If you are wondering why this cute little guy is visiting Crandon, just follow him up to the Crandon High School Auditorium. He and many of your favorites will be flying across the galaxy on the Starship Secondprize during the play "Star Tracks, Rescuing the Sis". Many of the ships mates are lending advice to Captain J.T. Smirk as he aides young Luke in rescuing his sister from their evil father.

Come and catch the show on Friday November 13th at 7 pm and Saturday November 14 at 7 pm. All seats are $2.00, but come Friday night wearing Crandon Cardinal apparel and get your seat for $1. There will be a raffle and a 50/50 drawing.

Wabeno Area Players Present Steel Magnolias

The Wabeno Area Players and the Essenhaus of Wabeno are putting finishing touches on their production of Steel Magnolias by Robert Harling. Steel Magnolias is the funniest show that will make you cry. The play is alternately hilarious and touching as it moves from the excitement of Shelby Eatenton's wedding to sadness as friends mourn her loss.

There will be five performances of this well-loved play at the Essenhaus in Wabeno. The dates are November 19, 20, 21, and 22. The show times are Thursday, November 19, at 7:30 PM; Friday, November 20, at 7:30 PM; Saturday, November 21, at 2:30PM and 7:30PM; and Sunday, November 22 at 2:30PM. All events will start with a Taste of Louisiana Dinner, served at the table, before the performance. The doors will open an hour and a half before each show – 1:00PM for the matinees and 5:30PM for the evening performances. Reservations are required and need to be made early because there is limited seating for the shows.

All the ladies who are "anybody" come to have their hair done at Truvy's Beauty Salon, while sharing the latest gossip and joys of friendship. The untimely death of Shelby, the daughter of M' Lynn, deeply affects the women. Their underlying strength and love, in good times and bad, help to weave a story of touching, funny, and

Good Neighbor Authority will provide timber sales on the Chequamegon/Nicolet

By Mike Monte

A discussion was held at the Forest County Courthouse last Tuesday afternoon by the Federal Sustainable Forestry Committee. One of the topics of discussion was the Good Neighbor Authority (GNA), which gives the DNR authority and recompense for implementation of timber sales on national forest lands.

Under GNA, the state can contract this work to county forestry departments in those counties that have county forests. The work is paid for upon completion of the actual forestry work. This is a program that is new to the Forest Service, and Wisconsin is the first state that will implement the procedure.

In recent times, the Forest Service has been more responsive to the needs of those counties that have a large amount of their land base in national forest. For decades, the Forest Service has reduced the amount of timber that reaches market. Local loggers have spent time traveling to available timber farther from home. In addition, local sawmills have had to haul logs and box bolts from further afield, adding trucking expense. In addition, the 25% fund will be part of the timber sales.

The 25% fund was set up to compensate those areas where national forest had ownership of the land base, eliminating things like property taxes that support local government. Currently, the 25% fund will be paid to school districts. With more timber sales, local school districts will receive periodic checks from the federal government that will help keep local schools operating.

Of course, having a nearby supply of sawtimber will make local sawmillers smile, and in addition, keep jobs in the county.

While our county forestry crew has a full slate with both county forest sales and recreational duties, contract foresters can be put temporarily on staff, which also adds to the job base. Counties will receive recompense for other duties that are performed by existing staff, which can add to the revenue of county forestry departments.

There have been local people and others in the timber industry that have worked for decades to get more timber to the market place. They have often been thwarted by the environmental community that think that the best use of a tree is to grow mature, fall down and rot. Through lawsuits, many timber sales that were ready to be bid were put on the back burner because of the decision made by a federal judge who may or may not have any idea of sound forestry, local economies, or even the original reason for having national forests, which was to provide lumber and fiber to the nation.

Things have changed. The last lawsuits were won by the Forest Service.

Unfortunately, the Forest Service has had budget problems. Fires in the western states have drained budgets and manpower from local Forest Service districts. With this new way to get the work done in setting up a timber sale, local governments gain, local businesses gain, and the nation gains as well.

It will take cooperation by county government to get this ball rolling, as well as advancing funds, that will be reimbursed, to hire the personnel to get the job done.

