Crandon International prepares for 23rd Forest County Potawatomi Community Brush Run Weekend

The world's largest off-road facility gets set to swing open its massive, custom-made gates to welcome guests, racers and teams back to Crandon International Raceway's "Big House." Located in the heart of Wisconsin's scenic Northwoods, the legendary track will host the first of two major weekends on Friday, June 24 through Sunday, June 26 for the 23rd annual Forest County Potawatomi Community Brush Run event. A combination of racing, camping and concerts, the weekend will feature three days of TORC PRO and Crandon Sportsman competition.

The Brush Run race weekend will feature many of the sport's fastest off-road vehicles and star drivers that make up The Off-Road Championship (TORC) series presented by Amsoil. Crandon's legendary high-speed dirt track will host a full schedule of intense, door-to-door action including the ultra-competitive PRO truck classes for Rounds 5 and 6 of the 2016 TORC season.

It's a phenomenon that started nearly half a century ago in the backwoods of northeast Wisconsin. It has evolved into a major stop in America's off-road racing calendar.

Super Summer Story Hour

The Crandon Public Library's super summer story hour program, On Your Mark, Get Set, READ!, will be held weekly on Wednesday mornings at 10:30 a.m. Story Hour is designed for children pk-1st grade but all ages will enjoy the stories, music and crafts. Story Hour is free of charge and no registration is required.

Monday Matinees

Monday Matinees continue in June. On Monday, June 20th at 2:30 p.m. we will be showing the film "Everest". In this adventure docudrama set in 1996, several groups of professional climbers successfully scale Mount Everest only to be faced with tragedy when a monster storm surprises them as they attempt to make their descent. Starring Jake Gyllenhaal, Josh Brolin, Jason Clarke, and John Hawkes.

On Monday, June 27th at 2:30 p.m. we will show the film titled "Mr. 3000". Mr. 3000 revolves around over-the-hill baseball star Stan Ross (Bernie Mac), who retired after making what he thought was his 3,000th base hit for the Milwaukee Brewers (i.e. the exact amount of hits it takes to qualify for the Hall of Fame). Though he shocked his teammates by quitting in the middle of the game, certain that his Hall of Fame position was in the bag, complications arise when he discovers that three of his hits during his ten-year career had been disqualified. Known as Mr. 3000, the 47-year-old, out-of-shape ball player returns to the game intending to stay only as long as it takes to get the hits he needs, but something unexpected happens along the way -- he rediscovers his love for the

Wabeno Library Summer Reading Program

Well, summer must be upon us—the local seniors have graduated, the lakes are full of boaters, and the traffic heading north on the weekends is steadily increasing. This means, that it's time for the Wabeno Public Library summer reading program! So we're inviting those children between 3–10 (and all other ages if interested) to join us on Saturday mornings at the Wabeno Public Library.

Starting this Saturday, June 18th at 10 am, we'll have fun activities, stories, and snacks for children. This year's summer reading program theme is, "On Your Mark, Get Set, Read!" Every Saturday through August, there will be a new adventure to be had combining reading and fitness. In addition to the Saturday morning fun, we'll be having other challenges to participate in throughout the summer to encourage reading and exercise. Along with the Crandon, Laona, and Forest County Potawatomi Cultural Center Libraries, we'll be aiming to accumulate 26,200 minutes of reading time in Forest County. We'll also have Bingo Cards available at all libraries with different activities to mark off. There will be a weekly drawing for children and adults alike. Bingo cards can be picked up at all four Forest County Libraries.

We'll also be participating in Wisconsin Bike Fed and Global Health Institute's "Bike to the Library Week" from June 19th – 26th, with prizes available online and from the library. Information will be available at the library to explore more on this adventurous week.

In addition to the Wabeno Public Library, information on all county library programs can be found at www.readforestcounty.org, including the complete summer reading program schedule and performers.

We hope to see as many children and parents alike on Saturdays to exercise our minds and bodies. There is a world to explore through books just by walking (or biking) out our front doors. We all just need to take that first step.

Goodman-Armstrong Creek playground seeks manpower & donations

The Goodman Armstrong Creek playground committee met on June 7th in the elementary school. Progress is being made to create a safe playground environment in our community. The orange fence has been taken down and the old metal slide has been removed from the property. The popular diggers in the sandbox will be removed soon and refurbished for safety reasons.

A decision was made to hire a company to seal and paint lines on the basketball court and to purchase eight new kid-friendly swings to replace the old ones at this time.

A list of supplies is being made to improve the sandbox area and we are constructing a donation letter to send out to local organizations.

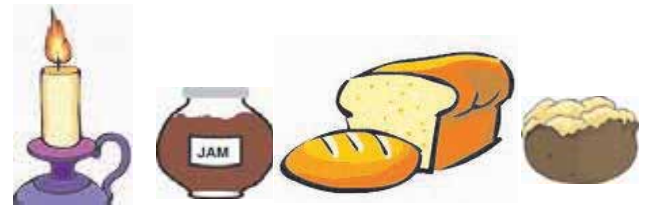

Our next meeting is on Tuesday, June 21st, 2016 at 6 p.m. in the Goodman Armstrong Creek Elementary School.

