Membership drive for Forest County Humane Society

The Forest County Humane Society is having a membership drive. Any animal enthusiast is encouraged to join. By becoming a member of the humane society, you receive a vote on any subject that requires the full membership to vote on. A person does not have to walk animals or do something that they are not comfortable with, they just have a voice on the big decisions that are brought to the membership to be voted on. If a person wants to help walk and take care of animals, that is also welcomed.

There are membership levels; Youth and Seniors are $20.00 each, Individuals are $25.00, Family(Self and Spouse) is $40.00, Animal Supporter is $50.00, Animal Lover is $100.00, Business Level is $250.00 and a Kennel Sponsor is $500.00. There is a section for any amount you want to give called other.

If you want to become a member, you can fill out the form in this issue of the Pioneer Express or pick one up at Schaefer's IGA, Elite Auto or the Forest County Humane Society located on 701 Industrial Parkway in Crandon. Forms can be dropped off at the Pioneer Express, Schaefer's IGA or Elite Auto or mailed to the Forest County Humane Society P.O. Box 57 Crandon, WI 54520. The shelter accepts cash and checks, but please do not mail cash.

Job Center of Wisconsin will be in Forest County Workforce Development Center

On Tuesday, November 17th, Job Center of Wisconsin staff will be at the Forest County Economic Development Partnership Workforce Development Center. The hours will be 9:00AM to 3:00PM. The Center is located in Crandon at the Forest County Visitor Center across from the County Courthouse.

The Forest County Economic Development Partnership Workforce Development Center offers job-seekers, students, businesses and career professionals access to a comprehensive array of employment-related services and tools in one convenient location. Residents of Forest County can utilize resources such as career counseling, career planning, resume assistance, direct job placement, classroom and on-the-job-training, unemployment compensation, and much more.

Whether looking for a job, facing a career transition, seeking new skills, or you just want a new start, visit the Forest County Economic Development Partnership Workforce Development Center, your workforce connection for the following services:

- Career counseling
- Job search assistance
- Connections to employers with current job openings
- Resume Building
- Job search strategies
- Interviewing skills
- Referrals to education and training programs
- Apprenticeship information
- Access to computers

Area employers are encouraged to send job openings to the center for publication and listings to Forest County Residents. Our goal is to bring the businesses and workers in Forest County together through connections and shared resources.

For more information or to make an appointment with the Job Center of Wisconsin Specialist, please call (715) 478-3450.

Remember, FCEDP is here for the resident's, municipalities and businesses of Forest County.

It's time to ring the bell for the Salvation Army!

The need for providing assistance for families here in Forest County keeps growing. In 2014 until 2015, the Salvation Army helped 122 adults and children because people donated.

The Salvation Army needs volunteers to ring the bell, and keep assistance going where it is needed. If you would like to help, there is a schedule at the Laona State Bank in Schaefer's IGA or call Jackie at 715-478-2683.

Here for a short visit...

A reader tipped us off about these swans on Peshtigo Lake, which we appreciate. Fortunately, they hadn't taken to the air before we arrived, and they posed for this nice shot. They are only passing through, and we won't see these magnificent birds until next spring. Some of our readers, of course, won't be far behind these birds as they leave for the winter.

Flu vaccination clinic November 18th & 20th

Influenza is a contagious disease caused by influenza viruses that infect the respiratory tract (nose, throat, and lungs). It can cause mild to severe illness, sometimes leading to death. Influenza symptoms often begin suddenly, with fever, headache, tiredness, dry cough, sore throat, nasal congestion, and body aches. Centers for Disease Control recommends a yearly flu vaccine as the first and most important step in protecting against this serious disease. Everyone 6 months and older should get a flu vaccine this fall.

In addition, you can take everyday preventive steps like staying away from sick people and washing your hands to reduce the spread of germs. If you are sick with flu, stay home from work or school to prevent spreading influenza to others.

The Forest County Health Department will be holding flu vaccination clinics for both adults and children on November 18th from 1:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. and November 20th from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Forest County Health Department. Adult vaccinations can be billed to some insurances. Children's flu vaccinations will be free.

Call the Forest County Health Department at 715-478-3371 for more information.

Crandon Drama presents "Star Tracks, Rescuing the Sis"

The Crandon High Drama Dept. will be presenting what could be an entertaining production that is a comedic spoof of "Star Trek."

See Luke rescue his sister from the evil father with the able assistance of Captain J.T. Smirk.

The play will be on Friday and Saturday, November 13 and 14 at 7:00 p.m.

Tickets are $2, but come Friday wearing Packer duds and get in for a buck!

What is it?

Rose Hams, one of our readers from Hollister, brought in this handmade wooden implement. Rose acquired this old tool at a yard sale near Crandon last year. She has been asking people what it was used for, and has had a variety of interesting answers, but she said that nobody knows for sure, including the fellow who sold her the paddle.

The length, including the handle, is eighteen inches long. It is obviously hand carved, and the handle is smooth from wear. A butter churn has been ventured as a guess, and others thought it was to stir laundry when clothes were washed in a wooden tub. Somebody said it might have been used to beat kids, but we doubt that any kid would need enough punishment to wear the handle this much. Of course, it could have been a big family of boys! It does bring us back to the days when people made what they needed, and didn't run to the nearest Walmart. Give us your guess on this old tool.