Forest County Humane Society annual meeting held in Crandon

By Boyd Monte

The Forest County Humane Society held their annual meeting last night at Praise Chapel Fellowship Hall. The first order of business was to fill the board for the next term. Brianna Lincoln, Don Erdmann, Larry Sommer, Rick Smitts, Vicki Krabbe, Steve Bunda, Brittaney Hauser, Paul Bostron and Jay Schaefer are all elected to be on the Forest County Humane Society Board for two year terms. Brittaney Hauser was elected secretary, Paul Bostron was elected treasurer, Steve Bunda was elected vice president and Jay Schaefer was elected President.

After elections, the budget was reviewed. The shelter is operating on limited funds and is in need of help. Jay Schaefer asked the members of the shelter for help on ideas to raise money. Al Thompson said that, during his term as president, he applied for a grant through Petco. The shelter will find out if they received the grant in December. Jay also mentioned the 5K For the Paws and the Kentucky Derby Party at Pack Em Inn. The idea of contacting towns, cities and the county was also presented. A subcommittee was formed to investigate those options. Schaefer also said that anybody that was willing to volunteer time rather than money, would also be greatly appreciated.

Nice Apple!

By Boyd Monte

A man was picking apples and found this beauty. The apple is split almost perfectly down the middle. We are not sure on what type of apple it is, but it looks as if it is a cross between a red delicious and a braeburn apple. A quick internet source provided us with the odd of this mutation occurring are one in a million. The internet also provided us with apples that were red and green splits. We could not find any photos online of two shades of red. If you know what has happened to this apple please give us a call.

Friends of Wabeno end year on a High Note

Jennifer Short (on the right), Community Relations Leader, Wisconsin Public Service, presents Mary Beck, Chair of the Friends of Wabeno, , Brenda St John, Wabeno Town Clerk and Tim Tucker, Trail Supervisor, with a $2,000 check for the Barrier Free Boardwalk and Trail constructed in the Firefighter's Grounds in Wabeno.

The November meeting of the Friends of Wabeno will be on November 12th at 7:00 p.m. This will be the last meeting of 2015. The next meeting will be in February 2016.

In 2015, the Friends completed the Trail along the Range Line Creek in the Firefighter's Grounds and hosted an AmeriCorps Team that provided work on numerous community projects. A few of the projects done by the Team include; building the 1000 foot trail, repairing the drywall ceiling in the First Schoolhouse, sprucing up the Firefighter's Grounds by painting buildings and picnic tables and erecting tents in time for Steam-Up Days, painting downtown curbs, weeding plants in the parks and setting up and tearing down tents and seating for Wabeno's 1st Art and Music Fest. The Team also held a Community Volunteer Day to paint the Logging Museum, held a Recruiting Day, spoke to numerous community groups, and helped the Christian Thrift Store sort and organize donations.

The Agenda items for the November 12th Friends meeting include updates on current projects and planning for 2016. If you are interested in helping with the boardwalk project's Phase 3 activities or other improvements in the town parks, downtown decorations or planning the Wabeno Art and Music Fest for 2016, please come! All are welcome. Many hands make light work!

Crandon Library News

Our November display belongs to Andy and Karen McMillion of Crandon, who have been collecting Great Lakes shipping history along with items from shipwrecks, light houses, and light saving stations for over ten years. This interesting group includes ore boat items from ships like the Edmund Fitzgerald (the legend of the Edmund Fitzgerald remains the most mysterious and controversial of all shipwreck tales heard around the Great Lakes. Her story is surpassed in books, film, and media only by that of the Titanic). Something interesting to note is those in the employment of 'The U.S. Life-Saving Service' lived in small, remote locations, including many throughout the Great Lakes; they actually rescued people in peril. Their motto was, "You have to go out but you don't have to come back." Most of Andy and Karen's items are from purchases via their travels, the internet, the 'Gales of November' Conferences which take place yearly in Duluth, MN, in November of course, and in relation to Upper Peninsula Mining.

Diet for Heart Health

For maximum heart health, you need to eat a well-balanced diet. But what does that really mean? "Try a diet low in saturated fat and high in fiber," recommends Lisa R. Young, PhD, RD, adjunct professor in the department of nutrition, food studies, and public health at New York University. Here's how to put such a diet in place.

