current issues. Does Forest County need a hero? I say yes!

As this circus of an off-road park continues on, I wonder how many of our tax dollars have been spent on meetings that just go in circles win no questions ever answered. Why are our elected officials still entertaining this? Are they afraid of being reelected?

What we need is a hero to say enough is enough. I'm all for growth and good-paying jobs for the citizens of Forest County, but this park is not the answer. There are so many conflicts of interest going on here that are clearly trumping what the citizens of Forest County actually want.

This is insane. It could be a reality TV show. I am all in favor of expanding Forest County's recreation opportunities, but not at the cost of the taxpayer. If this park is such a home run, like the fliers state, why haven't other counties jumped on this, or better yet, private investors?

Forest County is being targeted because of our slow economic growth, and this park was presented as a quick fix. WORVPI doesn't even have a real business plan and can't answer a single question they are asked. What they have is a biased study they are going off of and a Facebook page that continually puts down Forest County and the people that live here.

Does Forest County really need more seasonal, minimum-wage jobs? What Forest County needs is more permanent jobs with good pay.

Join me, speak up, and let's be a hero together,
Jason Headson

Letter to the Editor:

I am writing to let you know that I am appalled that on the front page of the March 30 edition of the Pioneer Express, the article of the robin, someone called the bird the dumb robin/s who come too soon. They have an inner sense that we as humans don't have and are smarter than we give them credit for.

As a Native American, I respect all living things/creatures and I would definitely not use the adjective dumb. That's the way I believe and was raised up to think like that. Calling the robin dumb is a term I would not ever use.

Careful! Walking aids may lead to higher risk of falls

Walking aids such as canes and walkers can be invaluable to people with mobility difficulties, but improper or insufficient training in their use may contribute to an increased risk of falls, according to a study conducted in Belgium.
 A study published in the Journal of Geriatric Physical Therapy followed older adults, aged 63 to 94, in a residential care facility in Belgium. Approximately half of the study's participants used a walking aid (most used a four-wheeled walker, while some used a two-wheeled walker or a cane). Even after accounting for falls that were contributed to by medication, previous falls, older age or slower walking, researchers determined that those who used walking aids were nearly four times more likely to fall than those who did not.
 The researchers determined that older persons whose gait has been altered may be taking smaller steps and walking more slowly, contributing to an increased risk of falling.
 Researchers caution not to conclude from the study that walking aids themselves are problematic. Rather, they highlighted the correlation between the use of a walking aid and an increased likelihood of falls. Therefore, researchers say it is vital that older persons who utilize a walking aid be properly trained to ensure the device is used properly and provides safer mobility practices. One problem with walking aids is that individuals who lose balance may not be able to recover as quickly due to gripping or holding the walking aid. When balance is lost, the aid may become a hindrance, rather than a safety device.
 While it may be easily taken for granted, researchers suggest that someone who uses a walking aid should receive proper training to learn how to keep their balance, maintain a safe gait, as well as ways to avoid falls. Training should include more complicated maneuvers such as opening and closing doors and navigating stairs.
 The aging process requires individuals, caretakers, family members and friends to rethink ideas that may seem simple. In order to safely use a walking aid, individuals who face mobility challenges must be able to safely incorporate the use of the device into their activities of daily living so that the device is used properly and does not accidentally cause a dangerous fall that it was designed to prevent.

PCCH held their fourth annual golf outing on August 1, 2014 and was able to raise funds for local diabetes programs. Four person teams participated in the golf outing at the Nicolet Country Club. The participants were treated to wonderful food, a beautiful summer day, and the opportunity to win numerous prizes donated from vendors and local businesses. "Each year our golf outings continue to grow. With the support of our vendors and community members, we are able to have a very successful outing," stated PCCH General Manager Frank Shepard. "Diabetes is a very serious disease and I am very pleased that we are able to donate to two very important programs right here in Forest County." With increased involvement from vendors and members of the community, Potawatomi Carter Casino Hotel was able to make two donations to local diabetes programs that eclipsed the donations from the previous year. The Forest County Potawatomi Health & Wellness and the Forest County Health Department each received a check for $3,758.50.