We will have a large assortment of recycled tin animals, cute homemade winter hats for kids and adults, Thirty-one, $5.00 jewelry, wooden crafts and kid furniture, new toys, new, name brand hooded sweatshirts, and much more.
 When you make a purchase you will receive a coupon good for 20% off the breakfast special at the Clubhouse Cafe, valid only on Saturday, November 21, 2015.

A Veteran's Day service was held at the Forest County Courthouse Square to honor veterans past and present. Lee Joyner welcomed everybody and Reverend Kyle Verge of Good Shepard Lutheran Church gave the opening and closing prayer. Taps were played and a 21 gun salute was given. We had a moment of silence as the clock struck 11:00 a.m. This was the moment that World War I was finished. The eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month.
 Veteran's Day was originally called Armistice Day, it was legally made a holiday in 1938. In 1954, it was renamed Veteran's Day and it commemorates all veterans of all wars.
 In 1971, Veteran's Day was moved to October 25. It was a Monday and made a three day weekend. This was done in hope that it would encourage traveling, but many places did not recognize the change of date. President Gerald Ford signed a bill moving Veteran's Day back to November 11 starting in 1978.
 Today, everybody celebrates Veteran's Day on November 11, no matter what day it falls on.

Death Notices

Ada Kathryn (Parrott) Bunij was born December 6, 1930, to Robert and Margaret (Walker) Parrott in Mexico, MO, Audrain County.

She was raised the oldest of 3 children. Her siblings were Robert Jr. and Edra., all of whom preceded her in death.

She is survived by 8 children, Mary Ann (Bunij) Davis (Carl), Joseph Bunij Jr., Debra (Bunij) Scott, Allen Bunij (Shelly), Donna (Bunij) Eberhardt (Karl), Michelle (Bunij) Tessaro (Paul), Kara (Bunij) Millan

(Pat), and Keith Bunij (Lee Winkler). She is further survived by 13 grandchildren, 19 great-grandchildren and 5 great-great-grandchildren.

As a young woman, Ada worked at Teletype Corporation, where she met Joseph Michael Bunij.

After marriage, she stayed home to raise her children.

She volunteered at Hull House and at her children's school in Chicago, IL.

She and Joe spent their summers building their retirement home in Armstrong Creek, WI.

When Joe retired in 1978 they moved to Wisconsin where she continued volunteer duties with the GAHS Parent Booster Club, American Legion, Forest County Fair, as Secretary, Citizens for Armstrong Creek as Secretary, and she enjoyed spending time with the Red Hot Red Hats, a local Red Hat Society.

She worked part time for several years selling tickets to games at Goodman-Armstrong Creek High School.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Joe in December 2012.

In 2013, she moved to Oklahoma with Karl and Donna Eberhardt.

In 2015, she moved to Grace Living Center in Chickasha, OK.

Following a short illness, she died October 23, 2015, in Oklahoma.

Ada is remembered for her love of crocheting, sewing, gardening, canning, bird watching and reading stories to her grandchildren. For a time, she crocheted snowflakes, and washed and carefully starched them for display each Christmas.

Friends knew her as pleasant and fun, and a confidant.

As a parent she was fair, firm and, many times, fun. As a volunteer Secretary she was efficient.

Words can not truly capture the essence of a human being. So we are at a loss to express fully who Ada Bunij really was.... a daughter, wife, mother, sister, friend, confidant, and many other things to many people. Words are insufficient.

She always had a soft spot for the things of God, and she taught her children to pray.

Her favorite Bible Verse was John 3:16.

Her favorite Christian songs, "I Come To The Garden" and "Amazing Grace".

Prior to surgery in October, she asked son-in-law Rev. Paul Tessaro to pray with her, and at that time, she made a solid profession of faith in Christ as Savior.

Service will be at Armstrong Creek Community Center November 14, with visitation from 10:00 a.m. until the Memorial Service at 11:00 a.m. with Rev. Paul Tessaro officiating.

Ernest Graham, 94, passed away on November 1, 2015, in Libertyville, IL. Currently living in Vernon Hills, IL, he was a former resident of Menominee, MI and Mountain, WI. He was born January 30, 1921, in Pell City, AL, and spent his youth in the Everglades of Florida.

Ernest was a proud veteran of the U.S. Army Air Corps, serving in the South Pacific Theater and Japan in WWII. Working in Administrative Services, he attained the rank of Captain. While in the Service, he met and married his wife, Emily Marjorie Grant of Antigo, WI, an Air Evacuation Flight Nurse in the Army Nurses' Corps. He was a graduate of Berea College, Berea, KY, and had remained active in alumni activities, serving as President of the Alumni Council.

He was a paper maker, working for Scott Paper Co. for 23 years, then became the general manager of Menominee Paper Company for 10 years. After retiring as an in-house consultant to Bell Fibre Corporation in 1987, he became a consultant to the paper industry. Among other projects, he was President of Consumers Paper Corp. in Canada.

Ernest was active in his church and in community service, including the Lion's Club, YMCA, Salvation Army, and Chamber of Commerce.

He and Emily built a home on Maiden Lake in Mountain, WI, where, with his family, he enjoyed boating, fishing, golf, barbeques, gin rummy, and the Green Bay Packers.