Diet for Heart Health: Get Plenty of Fiber

Fiber can help lower cholesterol levels and reduce the risk of diabetes (a risk factor for heart disease) and certain types of cancer. "We recommend about 25 grams of fiber a day, for men a bit more. It's based on your weight," Young says. "Most Americans eat much, much less than that. If you follow a good diet, you'll get enough, but so many of us don't."

The best way to include fiber in your diet is to eat a variety of whole grains and a mixture of fruits and veggies that have both soluble and insoluble fiber. Soluble fiber helps clear out cholesterol from your bloodstream. Good sources of soluble fiber include oatmeal, barley, dried beans, and peas; insoluble fiber is found in vegetables like beets and brussels sprouts, as well as whole-grain bread.

Diet for Heart Health: The Role of Carbohydrates
 Carbohydrates should be 50 to 60 percent of your diet. In addition to fresh fruits and vegetables, get your carbohydrates from legumes, whole-grain breads and pastas, and brown rice. Carbohydrates from these sources are considered good because they offer you nutrients, vitamins, and fiber, in addition to the calories.

However, Young explains that carbohydrates are often vehicles for saturated fats like butter, sour cream, cream cheese, and dips and spreads. That's not good news because saturated fats increases your LDL, or "bad" cholesterol. So you want to watch what you put on your carbs, and how much of them you eat.

• Eat the right carbs and the right fats. While too much LDL cholesterol is bad news, replacing all the fat in your diet with carbohydrates is not the answer either.

"A diet too high in carbs and too low in fats will decrease the HDL cholesterol," says Young. The HDL cholesterol, found in certain good (non-saturated) fats, is actually good for your heart.

• Understand the role of triglycerides. Fruits and vegetables contain carbohydrates and are jam-packed with nutrients that your body needs. Other simple carbohydrates, like breads, cakes and cookies made from white, refined flour, have less nutritional value. After we eat, our bodies turn carbohydrates, fats, and protein into triglycerides, the chemical that our cells use to give us energy. We need some triglycerides to fuel us throughout the day. But too much of this chemical has been found to increase the risk of heart disease. "It depends on the type of carb," Young says. "White bread, for instance, elevates the triglycerides."

Diet for Heart Health: Vitamins for the Heart

While many people swear by vitamins and supplements, there's not much evidence to support the idea that any particular vitamin is good for the heart. "There was a lot of talk about vitamin E, and it didn't really pan out," Young says, "and the folates, B-6, B-12 -- these vitamins didn't pan out either."

"As they say, there are no quick fixes and no miracles," Young adds. Most of us can get all the nutrients our hearts need from a well-balanced diet -- full of fresh fruits, vegetables and whole grains.

8 Big Health Benefits of Apples

It's no surprise that apples are good for you -- why else would they have earned that "keep the doctor away" reputation? -- but there are a number of lesser-known reasons to pick up a juicy one today.

Some of our favorite health benefits of apples include:

- Lower Cholesterol - One medium sized apple contains about four grams of fiber. Some of that is in the form of pectin, a type of soluble fiber that has been linked to lower levels of LDL or "bad" cholesterol. That's because it blocks absorption of cholesterol, according to WebMD, helping the body to use it rather than store it.
 - Keeps You Full - Apple's wealth of fiber can also keep you feeling full for longer without costing you a lot of calories -- there are about 95 in a medium-sized piece of fruit. That's because it takes our bodies longer to digest complex fiber than more simple materials like sugar or refined grains. Anything with at least three grams of fiber is a good source of the nutrient; most people should aim to get about 25 to 40 grams a day.
 - Keeps You Slim - One component of an apple's peel (which also has most of the fiber) is something called ursolic acid, which was linked to a lower risk of obesity in a recent study in mice. That's because it boosts calorie burn and increases muscle and brown fat, HuffPost UK reported.
 - Prevent Breathing Problems - Five or more apples a week (less than an apple a day!) has been linked with better lung function. Health magazine reported, most likely because of an antioxidant called quercetin found in the skin of apples (as well as in onions and tomatoes), the BBC reported. And the breath benefits of apples extend even further: A 2007 study found that women who eat plenty of the fruit are less likely to have children with asthma.
 - Fight Colds - While they don't quite rival oranges, apples are considered a good source of immune system-boosting vitamin C, with over 8 milligrams per medium-sized fruit, which amounts to roughly 14 percent of your daily recommended intake.
 - May Fight Cancer - In 2004, French research found that a chemical in apples helped prevent colon cancer, WebMD reported. And in 2007, a study from Cornell found additional compounds, called triterpenoids, which seem to fight against liver, colon and breast cancers.
 - Decrease Diabetes Risk - A 2012 study published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition found that apples, as well as pears and blueberries, were linked with a lower risk of developing type 2 diabetes because of a class of antioxidants, anthocyanins, that are also responsible for red, purple and blue colors in fruits and veggies.
 - Boost Brain Power - This fruit has been linked to an uptick in acetylcholine production, Good Housekeeping reported, which communicates between nerve cells, so apples may help your memory and lower your chances of developing Alzheimer's.
- A diet rich in antioxidants may have similar effects, so apples, since they are particularly rich in quercetin, are a good bet, according to 2004 research.