According to 2015 statistics from the Wisconsin Department of Health Services, diabetes affects over 475,000 adults and 4,500 children and adolescents in the state. As well as causing serious health-related implications, diabetes is also economically costly. The direct and indirect costs of diabetes in Wisconsin total an estimated $6.15 billion annually.

profit 501c3 Forest County entity formed for just this purpose through FCEDP.

Administration
 A Loan Review Committee is made up of a combination of legal, private lending, business, community development, local government professionals and community members with varied backgrounds.
 The FCEDP Revolving Loan Fund is modest in comparison to others, but the hope is to have more entities invest in our county and communities once a proven record of success is established. The small businesses is our focus until larger sums can be secured from other entities. Applications can be picked up at the FCEDP Office located in the back of the Forest County Welcome Center in Crandon. For more information about this fund please contact:

The Longest Loss: Alzheimer's Disease and Dementia national program offered locally

The Hospice Foundation of America's 22nd Annual Living with Grief @Program entitled "The Longest Loss: Alzheimer's Disease and Dementia" will be presented on Wednesday, April 22, 12:30 - 4:15 p.m. at Ministry Saint Mary's Hospital's Conference Rooms 1&2 (lower level), 2251 N. Shore Drive, Rhinelander. The pre-recorded program is moderated by Frank Sesno, Director of the School of Media and Public Affairs at The George Washington University. When the diagnosis is Alzheimer's disease or other dementia, grief doesn't wait for death. Grieving can begin in the doctor's office when patients and families receive confirmation of illness. Over a span of what may be a decade, multiple losses associated with Alzheimer's disease or dementia become a pervasive part of everyday life for millions of patients, their families and friends. After the death, survivors' grief may be complicated by the nature of a lengthy disease process that has changed their relationship with the deceased. Through a combination of candid, compelling interviews and live, in-studio discussion, experts will identify how medical and social service professionals can best help patients, families and themselves cope with loss and grief associated with these progressive illnesses.

Mr. Sesno will lead the panel of noted authorities that includes: Charles Corr, PhD, former Chair of the International Work Group on Death, Dying, and Bereavement and current caregiver; Kenneth J. Doka, PhD, MDiv, Professor of Gerontology, College of New Rochelle and participant in 22 Living with Grief® programs; Nancy Pearce, LISW-CP, licensed gerontological social worker with expertise in communicating and connecting effectively with persons with dementia; Peter V. Rabins, MD, MPH, Director, Geriatric Psychiatry Program, Johns Hopkins and co-author of "The 36 Hour Day," a widely used guide for lay caregivers of people with Alzheimer's or other dementias; and Kathie Supiano, PhD, LCSW, FT, F-GSA, Associate Professor, and director of Caring Connections: A Hope and Comfort in Grief Program at the University of Utah College of Nursing.

This special event, open to everyone in the community, is sponsored by Ministry Home Care - Hospice Services. Participation is free and no pre-registration is necessary. For more information, call Ministry Home Care at 800.643.4663.

Thank You & Personals

THANK YOU!

Thank you to the Crandon School District janitor staff for their awesome and hard work during the Mole Lake 28th Annual Pow Wow. I also want to thank all the volunteers who took their time to help set up and run the pow wow - Kim Solider, Christy Jackson, Jessica Webster, Cheryl Marvin, Teri Hunt, Karen Ackley, Vicki Ackley, Jeffery Keeble and Rachel Vodar. I want to recognize my youth volunteers, Nelly and Troy Solider, Jojo and Jacob Macintosh, Kaylynn Eveland, Chelsea Kane, Walter and Andrew Panick, Ana and Suzie Carter and Zandrea McGeshick. My youth workers put in a lot of hard work helping out at this weekend event and I really appreciate it and want to thank you all again.

Thanks again to everyone who took the time to help make this pow wow happen. Thank you to the Sokaogon Chippewa Family Service Department, Health Clinic, Sokaogon Finance and Tribal Council. Without these departments, this pow wow would not have such a successful weekend.

Congratulations to the new royalty - Brave Derek Olds, Senior Princess Nevaeh Fox, Junior Princess Lovey VanZile and Tiny Tot Princess Alliyah VanZile.