Ernest is survived by his children, Margaret (late Mitch) Gaynes of Fremont, CA, Nona Parsons of Green Bay, WI, and Bruce (Lynn) Graham of Long Grove, IL; grandchildren, Ella Parsons of Green Bay, WI, Jessica (Adam) West of Vernon Hills, IL, and Bradley (Deanna) Graham of Libertyville, IL; as well as many nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his wife of 49 years, Emily.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Ernest and Emily G. Graham Volunteer Service Award, Berea College, Attn: Teresa Kash Davis, CPO 2216, Berea, KY 40404.

The visitation will be held on Saturday, November 28 from 10:00 - 11:00 a.m. at St. John Lutheran Church in Townsend. Memorial service will follow at 11:00 a.m. Inurnment will be at Lakewood Forest Cemetery in Lakewood, WI. Weber-Hill Funeral Home, Wabeno is assisting the family with arrangements. Online condolences may be sent to weberhillfuneralhome.com.

Lucille B. Weisnicht, 97 of Crandon, passed away Sunday, November 8, 2015 at AGI Healthcare Center, Crandon. Lucille was born March 23, 1918 in Chicago, IL the daughter of Walter and Edna (Ortlieb) Baasch.

She graduated from Roosevelt High School, Chicago, IL in 1937. Lucille was active in the International Order of Jobs Daughters; was Honored Queen in 1937.

She met Harold Weisnicht at the Aragon Ballroom in Chicago during World War II and they were united in marriage on April, 23, 1943 in Chicago. He preceded her in death in 1988. She was PTA President and active in Emmanuel Congregational Church. She also was active in St. Luke's Methodist Church in Crandon. Lucille joined the Order of the Eastern Star in 1938 and was Worthy Matron in Chicago, IL in 1954 and in Crandon in 1986. This was a passion of hers through her long life and she became a Life Member. Lucille was a stay at home mom while raising Hal then went back to work in 1960. They moved to Rolling Meadows, IL in 1962 and then they retired to Crandon in 1980.

After Harold's passing, she went back to work part time for the Forest County Commission on Aging, retiring in 2005. She loved to cook, sew, fish, play golf (wasn't very good but met many friends), and loved to play BINGO in her last few years.

Surviving is her son, Harold (Hal) Weisnicht of Crandon, and sister, Bernice Focht of Loves Park, IL. There will be no services at this time however, a Memorial Service will take place in May, 2016. Weber-Hill Funeral Home is assisting the family with the arrangements. Online condolences may be made to weberhillfuneralhome.com.

Deer Registration Using the New Gamereg System

MADISON--With the launch of the GameReg system and electronic registration, hunters now have until 5 p.m. the day after harvest to register a deer. This rule applies for all deer hunting seasons.

"Previously, hunters could register their deer by 5 p.m. the day after the close of the nine-day season, regardless of the date of harvest," said Matt O'Brien, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources administrative warden. "The new registration deadline is a bit of a change for 2015, so hunters should make sure they are up to speed before the nine-day gun deer hunt."

After tagging a harvested deer, hunters can visit gamereg.wi.gov or call 1-844-426-3734 to access the game registration system. Hunters may also register their deer electronically at a participating registration station. Upon completion, hunters will receive a 10-character confirmation number to write on the carcass tag as proof of registration. This tag should remain with the deer until the meat is consumed.

To help make sure hunters are ready for another nine-day deer hunt, the department will host a chat Nov. 16 at noon. Questions related to harvest registration, safety, regulations or any other deer season topic are welcome. To participate or view the transcripts for previous chats, visit dnr.wi.gov and search keyword "chat."

Hunters may also find a variety of deer season materials, including season structure maps, frequently asked questions and helpful links at dnr.wi.gov, keyword "deer." To learn more about GameReg and electronic registration, search keywords "electronic registration."

Accidentally Trap a Wolf? Here Is What You Do

MADISON - Trappers who incidentally capture wolves are encouraged to contact Department of Natural Resources staff and participate in Wisconsin's wolf collaring and monitoring program.

Voluntary participation from Wisconsin's trappers is an important part of the department's work with many stakeholders and partners to monitor the state's wolf population.

In the event of an incidental wolf capture, DNR staff will work closely with the participating trappers to determine if the wolf is a good candidate for our monitoring program. Interested trappers can contact Nate Libal, DNR wildlife biologist, by calling 715-401-1764.

For more information regarding wolf hunting and trapping in Wisconsin, please visit dnr.wi.gov and search keyword "wolf."

Your Trail Camera Photos Are Wanted by DNR

Trail cameras can serve as a valuable resource in documenting rare or endangered animals existence and location in the state. Photos can be sent in from any season of the year. If you have trail camera photos of the following animals, please email them to wildlife management at brian.dhuey@wisconsin.gov and to johnf.olson@wisconsin.gov.

- American Marten
- badger
- Canada lynx
- cougar
- Franklin's ground squirrel
- moose
- stone marten
- wolverine
- animal not normally seen in your area; or an unidentified animal.

In your email, please include the photo(s), approximate date, county and civil township of the photos. Wildlife management staff will work with others in the DNR and try to positively identify all photos sent in.

Associated Bank colleagues at Crandon branch "Stock the Box" and donate school supplies to United Way

Associated Bank colleagues and customers participated in a unique project to stock boxes with school supplies for children in need this year. Colleagues at the Crandon, Minocqua, Eagle River, and Rhinelander branches combined their efforts to provide the local Northwood's United Way with about 35 boxes filled with school supplies.