If you would like to send a donation, it can be made to: Goodman-Armstrong Creek School District and mailed to 1 Falcon Crest, Goodman, WI 54125 with Playground Committee in the memo so the funds are routed appropriately.

All help is greatly appreciated!

Weekend Country Market opens June 18th in Wabeno

A Country Market will open this summer at the N. Branch St baseball field in Downtown Wabeno between the Town Hall and Pichotta's Pub. This eclectic market will feature something for everyone. Produce, including organic, breads, jams and jellies, teas, herbal lotions and creams, soaps, candles, handmade rugs, antiques and vintage items from furniture to trains and toys, Wisconsin meats, and more will be available. There will also be a food stand selling nacho's and caramel apples with proceeds going to the Forest County Humane Society.

Opening day for the market will be June 18th from 9am-2pm. Dates of the market are July 2nd and 23rd, August 13th and 27th, Sept 3rd and 17th, and October 8th. In case of rain, the market will be held in the town hall. New vendors are always welcome. Space Fee is $5. Call Kathy at 715-473-2423 for more information.

McCaslin Lioness Swim Program comes to an end

For 32 years, the McCaslin Lioness have provided children swim lessons to be "Safe and Fun" in the lakes. However, all good things come to an end, and we will not be hosting this service in 2016.

Our appreciation to the Goetz family for their years of dedication to this program and to all of the families that have participated over the years.

Wilson's Landscaping helps Lake's Country Library

Have you noticed the side of the library is now neat and clean? Our bushes had grown into a maintenance problem. Wilson's Landscaping of Lakewood generously offered to remove the bushes for us. They did an excellent job for us, salvaging stones for us and preserving the existing sidewalk. The Friends of the Lake's Country Library is very grateful for Wilson's Landscaping for all their work.

Look for some new, compact bushes to be added to our walkway area. Our appreciation goes to Margaret Brubaker for her spring planting and the planting of the new shrubs.

Nicolet College Robotics Camp for Kids to Focus on Building STEM Skills

Creative and high-tech engineering will take center stage at the upcoming Robotics Camp at Nicolet College.

Open to students entering seventh or eighth grade in the fall, participants will expand their talents in science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) as they build a sophisticated robot.

The eight-day camp will run from 8 a.m. to noon Mondays through Thursdays July 18 to 21 and again July 25 to 28 in the White Pine Center on the Nicolet College Campus. Cost is $132.50. Snacks will be provided each day and all participants will receive a t-shirt. Seating is limited with students admitted on a first-come, first-served basis. Registration deadline is Friday, July 1.

"During camp students will be exposed to all aspects of building a working robot," said Mike Wojtusik, camp instructor, Rhinelander School District technology education teacher, and advisor to the Rhinelander Robotics Club.

"This includes designing, programming, building, and operating the sophisticated robot. This camp is perfect for students who love to tinker, love programming or design, or simply have an imaginative mind and like to explore new things."

Students will also be introduced to drone aircraft operation and have the opportunity to fly a quadcopter, Wojtusik added.

The skills participants will learn in the camp are the basis for some of the most rapidly growing careers in the nation, said Nicolet College Career Coach Sarah Gruber.

"There's a very significant shortage today for workers with solid STEM skills," Gruber explained. "And demand for people with those skills is expected to stay strong well into the foreseeable future. These are high-quality, high-paying jobs."

For more information about the camp, and to register, visit nicoletcollege.edu/robot or call the college at (715) 365-4493, 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4493; TDD 1-800-947-3529 or 711.

Nicolet College is located one mile south of Rhinelander just off of Hwy. G.

Do Microwaves Zap Nutrients in Veggies?

Yes but the loss is less than that caused by other cooking methods.

Cooking destroys nutrients because they are sensitive to heat as well as water, light and air. Microwaving is a gentler form of heating; it retains nutritional content better than boiling or frying. And it can save time.

Microwave cooking tips:

Cover vegetables to help preserve flavors and retain moisture. Plastic wrap holds steam to aid cooking; turn back an edge to vent excess steam.

For crisp veggies, just cover and cook without added water.

When microwaving a mix of vegetables, some require less cooking time. Add more delicate varieties, like asparagus or mushrooms, last.

Pierce larger, whole vegetables in several places to release steam.

For more even cooking: keep the size of each piece as uniform as possible; rotate or stir goods; and cook on a lower power setting.

Don't overcook veggies. They may continue cooking after the microwaving stops.

Townsend Centennial Quilt presented to Townsend

The Townsend Centennial Quilt Showcase and History Presentation sponsored by the Centennial Committee and Otter Run Books was held May 29 at the Town Hall. The hall became an art gallery that day, filled with spectacular quilts made or preserved by members of the Looney Ladies Quilting Circle.

