Boat ride winners tour Lucerne in a classic Chris Craft

By Mike Monte

The winners of Weeds N' Walleye fundraiser boat ride, held last October in Mole Lake, collected their prize on July 4th. Steve Bunda brought his 22-foot, 1937 Chris Craft Triple Cockpit runabout to Water's Edge on Lucerne to pick up the winners for a tour of Lake Lucerne.

There were two rides. The first is shown above, with winners Ken and Nora Hermes, Dan Krouzel, Kay and Randy Ponschock, Kathleen Mostacci were in the first ride. The second tour included Bob and Jackie Shepherd, Les and Beth Hilberg, with Steve Bunda, of course, at the helm.

Lovers of old water craft will appreciate this Chris Craft. There were only 138 of these boats built between 1935 and 1939. The boat was originally delivered to a boater on Lake Delavan on January 12, 1937. (It must have been a long wait for him until spring!) Bunda purchased this craft from the original owner in 1997.

Then began a painstaking restoration that included a new bottom and re-fastening of the entire structure. A complete refinish followed, including gauges, chrome, upholstery, wiring and more. The boat is powered by a six-cylinder Hercules 130 horsepower flathead engine that was also completely rebuilt. Bunda, of course, did the restoration. It is his job!

The boat was shown in September of 2001, at the Lake Geneva Boat Show, winning first place in the antique class, which is pre-World War II.

Steve Bunda, as some of you may not know, does professional restoration work on these old classic water craft in his shop on County W, near Lake Lucerne. Many old classic boats have been restored there. Steve, along with help from his wife Laurie, restore

Little Free Library comes to Crandon

John and Tina Strong stand with their daughters Carmen and Brooke introduce the Little Free Library.

There is a new source to get reading material in downtown Crandon. With a suggestion from Diane Strong, the ladies at BC Cakes, Brooke and Carmen Strong, with the help of their parents, John and Tina, built a little free library.

The purpose of a little free library is to share books for all ages to enjoy. The operation of a little free library is when an adult or child wants a book, they exchange a book with the book they want.

The Friends of the Crandon Library donated books to get the project started and the little free library is a project that works with the Crandon Public Library.

The little free library is in the shape of a cupcake, it has two windows, the top window for adults and the bottom window is for children. It is located outside of BC Cakes at 304 North Lake Avenue in Crandon.

Wabeno Craft Show at Wabeno

Wabeno's annual Craft Show will be in the park on Saturday, July 9th. This is a great show, with plenty of vendors. Good food and refreshments will also be available.

You can help out the Hiles Fire Department and have fun with your shotgun at the big Trap Shoot this Saturday, July 9th, from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. The shoot is at the Hiles Trap Range near the Hiles mill pond.

The pig roast should help you keep up your energy levels, and you can win cash and meat prizes.

Wabeno 30th Annual Steam-Up Days July 8, 9, 10

If you like yesterday's technology, seeing the Phoenix log hauler operate, learning about blacksmithing, old tractors and a host of other displays, then Steam-Up Days is for you!

Located at the Firefighter's Grounds, the event runs July 8, 9, and 10. Bring the kids for the kids games, enjoy the food and liquid refreshment, the live music Friday and Saturday night, and Sunday afternoon.

There is also a Friends of the Library book sale, the Craft Fair and lots of happy and friendly people!

See the ad inside for more details.

Miles of Smiles

By Gary Wegner

Art Johnson's Gold Bug stood out like a brilliant bumblebee on that sunny Sunday morning. Warm and clear and fresh as only northern Wisconsin can be in June, that second day in the sixth month of 1957 had been proclaimed Dr. Tenley Day in Wabeno by town chairman Bernard Pichotta in appreciation of Doctor Oscar S. Tenley's 50th anniversary of practice. And to kick off the pageant of appreciation, a parade wound its way down high school hill past the band shell. True to its heritage, Art's jaunty little bug led the parade.

Someone once said that everyone loves a parade, but why is that? Well, usually you know someone in it and even if you don't, you know it will be a sunny day with miles of smiles and music and waving and more smiles and what's not to like about that? Wabeno in the '50s was graced with the presence of a few classic automobiles, but, without a doubt, the most fun was Art's Gold Bug. Watching Art drive by with a toot and a wave would bring a smile to the face of anyone lucky enough to see him in his elegant bug. It was as though his car had an aura of infectious joy around it, what the French call joie de vivre. And if you ever had the very good fortune to see it, you would remember it, perhaps not the details, but the car, that special snappy something about that car.