The "Stock the Box" campaign kicked off on September 16 when every Associated Bank colleague throughout the bank's three-state footprint received a co-branded Associated Bank / United Way box to fill with essential school supplies, such as pencils, crayons, notebooks, rulers and more. The bank's branch offices also received additional boxes for customers to fill. More than 1,000 stocked boxes from Associated Bank locations were delivered to United Way offices for use with education-based agencies and programs this school year.

"I am proud to support our community through such a great fundraiser," said Lori Jaeger, bank manager. "Seeing the collective effort of our team make such a difference for United Way and the children receiving these school supplies really puts it into perspective on what a community can do to help others."

Are Fruits and Vegetables Less Nutritious Today?

When it comes to getting enough nutrients in your diet, one bit of information is pretty clear-cut: Everybody should be eating an abundance of different fruits and vegetables every day. Yet according to research, fruit and vegetables are less nutritious than they used to be, say, 50 years ago. The reason?

A number of studies have explored the phenomenon of declining nutrients in fruits and vegetables, but the one that garnered the most media attention was led by Donald R. Davis, PhD, at the University of Texas in Austin, and was published in HortScience. Among Davis' findings, one of the most consistent was that a higher yield of crops -- in other words, more crops grown in a given space -- almost always resulted in lower nutrient levels in the fruits and vegetables. What's more, the median minerals declines among a variety of fruit and vegetables could be fairly significant, ranging from 5 to 40 percent, with similar declines in vitamins and protein levels.

Higher yield is one reason behind the decline, but several nutrition experts say it's not the only one. "The soil itself has been over-harvested, meaning that over years of use and turnover of soil, it becomes depleted in nutrition," says Michael Wald, MD, an integrated medicine specialist in Mount Kisco, N.Y. "All crops growing upon depleted soil must therefore be depleted in nutritional content."

Cherie Calbom, MS, a clinical nutritionist and author of The Juice Lady's Living Foods Revolution, sees it as a bigger problem that extends to many aspects of modern farming. "Our poor farming practices are leading to sick plants, depleted soil, and a need to use higher and higher doses of pesticides and herbicides to ward off what healthy plants would naturally ward off," she says. "We are heading toward a dust bowl in many parts of the country if nothing changes."

Despite these concerns, Janet Brill, PhD, RD, a nutritionist and author of Cholesterol Down, said it's still critically important to eat lots and lots of fruits and vegetables, and these developments shouldn't discourage you from doing just that. "People should be concerned about one area of fruits and vegetables and one area only: to eat lots more of them each day, cooked and raw," she says. "After we have solved that problem (of consumption), then we can move on to any nutrition concerns about growing them."

Minimize Cooking Time. Though there are some exceptions (the lycopene in tomatoes, for example), the less most fruits and vegetables are cooked, the more nutrients they retain. So eat your fruits and vegetables raw whenever possible. When you do cook them, keep the cooking time to a minimum and avoid too much contact with water. "Cooking methods that are quick, with a minimum amount of liquid, will help to preserve nutrients," Brill says. "Steaming, blanching, and stir-frying are all great ways to cook vegetables quickly and retain valuable nutrients. Keep veggies crisp -- never overcook or boil in water until soggy."

It may take a bit more effort to find fruit and vegetables as nutrient-rich as they were 50 years ago, but with more local farm stands cropping, seasonal choices are getting easier to find and are certainly more delicious.

Nicolet AARP Chapter 1191

Michael Feltz and Mary Ann & Robert Feltz

The October meeting of the Nicolet AARP Chapter 1191 was well attended by 37 members who enjoyed a pot luck dinner with lots of desserts. Robert and Mary Ann Feltz brought their grandson Michael Feltz to the dinner. Dinner was followed by a short meeting and the white elephant auction. Members were reminded that the November regular meeting will start at 1:30 P.M. (Winter Hours) and will be devoted to the annual election of officers and board members. There will be no board meeting on November 11th due to Veterans Day.

The AARP group decided to make donations to six area charities in the amount of $50.00 each. The organizations to receive donations are Rainbow House, Mountain Fire Tower, Marinette & Oconto Counties Literacy Council, Mountain Ambulance, Lakewood Townsend Ambulance, and Oconto K9 Unit. Recently Janet Glime from the Marinette & Oconto Counties Literacy Council, Inc. spoke to the AARP group. Two members, Mary Campion and Dick Culver, took the three day English Literacy tutoring course in Oconto. They are available should someone in Northern Oconto County want to work on their English speaking or reading skills.

All persons 50 and over are invited to join the local AARP Chapter. AARP meetings are social, entertaining, and informative. Meetings are held at the Lakewood Presbyterian Church on the fourth Tuesday of each month starting at 1:30 p.m. Contact Joyce West, Membership Chairman, at 715-276-9409.

Hormones and Heart Disease

We know that estrogen plays a role in helping women maintain healthy levels of cholesterol before menopause. After menopause, as estrogen levels plummet, LDL tends to rise, HDL drops and triglycerides increase. In theory, hormone replacement therapy (HRT) should solve those problems. And when researcher looked back on large populations of women who chose to take HRT, the numbers seemed to support this theory. But the story isn't so simple after all.

In 2002, the government halted part of a major trial, the Women's Health Initiative, after realizing that Prempro, a brand of pill that combines estrogen and another hormone, progesterin, not only failed to protect women from heart disease, it actually increased the incidence slightly. The drug also slightly raise the incidence of breast cancer, stroke, and blood clots in postmenopausal women.