A special highlight was the presentation of a gorgeous 15 square quilt made by the Looney Ladies to commemorate Townsend's 100th Birthday. Several members were on hand to present the quilt to Town Chairman Bruce Karow. The audience listened intently as the significance of each square was explained. The Quilt will hang in the Town Hall as a lasting memento of the 2016 Centennial Celebration.

Looney Ladies co-chairs Carole Haggstrom and Myra Ritz organized the quilt show. Two of the members' husbands, Gus Legler and Norman Haggstrom, assisted in the set-up of the display platforms. With their usual eye for detail, the Looney Ladies arranged the club's handiwork to show off their stunningly beautiful works of art.

Contributors to the Quilt Show were Lorraine Aro, Diana Deja, Carol Duffeck, Mary Ehlinger, Gloria Fonder, Roberta Gliscinski, Carole Haggstrom, Mary Ann Legler, Mary Lietz, Andi Mett, Laurie Pighetti, Peg Piepkorn, Jean Reimer, Myra Ritz, Lynette Shaffer, Kathy Schnell, Barb Vejoda, and Karan Verhagen.

An enlarged replica of an 1857 plat map was then presented to the Town. The document was donated by the staff of the Wisconsin Public Lands Trust. Its wood frame was made by Tim McQuire. Betsy Popp did her usual meticulous work in matting and framing a beautiful treasure that will also hang in the Town Hall.

In a late addition to the program, Supervisor Carla VanCamp presented the first T-Shirt awarded to anyone who completes the 100 Miles for 100 Years Road Warrior Walking Challenge. Emmett Exferd, who is 83, walked the entire course in less than two months. Emmett lives in Lakewood but was born in Townsend and says it still feels like home to him.

The second part of the program featured a one-hour presentation by Town Historian Kathleen Marsh. She used photos from her Truth about Townsend books (Transforming the Northwoods, Poor Man's Paradise, and Bust to Boomers) to take the audience through the past hundred plus years of Town history. People were left to ponder what comes next for a Township that has always managed to keep up with the times.

Marsh then signed copies of her books, including Townsend Time: A Centennial Tribute. If you were unable to attend the event, the books are available at otterrunbooks.com, Mike's Supermarket, Lakewood Super Valu or by emailing kathiemarsh@yahoo.com or calling 715-275-6515.

Nicolet College Trustees honor seven with Outstanding Service Awards

The Nicolet College Board of Trustees recently honored seven college employees with 2016 Outstanding Service Awards for superior performance that advanced student learning, responded to community needs, and furthered the overall mission of the college.

Those receiving honors were front row, left to right, Ginny Leith, Academic Success adjunct instructor; Kaye Mathwich, accommodations specialist; Kelly Haverkamp, planning, development, and evaluation manager; back row, Jenny Bonardelli, engineering services coordinator; Judy Heikkinen, executive assistant to the vice president; Hakim Salaam, Culinary Arts adjunct instructor; and Warren Krause, Welding instructor. Denice Darges, assistant to the registrar, was also honored with a Board Award but was unable to be in the photo.

Below are selected comments from the nominating papers for each award recipient.

Ginny Leith – (nominated by a former student) I truly believe that if it wasn't for Mrs. Leith, I would never be able to accomplish my educational goals. Her enthusiasm and love of teaching was evident from the beginning. Eight years ago I was a pre-nursing student, doubting my knowledge and ability to learn in the new environment. However, with Ginny's help and support, I successfully graduated from Nicolet's Nursing in 2012 and in 2013 earned my bachelor's degree in Nursing. Ginny recognized my love for learning and teaching and with her advice I decided to pursue my master's in Nursing with the emphasis on Education. Mrs. Leith is more than just a professor, she is mentor, an inspiration, and a true friend. Someday, I hope to be as an excellent teacher as Mrs. Leith.

Kaye Mathwich - Kaye provides superior service to students on a daily basis. She goes above and beyond her regularly assigned duties to assist students in being successful during their time at Nicolet. She has developed strong partnerships with the Career Coaches, Academic Advisors, faculty, and other key staff. These partnerships allow Kaye to work directly with the students and staff to assure that the students will receive the support and guidance they need to be successful. Along the way, Kaye also teaches the students self-advocacy, a life-long skill that will help the students become successful community members and district employees.

Kelly Haverkamp - Kelly has organized and led the college through state-level funding transitions, biannual college strategy sessions, in-service planning, quality improvement work, and several successful years of grant planning that resulted in millions of grant dollars for the college. Kelly excelled during the successful 10-year Higher Learning Commission (HLC) re-accreditation during 2015. In addition, the HLC selected Kelly to speak at the 2016 annual HLC conference in Chicago on the subject of Nicolet's success in switching to a new accreditation model. It is very apparent that Kelly thoroughly enjoys her position as Planning, Development and Evaluation Manager, and is a dedicated employee who works to advance Nicolet College.