Snoop Shop 2015 season was very successful

The Snoop Shop had 25 consignees who entered their specialty items this past season, which made a very full and lovely shop. There were a lot of compliments about how wonderful the shop looked and what a nice variety of items that were available at such reasonable prices.

Sales were great for consignees of which a percentage helped cover shop expenses which include electric, insurance, licenses, supplies and repairs.

The one problem we experienced this year was trying to keep the shop open six days a week. There were some days when we should have been open but weren't because no one was available to run the shop. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

We would like to encourage more Seniors, age 50 or over, living or owning property in or immediately adjacent to Forest County to consider putting their hand-crafted items in the Snoop Shop next year. It's not necessary to volunteer in order to put your items in the shop; but the help would be very much appreciated.

Please start making and collecting your items for next year. It's never too early to start crafting.

On behalf of the Snoop Shop officers, we appreciate all those consignees who contributed to the success of the shop this past season. We look forward to your participation and the participation of new crafters next year.

For questions and other information, you can contact any of the officers. President: Marge Scardino (715-478-1164), Vice-President: Pat Schultz (715-478-3523), Treasurer: Kathy Gibbs (715-478-0403) or Secretary: Ann Koziol (715-478-2785).

Thank You

The family of DeLila "Deedy" Petzold would like to extend a thank you to all their family and friends for their cards, gifts, visits, prayers and comforting words during this time.

Thank you to Ministry Health Care and Hospice and Weber-Hill Funeral Home for the care given to Deedy, and to Flowers from the Heart for the beautiful flower arrangements. Thank you to the Crandon Rescue Squad as well.

A heartfelt thank you to Pastor Bill Farr for the personalized service that was very comforting and inspirational to us! Also, thank you Pastor Bill and his wife Cathy for their visits to our home and at the hospital.

A special thank you to the kitchen staff at Praise Chapel Church for their service and the delicious meal, and anyone else who helped and brought food.

We feel very blessed and humbled by all the outpouring of love and support given to us.

Thank you,
The DeLila "Deedy" Petzold Family

Thank You

The family of Karl Guth would like to thank everyone who so generously attended us during Karl's illness.

We'd like to express our gratitude to our parish of St. Joseph's, especially Father Callistus and the members of my Bible Study, who have given me so much support in the past two years. Thanks also to all those who participated in making the Funeral Mass so memorable; Fr. Callistus, Fr. David Schmidt, the lectors, servers, choir and our special friend Dometa Brothers, who gave such a beautiful eulogy. Thanks to the ladies who made up the kitchen crew for the funeral dinner and those who donated desserts and salads.

To all of you who sent cards, called us or visited and especially those who prayed so diligently for months; you can't know how important this was to all of us, but especially to Karl. It was your caring that gave him encouragement and uplifted us every day.

May God bless you for your kindness.

Wabeno Lion Terry Beining awarded for 50 years of service

Wabeno Lions Club President Mike Richmond presents pin to Lion Terry Beining for 50 years of membership and service!

Thank You!!

We'd like to thank the entire staff, but especially the nurses at the Crandon Nursing Home, for Karl's care. There are numerous nursing facilities in our area, some of which are very state of the art and architecturally inviting with huge windows and beautiful lounges with fireplaces along with the best furnishings and everything to please the eye... but I bet their staff of nurses would be hard pressed to walk in the shoes of that fleet of "angels" who work at the Crandon Nursing Home. We will never forget your kindness and your compassion.

Thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Jennifer & Patrick Nickel, and Allison & Andy Space

November News from Crandon Elementary
November-Food Drive

November is Gratitude and Good Citizenship month at Crandon Elementary School. Being grateful and kind to others are the Character Traits that students at Crandon Elementary School, hope to inspire in themselves and others in the community. With Thanksgiving quickly approaching, reminding everyone to have a thankful heart, the students have decided to give back to the community by hosting a Food Drive during the week of November 9-13. Grade level-classrooms, will compete to see who can bring in the most food to be donated to a local pantry.

Please encourage our students to share in this bountiful month of Thanksgiving, by helping support their efforts to bring non-perishable food items to their classroom. The classroom of students who collect the most food will be treated to a pizza party!

SCHAEFER'S FOOD IGA - OUT SECTION

SCHAEFER'S IGA PULL - OUT SECTION

Andrew Alexander 'Ni gan Kno' "Lead Eagle" Shepard, age 20 of Wabeno, WI, was taken prematurely from this earth November 1, 2015.

Andrew was born on July 22, 1995, in Antigo, WI to Frank and Lorrie Shepard. The youngest of four boys, he loved hunting, fishing, golfing and anything outdoors he could do with his dad, brothers and sisters. He was a fanatic for anything with wheels. Dirt biking, riding his Harley, Maverick rides with the family, or snowboarding with his friends is what kept his weekends busy. On Packer Sundays, he could be found cheering on Green Bay with family or friends or even on the Jumbotron at the game.

Above all, Drew loved his family more than anything in the world. He would put them or any of his friends first at all times. There was never a time that Uncle Andrew wasn't spoiling his nieces and nephews in every way possible or teasing his sisters relentlessly. Anyone who met him knows there was never a dull moment if he was in the room. He was always making others laugh no matter what the circumstances were. Andrew was never afraid to do or try anything that came his way.

Andrew graduated from Wabeno High School in 2013. He was a member of the high school wrestling team and wrestling also gave him the opportunity to participate in the 2011 North American Indigenous Games. He also had the opportunity to travel to Australia as a youth peace ambassador through the People to People student program. In 2014, he received a certificate from the Universal Technical Institute in Lisle, IL, as an automotive technician. He was currently working at Dorsch Ford, where his work ethic was recognized with top booking-hours honors on many occasions.

Andrew is survived by his parents, Frank and Lorrie Shepard; brothers and sisters, Frank and Katie Shepard - Frankie, Brady, Levi, God-daughter, Olivia; Joe and Trinity Shepard - Everleigh, Jordy, Wylder; Evan Shepard and Ainsley Cornell - Mary; Dani Shepard and Tori Shepard; grandmother, Patsy Shepard; the love of his life, Breanna McLaughlin, and his "little wiener" dog, Geoffrey, as well as many special aunts, uncles, and cousins.

He was preceded in death by maternal grandparents, Carl and Maryellen Gust; paternal grandparents, Frank A. Shepard and Marie Shepard; and special auntie, "Grandma Berty" Pemma.

Pall bearers for services are good friends Ian Waubanasum, Joey Kroll, Travis Tucker, Mikey Dailey, Tom Lowery and Jared Demmith.

Andrew was one of the most amazing people in the world and thanks to his selfless decision to be an unlimited organ and tissue donor, his life will help save lives now and those in the future.

Visitation was held from 4:00 - 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, November 3 and 11:00 a.m. on Wednesday, November 4, followed by funeral services at 1:00 p.m., all at the Lake Lucerne Gospel Chapel "Stone Lake Church" located at 5132 Jaeger Road in Crandon, WI. He will be buried following services in the Shepard Family Cemetery in Carter, WI. Online condolences may be left for the family at weberhillfuneralhome.com.

She volunteered at Hull House and at her children's school in Chicago, IL.

She and Joe spent their summers building their retirement home in Armstrong Creek, WI.

When Joe retired in 1978 they moved to Wisconsin where she continued volunteer duties with the GAHS Parent Booster Club, American Legion, Forest County Fair, as Secretary, Citizens for Armstrong Creek as Secretary, and she enjoyed spending time with the Red Hot Red Hats, a local Red Hat Society.