Carl Arthur (Art) Johnson and his wife Olivia had been a fixture in Wabeno ever since May 4, 1934 when they opened the Quality Food Mart in the former Zingler building across the street from the Logging Museum. They lived above the store with their daughters, Mary and Karen, and in an old, barn-like shed behind the store, Art sheltered his dream. Over the years, Art nurtured his interest in old cars, especially those

Padus Nicolet Gun Club free Youth Shoot

The Padus Nicolet Gun Club is offering a free Youth Shoot on Saturday, July 9th, for young people between the ages of 12 to 17. Registration is from 9-11:00 a.m.

It will be a 50 round Lewis shoot, and shells and clay birds will be provided. Shooters must have a Hunter Safety Certificate.

This is a fine way to introduce youngsters to the sport of trap shooting, which is a great way to improve a person's marksmanship skills and can be enjoyed by shooters for a lifetime.

Community Band at Concert on the Riverwalk

The Rhinelander Area Community Band, under the direction of Jim Pekol, will again take the stage at the bandshell near Trig's for another high-spirited performance on Wednesday, July 13, beginning at 7 p.m.

Along with marches and polkas, the band will play familiar tunes from West Side Story and Peter, Paul and Mary, and past favorites Satin Doll and 25 or 6 to 4.

Soloist Mary Brendemuehl will sing a medley of Patsy Cline songs and Pekol will grab his baseball bat to accompany John Phillip Sousa's National Game March in a tribute to this summer pastime.

Audience members are encouraged to bring lawn chairs and a drink to go with the free popcorn. The concert is free, but a good-will donation will be collected.

This week's performance is being sponsored by Kwik Trip. In case of bad weather, the band will play at the senior center across the parking lot. For more information, call Jan Leschke at 715-362-7157.

This old picture came from Christy Schultz Chartraw, who saw fit to also email the names from the back of the photo. We appreciate that!

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

manufactured in Hartford, Wisconsin by the Kissel Motor Car Company. The Kissel model that caught Art's eye was the Speedster, a roadster with racer cut doors and a bumblebee rear deck. Revealed in 1918 to a public looking for something new and bold after the First World War, Speedsters created a sensation when they arrived. And the particular Speedster that grabbed Art's fancy was the Gold Bug.

On August 6, 1919, William W. (Brownie) Rowland, a colorful, freewheeling, publicity virtuoso on the staff of the Milwaukee Journal, and his long suffering, travel companion William T. (Poor Cuss) Cuddy concocted a barnstorming promotion called the Flying Circus that featured a vivid, chrome yellow Speedster with black fenders racing against an airplane piloted by F.G. (Flying Squirrel) Otis at county fairs across Wisconsin. Poor Cuss wrote, "Brownie's car is a bright vicious, headachy yellow car. If one can imagine a big Bertha shooting the yolk of an egg, one can get an idea of how Brownie and the Kisselkar look scooting around the track.

The car looks awfully yellow and awfully fast and makes a terrifying racket. Brownie says it will go 80 miles per hour without coaxing and if the yellow on its body isn't contagious he's going to coax it and see how fast it really will go." Before he could get the Journal's Flying Circus off the ground, however, on Friday, August 15, Poor Cuss declared, "Seems like this thing should have a name. Why not ask the man who made it." "Sagoodidea," said Brownie. Reaching out to George Kissel himself in Hartford, Brownie was puzzled by the President's reply, "Gee, I don't know." Stymied, Brownie suggested, "Why don't we leave it to the public? It's worth $5 to me to have this argument settled. We'll offer a prize of $5 for the most likely name and leave it to you, Mr. Kissel, to choose which is the most likely." On August 18, the headline for Poor Cuss's article read: DELUGE OF NAMES SUBMITTED FOR BROWNIE'S SPEED CAR. "Pink letters, blue letters, lavender letters, cerise letters, white letters and gray letters letters of every size and color and kind were heaped upon Brownie's desk Monday morning all letters from The Journal readers who appear to have spent their Sunday calling Brownie's new yellow racing car names." Included among those names published Monday morning were Badger Bullet, Sunkis, Wild Canary, Sunshine, Sunkis!, Golden Flash, Fire Fly, Yello, Goldie, Golden Glory, Giovanantoniotoccannina, Badger Butterfly, Gold Rush, and Gold Bug. The story is that a little girl, age nine, won the contest submitting the name Gold Bug because its color and shape reminded her of a bumblebee. At any rate, on Tuesday, August 19, 1919, under the headline FLYING CIRCUS SALLIES FORTH Spectacular Motor Outfit Leaves Milwaukee for