Jenny Bonardelli - Jenny fully embraces the Nicolet mission, vision, and values and frequently goes beyond the call of duty in her position at Nicolet. She coordinates day-to-day maintenance for all Nicolet buildings and grounds, juggling support for inclement weather disruptions, fleet vehicle management, outreach center needs, small building modifications, and larger building addition and remodeling projects. She organizes with attention to every detail, and stays in touch with requestors throughout the process. She is also a committed volunteer, always willing to help with projects at Nicolet and in the community.

Judy Heikkinen - Judy has taken on much more than her regularly assigned duties during the recent 18-month Presidential transition, performing additional administrative duties and working longer hours when her supervisor took on additional interim vice president duties. Judy is a very experienced administrative resource at the college, leaned upon and recognized by many as an expert in scheduling and all things administrative. She always wears a smile, and it is clear that Judy thoroughly enjoys her position, and actively works to further the Nicolet College community.

Hakim Salaam – Hakim is a true professional and an integral part of the Culinary Arts instructional team. He graciously and regularly goes beyond just teaching. He takes on any additional classes or educational opportunities offered, comes in for additional efforts to attract new students, and helps at our Open House events as well as many other volunteer activities. The service he provides to the community and our students is highly admirable and clearly furthers the mission of the college.

Warren Krause - Warren is the lead Welding instructor and has increased enrollment in the program over his time here to a record high of 55 students in the 2013-2014 academic year. Warren has also developed strong relationships with area employers in the manufacturing sector and has partnered with Nicolet's workforce development to provide training to local industry, bringing in additional revenue to the college. Warren has also been a strong partner with area K-12 schools. He works closely with high school teachers and puts in many additional hours hosting an annual high school welding competition, bringing in more than 100 high school students for the competition. Warren should also be commended on his close relationships with industry, facilitating steel donations to cut down on student material costs for the welding program.

Denice Darges - Denice's regularly assigned duties touch nearly every aspect and corner of the college, and these duties are always completed in a superior manner. Denice's daily attention to detail ensures that student transcripts, state and national reporting data, course schedules, tuition and fees, and classroom assignments are accurate and error free. Denice has a thorough understanding of the policies and procedures of the college, and uses this to make independent decisions and to solve problems on a regular basis. Through her daily work, Denice provides superior service to our students, fellow employees, and the district community.

Watch out for Garlic Mustard this spring

As new plants leaf out this spring, it is a great time to keep an eye out for a plant you don't want lurking in your yard, Garlic Mustard. If the woods near your house are sporting a carpet of round green leaves, you could have garlic mustard. Garlic mustard was originally brought to the U.S. from Europe as a culinary herb (as the name implies it is a mustard plant that tastes like garlic), but now it is notorious as a highly invasive plant in forested areas. Like many invasive plants, it spreads very quickly and has no natural predators or diseases to keep it in check. A single plant can produce nearly 8,000 seeds per year that are viable for about 7 years. This helps garlic mustard take over forest understories, covering the forest floor and pushing out native wildflowers and shrubs, going so far as to release chemicals that interfere with tree seedling growth. This can cause devastating impacts for wildlife, recreation, and commercial interests such as timber harvest and tourism.

Spring and early summer are the best times to spot garlic mustard. Plants emerge as small rosettes with leaves that are mostly round, have scalloped edges, and smell like garlic when crushed. Toward the end of May or beginning of June, 2nd year plants send up a stalk with alternate triangular leaves. Garlic mustard has numerous small, white flowers that quickly develop into seedpods before the plant dies.

You can also help by reporting invasive plant locations and/or sending in pictures of potentially invasive plants. The Wild Rivers Invasive Species Coalition (WRISC) is available to identify unknown plants and assist in control efforts. For more information, or to report an invasive location, contact Emily Anderson at wildriverscwma@gmail.com or 906-774-1550x102. To view invasive profiles, WRISC projects, and volunteer opportunities, visit their website at www.wrisc.org or find them on Facebook.

Nicolet Quick Start June 21 features one-stop enrollment for Fall Semester

Anyone looking to attend Nicolet College Fall Semester can fast-track the enrollment process with one stop at the college's Quick Start event from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., Tuesday, June 21, in the University Transfer Center on the Nicolet Campus.

Deb Iverson attended a Quick Start last December.

"It was quick and easy and before I knew it I was enrolled," said Iverson, who just completed her first semester as a pre-Nursing student at Nicolet.

"The whole process took about an hour. Everybody was incredibly helpful and that made the process go very smoothly."

At the Quick Start event, future students will be able to:

- Meet with a Career Coach to discuss career options and the various academic paths available to train for a career.
- Talk with an Academic Advisor to register for classes and set up a class schedule that fits in with other responsibilities.
- Complete the Admission Application. Students will need to bring their official high school, GED, or any college transcripts with them in a sealed envelope.
- Learn about financial aid and start the application process.
- Learn about payment plans the college has available.