She worked part time for several years selling tickets to games at Goodman-Armstrong Creek High School.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Joe in December 2012.

In 2013, she moved to Oklahoma with Karl and Donna Eberhardt.

In 2015, she moved to Grace Living Center in Chickasha, OK.

Following a short illness, she died October 23, 2015, in Oklahoma.

Ada is remembered for her love of crocheting, sewing, gardening, canning, bird watching and reading stories to her grandchildren. For a time, she crocheted snowflakes, and washed and carefully starched them for display each Christmas.

Friends knew her as pleasant and fun, and a confidant.

As a parent she was fair, firm and, many times, fun. As a volunteer Secretary she was efficient.

Words can not truly capture the essence of a human being. So we are at a loss to express fully who Ada Bunij really was.... a daughter, wife, mother, sister, friend, confidant, and many other things to many people. Words are insufficient.

She always had a soft spot for the things of God, and she taught her children to pray.

Her favorite Bible Verse was John 3:16.

Her favorite Christian songs, "I Come To The Garden" and "Amazing Grace".

Prior to surgery in October, she asked son-in-law Rev. Paul Tessaro to pray with her, and at that time, she made a solid profession of faith in Christ as Savior.

Service will be at Armstrong Creek Community Center November 14, with visitation from 10:00 a.m. until the Memorial Service at 11:00 a.m. with Rev. Paul Tessaro officiating.

Johnson Comments on the President's Support of 'Ban the Box' Initiative

Washington — Sen. Ron Johnson (R-Wis.), chairman of the Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee, responded to President Obama's announcement of support for The Fair Chance Act initiatives, a bipartisan piece of legislation sponsored by Sen. Cory Booker (D-N.J.) and by Johnson, designed to give formerly incarcerated individuals a fair chance at employment.

"The Fair Chance Act is another example of the bipartisanship I have sought during my time as chairman," said Johnson. "I am grateful that a group of senators and House members with differing backgrounds and political views were able to agree on improving the lives of Americans coming out of prison who are dedicated to turning their lives around.

"If someone getting out of prison wants to work, wants to be a productive member of society, we should do everything we can to facilitate that. The dignity of work is one of the best ways we can keep people from turning back to a life of crime. This makes our communities safer, keeps families together, and makes people less dependent on the government. I thank Senator Booker for his tremendous leadership on these issues, and am pleased that President Obama recognizes and supports our bipartisan efforts. I look forward to seeing the ban-the-box initiative implemented legislatively and signed into law."

HELP WANTED:
CASHIER
Lake Forest Trading Post Convenience Store in Hiles
Call Dean at

The controversy over the Happy Tails Shop was discussed next. Dr. Boyd donated the building to the shelter. Elite Auto offered to purchase the building, give the building the upgrades it needs and give the shelter a 10 year, rent free, lease. They would then negotiate a new lease after 10 years. The board felt that this would only be a temporary fix and that they will seek other options for making money.

Animal health guidelines, as it relates to heartworm, lyme, feline leukemia, and spay and neuter guidelines, was discussed. All animals will be checked for these diseases and will be spayed and neutered. No animal will be adopted if they suffer from any of these illnesses as they are deadly and the shelter does not want the new pet to die shortly after adoption.

The euthanasia guidelines were stated. Any animal that is incurable or is a threat to itself and is not treatable, will be put down after at least 4 board members have voted in favor. This topic will not be taken lightly and will not be a solution to over crowding in the shelter. It will be used as a means for an animal that is suffering and cannot be cured.

Cats, feral and non, were the final topic. The shelter needs a solution and is willing to listen to all ideas. The City of Crandon has a lot of cats and something needs to be done. An idea for feral cats was to send them to farms as barn cats. If anybody has any solutions to help the cats, please let the Humane Society know.

Water Works

Water exercise is among the most enjoyable ways to improve your health. And it improves cardiorespiratory health, muscular strength and endurance, flexibility and, when done regularly, reduces body fat.

- Pool workouts provide a diversion from jogging, hiking, biking, tennis and other land exercises, especially when you want to avoid jarring weight-bearing actions.

- The buoyancy of water supports your body, taking the strain off tender joints and creating a calming effect. Yet, the resistance of water is perfect for strength building. As you continually pull and push away the water, you can exercise more strenuously than it seems.

