Antigo, Auctioneer competes and wins "Wisconsin State Auctioneer Championship"

In Milwaukee, WI. On Aug. 7th Kathy Packard (WAA) Wisconsin Auctioneer Association auction professional recently took part in the 2018 Wisconsin Auctioneers State Bid Calling Championship, competing in a field of some of the best auctioneers in the state.

Packard finishes as reigning champion for the 2018 Wisconsin State Auctioneer bid calling contest. A big win for her and quite an accomplishment. She will go on to the International Auctioneers association championship in New Orleans, July of 2019, where she will compete against auctioneers from all over the world for the title of IAC Champion.

WAA auctioneer competitors are judged on their presentation, chant, voice timbre, body language, and other performance elements of effective auctioneering. Final participants are also judged on their answers of interview questions. The revered competition was held in a two-day event in January at the Wisconsin Auctioneer Association convention and the finalists then head to the WI State Fair in August. This is a live auction in the Case IH Colosseum, in front of approximately 200+ live attendees, with it steaming live on FaceBook to Thousands.

Les & Donna Schramm honored at dedication of City Beach kitchen

By Mike Monte

On Monday evening, a crowd of people gathered at the Crandon City Beach to eat a very nice meal and dedicate the new stainless steel equipped kitchen at the beach.

A plaque that was furnished by the Lake Metonga Association was formally presented by Crandon Mayor Dennis Rosa to Les Schramm and his late wife, Donna. The plaque reads:

"In grateful recognition for their many years of exceptional volunteerism and dedicated service to keeping Lake Metonga a pristine natural resource for generations to come."

The plaque will be displayed in the new beach kitchen. Les addressed the crowd in the pavilion and said the Lake Metonga Association was privileged to support and fund a part of this restoration, along with the Crandon Lions. He pointed out that the kitchen will serve at the many Lions events that "...reach out to the community, to tourists and all who come to enjoy this pristine lake."

Les shared his memories of coming to Lake Metonga with wife Donna with their kids, Kathy and Rick. He said it started when they would visit Donna's brother, Chuck Roland, who had a cabin on Strawberry Bluff.

According to Les, it was about 1974 when Chuck called to tell them a cottage was for sale just down the hill from his place. A Dr. Kendall, from Merrill, owned the cabin. He was married to a Phillipino girl who disliked cold winters, so they decided to spend winters in Arizona.

Les remembered the hand pump in the kitchen sink, the outhouse and battling bats.

Les and Donna became permanent residents in 1996, and they joined the Lake Metonga Association in 1998. Through the years, he served two terms as president of the association, and served on the board until 2018.

He pointed out that he held the positions, but Donna was actually part of his positions. He said Donna served and worked as hard as he did on projects. She was his advisor, editor, secretary and partner.

In those years, Metonga did have problems. There was the rusty crayfish invasion, and then there was the invasive species that could have ruined the lake if it wasn't for the intervention of the association and the hard work of the Schramms. Eurasian milfoil is a tough plant to fight, but RT Krueger identified it in the lake and the fight began.

The White Hummingbird

This picture of a white hummingbird was taken by Peggy Roberts in her feeder near Argonne. The bird is not an albino, as it does have black eyes. It is just one of those flukes of nature that happens for no obvious reason.

Prepare now to exhibit at the Forest County Fair!

Although we started the spring cold and wet, and we are now in the middle of a dry spell, somehow we still managed to end up about two weeks ahead of our normal growing season.

The Forest County Agricultural Society would like to remind you that now is the perfect time to pickup a free copy of the fair entry books. They have been placed out around the county at libraries, gas stations, banks, and dining spots. The book contains step-by-step procedures for both the open and 4-H divisions (any Boy or Girl Scout groups, tribal or civic youth groups, and religious youth groups can enter.)

No matter if you enjoy gardening, flowers, animals, artwork, sewing, quilting, canning, photography or baking, there is something for your interests.

If you are more comfortable using a computer, you can get the same information by going to Facebook at the Forest County Fair.com, and the UWEX has a link as well.

The Fair is September 6-9. Entry forms need to be returned by August 30th. Come enjoy the carnival rides, fair foods, games and family fun. We even have an old-fashioned horse pulling contest. Trick riders, a horse show and other entertainment has been planned.

So, get entered! Take home a blue ribbon you can be proud of and win some prize money too!