Researchers don't know if it was the form of the estrogen used, the form of progesterin, or the combination that caused the problems. Many suspect that another form of HRT would yield different results. Meanwhile, doctors no longer prescribe HRT just for heart protection.

So what's a menopausal woman to do? The Live It Down Plan will help bring HDL and LDL levels back in line. Additionally, some studies suggest a high intake of foods (such as soy) that contain estrogen-like compounds called phytoestrogens can lower cholesterol. The Live It Down Plan recommends soy as one alternative to animal protein. Whether phytoestrogens directly protect against heart disease is still under study, but soy offers valuable nutrients without the saturated fat of meat and thus is a good addition to a heart-healthy diet.

New Rebel Logo in Wabeno

Ryan Brauer and Alexis Christianson pose with the new logo.

Wabeno advanced art students Alexis Christianson and Ryan Brauer painted the Rebel logo for the high school gym. Alexis was solely responsible for all the drawing. Ryan Brauer was very willing and helped Alexis paint at the completion of the project.

Alexis took on this challenge and was not deterred by the large size and complexity of the project. Both Alexis and Ryan are top notch students in and out of the art classroom. They produce high quality work in all their classes. The student-made Rebel logo represents the academic and creative perseverance at Wabeno High School.

Best Bits

- Office workers, get off your seats. Stand up frequently during your typical sit-down workday. Based on a new report in the British Journal of Sports Medicine, reducing sitting by at least 2 to 4 hours per day can offset several negative health effects. Walk during your breaks and perform office tasks standing, such as reading, phone calls and meetings, whenever you can. Find a way to elevate your computer for use while standing (if possible and with your employer's okay).

- Facts about inflammation: While it's essential to your body's healing system, chronic inflammation may promote cardiovascular disease, arthritis, depression and Alzheimer's. Key irritants are smoking and highly processed foods. Anti-inflammation dietary choices include fruit, nuts, leafy greens and other vegetables, as well as fish and olive oil -- all part of the Mediterranean style of eating. Regular exercise helps, too.

- Women who stay physically active may lower their risk of lung cancer. In reviewing Women's Health Initiative data, Stanford researchers found that among 132,000 postmenopausal women, those who remained active were less likely to develop lung cancer or die from it, compared to sedentary subjects. The activity wasn't necessarily strenuous but the more active minutes logged, the great the benefit. Also, physical activity seemed to lower lung cancer risk, even for current smokers and former heavy smokers when compared to sedentary women who smoked. November is Lung Cancer Awareness Month - let's get moving.

10 Foods That Make You Smell

You're sitting on a train that's slightly warm, packed with passengers, and suddenly you get a whiff of "rotten egg" stench.

Stop after stop, the crowd thins out, but that onerous odor remains. You search for the offender as subtly as you can, so you can find a seat in the opposite direction. As your head swivels, you're hit with that stench again, so strong you could swear it was you.

You nonchalantly dip your head down toward your underarm -- wait a minute. It is you. But you didn't even work out today. And you took a shower this morning. And you're wearing deodorant.

What you eat can directly affect how you smell, and in more ways than just your breath. Scientifically, this boils down to the way your body metabolizes the stinky sulfur compounds found in many foods like garlic, cumin, and asparagus. While smelling like garlic is not new (it is said to ward off both vampires and mosquitos), the stench of asparagus-tainted urine might not be quite as familiar and you may not have even realized that some of the foods on our list could have this effect on you.

If you have a hot date, an interview, or plan to be out in public, you may want to keep these foods off the day's menu. And if you can't, here are a few tricks to help deodorize nasty smells.

Red Meat

In 2006, researchers from the Czech Republic collected perspiration samples from meat-eating and vegetarian men. They then asked a group of women to identify the foulest odor, based on numerous factors. Overwhelmingly, the vegetarians' body odor was found to be much more appealing than the meat-eaters'.

Deodorize: A simple way to remove potential stench is to cut out red meat all together. If a vegetarian's life is not for you, try cutting out some meat and replace it with seafood or veggie dinners.

Curry/Cumin

The taste of Tikka chicken may not be worth the lingering stench that comes with it. The aromas of spices such as curry and cumin can make a home for themselves in your pores, and stew for days at a time.

Deodorize: Even a brief brush with cumin can cause a lasting odor. Instead, try cardamom, an aromatic seed of a plant from the ginger family, which permeates the body quickly and leaves a fresh aroma.

Garlic

Garlic stink oozes from your skin because allicin, within another sulfur compound called allin, is released when garlic is cut and crushed. Allicin breaks down quickly after consumption and converts to other substances, which cause bacteria to mix with sweat and results in a strong odor.

However, it is said that if you are at a dinner and both you and your date consume garlic, you'll be less likely to notice it. (It's up to you to take that risk).

Deodorize: If your underarms become some serious stinkers, apply white or cider vinegar to keep you odor-free throughout the day.

Asparagus

The ripe smell of asparagus crops up in a seemingly harmless way, but tell that to the guy sharing five bathroom stalls with five other men. Asparagus makes urine stink when the sulfur compound mercaptan breaks down in the digestive system. If you're wondering why your urine doesn't smell after eating asparagus, it's because your body doesn't possess the enzyme to break mercaptan down.

Deodorize: If you're afraid of offending in a public restroom, try finding a tasty asparagus alternative. Bell peppers can easily be roasted or grilled much like asparagus without the after effects.

