Argonne Coyote Hunt was huge success!

The crowd at Main Street Ed's was wall to wall, and even more people came in after this photo was taken.

By Mike Monte

Well, the Argonne coyote hunt was a real success. While we would like to take credit for bringing people to Main Street Ed's and participants in the hunt, the real publicity came from the internet and the anti-hunting crowd that attempted to make a fun Northwoods event into what they called a "slaughter" and a "blood bath." These events, of course, are anything but a mass killing of coyotes, and certainly do no harm to the endangered wolf. One newspaper reported that a possible 100 coyotes would be killed, which makes it obvious that they have never hunted these elusive little predators.

For whatever reason, a convicted arsonist named Rod Coronado and a small gang of anti-hunting people decided to "monitor" the event. They also claimed to have found meat in the woods with a treble hook inside to catch and kill predators. One of their main concerns is that wolves will be wantonly killed along with the coyotes, causing extinction of the wolf in Wisconsin and presumably the Lake States. They think it is a terrible travesty that they can't legally harass hunters who are legally pursuing their sport. As anybody knows, hanging meat in a tree with a hook buried wasn't done by locals, especially hound hunters who pay good money for their dogs and don't think that their hound eating a treble hook would be a good way to protect their investment. It does, however, make hunters look like bloodthirsty killers and plays well to the city folk who donate the money for these people to pursue their so-called cause.

They call themselves the Wolf Patrol. Without them, the wolves in the Lake States will surely go extinct! In real life, wolves will do just fine without their help and guidance, making their living in the woods. If game becomes scarce, they will change territory, and the recent wolf attack in Adams County is a good indicator that the wolf is expanding their range rather than in danger of becoming extinct.

Forest County Humane Society receives grant from Petco Foundation

Steve Bunda, Rick Smits, Becky Miotke and Al Thompson accept the grant from the Petco Foundation

By Boyd Monte

The Forest County Humane Society were the recent recipients of a $30,000 grant from the Petco Foundation to help with adoption preparation, which includes animal care, vaccinations, medical treatment and spay and neutering.

The Forest County Humane Society is a non profit organization that has served Forest County since 1998. They have helped find forever homes for numerous dogs and cats.

The grant was made possible through the Petco Foundation's annual Helping Heros fund-raising campaign in partnership with Natural Balance Pet Foods. Each October, customers are invited to donate in Petco stores across America to support service and therapy animals and organizations.

The Petco Foundation investment will also help the Forest County Humane Society with capitol contribution including building and fixing the already existing shelter. It will also help with upgrading the vehicle that is used for transporting the animals to the veterinarian.

Laona High art students excel! Art to be displayed at State

The 2016 Northeast Regional Youth Art Month Show hosted by NAEA is currently on display at the Bergstrom-Mahler Glass and Art Museum in Neenah until February 7th. Admission is free to the museum, and while there were nearly 1,000 considered works, there were just 180 pieces of Art selected from various school districts throughout Wisconsin. For the Northeast Regional Show Students were selected from Dodge, Fond Du Lac, Sheboygan, Brown, Kewaunee, Door, Calumet, Manitowoc, Green Lake, Winnebago, Outagamie, Waupaca, Shawano, Oconto, Menomonie, Florence, Forest, Marinette, and Langlade Counties.

Congratulations to Laona High School students Amelia Weber, Brittany Kevilus, Leslie Lukas, Nicole Eggert, and Chloe Krawze for entering the show. Of their work, four pieces were selected from the Laona School and three of those pieces will be moving on to the State Art Show which is held February 27th-March 11th at the State Capital.

Niehaus elected President of the Fair Aid Coalition

MADISON – Ben Niehaus, administrator of the School District of Florence County, has been elected to serve as president of the Fair Aid Coalition, a statewide organization established in 1981 to ensure that all Wisconsin public school students receive some state financial assistance.

The coalition supports a fair and equitable distribution of state educational aids and a school finance system that recognizes the special needs and concerns of high property value school districts. Coalition membership is comprised primarily of rural lake area, K-8, Union High School, and suburban school districts. Area school district administrators, including Jim Bouche (Lakeland UHS), Patrick Mans (Crivitz), and Larry Ouimette (Lac du Flambeau) serve on the FAC Board of Directors.