One of the battles he remembered was with the IRS, when he tried to get 501C3 status for the association. Eventually, after six months, the government cooperated, and the association was granted the non-profit status. In the meantime, the milfoil had to be fought. Today, Les estimates that there is probably about 50 to 60 acres of milfoil in the lake, but without the efforts to control this invasive, there would be immense beds of the plant.

Les estimates that about a quarter million dollars has been spent controlling the milfoil. Due to Les and Donna writing grants available because of the non-profit status, about 75% of the cost of abatement was paid by grants. The Lake Metonga Association paid the balance with their fundraising activities.

In addition to grant writing, the busy couple compiled a newsletter for the association and a power point presentation for educating the public on the milfoil problem affecting Metonga and other area lakes.

With Donna's passing some three years ago, Les has slowed down. He was very happy to see her name on the plaque. He said he truly loved her and misses her a great deal. These days he is visiting his kids and doing some traveling. He is confident that passing his work on to Gary Mueller and other members of the association, the good work of the Lake Metonga Association will carry on.

The new kitchen at the Crandon beach will work for events for many years to come. The Crandon Lions efforts on the project have been helped with the donation from the Donna Schramm Memorial Fund. The plaque will serve as a reminder to all who follow that others made a big effort to keep Lake Metonga healthy and provide a nice public facility.

Retirees stay active, engaged with new Nicolet College Learning in Retirement offerings

The Pirate Ship cruise on the Eagle River Chain

Nicolet College's Learning in Retirement program will launch its Fall Session Thursday, September 6, with its annual Kick-Off social and dinner starting at 4:30 p.m. in the Lakeside Center on Nicolet's Rhinelander Campus.

New members are encouraged to join and take part in the Kick-Off as well as any of the record 46 different educational offerings available September through December.

"This is a great way for active retirees to meet new people and learn new things," said Brenda Peltier, Learning in Retirement (LIR) coordinator. "The whole point is to have fun and stay active. Every opportunity we offer is designed to do exactly that."

Annual membership is $45 per person, which is good July 1 to June 30. Individuals can join at any time during the year.

The Fall Kick-Off will start with a cash bar social at 4:30 followed at 5 p.m. with the welcome, introductions, and LIR updates. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m. with a choice of braised pork loin with apple cider glaze or turkey scaloppini with cranberry butter. Vegetables, rolls, dessert, and beverages will also be served.

Paco Fralick will provide musical entertainment.

Cost for dinner is $16 for members and $18 for guests. Registrations must be received by Thursday, Aug. 30.

Upcoming offerings in the 2018 Fall Session include the popular Pirate Ship Cruise on the Eagle River Chain of Lakes. Last year this filled up fast so this year the LIR is offering two different voyages on the Eagle River Chain. Both are on Thursday, September 13, with one departing at 10 a.m. and the other at 1 p.m. from Eagle River Pirates, 1998 N. Hwy. 45 in Eagle River. The cost for the Pirate Ship Cruise is an additional $18 for members.

Other notable sessions running September through December include:

- Dr. Zorba Paster presentation at 2 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 30, in the Nicolet College Theatre. Join this popular, entertaining and informative Wisconsin Public Radio host as he provides health and fitness tips for a full and healthy life. This event is free and open to the public.

- A tour of the Birds in Art Exhibit at 1 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 25, at the Leigh Yawkey Woodson Art Museum in Wausau. The experience will include a one-hour guided tour of the museum, one of only two in the country to receive the National Medal of Arts in 2017, along with a 30-minute hands-on experience.

- Ced's Nature Series. On eight consecutive Wednesdays at 9:30 a.m., Sept. 12 to Oct 31, local experts and specialists will present on a wide variety of topics that include the lives of osprey in the Northwoods and the status of lake sturgeon in Wisconsin.

- The Inner Workings of the U.S. State Department Wednesday, Oct. 3. Retired Special Agent Kim Starke of the Bureau of Diplomatic Services will provide an insider's look into U.S. diplomacy from the days when relations rested in the hands of individual Ambassadors to now when 24-hour communication is the norm.

- Tours of iconic Northwoods enterprises WXPR Public Radio studios Friday, Oct. 5, or Monday, Nov. 5, and the Golden Harvest Market Thursday, Oct. 25.

For a complete list of upcoming LIR offerings and more information about the organization, visit nicoletcollege.edu/lir or call (715) 365-4491, 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4491; TTY 1-800-947-3529 or 711 relay.