Cruciferous Vegetables (Broccoli, Cabbage, Brussel Sprouts)

Little kids across America now have a reason to snub some of these loathsome vegetables. These sulfur-rich foods pack nutrients and antioxidants that may help rid the body of toxins and carcinogenic cells, but they're also responsible for severe smells. This stench introduces itself in the socially-crippling form of flatulence. The sulfur in these foods is responsible for the rotten-egg smell toots tend to leave behind.

Deodorize: Cruciferous vegetables are vital to our health. So, when you're in the comfort of your own home, eat these greens! You can also par-boil to remove some of the stench before you finish cooking them. In the meantime, spices like coriander, turmeric, and caraway will not only leave you smelling fresh, they'll help you control your bottom.

Why is it that when you transport something by car it is called a shipment, but when you transport something by ship its called cargo?

5 Ways to Stop Winter Weight Gain

Gaining a few extra pounds during winter is easy to do. You may exercise less in cold weather. Or you eat more when lack of sunshine gets you down. Then come the holidays and all those treats. Here's how to avoid added pounds.

- 1. Exercise. Winter weight gain largely results from increased eating and moving too little. Plan for extra physical activity every day and schedule it in your calendar to offset those food splurges.
- 2. Cook at home more. Choose whole vegetables and fruits, as well as whole grains and lean protein, without the excess fat, salt or sugar of heavier restaurant foods.
- 3. Avoid alcohol and other empty calories. An abundance of festive meals, drinks and extra treats can quickly lead to extra weight. Sample, but practice self-control. Stock up on nutritious snacks, such as unsalted nuts and plain, air-popped popcorn.
- 4. Weigh yourself weekly. Those who do often control their weight better.
- 5. Choose more whole foods. Fresh vegetables, fruits, legumes, nuts, seeds, whole grains and lean protein. Choose fewer processed and refined foods that are high in sugar, white flour and trans fat. Eat moderate servings until you are just full, and avoid that over-stuffed, too-full feeling.

The Alzheimer's Association® Honors Caregivers During National Alzheimer's Disease Awareness Month and National Family Caregivers Month

Resources Available for People Living with Alzheimer's and Their Caregivers

In 1983, President Ronald Reagan, who was later diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease, designated November as National Alzheimer's Disease Awareness Month. President Bill Clinton named the week of Thanksgiving as a time to honor caregivers in 1997, and that has expanded to National Family Caregivers Month. As an organization founded by caregivers, the Alzheimer's Association applauds caregivers and hopes to make their efforts a little easier year round with an innovative resources that have been designed specifically with families in mind.

The Alzheimer's Association offers free resources to guide families impacted by Alzheimer's disease, including:

Alzheimer's Association Helpline (1-800-272-3900): This toll-free 24/7 Helpline is the one of its kind; the Helpline is staffed by masters-level counselors and provides information and guidance in more than 170 languages and dialects.

 The Alzheimer's and Dementia Caregiver Center (alz.org/care): This site provides more than 70 pages of information and easy access to resources, such as:

-- Community Resource Finder — Find local resources.
-- Care Team Calendar — Coordinate caregiving responsibilities among family and friends.

--Safety Center — Access information and resources for safety inside and outside of the home, wandering and getting lost, and dementia and driving.

-- ALZConnected™, powered by the Alzheimer's Association (alzconnected.org): This is the first social networking community designed for people living with Alzheimer's and their caregivers. ALZConnected is a specialized social network that allows members to connect and communicate with people who understand their unique challenges 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. They can also pose questions and offer solutions to dementia-related issues, create public and private groups organized around a dedicated topic, and contribute to message boards. ALZConnected combines the features of many social networking sites and the popular Alzheimer's Association's message boards. Members create "connections" by extending and receiving invitations.

There are 110,000 people living with Alzheimer's and 191,000 unpaid caregivers in Wisconsin, according to the Alzheimer's Association® 2015 Alzheimer's Disease Facts & Figures.

The Alzheimer's Association will continue to assist families in a variety of ways to best meet their needs, including local programs such as:

--Support groups: Peer- or professionally led groups for caregivers and others dealing with Alzheimer's disease. All support groups are facilitated by trained individuals. Many locations offer specialized groups for children, individuals with younger-onset and early-stage Alzheimer's, adult caregivers and others with specific needs.

--Education Programs: Your local Alzheimer's Association may provide caregiver training classes and workshops. Contact the Alzheimer's Association locally at alz.org/gwwi.

For more information on Alzheimer's disease or available resources, visit alz.org or call 1-800-272-3900.

Drivers Beware, It's Deer Season

Courtesy of Wisconsin Mutual Insurance Company

While the leaves are changing across much of the country, it's also that time of year when drivers are more likely to encounter deer -- especially during their morning and evening commutes.

As those bucks are rushing after their does, they rarely check to see if there is oncoming traffic. According to State Farm, an estimated 1.25 million auto-deer collision claims occurred between July 1, 2014 and June 30, 2015. The cost of the average claim from these accidents ran $4,135. Your odds of hitting a deer, elk or moose? 1 in 169.

Drivers who carry comprehensive insurance for their vehicles are more likely to have coverage for a close encounter with deer or other wildlife. Comprehensive usually includes coverage for theft, fire, vandalism, or other malicious acts, and damage from hail, wind, flood, falling or flying objects.