"The whole idea is to streamline the process of becoming a college student," said Nicolet Career Coach Patrick Burns. "The goal is to make it much more efficient for people to start down the path to earning a college credential."

Those attending will have the $30 admission fee waived along with all assessment fees, which combined can total more than $60.

Nicolet offers more than 60 certificates, diplomas, and associate degrees. Many academic pathways are structured so students can earn a short-term training certificate relatively quickly and then enter the workforce or apply the credits toward a more advanced credential.

"What we're seeing is that many students will do both," Burns explained. "Students will use the certificate to get a job in their field of study and then continue taking classes to earn a diploma or two-year associate degree to move up in their career field."

For pre-Nursing student Iverson, she attended a Quick Start and enrolled at Nicolet after her job of 20 years as a medical assistant was eliminated due to changing needs at the facility where she worked.

"I was in a Nursing program when I was younger and this was the nudge I needed to return to college," she said. "This is a great opportunity for me to complete the program and do something I've always wanted to do." The Nicolet Campus is located one mile south of Rhinelander just off of Hwy. G.

For more information about Nicolet, visit nicoletcollege.edu or call the Welcome Center at (715) 365-4493, 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4493; TTY 1-800-947-3529 or 711.

College credits for culinary skills event June 29 at Nicolet

Experienced culinary professionals can turn what they know into college credits at an upcoming credit for prior learning event at 4 p.m., Wednesday, June 29, at Nicolet College.

"This is a great way for anyone with significant restaurant or other culinary arts experience to get a pretty big jump start on earning a college credential in the field," said Patrick Burns, Nicolet College career coach. "This can save people both time and money. They won't have to attend classes to learn what they already know."

Prospective students attending the event will tour Nicolet's professional-grade kitchen, learn about the program, and meet one-on-one with Nicolet staff to review each individual's experience, skills, and background.

If it's determined an individual has a good likelihood of earning credit for past experience, arrangements will be made for individuals to potentially test out of and earn credit for specific classes. Those who test out of classes will pay only 25 percent of the normal tuition for the associated credits.

Prospective students are encouraged to email their resume before the event to culinaryarts@nicoletcollege.edu. They can also bring their resume with them on June 29, along with a portfolio, if they have one.

"A college credential is a valuable seal of approval in the industry and can open up a lot more doors to advance in the field," Burns added.

Nicolet's Culinary Arts program features six short-term training certificates that include Baking, Catering, Kitchen Management, Kitchen Assistant, Food Service Management, and Culinary Career Essentials.

Credits from all certificates can be applied to the one-year technical diploma, which ladders into Nicolet's two-year associate's degree in Culinary Arts. Nicolet also has a credit transfer agreement with the University of Wisconsin-Stout for anyone interested in transferring to earn a bachelor's degree.

Those who attend the event and enroll will have both the application and Accuplacer assessment fees waived, a $50 value.

For more information, contact Burns at (715) 365-4464, 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4464; TTY 1-800-947-3529, ext. 4464, or by email at pburns@nicoletcollege.edu.

Information about the college's Culinary Arts program is also available at nicoletcollege.edu.

Marie B. Moericke, age 100, of Crandon, passed away at the AGI Health Care Center, Crandon under the care of Ministry Home Care Hospice. Honoring her wishes no formal services will be held. Online condolences may be left for the family at www.weberhillfuneralhome.com.

Marsha Spaude takes the Challenge!

Townsend Road Warrior Challenge

As part of the Townsend 100 year centennial celebration, people have the opportunity to take part in the Townsend Road Warrior Challenge. The 100 mile plus challenge offers 30 different routes varying in distance from a 1 to 7 miles.

The routes differ greatly and can be very picturesque. Emmette Exferd, a life time resident of the area who walked and biked each route was the first to complete the challenge. Roger and Marsha Spaude who biked and walked each route finished second and third.

People have until October 31st to complete the challenge to earn bragging rights and a souvenir T-shirt. You can pick up route maps and checklists at Karla's Country Kitchen on Highway 32 or go to townoftownsend.com.

by Gail Blohowiak, a local playwright. It will be the world debut of the comedy, which will produce giggles and guffaws, and has many story twists.

The playwright, Gail Blohowiak, was born and raised in Green Bay, Wisconsin, but now flits between the Northwoods of Wisconsin (Wabeno area) and central Florida. After writing two business books, she now writes memoirs, fiction, and plays. Last summer, the Wabeno Players produced her first play, Let Them Eat Spam. During the winter she penned, The Revenge of Spam that, though it is a sequel, stands on its own.

The event will be at the Essenhaus in Wabeno on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, June 16, 17, 18, and 19. The Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evening shows will start with a complimentary meal, served from 5:00 PM to 6:30 PM; the performance will follow at 7:00 PM. The Sunday matinee begins with the meal served from 12:00-1:30, with the show at 2:00 PM.