Chris Craft, Garwood, Hacker, Century, and many other old queens of our inland waterways. Customers come from Wisconsin, but many are shipped in from other states. Most come in for new bottoms and other extensive work, and a restoration can take a year or more of their time. Many of the boats are family heirlooms, and others are to fill the customer's bucket list.

The next winners of a classic boat ride will be picked at the next Weeds N' Walleye banquet next October 15, 2016 at Mole Lake. If you are interested in the health of Lake Metonga or just want to win a boat ride, you are invited to attend!

Seymour appears this sentence, "Brownie, in the Gold Bug, and the Poor Cuss, in his Victory Mitchell left next." This is the first documented use of the phrase Gold Bug to refer to a chrome yellow Kissel Speedster with black fenders. It was not the last.

Pinned in the public's imagination, the name stuck. In fact, soon the name was so firmly embedded that it not only referred to bright vicious, head-achy yellow Speedsters but Speedsters of all colors: yellow, red, white, blue, or green. Although the Kissel Motor Car Company never officially used the phrase Gold Bug, Speedsters and Gold Bugs were one in the same to the public. As far as Art's imagination is concerned, it probably didn't hurt that Speedsters were known as cars for the stars, especially among the raccoon-set. According to Val Quandt, author of The Classic Kissel Automobile, Speedster owners included Charlie Chaplin, Al Jolson, Ralph DePalma, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Fatty Arbuckle, and Jack Dempsey. In fact, the Dempsey Speedster was used in the movie The Eddie Duchin Story. Perhaps the best-known Gold Bug of all, however, belonged to famous aviatrix Amelia Earhart.

In the spring of 1924, Amelia and her mother Amy decided that they would move back to Boston after her mother's divorce. Amelia's original plan was to fly in her own Kinner airplane but a sinus condition thwarted that idea. As a result, she sold the Kinner and bought a used 1922 Kissel Model 6-45 Speedster, which she referred to as The Kizzle and later nicknamed Yellow Peril. Amelia and Amy drove cross-country from Hollywood to Boston in June of 1924 taking in the scenery of Sequoia, Yosemite, Crater Lake, Banff, Lake Louise, Glacier Park, and Yellowstone. Along the way, Amelia wrote to her friend Lloyd Royer, "We have only had one hint of trouble with the motor, the head gasket blew out ... I carry two extra gaskets and treat Kizzle like a Ford shift into low on any little incline." Today an automobile trip from Hollywood to Boston would take about five days and cover 3000 miles; it took Amelia and Amy six weeks and covered 7000 miles. Often surrounded by little groups of people who bombarded them with questions, Amelia later wrote, "...the fact that my roadster was a cheerful canary color may have caused some of the excitement. It had been modest enough in California, but was a little outspoken for Boston, I found." Amelia owned her Gold Bug until 1929 when she sold it to a friend who worked with her in Boston at the Denison House, a haven for orphaned and immigrant children. A picture of what remains of a forgotten and forlorn junkyard Speedster appears in Val Quandt's book about Kissels. The caption reads, "This sadly deteriorated Kissel Speedster rested in a field near Lincoln, Massachusetts when the photo was taken. It was the former Amelia Earhart vehicle." Fortunately someone came to recognize the historical significance of Earhart's Gold Bug and it was rescued and restored and now resides at the Forney Museum of Transportation in Denver, Colorado.