The Fair Aid Coalition is currently working to establish a $1000 per pupil minimum aid as part of the school funding formula. In the 2015-16 school year, out of a total 424 school districts statewide, 49 high property value school districts, educating some 39,544 students, received less than $1000 per pupil in general aid. The average per pupil general aid support in 2015-16 was $5,088.

The lack of state school aid support means that high property value districts are overly dependent upon their local taxpayers. More often than other districts, they have been forced to either cut programs and staff or go to the voters with a referendum in hopes of maintaining existing programs. The dilemma is particularly acute in many small, lake area school districts that have been facing declining enrollments over a prolonged period and find they have few places left to make cuts should a referendum not pass.

Superintendent Tony Evers in his Fair Funding for Our Future proposal acknowledges the state should be providing a minimum level of state school aid to every public school pupil, regardless of where they live.

Lakewood Area Chamber to meet

The Lakewood Area Chamber of Commerce will hold its next meeting on February 15, 6:00 p.m. at TNT's Russted Nail. Anyone interested in the Chamber is welcome to attend. If you have any questions about the Chamber please feel free to call 715-276-6500.

This has been a different type of winter, with warmer days, way too much overcast and not enough snow to satisfy the winter sports enthusiasts, but the frost on the trees many of our mornings has been very picturesque.

Take a test drive at Parsons of Crandon and help the Forest County Animal Shelter

Take a test drive and help out the Forest County Humane Society and the Forest County Animal Shelter.

The guys at Parsons of Crandon are donating dollars for every test drive taken in the month of February to help the Society, so if you need new wheels, you might check out Parsons of Crandon first.

ArtsPower returns to Nicolet with the children's musical "The Monster Who Ate My Peas"

ArtsPower National Touring Theatre will bring its newest children's musical production to the Nicolet College Theatre when it presents The Monster Who Ate My Peas at 11 a.m., Saturday, February 6.

Designed for those in grades K-2, the production tells the tale of little hero Danny, who faces the daily dinner-time dilemma of having to eat his peas.

Long the scourge of young children everywhere, peas are the one thing Danny wishes he could make disappear at just about any cost.

After much wishing, the monster Danny was hoping for to take care of his peas finally appears, ready to make a deal every time the dreaded green veggies are on his plate.

But each deal-for-peas requires that Danny give the monster one of his prized possessions. First, it's his brand new soccer ball. Next time the peas need to disappear, the monster takes Danny's brand new sparkling bicycle. The monster's third deal is for something Danny could never part with . . . or could he?

Now it's time for our hero to choose between the monster clearing his plate of peas or saying goodbye to that which is most dear to him. Will the boy make the difficult choice that could separate him from what he loves the most?

"We are very excited to bring this wonderful story to the stage," said ArtsPower's co-founder Mark Blackman. "The themes presented in our musical are timeless and resonate with all of us, particularly young children."

Tickets are $8 for adults and $6 for children and can be ordered online at nicoletlive.com or by calling (715) 365-4646.

Long a favorite of Northwoods families who have been seeing ArtsPower productions at Nicolet over the past decade, the troupe has been producing thought-provoking, literature-based, professional theater for young and family audiences since 1985.

More than 13 million people in 49 states - from Alaska to Florida - have experienced the theatre excitement that ArtsPower offers in hundreds of the nation's top regional theatres, university auditoriums, and cultural centers, including The Kennedy Center in Washington, DC and Lincoln Center in New York.

INSURANCE TIP
COINSURANCE

Coinsurance can have a significant impact on compensation after a loss. Coinsurance language in a policy gives an insurance company the right to reduce the amount of a claim payment in the event the amount of insurance purchased was inadequate. You may not want to deal with coinsurance following a property loss. Beware of this ISO language in the loss payment section of a policy:

(b.) If, at the time of loss, the Limit of Insurance applicable to the loss of damaged property is less than 80% of the full replacement cost of the property immediately before the loss, we will pay the greater of the following amounts, but not more than the Limit of Insurance that applies to the property:

(i) The actual cash value of the lost or damaged property; or (ii) A proportion of the cost to repair or replace the lost or damaged property, after application of the deductible and without deduction for depreciation. This proportion will equal the ratio of the applicable Limit of Insurance to 80% of the full replacement cost of the property.