- Besides solo lap swimming, you'll find group exercise designed for shallow- or deep-water aerobics and muscle workouts using various devices. You can avoid dunking your head with workouts that involve jogging, kicking, lunges and other movements. Or slow the pace with routines inspired by yoga or tai chi for flexibility and balance.

- Check out aquatic classes at your health club or YMCA; visit 1 or 2 in session to see if they suit your fitness level. Once you've learned the basics from a certified instructor, you may advance to more challenging aquatic routines.

Nicolet Players cast for A Christmas Carol ready for December performances

The largest cast in Nicolet Players history has started a busy rehearsal schedule for the troupe's upcoming production of A Christmas Carol in early December. The holiday classic tells the tale of miserly Ebenezer Scrooge who travels through time with the ghosts of Christmas past, present, and future to realize the true meaning of Christmas.

Performances will be held Thursday through Sunday, Dec. 3 to 6, and again Dec. 10 to 13 with shows starting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday through Saturday and 2 p.m. on Sundays.

Tickets are $9 for the general public, $7 for students and senior citizens and can be ordered online at nicoletlive.com or by calling (715) 365-4646.

sincere friendships. These women are true steel magnolias, southern belles who are flowery on the outside, but strong as steel on the inside.

The Wabeno Area Players' production showcases the talented actresses Kimberly Odekirk (Truvy), Linda Harter (M'Lynn), Kathy Millan (Clairee), Jennifer Thornton (Shelby), Carol Bartlein (Ouiser), and Breanne Kanak (Annelle). Steel Magnolias is under the direction of Josh Jameson. Wendy Richards is the assistant director.

Steel Magnolias was produced twenty-five years ago by the Wabeno Area Players. In this show, Linda Harter and Carol Bartlein are appearing as the same characters they played then. Kimberly Odekirk, who plays Truvy in this production, played Shelby twenty five years ago. Kathy Millan and Breanne Kanak are making their acting debuts with The Players. Jennifer Thornton has performed on the Laona High School stage and in Third Thursday productions with the Wabeno Area Players.

According to Director Josh Jameson, "Robert Harling was inspired to write his first play after his sister Susan died of complications from diabetes. Harling's work takes the audience through a rollercoaster ride of emotions with the characters, from laughter to tears, and everything in between. Steel Magnolias is a great reminder that friendship and the support of our loved ones can see us through the challenges of life."

Don't miss this wonderful show! Plan early to attend one of the five performances on November 19, 20, 21, and 22. The cost is $25.00 per person for the Taste of Louisiana Dinner and the show. Reservations are required and seating is limited. To make reservations call 715-889-1179.

Shannon Boney awarded for her work with child support

Shannon Boney, Director of the Forest County Child Support Agency, was the recipient of the Child Support Management Employee of the Year award during the Wisconsin Child Support Enforcement Association's (WCSEA) annual fall conference held in Elkhart Lake, WI. Every year the WCSEA recognizes a management level employee who has strengthened and enhanced the Child Support Program in their county agency. On October 22, 2015, Shannon was presented with a plaque by WCSEA President Janet Schutz Nelson.

Shannon Boney began her career in child support in 1998 and became the agency director in 2000. She is a highly respected child support professional who "takes pride in being honest, working hard and treating everyone with respect." Shannon is "very professional, conscientious, and instrumental in making sure all parties have an opportunity to be heard". She has worked closely with the Forest County Potawatomi Tribal Child Support Agency, the Bureau of Child Support, and local court to help establish a procedure for the transfer of tribal cases. The Circuit Court Judge in Forest County states that "when in court Shannon is always prepared and conducts herself in a dignified and professional manner. She has demonstrated an exceptional understanding of the law and procedures and has assisted in navigating the jurisdictional issues and other questions that sometimes arise in transferring child support cases between Tribal Court and the Circuit Court". (This paragraph was read at the award ceremony which was taken from the nomination letters submitted to WCSEA).

Forest County employs a full-time staff of four in the Child Support Agency. The Agency provides many different services to families which include but are not limited to locating absent parents, establishing paternity for non-marital children, establishing child support and medical support obligations, and enforcing and monitoring child support payments. During the last federal fiscal year which ended on September 30, 2015, the Agency collected over $1,365,000 in child support for some 737 families in Forest County.