Fitting the Pieces Together with Medicare and Long Term Care: Planning my Future Needs

Submitted by: Kathy O'Melia

The Aging and Disability Resource Center of the Northwoods (ADRC) is proud to sponsor two FREE interactive programs titled "Fitting the Pieces Together with Medicare" and "Long Term Care: Planning my Future Needs!" on Tuesday, August 28, 2018. You will have the rare opportunity to have Steve Shapiro, a Medigap Insurance Counselor with State government putting on both programs in Crandon. Steve has many years of experience providing insurance counseling to Wisconsin consumers. Steve is an advocate for consumers who seek insurance expertise through the Medigap Helpline and the Wisconsin SHIP programs, both of which are operated by the State of Wisconsin Board on Aging and Long-Term Care.

"Fitting the Pieces Together with Medicare" will explain the many parts of Medicare and insurance products that are available to help pay Medicare out of pocket costs and how they apply to you. This presentation will be particularly helpful in answering questions for those individuals who will be starting Medicare in the next year or for those individuals who are having a hard time with Medicare expenses.

During the "Long Term Care: Planning my Future Needs" program you will learn about the many ways you can receive Long-Term Care Services in Wisconsin and insurance products that are available to help pay Long-Term Care costs and how they apply to you.

There will be ample time for questions at both programs. The more you know, the better able you will be to choose solutions that help you plan to meet both your Medicare insurance and Long-Term Care needs!

Wisconsin manufacturers hit by trade policies discuss plight with Ron Johnson

Ralph Hardt of Manitowoc-based Jagemann Stamping Co. came to the Federal Courthouse in Milwaukee Monday to tell Republican U.S. Sen. Ron Johnson exactly how tariffs are hitting his bottom line.

Hardt, the firm's president, said a Canadian customer was going to give Jagemann a $3 million project to produce parts for automotive but because of an increase in steel prices in the U.S., the job went to a Korean business.

"The longer this goes on, the increased possibility we'll lose more new projects," Hardt said

Johnson convened a group of 15 Wisconsin business leaders from the farming, food processing and manufacturing sectors to discuss President Donald Trump's trade policies and the nascent trade war.

The Trump administration imposed tariffs on foreign-made aluminum and steel, igniting retaliatory measures by America's trading partners.

"We're being hit inbound and outbound on our products," said Doug Reigle, vice president for supply chain management at Kewaskum-based Regal Ware Inc. Brad Kremer, a farmer from Pittsfield, said he lost $60,000 in the past 30 days because of a drop in soybean prices after China announced tariffs against U.S. soybeans.

Even though Kremer said he supports Trump trying to level the playing field on trade with China, the tariffs are hurting.

"Farmers aren't going to buy this year," he said. "Our checkbooks are closed."

Austin Ramirez, chief executive of Waukesha-based Husco International, an engineering and manufacturing firm, said tariffs are costing "us a fortune .. about $1 million a month in impact."

"Husco is far from the largest company in Wisconsin, however, last year we were the largest contributor to Wisconsin charities in the state," he added. Ramirez said tariffs will not only impact business but also communities.

Ramirez said he had around "100 jobs worth of manufacturing in the U.S." to support exports and those jobs are now at risk.

Cindy Brown, president of Chippewa Valley Bean Co., said her family began farming in the state in 1858, and she said "of all government interactions, this is absolutely the worst. It totally takes us out of the European market."

Brown said 60% of the firm's export business goes into the European Union, accounting for $25 million in sales. But now that business is being hurt by tariffs, she said.

Johnson said there are people who are concerned that a trade war will "get out of control."

"You've heard already of the damage being done," he said.

Johnson said he held the discussion to deliver the stories to Trump and Commerce Secretary Wilbur Ross and trade negotiators "so they understand that there is some real damage being done now. They say there's going to be short-term pain for long-term gain, fine, but they need to understand some of this damage is going to be permanent."

Johnson said he was hopeful that the Trump administration would conclude trade deals.

Johnson said the businesses provided details of what they're facing and he added, "Houston, we've got a problem."

For Old Time's Sake School Days

The kids will be starting school very soon, and this picture is from school days long past, as is the school. This picture is, we think, the Hiles faculty when it was a school filled with kids. We don't know who they are, except we do know that the small lady, fourth from left is Priscilla Samz, wife of Russell Samz, from Argonne. The year is possibly 1926.

Jennifer Vogler, District Administrator, reported the following: I am proud of the success we have had this school year! We have had students increase academic knowledge and success due to the work being done each day by our faculty members! They did a great job reviewing our 2017-2018 goals during our data retreat. The discussions had while developing our new goals for the 2018-2019 school year were outstanding!