EXAMPLE: The full replacement cost of property which suffers a total loss is $100,000. The property is insured for $70,000. 80% of the full replacement cost of the property immediately before the loss is $80,000 (100,000 x .80=$80,000). A partial loss of $25,000 is sustained. The amount of recovery is determined as follows: $70,000/$80,000=.875 and .875 x $25,000 = $21,875 Amount of Recovery.

In this example, the insured is subject to the coinsurance "penalty" and responsible for a larger portion of the loss. Notice the word 'coinsurance' does not appear in this policy language, but the wording describes what the industry refers to as a coinsurance "penalty."

P.L.A.Y. Needs You

The P.L.A.Y. (Positive Leadership for Adults and Youth) has been very active for over 30 years in the Wabeno community.

Through the years the P.L.A.Y. organization has provided drug and alcohol free alternative activities. Post homecoming, post prom, cast parties, tailgate parties, D.A.R.E. graduation, open gyms, perfect attendance awards plus other events.

Recently, the Annual New Year's Eve party was held. Over 60 enjoyed the fun filled evening, ages 12 to 85 young! We had relays, Bingo, door prizes, food and, of course, hats and horns to end the evening.

P.L.A.Y. is looking for some volunteers to join their organization, so more activities can be planned.

Please contact Amy Stefanovic at Wabeno Elementary with questions or to volunteer. Her contact number is 715-473-3633.

Mursau to Serve on State Superintendent's Advisory Council on Rural Schools

Madison, WI Representative Jeff Mursau (R-Crivitz) will serve on the State Superintendent's Advisory Council on Rural Schools, Libraries, and Communities. The term of the appointment is three years.

"Our rural schools face significant challenges related to finances, declining enrollment, outdated technology, and high transportation costs," expressed Mursau. "I appreciate the opportunity to serve on the Council and engage in meaningful discussions on how we can help our rural areas."

The advisory council was established in 2004 in an effort to provide information and advice to the State Superintendent on matters facing our rural communities. The council consists of rural educators and community leaders across Wisconsin.

"Our rural schools are unique in many ways, which can be both a positive and a negative," said Mursau. "Many of our rural schools are initiating new and innovative programs that are showing positive results and I look forward to highlighting these efforts in the hopes it can help other districts that may be struggling and looking for new approaches on how best to educate their students."

The next meeting for the advisory council is scheduled for the spring of 2016. For more information on the Advisory Council please visit: <http://dpi.wi.gov/rural/advisory>.

CRP General Signup Informational Meetings

(Wausau, WI), January 22, 2016 – The Marathon County FSA Office is hosting a producer informational meeting in Eagle River to provide information and encourage producers and landowners to consider enrolling their productive agricultural lands into the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP). The enrollment period for this general signup runs from December 1, 2015 through February 26, 2016.

CRP establishes approved "covers" (grasses, shrubs, and trees) to control soil erosion, improve water quality and develop wildlife habitat. In return, FSA provides participants with annual rental payments and cost-share assistance. At times when commodity prices are low, enrolling sensitive lands in the CRP program can be especially attractive to farmers and landowners; it may soften the economic hardship for landowners at the same time providing ecological benefits. Please plan to join us to evaluate your options under the CRP program.

Two Informational meetings will be held on February 3 at:

- 10:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.
Conference Room #4
330 Court Street
Eagle River, WI 54521

If you have any question about these upcoming meetings, please contact the Marathon County FSA Office at (715) 848-2330 OR (608) 575-0712.

Persons with disabilities who require accommodations to attend or participate in this meeting/event/function should contact the Marathon County FSA Office at (715) 848-2330, or Federal Relay Service at 1-800-877-8339 by January 29, 2016.

Thank you to everyone for all your kindness, cards, food and visits. Words cannot express the thoughtfulness everyone showed our family during Ed's passing and his celebration of life gathering. Special thanks to Tom and Lloyd for always being there for him and everything you guys did for him. He was blessed to have friends like you. To all the grandkids and Maria for all your help. Thank you again and God Bless you all.