Don't miss this world debut of a play filled with laughs! Reservations are required. Seating is limited, so plan now for a special Thursday, Friday or Saturday evening or Sunday afternoon. The cost is $20.00 per person. To make reservations call 715-889-1179.

The Revenge of Spam continues the story of Beverly and Phyllis, two broke widows who had been swindled by the same sleazy lawyer. Beverly, played again by Carol Bartlein, and Phyllis, again played by Linda Harter then found financial success and love through opportunities found in the SPAM folders in their email. Together they founded the Willing and Able Construction Company. Phyllis then married the rich and wonderful Able Howard, again played by Bob Brown, and Beverly found great success and happiness with Able's brother Will, once again played by Ray Appel.

The story seems too rosy to be true...and it is! When Phyllis and Able return from their round-the-world honeymoon, they find themselves with financial problems that may ruin their marriage. Once again, the naive ladies seek financial success on the Internet. Beverly and Will believe Phyllis and Able can find economic success by creating an on-line dating service, targeting a group they know....the sixty-something crowd looking for love.

The mother and daughter restaurant team, of Karla and Katrina played again by Ginnie Riley and Kim Odekirk, have a growing business, but are still seeking revenge on the sleazy lawyer Frank Cheatum, who is Karla's ex-husband and Katrina's despicable deadbeat dad. The plot twists as Karla sees the online dating site as her answer to love and Katrina sees it as a way to trap her dad in his own dating frenzy.

The plot includes a hilarious speed dating event which includes the appearance of a number of real characters, including Kathy Millan, Tim and Connie Friesen, Linda Boatright, Ron Bond, and Gary Baum. Josh Jameson is the lighting technician. The play is under the direction of Carol Bartlein.

Senator Baldwin calls for renewed Congressional effort to close "Terror Gap"

"Congress must act to close the terrorist gun loophole by giving the FBI the authority to block gun sales to potential terrorists."

WASHINGTON, D.C. – U.S. Senator Tammy Baldwin today called for a renewed effort to close the "terror gap." Last November, Senator Baldwin cosponsored the Denying Firearms and Explosives to Dangerous Terrorists Act of 2015 to give the Department of Justice authority to prevent a known or suspected terrorist from buying firearms or explosives, which would close this gap. The legislation was introduced by Senator Dianne Feinstein (D-CA) and Representative Peter King (R-NY).

"We must address a serious national security and public safety weakness and close this loophole that allows a known or suspected terrorist to swiftly pass a firearms or explosives background check and obtain a dangerous weapon," said Senator Baldwin. "Preventing people on the terrorist watch list from purchasing firearms and explosives is a commonsense action we can take to protect American lives. Congress must act to close the terrorist gun loophole by giving the FBI the authority to block gun sales to potential terrorists."

The Department of Justice under President George W. Bush initially proposed the legislation in 2007. Attorney General Eric Holder testified at a 2009 Judiciary Committee hearing that the Obama administration also supported the legislation.

According to information prepared by the Government Accountability Office, individuals on the consolidated terrorist watch list, which includes the no-fly list, cleared a background check for a gun transaction in 94 percent of attempted transactions in 2013 and 2014 (455 out of 486 times). Between February 2004 and December 2014, individuals on the consolidated terrorist watch list cleared a background check in 91 percent of attempted transactions (2,043 of 2,233 times), according to GAO data.

The Denying Firearms and Explosives to Dangerous Terrorists Act of 2015 would:

- Allow the attorney general to deny the purchase or transfer of a firearm or explosive to a known or suspected terrorist if the prospective recipient may use the firearm or explosive in connection with terrorism.
- Maintain protections in current law that allow a person who believes he has been mistakenly prevented from buying a firearm to learn of the reason for the denial, and then to challenge the denial, first administratively with the Department of Justice, and then through a lawsuit against the Justice Department.
- Allow the Justice Department, in any administrative or court proceeding challenging the accuracy of a denied firearm or explosive transfer under the bill, to protect information that, if disclosed, would compromise national security.

Last November, one week prior to the San Bernardino shooting, Senator Baldwin and 37 Senators sent a letter to House Speaker Paul Ryan and Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell, calling for the bill to be brought to the House and Senate floor for consideration and a vote.

"There is no reason why suspected terrorists who we consider too dangerous to board airplanes should be able to walk into any gun store in the United States and purchase a firearm or an explosive for the purpose of carrying out a terrorist act. But today, suspected terrorists can legally purchase guns in the United States—and they're doing so, even while law enforcement may be investigating them or pursuing their arrest or indictment," wrote the senators last November.