Of course, no one really knows if Art Johnson was influenced by the exploits of Brownie, the raccoon-set, and Amelia, but since he was in his early 20's when it all transpired, it would have been hard not to be touched by the buzz that surrounded the Gold Bug. In any case, by 1954 Art's interest and imagination and a few extra dollars in his pocket led him to Crystal Falls, Michigan. Edwin Johnson (no relation to Art) was one of three brothers from Crystal Falls who acquired Kissel Kars directly from the factory in Hartford. In 1923, brother Emil began the family interest in Kissels by purchasing a 1923 Tourster. Two years later, his brother August bought a 1925 Brougham, and his flamboyant brother Edwin bought a 1925 Kissel Model 6-55 Speedster. That year Edwin and his brother Emil hopped in Emil's Tourster and began the arduous 230-mile journey south from Crystal Falls to Hartford to take delivery of Edwin's new Speedster. When they arrived in Hartford, Edwin had to wait patiently while the Speedster underwent its final prep. While Edwin was killing time, George Kissel, the President of the Kissel Motor Car Company, stepped in and asked Edwin if he was in a hurry to get back home. George told him that a big parade was about to start in Hartford and that his nephew asked if he could lead the parade with Edwin's new Kissel. Of course, Edwin agreed and thus his Speedster began its life by leading a parade in Hartford on that perfect day in 1925.

Edwin paid $2,305 ($1,795 plus $510 in options) for his Speedster, which, allowing for inflation is more than $31,000 dollars today. The engine is a 265 cubic inch inline six producing 50 horsepower, which is capable of powering the Speedster to a top speed close to 100 miles per hour. Some of the options included: hydraulic brakes ($100), Clymer pistol-grip spotlights ($20), heater ($20), nickel-plated bumpers ($50), windwings ($20), snubber ($35), clock ($15), two tire covers ($5 each), and side window curtains ($20). As it was originally painted, Edwin's Speedster was not a Gold Bug according to Brownie's 1919 definition. The body and wheels were painted an off-white cream color and the fenders were forest green. The interior was green leather and the convertible top was tan canvas.

Sunlight for Good Health?

The sun helps us make vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin, which is essential for healthy teeth and bones, heart health and better immunity. Recent studies show vitamin D may help reduce risk for certain cancers.

Very little sun exposure is needed to stimulate production of vitamin D: 10-15 minutes twice a week to the face, arms, legs or back without sunscreen is usually enough. Infants and sun-sensitive folks, however, need to stay out of direct sunlight.

After your sun time is up, apply a sunscreen with an SPF of 15 or more to prevent sun damage. Accumulation of sun exposure over years can accelerate visible skin aging and lead to skin cancer.

The best source of vitamin D is food: milk, soymilk, orange juice and some ready-to-eat cereals. Vitamin D supplements are an option to discuss with your provider.

Gary Dennis Shampo, age 66, loving dad, grandpa, son, uncle, brother, sweetheart and friend, passed away unexpectedly, yet peacefully, July 2nd, 2016. Gary was born January 4th, 1950 in Wabeno, Wisconsin, to Shirley Shampo. He lived his entire life in Wabeno, raised by his mother with some extra help from his Uncle Hank Shampo.

Starting a family in his early 20s, he is the proud dad of three daughters, Racquel (Darren) Giese, Rene Shampo, and Raletta (Steve) Ashbeck. As proud as he was of his girls, raising 3 daughters is probably the reason he lost his hair at such an early age. But he loved them all dearly.

The only thing that made him more proud than his daughters were his little "Hun Yuks", his grandkids. Brandon, Coty, Jessi, Zack, Ryan and Cassidy brought their "Papa" so much joy over the years. The "Hun-Yuks" will miss him dearly, as will his daughters and sons-in-law.

Gary started his own chainsaw repair business out of his garage on Folkman Street. The business grew into a thriving logging and trucking business. He was extremely proud of his many Peterbilts and dubbed them the "Elite Fleet". Much family time was spent washing, waxing, vacuuming and ArmorAll-ing all the trucks, especially before the "Harvest Festival" parades.

He couldn't have enjoyed the business so much if it wasn't for his loyal employees throughout the many years. His family hopes you all realize how much you meant to him.

In his retirement, when he wasn't mowing lawns, he often enjoyed time with his buddies, enjoying gallons of coffee at the Knothole Drive-In every day. Brian, Guy, Lloyd, Tom, Dale and many others joined him daily in solving the world's problems while holding down Vicky's picnic tables.

For the past 13 years, Gary took pleasure in spending time with his girlfriend, Marie Hafermann. They spent a lot of time making their yard beautiful with flowers, or sitting on the porch.

Gary is survived by girlfriend, Marie Hafermann; children, Racquel (Darren) Giese, Rene Shampo and Raletta (Steve) Ashbeck; grandchildren, Brandon, Coty, Jessi, Zack, Ryan and Cassidy; mother, Shirley Shampo; sister, Cindy (Walter) Belland; nephews, Kevin & Jordan Belland; godmother and aunt, Faye (Bob) Schmoll; and many cousins.