Nicolet College Foundation Accepting Online Scholarship Applications

The Nicolet College Foundation will accept online scholarship applications January 26 to February 26 for the 2016-17 academic year at Nicolet.

The Foundation expects to award more than 250 scholarships ranging in value from $200 to $3,000, said Heather Schallock, Foundation executive director.

"We strongly encourage anyone planning on attending Nicolet next fall to apply for a scholarship," Schallock said. "We know that paying for college is often a challenge for students and scholarships can go a long way in helping students meet that challenge."

All applications must be submitted online. Visit nicoletcollege.edu and enter "scholarships" in the search box to get to the online application. Applications must be completed by Friday, February 26.

Nicolet scholarships are available for both new and continuing students enrolling at the college this coming fall. Scholarship funds are applied directly to tuition costs.

Students taking nine or more credits per semester can receive up to $3,000 in scholarships. Students taking three to eight credits per semester can receive a $400 part-time scholarship. Applicants must have a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5.

In addition to scholarships, the college recently launched the Nicolet Promise program to help qualifying 2016 high school graduates in the college's district attend Nicolet tuition-free.

Under the Nicolet Promise, the Nicolet Foundation will pick up the entire balance of tuition and fees that remain after state and federal grants and scholarships have been applied to students' accounts.

The deadline to apply for the Nicolet Promise program is March 15.

To learn more about the Nicolet Promise, including eligibility requirements, or to apply to the program, visit nicoletcollege.edu and click on the Nicolet Promise banner at the top of the page.

For more information about scholarships, contact the Nicolet College Foundation office at (715) 365-4518, 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4518; 1-800-947-3529, TDD 711; or by email at hschallock@nicoletcollege.edu.

USDA Seeks Applications for Grants to Improve the Quality of Rural Housing

Eligible Applicants Include Public Agencies, Private Non-profit Organizations, Federally Recognized Indian Tribes

U.S. Department of Agriculture Rural Development Wisconsin State Director, Stan Gruszynski, announced that USDA is accepting applications for grants to help low- and very-low-income rural residents repair their homes.

"For some in rural communities, needed home maintenance and repair is simply unaffordable," Gruszynski said. "This program provides support, in partnership with local non-profit organizations, for essential needs including remediation of housing health and safety hazards for rural families and residents with extremely limited incomes. In addition to preserving housing, this program helps lower housing costs through energy conservation and weatherization improvements."

Grants are provided to qualified intermediaries such as town or county governments, public agencies, community organizations, federally recognized Indian Tribes, non-profit and faith-based organizations. The grants are then distributed to qualified homeowners or owners of multi-family rental properties or cooperative dwellings who rent to low- and very-low-income residents.

Grant funds can be used to weatherize and repair existing structures, install or improve plumbing or provide access to people with disabilities. In addition, the program assists rental property owners and cooperative housing complexes in repairing and rehabilitating their units if they agree to make such units available to low- and very low-income persons.

Last year, Couleecap, Inc. received a $22,881 grant to assist five families eliminate health and safety hazards in their homes and make needed repairs such as replacing faulty furnaces, installing accessibility ramps, insulation and/or new roofs. Western Dairyland Economic Development Council, Inc. was also awarded a $22,881 grant to help five families with rehabilitation, safety or repair needs.

For additional information on eligibility for Housing Preservation Grants, please see the December 29, 2015 Federal Register. Pre-applications must be received by 4 p.m. Central Standard Time (CST) on March 15, 2016. Assistance for filing a pre-application can be obtained from the USDA Rural Development Wisconsin State Office by calling 715-345-7620.

USDA Rural Development's mission is to deliver programs in a way that will support increasing economic opportunity and improve the quality of life of rural residents. As the lead federal agency for rural development needs, USDA Rural Development can help rural communities and regions grow and prosper by offering a variety of financial and technical assistance programs that encourage the development of strong community and economic development strategies.