Local History Writing Contest Continues

The Crandon Public Library is currently holding a Forest County Local History Writing Contest in collaboration with the Forest County Department on Aging. The contest is designed to encourage current residents, or those with a Forest County family history connection, to share their family stories in a narrative format. Submissions may be either a family history or a personal history about life in Forest County. The contest is open to all ages and to residents and visitors alike.

The rules are simple: Write 1 to 5 pages about one of your Forest County ancestors and/or families. How did they come to Forest County? Where did they live? What did they do? Where did their children and grandchildren end up? How did larger events in Wisconsin's history affect their lives? Make the story as engaging and interesting as possible but please stick to the facts so that we all can learn a little bit of our County's history from this project. Entries will be judged on style, their originality, appeal, and writing style. Writers are encouraged, but not required to, utilize the local history resources available in the local history room of the Crandon Public Library.

Entries will be accepted June 1, 2016 through July 15, 2016. A panel of readers will judge the submissions and award cash prizes for First ($125), Second ($75), and Third place ($50). Winners will be announced by August 15, 2016.

Community Kick Start Program registration on June 23rd

With the help of the Ministry Crandon Clinic, Forest County Health Department, Forest County Ties That Bind Us and Outside the Box Fitness, the 3rd annual Community Kick Start Program will take place again this summer. The 9 week program is designed to build endurance from sedentary to completing a 5k without stopping either by walking or running. Participants will receive support and incentives and will be encouraged to sign in weekly to increase accountability. Registration will take place at the Crandon Public Library on June 23rd at 5 pm. Sessions will start June 28th at 5 pm and continue Tuesdays and Thursdays at two locations; Crandon

School or Laona School. The program will end with a 5K fun walk/run on August 25th where several grand prizes will be given away.

Crandon local Keegan Kincaid has enjoyed a successful TORC season so far. Driving the #7 Traxxas/Cooper Tires truck, Kincaid currently leads the TORC PRO 2 category thanks to race wins at each of the first two events of the year. (Jeff Keeble image)

On Saturday and Sunday the stars of The Off-Road Championship (TORC) series presented by Amsoil will take to Crandon's legendary high-speed dirt track including the ultra-competitive PRO 4WD, PRO 2WD and PRO LIGHT truck classes. Current points leaders in the TORC series after four rounds of racing in the 2016 are comprised of the elder Greaves in PRO 4WD (Toyota), Kincaid in PRO 2WD (Nissan) and Hart in PRO Light (Dodge).

Off-road racing began in Crandon, Wisconsin in 1970 with the inaugural Brush Run 101 race through the forestland surrounding the small town. The event grew so large that in the 1980s track officials added a spring race -- renamed the Brush Run -- to augment the hugely popular fall World Championship Off-Road Races® that attract up to 45,000 fans to the facility each Labor Day holiday weekend.

The weekend's on-track action will culminate late Sunday afternoon with the 23rd Annual Forest County Potawatomi Community Cup race. Pitting the TORC PRO 2WD and TORC PRO 4WD classes together on the same track with a staggered start, the intense annual race offers a total cash prize package of $24,000, with the winner picking up a healthy $15,000 pay day. In addition, the winner will receive valuable product bonuses from Lincoln Welders and MasterCraft Safety.

Last year, the Monster Energy/Maxxis/Toyota PRO 4 of fan favorite Johnny Greaves made a last corner pass of son CJ to claim his fourth Forest County Potawatomi Community Cup title, tying the Appleton, Wisconsin resident with Las Vegas racer Rob MacCachren for the all-time lead with four wins each.

A backbone of off-road racing in the American Midwest, the Crandon Sportsman Off-Road Series will host 10 unique classes of unique short-course machinery the Brush Run weekend as they run Rounds 3 and 4 of their 2016 season. The Crandon Sportsman classes and their sponsors include Auto Gear 1600 Light Buggy, Parsons Chevrolet Classix, Londerville Steel Stock Truck, Lincoln Welders 1600 Buggy, Trigs Smoke House Super Buggy, Brew Pub Pizza Short Course Karts, Miller Lite Limited 4, MasterCraft Safety Formula 4x4, Mountain Dew Super Stock Truck and Country Hearth Super Truck.

Thousands of fans are expected to invade a Big House's facility that includes 2,500 carefully groomed grass camp sites that make up "Crandon Experience." While many campsites are already reserved, fans can still get them on a first-come, first-served basis during race weekend.

In keeping with Crandon tradition, Saturday night will feature a festival-style concert featuring Madison, Wisconsin's Zac Mathews Band. Beginning at 8:00pm. The concert is free to fans camping at Crandon for the weekend or those attending Saturday's races. Gates will open for concert-only attendees with a $10.00 charge.

2014's "Country Showdown's Best New Male Act in Country Music." Zac Mathews is a Nashville recording artist and nationally touring band that has opened or shared the stage with many acts such as: Randy Houser, Jake Owen, Florida Georgia Line, LeAnn Rimes, Billy Currington, Jerrod Niemann, Tyler Farr, David Allen Coe, Kentucky Headhunters, and many more.