Collisions involving deer peak from October through December, since that is their mating season. With more deer losing their natural habitats to development, the number of accidents will only increase as they enter more populated areas looking for food.

"Although deer-auto collisions can happen anytime of the year, we generally see a spike in the number of claims during the fall," said Robert Passmore, assistant vice president of personal lines policy for the Property Casualty Insurers Association of America (PCI). "One moment the road is clear and the next instant you encounter a deer. At best, you avoid a collision and are merely shaken up, but when you collide, the accident can be extremely serious, causing injuries and sometimes death."

State Farm says the top five states involving deer collisions are: West Virginia, Montana, Iowa, Pennsylvania and South Dakota. Hawaii is the state where drivers are least likely to encounter a deer.

Experts offer several tips to help avoid deer collisions:

1. Use your high beams when there is no oncoming traffic. This allows you to see more of the road and animals that may be on either side.

2. Wear your seatbelt and make sure children are buckled or in appropriate safety seats.

3. Be particularly alert at dusk and dawn, since this is when deer tend to be more active.

4. Avoid distracted driving. Taking your eyes off the road to check a text message means you can drive several hundred feet without seeing the road.

5. If a deer is near the road or in it, break firmly and slow down. They usually travel in herds, so the chances are there will be more than one around.

6. When a deer is in the middle of the road, blow your horn in one long blast to scare it away.

7. Do not swerve around the animal. Most serious accidents are caused by drivers turning into other lanes of traffic or hitting a pole, tree or another car.

8. Watch for road signs that identify areas more populated with deer.

9. Deer whistles, reflectors and other deterrents have not been proven effective in alerting or scaring off deer.

10. Make arrangements for roadside assistance ahead of time and check with your agent to see what kind of coverage you have in the event of an accident.

After the accident

If you're unlucky enough to have a close encounter with a deer or other wildlife, insurers recommend that you:

1. Move your vehicle to the side of the road if it's drivable and turn on your hazard lights. If you can't drive it, turn on the hazard lights and move to a safe place.

2. Call the police. While a police report isn't always necessary for a claim, if other vehicles or property damage is involved, a report can be helpful. Also, the police can help in having the animal removed from the roadway if necessary.

3. Take photos of the incident, the animal involved, the roadway, the area where the accident occurred, damage to the car, and injuries anyone sustained.

4. Talk to any witnesses and get their contact information for your insurance company to follow up with later.

5. Stay away from the injured animal; deer have strong legs and sharp hooves that could cause injuries.

6. Contact your insurance agent to file the claim as soon as it is safe to do so.

Nicolet Culinary Arts Instructor Honored

Students Awarded Scholarships at Wisconsin Restaurant Association Event

Nicolet College Culinary Arts Instructor Vicki Mendham was recently honored by the Wisconsin Restaurant Association (WRA) Education Foundation with one its highest accolades – the 2015 College Educator Salute to Excellence Award.

Mendham received the honor for her "contributions to education, the community, and the foodservice industry," according to the WRA.

She is actively involved with the WRA Education Foundation, serves as a judge at the association's annual statewide high school culinary arts competition, and is a member of the Northland Pines High School Technical Education Advisory Panel.

She received the honor at the Wisconsin Restaurant Association's annual Celebration of Excellence in Milwaukee.

Mendham has taught Culinary Arts at Nicolet for more than 20 years and is a regular favorite of students.

"Vicki is very knowledgeable and knows how to make learning fun," said second-year Culinary Arts student Jared Demmuth. "She brings a lot of real-world experience into the kitchen."

Theresa Berscheit, also in her second year of the associate degree program, described Mendham as "awesome."

"She makes everything feel comfortable in the kitchen and that makes for a great learning experience."

Four Nicolet Culinary Arts students were also awarded scholarships at the event. They include Clare Busalacchi, Park Falls, Elissa Skaggs, Bennett, Maggie Smith, Stone Lake, and Alexandra Weber, Gleason.

In all, 23 Culinary Arts students from across the state were awarded more than $36,000 in scholarships.

SOKAOGON CHIPPEWA COMMUNITY REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS FOR SOLAR DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

The Sokaogon Chippewa Community ("SCC") has applied for an Indian Community Development Block Grant ("ICDBG") in the amount of $600,000. SCC wishes to utilize the ICDBG funding in combination with other available incentives for solar photovoltaic installations to install 71 solar PV facilities sized at 3.71 kW each to service 71 Tribal housing units ("Project").

SCC is soliciting proposals from qualified firms to implement the Project on economic terms as favorable as possible for the Tribe. Services sought include obtaining and installing the solar PV units for the Project, if and when the ICDBG Grant is received and accepted. Proposals should address means by which the SCC can utilize all available solar-related incentives to provide the maximum value to SCC. Respondents should indicate in their response the financial incentives available to the SCC, the total installed cost, the net cost to SCC and other relevant information regarding the value that the responding firm can provide.

This RFP is subject to all applicable Housing and Urban Development regulatory requirements for an ICDBG Grant funded project, including Indian preference, as required by 24 C.F.R. § 1003.510.

SCC reserves the right to select the responding firm with the best overall proposal to SCC, based on price per kilowatt of installed solar, experience, and other factors in the best interest of SCC. SCC also reserves the right not to proceed to agreement with any RFP respondents.