Thank You for all your service to God's people. We miss your smile in our community. Your family & friends from Wabeno and especially your Trump Lake "Family"

Time to Say THANK YOU Again

Well, Kim and I were both gone on different errands away from our farm last Monday, March 30.

Of course, that would be the day that I left the farm and forgot my cell phone.

I was the first one coming home, about 12:30 p.m., and rounded the last corner to find our yard full of fire trucks!

We have, or had, a free-standing outdoor wood boiler that was enclosed in its own steel clad building. Somehow, the building housing the wood boiler had started on fire late that morning, and was fully engulfed in flames when it was discovered.

A call to 911 by our neighbor had most of the area fire departments, and other local emergency services, headed towards our farm.

I need to make the point again that all of Forest County's fire department and rescue squad's personnel are all local volunteers; they are your friends, family, and neighbors. They volunteer their time and expertise and drop everything to respond in an emergency.

By the time I came around the last corner to get home, the fire was out. Thanks to the quick work of both the Argonne and Laona fire departments, the only loss was the wood stove building and the stove it sheltered.

This fire could have easily spread, both as a wildfire and to other buildings here on the farm. It didn't, thanks to the fire departments, and their volunteers.

I know that the fire departments spent the rest of that day cleaning lots of mud off of their trucks, hoses, and equipment, getting them ready for the next emergency. Most people who expect the fire department to show up don't think about the extra work that needs to be done once those trucks head back to the firehouse.

So, to all of you, who serve our local communities, as fire department, rescue squad, and law enforcement/dispatch personnel---Thank you, so much, for what you give to all of us.

Sincerely,
Jim and Kim Odekirk-Cavour.

Thank You

Crandon Senior Spotlight - Brianna Lincoln

Brianna Lincoln, daughter of William and Rena Lincoln, said her best high school memory is of winning regionals with her basketball team to end her senior year.

In the past twelve years she has learned how to write complex paragraphs for English, algebraic formulas and how to use them. The list could go on.

She plans on going into the National Guard and then going on to college to study criminal justice.

She would like to thank her parents for encouraging her to continue through school, her church (Praise Chapel) for guidance and support, and all her teachers for all of their hard work and wisdom.

Boost your mood with exercise

Have you ever tried exercise to relieve stress or a bad mood? Chances are you felt better afterward. Scientific research has demonstrated that the link between exercise and mental health is strong, though not fully understood. Research shows exercise provides short and long-term psychological improvements, including:

1. Reversing stress - Exercise can help provide an immediate distraction from stressful worries and frustration. It helps you cope by producing a sense of calm as it relieves muscle tension and boosts energy. It's important to choose exercise options you enjoy.
2. Building self-esteem - Achieving fitness goals, even small ones, can build confidence, restore positive feelings and give you a sense of control, as well as improve your body image.
3. Lifting depression - Working the muscles releases mood enhancers in the brain, and may reduce chemicals that worsen depression. Alleviating a depressed mood and anxiety generally takes a longer course of exercise. The best results may occur with moderately intense aerobic workouts lasting 30 to 40 minutes most days of the week. They may significantly cut symptoms of moderate depression. Weight training might also be effective.

Is staying fit mentally the best incentive for staying active? It offers an immediate reward: Mood-boosting benefits can happen within minutes, while the physical effects of regular exercise, such as weight loss and increased muscle mass, can take weeks.

Scam Alert! Don't be so quick to wire money to your "favorite grandchild"

The combination of cold weather and tax season makes this a prime time for financial scams. People are at home more due to the cold and are more likely to answer phone calls. Older Americans are a favorite target of unscrupulous scam artists. According to research by Stanford University, those over the age of 65 are 34% more likely to have lost money on a financial scam than those in their 40s. Some scams to be on the lookout for include:

Tax Identity

Tax season presents many opportunities for theft and fraud. Fraudsters call or email people stating that they are from the IRS and provide an address to send money to for back taxes. Others are stealing Social Security numbers (SSNs) and filing tax returns with the stolen identity.

The Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection provided a press release outlining the following ways to reduce a person's risk of falling victim to tax identity theft:

- File your tax return early in the tax season before identity thieves do.
- Use a secure internet connection if you file electronically. Don't use unsecure, publicly available Wi-Fi hotspots at places like coffee shops or hotel lobbies.
- Mail your tax return directly from the post office.
- Shred copies of tax returns, drafts or calculation sheets you no longer need.
- Respond to all mail from the IRS as soon as possible.
- Know that the IRS won't contact you by email, text or social media. If the IRS needs information, it will first contact you by mail.
- Don't give out your SSN or Medicare number unless necessary. Ask why it's needed, how it's going to be used and how it will be stored.
- Get recommendations and research a tax preparer thoroughly before you hand over personal information.
- If your SSN has been compromised, contact the IRS ID Theft Protection Specialized Unit at 1-800-908-4490.
- Check your credit report at least once a year for free at annualcreditreport.com to make sure no other accounts have been opened in your name.

Sweetheart Scam

Scammers have also been targeting older women on online dating sites. The scammer will have conversations with the unsuspecting woman and eventually profess his love for her. Then the scammer will find himself in some sort of predicament where he needs funds immediately, such as a stolen briefcase on a business trip.

Grandparent Scam

The scammer calls and claims to be "your favorite grandchild" or close relative and is in some sort of crisis that requires immediate cash to remedy. The victim is then convinced to wire funds, send a prepaid credit card or send cash via courier.

If you receive this sort of call, you should ask questions only your grandchild would know, such as the name of a pet.

K-9 Units honored in Wisconsin

Eight K-9 Units across Wisconsin were invited to the Capitol for the passing of the ARJ 4 Bill

Submitted by Mick Ashbeck

I, Chief Mick Ashbeck of the Wabeno and Townsend Police Departments, would like to inform everyone of the most memorable and proud experience a K-9 Team can ever have. On March 17, 2015, myself, K-9 partner Dutch and K-9 Chairman Fred Bath of the Community K-9 Task Force were present in the assembly room when ARJ 4 Bill was put into law.

This was the first time in the history of the Wisconsin State Capitol building K-9 dogs and handlers have ever been allowed in the assembly room during a vote. Each K-9 Team was recognized as they walked into the quorum. Once the bill was passed, the K-9 dogs were commanded to bark in recognition of the great honor.

Only eight K-9 Teams from the State of Wisconsin were asked to participate in this historic event. Deputy Todd Skarban with K-9 Dexter, myself with K-9 Dutch and K-9 Chairman Fred Bath will be noted in the official books in our State Capitol.

It has been declared that March 13th and every year afterward will be K-9 Veteran's Day to honor all customs, search and rescue, border patrol, police, secret service and military working dogs.

Kohl's staff volunteer at Nicolet Clothes Closet-donate $500

Students at Nicolet College recently had the opportunity to update their clothing at the annual Clothes Closet at the college. More than 200 slightly-used items were donated by staff and community members for students to take for free and use in job interviews and in the workplace.

Members from Kohl's in Rhinelander volunteered to help Nicolet staff get the clothing ready for the event through the company's Associates in Action program. The store also donated $500 to the Nicolet College Foundation.

Meat Raffle for 2015 Dog Park opening In Riverview

On April 11, the Safe Haven Dog Park is having a Meat Raffle starting at 11:00 a.m. at the Shoreline Inn, 15463 County Rd W in Crooked Lake. All proceeds go to the 2015 opening of the park. Early bird tickets will be sold starting at 10:30 a.m. The raffle will continue until 2:00 p.m.

This raffle will hopefully provide us with the funds to complete the park this year. We have the fence posts. We still need the fencing, gates, picnic tables and, eventually, a pool for the dogs.

When we watch our dogs raise their noses to the winds or tilt their ears to sounds we only know as silence, we can only imagine their dreams and desires to run and investigate what's out there. This is why we are building the dog park.

They are our best friends. They never judge us or avert their eyes when we speak. If we accidentally hurt them, they apologize to us. And, they wake up each dawn with the same unconditional love for us they went to bed with.

Our dogs deserve to have the open spaces they inherently desire without the danger of being hit by a car or killed in our forest or, equally as disturbing, unable to find their way home to the family they love.

Please come to our Meat Raffle and afford yourselves the inexpensive fun you deserve, to give our dogs and all visiting dogs the safe freedoms they deserve.