"There has never been a stronger or more promising off-season for the staff and our board of directors than this one," explained Crandon President Cliff Flannery. "2016 will be the best race season in our history, and it all starts with the upcoming Forest County Brush Run weekend. Our schedule is packed from Friday afternoon through Sunday, and we know our fans will have a great time."

Crandon International will open its gates to the public all three days beginning at 8:00 a.m. Weekend admission is $45 for adults, with children 12 and under and seniors 75 and older getting in free. One-day admission is $25 for adults, children under 12 and senior 75 or older admitted free. Crandon will also offer Saturday night-only admission to enjoy the Zac Mathews Band concert for just $10.

Nicolet College's new Auto Tech diplomas create career pathway

Nicolet will launch two new college credentials in the automotive field that start with a fast-track diploma for entry-level jobs and culminate with a two-year technical diploma and ASE Master Technician certification.

"The goal was to create a pathway for students to learn the basic skills they need to get a job in the field relatively quickly and then follow that with more in-depth instruction that allows them to advance in their position," said Jeff Labs, interim dean of Trade, Industry, and Apprenticeships at Nicolet.

The one-year Automotive Service Technician technical diploma is the first step in the pathway where students learn how to diagnose and repair multiple vehicles systems. These include engines, transmissions, fuel and electrical systems, steering and suspension systems, brakes, and climate control systems.

Students completing this diploma will have the skills to enter the workforce. They can also apply the 29 credits they earned to the two-year, 55-credit Automotive Technician technical diploma.

"Classes in the second year take everything they learned in the first year to a more advanced level," Labs explained. "It's more in-depth and qualifies graduates in all the disciplines they need to become ASE Certified Master Technicians. As we've seen in other programs, we expect many students will get jobs after their first year and continue taking classes to earn the two-year diploma."

Nicolet also worked closely with automotive employers when building the curriculum. "We heard time and again about the value of employees being able to communicate effectively with co-workers, supervisors, and customers," Labs explained. "To meet that skills need, we included two Applied Communication classes to the second year of the program to make employees even more valuable to their employers."

Fall Semester classes start Sept. 1.

For more information, visit nicoletcollege.edu or call the Welcome Center at (715) 365-4493; TDD 1-800-947-3529 or 711.

Sign up for the 30th annual Nicolet National Forest Bird Survey

Area birdwatchers are invited to help University of Wisconsin scientists learn more about local birds by signing up to attend the 30th annual Nicolet National Forest Bird Survey.

The survey, the longest running volunteer bird monitoring program in a national forest, takes place June 17-19, 2016. Volunteers work in teams to sample birds at permanent points representing the major habitat types within the eastern Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest.

History of the survey, schedules and registration information can be found on the Nicolet National Forest Bird Survey website: <http://www.uwgb.edu/birds/nnf/>.

The deadline for registering is June 10.

The university-sponsored survey will be headquartered at Trees for Tomorrow in Eagle River and volunteers will disperse to sites located throughout the northern half of the forest Saturday morning.

Observers can lodge in the dormitories and enjoy continental breakfasts Saturday and Sunday at Trees for Tomorrow before heading into the forest. Lunch will also be provided Saturday and Sunday and dinner will be served Saturday evening. There is no charge for the meals.

Novice birders are matched up with experts so anyone interested in birds and conservation can participate. Easy-access sites will be available for birders who are not able to walk long distances or through difficult terrain.

Led by UW Green Bay researchers and students, scientists, foresters, and land conservation managers have been using the survey data to better plan and manage Wisconsin's forests. Results have been cited in academic publications and graduate students' thesis papers.

While used primarily by scientists and researchers, birdwatchers and other forest visitors can use survey findings to find prime viewing areas and to learn more about birds and their habitats.

Flag Disposal Ceremony to be performed by American Legion Post 377

The public is invited to attend the annual Flag Disposal Ceremony at 6:30 pm Monday, June 20, 2016 behind American Legion Post 377 in Elcho.

Prior to the ceremony unserviceable flags may be dropped off, at any time, in the drop box located in front of the Post at N11232 Elmo St. in Elcho

Tomato plants help the Humane Society

A warm day, Sunday the 12th, brought much needed relief for the Forest County Humane Society. Rick and Julie Calhoun set up a tent sale in Laona selling their home grown greenhouse tomato plants. Big two-foot tall flowering plants went home with excited gardeners for just $3 apiece and a variety of homemade jellies and jams were available for purchase.

The sale was a complete success, nearly selling out. The Calhouns plan to make this an annual event to raise funds for the shelter. The money in the cash box added up to $455 for the day. Previous week sales of $108 in the town of Cavour brought total tomato plant sales to $563. Nice.

Julie says that the shelter is always in need of individuals willing to put together fundraising events or to volunteer their time at scheduled events to benefit the Shelter. If interested please call the shelter for more info. 715-478-2098.