Respondents shall have until November 25, 2015 to submit complete proposals. Proposals shall be submitted to Jeff Ackley at Jeff.ackley.jr@scc-nsn.gov.

For more information, contact Jeff Ackley at Jeff.ackley.jr@scc-nsn.gov or (715) 478-7628

Animal Resource Fund

By Cory Campbell

With the closing of 2015, it also marks the end of our eighth year of operation. We tend to stay in the background, but everyone in our County and beyond know we're here, and they know how to find us when we're needed. My phone number, as well as the numbers of all our members and volunteers, remain listed in the phone book.

We make some changes as we go along, but remain steadfast in our basic principles that we adopted at our inception. We continue to make sure that no animal goes hungry, cold, or without medical care that's needed. The shelves at NEWCAP are kept stocked with dog and cat food all the time – the girls at the pantry are good about letting me know if we're running low on either kind of food. We keep all our business local – at Schaefer's Food Mart, we're given a break on our pet food, and they donate the "ice" bags that we bag the pet food in. These are perfect – I can tie the tops, eliminating the need for ties. Our yearly amount that we purchase and place in the pantry is ten tons. One of our members, Donna Blasius, who has been actively involved with every animal welfare program that has existed in our community is now a resident at the Crandon Nursing Home. She was always my partner in the "bagging" process each week, but has since turned her part over to Dave. Dave has told her he's dropping off that food at the nursing home for her to start doing her "job" again, and she laughs and says "Bring it on – I miss helping!" These are the kind of people that make our animal programs work and thrive.

2015 has been a busy year for us. We've taken in foster animals, had them fully vetted and found loving, stable homes for every one. Sometimes we have to keep them for a longer period, but sometimes, like the two kittens that were brought to us by a security person, I was able to place them the same day with two of my dear friends. I could not have found better homes for those two little waifs than where they went. One of the dogs that was brought to us last Christmas to nurse back to health has since officially become a Campbell. It seems as though there is a plan – when your old pets prepare to cross the Rainbow Bridge, God sends you another one that needs you. We have never had to go out looking for a pet to adopt – they just find us.

Our biggest fundraiser of the year is our spring sale, which was a real success this year, because of the donations of great merchandise, and the help we get from Nashville Flea Market vendors Dan Berdan, Lindy Meizi, and Linda Radtke. Also our annual volunteers Jeanne Kochenderfer, Jeannie Weyers, and from Wausau Nancy and Katie Campbell. This year Nancy brought the makings for chicken tacos to feed the whole gang. Everyone said they expect the same in 2016! The Town of Nashville gave us the use of the town hall as usual. Tricia's Treasures donated great things for this sale, which really helps put the event over the top.

Our whole gang turned out to volunteer at the Spring and Fall Brush Run races. That organization has been very kind to us, and therefore we make every effort to reciprocate.

Teenage Katie Campbell continues to keep us supplied with her donations of photography greeting cards. This year I have sold about $300 of her donated cards at our Nashville Flea Market, which continues weekly on Wednesdays.

A.R.F. will continue to work with The Fix Is In, advertising, and sponsoring animals in 2016. We have also provided vet care for many cats and dogs this year. There are many times when a family with children has a pet that either becomes ill or injured, and they quite simply do not have the immediate finances to cover veterinary expenses, and they need help. We understand this desperate plea to save their family pet, and thank God, we have so far been in a position to help.

Schaefer's Food Mart has allowed us to set up a special Christmas fundraiser this coming Saturday, November 14, at their store. Lindy Meizi and I will be there to greet you. We have four great Christmas gift baskets of merchandise donated by all the members of our Nashville group. In those baskets are everything from homemade jam and honey, beautiful semi-precious stone jewelry, kitchen towels, tee shirts, hand crafted greeting cards, essential oil gifts, handmade soaps handmade mittens and an assortment of many other things, including men's things and cash. We'll be offering chances to win these baskets with the donation of $5 for 6 tickets.

I will continue to see you each Wednesday with great things to offer for sale at the Nashville Flea Market, but mark your calendars for our Annual Christmas Bazaar which will be on Saturday, December 5. We will be open at 9:00 a.m. that morning with Christmas gifts and décor galore – stop and browse!

We at A.R.F. are grateful for everyone who has partnered with us in 2015 to help every animal in peril. We wish you a Merry Christmas and may God bless you all in wonderfully abundant ways in 2016.

Buying Insurance?
There are so many choices & decisions

- Where should I buy?
- What's a good price?
- How much coverage do I need?
- What types of coverage?
- Will I have enough?

It can be overwhelming

Some companies want you to believe that the only thing you should consider is cost, but insurance is much more than just premiums. Insurance is about loyalty and teamwork and community relationships. It's about stability and consistency, and finding the right coverage at the best price.

Wabeno Class of the Week

The reign of the Fifth and First Grades as Class of the Week has been broken! The Second Grade is our new class of the week for November 5, 2015. They have been working hard on hallway and bathroom expectations to earn the right to be Class of the Week. Congratulations Second Grade! Way to Step It Up!

Wabeno Artists of the Week

The first quarter of school has come to an end at Wabeno Elementary. They have had some awesome artwork done for the start of the year.

The school is featuring their Artists of the Week in this display of works picked by Mr. Keller and student teacher Ms. Kanak. They are all great examples of the quality of work the students can create. Their imaginations and thoughtful creativity come through in their works.

Congratulations on all these students on being chosen as Artists of the Week! Way to step it up!