He was preceded in death by his uncle, "Hank" Henry Shampo; nephew and godson, Scott Belland; aunts, Millie and Rhetta and Uncle Oliver.

All services will be held at Forest Larger Parish, Presbyterian Church, 4347 N Branch Street, Wabeno. Visitation was Friday, July 8 from 4 p.m. - 7 p.m. Visitation will also be on Saturday, July 9 from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. with funeral service and luncheon to follow.

The Gary Shampo family would like to extend a special thank you to everyone at Nu Roc Community Healthcare, as well as to all our family and friends who have shown us their love and support during this difficult time.

Weber-Hill Funeral Home is assisting the family with the arrangements and online condolences may be directed to www.weberhillfuneralhome.com.

Nicolet Nursing Instructor Jennifer Labs Selected as Accreditation Site Evaluator

Nicolet College Nursing Instructor Jennifer Labs has been selected as a site evaluator for the national Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing (ACEN).

As a site evaluator, Labs will be part of a team that visits college Nursing programs to determine if they meet accreditation standards set by the commission.

A commission panel selected Labs after she underwent extensive training and a panel review of her work history and academic credentials.

"I know that serving as an ACEN site evaluator will strengthen Nicolet's Nursing program and enhance our success as we engage in future accreditation evaluations," Labs said.

In 2015, Nicolet's Nursing program was awarded its third consecutive eight-year accreditation, the maximum granted by the commission.

During evaluation visits reviewers look at the rigor and breadth of the nursing curriculum, faculty qualifications, student support services, the percentage of students who pass the state exam to become registered nurses, the department's budget, and other resources available to deliver instruction.

Being accredited ensures employers that graduates meet high standards. In addition, accreditation is required for students to be able to transfer credits to four-year campuses and receive federal financial aid.

Labs began teaching at Nicolet in 2009. She has 24 years of experience working as a nurse in numerous different departments. These include cardiac care, pediatrics, radiology, and in emergency and operating rooms, among others.

She holds a bachelor's of science degree in Nursing from Bellin College of Nursing and a master's of science degree in Nursing from Regis University.

After 27 years of enjoyable ownership, Edwin sold the Speedster in 1952 to a Crystal Falls auto salesman for $200. When the salesman came to pick up the Speedster, Edwin had a change of heart: he was sorry he sold it so cheap, perhaps because his wife nagged him about it incessantly. However, a deal was a deal, but perhaps out of spite, Edwin held back the windwings and the tail light. In any event, the car never left Edwin's property. It was left there in storage to be picked up at a later date. At this point, Edwin's Speedster was in rough condition: tattered and torn, it had no battery and the bumblebee deck had been removed years ago to be used as a scoop for snow and dirt. By 1953, however, another resident of Crystal Falls named Lawrence Wescott bought the Speedster from the salesman and restored it to a more presentable condition. He installed a new bumblebee deck that was not completely authentic; in fact, it didn't have a lid. Lawrence also had the Speedster painted bright chrome yellow with black fenders to resemble Brownie's original Gold Bug. On March 24, 1954, Art Johnson bought the Speedster from Mr. Wescott.

Art arranged the purchase by hiring Todd Webb of Crystal Falls to act as his agent. According to Art's daughter Karen, her father was a meticulous record keeper. Much as Thoreau recorded the cost of his house in Walden, Art recorded the cost of his Speedster as follows: 1925 Kissel Model #55-6907, body. Engine #55-6794, $350.00 Todd Webb commission 25.00, Parts to complete restoration 248.56, Labor by A.W. Johnson @ 1.50/hr 145.00 Labor by C.A. Johnson @ 1.50/hr 77.25 Total Cost $845.81

Once again allowing for inflation, Art's total cost would be more than $7,300 in today's dollars. As a comparison, note that in 1954 a brand new Ford two door sedan sold for $1,651. Two years later in September of 1956, Art traveled back to Crystal Falls and bought many parts salvaged from Emil's Tourster and August's Brougham, some of which he used as replacements in his Speedster. In the fall of 1962 as Art was driving his Speedster from his cottage OMAK (Olivia, Mary, Art, and Karen) on Trump Lake to Wabeno, steam started coming out from under the hood. He had to have the car towed to Wabeno and when he got it back there, Art discovered that the head gasket had blown. He never had the engine dismantled as his mechanic, his brother Wally, had passed away by that time. In 1975, Art contacted another mechanic to take a look at the Speedster, but he never showed up. Art recorded this brief history of his Speedster on March 11, 1976, remarking that it had not been running since 1962. In late 1976, Art gave his Gold Bug to his daughter Mary Magdalen Gillon who was living in Henderson, Nevada at the time.