During this past year, USDA Rural Development's nearly $577 million investment in Wisconsin helped create or retain more than 1,560 jobs, aided 3,034 families in buying their own homes and assisted more than 45 communities as they made improvements to their facilities, services, and infrastructure.

Further information on USDA Rural Development is available at a local USDA Rural Development office or by visiting the web site at www.rd.usda.gov/wi.

Lack of Vitamin D May Harm Older Women's Health

Vitamin D deficiency is common among women in nursing homes and is associated with an increased risk of death, a new study finds.

The findings highlight the need to prevent and treat vitamin D deficiency, according to lead author Dr. Stefan Pilz of the Medical University of Graz in Austria, and colleagues.

Their study of nearly 1,000 female nursing home residents, average age almost 84, in Austria found that 284 (30 percent) of the patients died after an average follow-up of 27 months. The researchers also found that almost 93 percent had lower-than-recommended vitamin D levels.

The study appears in the April issue of the Journal of Clinical Endocrinology and Metabolism.

Our findings show that the vast majority of nursing home residents are severely vitamin D deficient and those with the lowest vitamin D levels are at high risk of mortality," Pilz said in a new release from the Endocrine Society. "This situation warrants immediate action to prevent and treat vitamin D deficiency."

Vitamin D deficiency is a risk factor for bone problems. Treatment involves taking up to 800 international units of vitamin D a day.

"Vitamin supplementation in these patients can exert significant benefits on clinically relevant outcomes such as fractures," Pilz said. "In light of our findings, and the existing literature on adverse effects of vitamin D deficiency, there exists now an urgent need for effective strategies to improve vitamin D status in older institutionalized patients."

While the study uncovered an association between vitamin D deficiency and mortality among women in nursing homes, it did not prove a cause-and-effect relationship.

The Forest County Humane Society is located at 701 Industrial Park Way in Crandon and open Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and Saturday from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Call 715-478-2098 to set up an appointment.

In the meantime, people without any credentials in wildlife management or knowledge of local cultures or customs will travel here to save the wildlife and stop the wanton slaughter of coyotes, and save the wolf in the process. Travel costs money, but that isn't a problem. Due to the internet and some pretty creative propaganda on the part of the savers of the wolf and other critters, the donations will come in.

I'm not sure how the protestors made out with their mission to stop the Argonne Coyote Hunt, but the get-together at Main Street Ed's was quite lucrative for the Crandon Booster Club due, in part, to all of the free publicity provided by the anti-hunter groups.

Usually about 80 hunters registered for this hunt. This year, there were 160 registered hunters, who hunted with friends and didn't receive any prizes for size or numbers of coyotes. A total of eleven coyotes were registered. Some hunters came from 300 miles away to hunt in Argonne and support the hunt. Prizes were donated from a wide area, and door prizes were given at the event. Over $3,300 was collected for the Crandon Booster Club.

As mentioned, this hunt wouldn't have been as successful if it weren't for the help of the anti-hunting groups. In spite of and because of their attempts at bad publicity and portraying local people as crude barbarians only interested in blood and killing, 160 hunters enjoyed a day in the woods with friends, the sounds of the hounds and an occasional exciting moment when a coyote was spotted. At least 250 people signed in at Main Street Ed's, and many more didn't sign up for the prizes. It was a time of fellowship and community, and the fund raising for the Crandon Booster Club was tremendous.

Protesting the protestors!

Wearing a coyote hat to the event seemed like a good way to thumb their noses at the anti-hunting crowd hiding in the shadows outside. We will let the readers decide which one of these guys is the most fashionable and the most handsome. I ain't touchin' it!

The Petco Foundation stated."At the Petco Foundation, we believe that every animal deserves to live its best life. Since 1999, we've invested more than $145 million in lifesaving animal welfare work to make that happen. With our more than 8,000 animal welfare partners, we inspire and empower communities to make a difference by investing in adoption and medical care programs, spay and neuter services, pet cancer research, service and therapy animals, and numerous other lifesaving initiatives. Through our Think Adoption First program, we partner with Petco stores and animal welfare organizations across the country to increase pet adoptions. So far, we've helped more than 4.8 million pets find their new loving families, and we're just getting started. Visit petcofoundation.org to learn more about how you can get involved."