Mary kept it until 1984 when she sold it to the Imperial Palace in Las Vegas, one of the largest hotels in the world that also houses one of the world's largest classic automobile collections. The Imperial Palace owned Art's former Gold Bug for four years until 1988 when John Farrell from Seattle, Washington bought it only to sell it the Stanley Wanless from Sandy, Utah two years later in 1991. From 1907 to 1930, Kissel delivered about 35,000 automobiles of which less than 150 are thought to exist today and of those, 37 are Speedsters. Perhaps a good indication of their value is a 2014 Bonham's auction held in Scottsdale, Arizona where a 1926 Kissel Model 6-55 Speedster sold for $209,000. According to Dale Anderson, the Director of the Wisconsin Automotive Museum in Hartford, Wisconsin, Art's Gold Bug is the only 1925 6-55 Speedster still in existence and "... is fully restored and a trophy winner. A fellow in Salt Lake City, Utah owns it." That fellow is DeWayne Ashmead from Fruit Heights, Utah who bought Art's former Speedster from Stanley Wanless in 1994. According to a 2009 Hot Rod Magazine article, Ashmead is "... a serious student of the automobile. He really, really likes cars, and he knows his stuff. A connoisseur, you can truly say, he owns around 50 cars, currently ranging from a '12 Metz roadster to a '93 Cadillac Allante. Ashmead can quote chapter and verse on the technical features and historical significance of every piece in his collection." Ashmead also owns Meadowbrook Restorations located in Kaysville, Utah north of Salt Lake City.

A connoisseur, you can truly say, he owns around 50 cars, currently ranging from a '12 Metz roadster to a '93 Cadillac Allante. Ashmead can quote chapter and verse on the technical features and historical significance of every piece in his collection." Ashmead also owns Meadowbrook Restorations located in Kaysville, Utah north of Salt Lake City.

When Ashmead had the speedster hauled to his restoration shop, it was once again in sad shape; ripped, dented, tattered, and torn, it was a mess. According to a 2008 Cars&Parts feature article, when his late father saw it, he asked, "You paid good money for that piece of junk?"

During the years from 1995 to 1996, however, Art's former Speedster underwent a concours restoration, which is essentially an unconstrained reconstruction to 100-point perfection. Ashmead had the Speedster restored to its original color; that is, the body and wheels are painted the original off-white cream color with the fenders painted forest green. Strictly speaking it is no longer a gold Gold Bug, but it is considered perfect and that perfection is the result of hundreds of hours of skilled, painstaking artisanship.

Concours d'Elegance is French for the competition of elegance (a gathering of prestigious cars). The cars on display at these shows are not only fully restored, but their fit and finish is expected to surpass the condition they were in when they rolled off the assembly line. Contestants and their cars can only enter a concours event if they are invited to do so, and once a car has been in competition, it cannot compete again in that class for up to 10 years.

In general, automobiles are judged for their "historical accuracy, their technical merit and their style." Each car starts out by being assessed by a Class Judge who evaluates the originality and authenticity of the vehicle. A perfect score is 100 points, and the vehicle which comes closest to that score in its class is awarded First in Class. Once a car wins the First in Class award, it may compete against other class winners for Best of Show awarded by a second round of Honorary judges. Honorary judges evaluate the design, style, and elegance of the vehicle. Each Honorary Judge independently marks a ballot. The Best of Show award goes to the vehicle receiving the most votes.

After the restoration, the Speedster's first show was in 1996 at the Meadow Brook Concours d'Elegance in Detroit, Michigan where it won the Michigan Centennial of Automobile Award.

"My dad flew to Michigan just to see the Kissel Speedster in its world debut," Ashmead said, recalling the award as the genesis for naming his restoration shop Meadowbrook. According to Lynn Kissel, the owner of a 1924 Gold Bug he calls Bugsby, Ashmead's Speedster "... is considered something of a role model by others interested in the restoration of Kissels. It was a 100-point winner at the CCA (Classic Car Club of America) 1998 Spring Grand Classic."

The CCA defines a Classic as a fine or distinctive automobile produced between 1925 and 1948 that was high-priced when new and built in limited quantities. In a 2007 interview in Hemmings Magazine, Ashmead said, "I have three criteria I look for in a car. First, it has to be a sports car. Second, it has to be something rare, unique, and unusual. Finally, I have to like it."

Fortunately, Art's Speedster fit those criteria to a T. From 1996 through 2010, Ashmead has shown his Kissel in over 35 car shows. One notable show took place in August of 2006 at the Milwaukee Masterpiece Concours d'Elegance, where his Speedster was awarded both First in Class and Best of Show.

A few years later in September of 2010, ten of the remaining 37 Gold Bugs in the world swarmed to the Henry Ford Old Car Festival in Dearborn, Michigan for a once in a lifetime display of classic elegance. As you might guess, one of those ten very rare and distinctive Speedsters used to whiz around Trump Lake and the streets of Wabeno. Although it took 88 years and eight owners in addition to Art to roll up a little over 13,000 miles on the bug's odometer, you can be sure that every one of those miles yielded at least 10 smiles per mile.

True to its heritage, this dapper little Gold Bug continues to lead the parade.

51 people died in Wisconsin traffic crashes in June

In June, 51 people died in Wisconsin traffic crashes. It was the fourth safest month of June in terms of traffic deaths since the end of World War II, according to preliminary statistics from the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT). The safest month of June occurred last year with 44 fatalities, and the deadliest month of June was in 1956 with 115 fatalities.

Traffic fatalities last month were seven more than June 2015, but two fewer than the five-year average for the month of June.

Although fatalities moderated last month, traffic deaths in Wisconsin through June 30 were still about 9 percent higher than the same period last year. A total of 273 people have died in crashes this year, including 26 motorcycle operators, two motorcycle passengers, 24 pedestrians, and five bicyclists. Traffic deaths through the end of June were 22 more than the same period last year and 37 more than the five-year average.

"July has started out to be a deadly month on Wisconsin roads. During the holiday weekend from Friday evening, July 1, to midnight on July 4, there were 10 traffic fatalities in Wisconsin," says David Pabst, director of the WisDOT Bureau of Transportation Safety. "During summer months when traffic fatalities generally spike because of more vehicles on the road traveling at higher speeds, exceeding the posted speed limit is inherently dangerous. Driving just 5 mph over the limit puts drivers, their passengers and everyone else on the road at a greater risk of a serious crash. Stopping distances increase and reaction time decreases at higher speeds. Last year, speed-related crashes killed 155 people and injured more than 7,600. We are urging all motorists to slow down especially in areas with heavy traffic and road construction work zones."

The film "Dream On" to be shown at ArtStart in Rhinelander

The League of Women Voters of the Northwoods hosts a special screening of Dream On, a new film about the state of the American Dream, on Thursday, July 14, at 7 p.m. at ArtStart in Rhinelander. Following the film will be an audience discussion.

Are you working two jobs and still not getting ahead? Have you lost your home or had to move during this recession?

Are you struggling to make ends meet? Are you feeling cheated?

If so, you are not alone, and the documentary Dream On, which will air later this year on PBS, will speak to you.

Millions of Americans are struggling to make ends meet. Dream On features comedian John Fugelsang as he speaks with fast-food workers and retirees, prisoners and entrepreneurs, undocumented immigrants and community organizers about their hopes, dreams, and daily struggles. Dream On explores whether the optimistic spirit of the American Dream is alive and well in the 21st century. Reviving the American Dream has now become one of the most critical challenges facing our nation.

Director Roger Weisberg says: "Most Americans believe that if you work full time, you should not be poor. Today we are facing the problem of rising income inequality and declining social mobility. We made this documentary because we wanted to find new reasons to hope. The old adage-that hard work will lead to prosperity may no longer be true for the majority of Americans. Yet, most of the people I met on this journey still believed in the dream, even when their daily struggles made it feel impossibly out of reach."

The League of Women Voters, a nonpartisan political organization, encourages the informed and active participation of citizens in government works to increase understanding of major public policy issues and influences public policy through education and advocacy. We are political, but we do not support or oppose any political party or candidate.

For more information on the showing please contact the LWNOW at information@lwnow.org. For information or directions to ArtStart, visit artstartrhinelander.org.