The board met on Wednesday, May 30. As a group we are developing goals and learning about our roles and responsibilities. As part of the growing process the board has asked that I develop a district wide team with the purpose to help improve the district culture. The team members will help create improvement goals as an effort to build a positive, district wide culture. This will help address the great things we are accomplishing as a district and the areas we need to improve. Our first meeting took place on Monday, June 4. We had a great discussion during our meeting. We discussed community involvement, moving forward and communication. We also had a conversation regarding our district mission, vision, and philosophy. A second meeting has been scheduled.

Our summer math curriculum work days have been scheduled for August. Tammy from CESA 8 will be assisting us with this process. Our new teachers will be invited to join these professional development days.

Data goals for AGR for next year:

1. Standardize measurements for goals. Use all STAR and/or F&P
2. Transition to a growth goal that looks at current level of performance and moves students at an appropriate rate. These goals are more meaningful and show how much a student has gone from the start to the finish. STAR uses a Student Growth Percentile to calculate this figure.

4-6 Grade At or above the 40%tile; this is the district benchmark.

4th- 48%	4th-70%
5th- 42%	5th-50%
6th- 15%	6th-29%

All public housing goes smoke-free on July 30, 2018

Starting Monday July 30 all public housing authorities became smoke-free due to a rule passed by the U.S Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The rule instructs all public housing authorities to implement a smoke-free policy that includes all living units and indoor common areas in public housing and public housing administrative buildings. Local Health advocates from Northwood's Tobacco-Free Coalition and The Forest County Health Department are celebrating the change.

The Forest County Health Department is very excited for the new Policy to take effect and for the positive health outcomes that will come out of it. Housing and public health go hand-in-hand. Part of HUD's mission is to promote housing and create healthy communities. Second hand smoke is one of the leading causes of asthma and other respiratory diseases for children-diseases that disproportionately affect families living in public housing. Asthma not only robs children of their breath but it's one of the top reasons for why children miss school, robbing them of precious learning time. Asthma can also lead to expensive emergency room visits-a financial burden on parents already coping with the emotional toll of caring for their sick child.

Exposure to second hand smoke can also cause sudden infant death syndrome and respiratory symptoms such as cough and wheeze, middle ear infections, slowed lung growth, reduced lung function in children, and increased risk of stroke in adults. The Forest County Health Department supports this change because over 50% of nonsmokers are exposed to second hand smoke. Second hand smoke contains more than 70 substances known to cause cancer and over 7000 chemicals. 30%-60% of air leaving an apartment may leak into adjacent apartments resulting in recycled air flow. Eliminating smoking in indoor spaces is the only way to protect nonsmokers from exposure to secondhand smoke.

While the HUD rule doesn't require people who smoke to quit, it does present them with a great opportunity to give up tobacco for good. Tobacco users who are ready to quit can call the Wisconsin Tobacco Quit Line at 1-800-QUIT NOW (784-8669) to receive free help. Medicaid covers the cost of many quit smoking medications and we encourage you to talk to your doctor for coverage information.

The Forest County Health Department in conjunction with the Northwood's Tobacco-Free Coalition are here to help property managers with the transition to smoke-free housing by providing signage, tips and other resources. Please call the Forest County Health Department at 715-478-3371 for more information.

Our Thanks

The family of Aline Fay Brokmeier would like to express their heartfelt gratitude to everyone who called, sent cards and memorials, sent flowers, or who lifted us up in their prayers after Aline's unexpected illness and sudden death. We had hoped we would have at least a few months more with Aline. The time from her diagnosis to her death was only a week.

Aline brought a sparkle to this world in her own unique way. Although she only lived for 61 years, she managed to pack a lot of adventure into those years. She is missed.

Crafters & vendors wanted for Oktoberfest

The Crooked Lake/Mountain Lions Club is sponsoring the ninth annual Oktoberfest at the Crooked Lake Community Center on Saturday, October 13th. For only $10 a space, crafters can sell their goods in an 8 X 10 outside space.

Vendors will need to supply their own tables, etc. There are only twelve spaces available so people attending the Oktoberfest will have time to check out all the displays. On a nice sunny fall day as many as 250 people will walk through the beer garden and browse at the crafts that are for sale.

The event includes a meat raffle, hay rides through the area, pumpkins for kids to decorate, and music, all topped off with a delicious meal of roasted pig and German side dishes.

For more information and to reserve your craft space, please contact Cassie at (715) 276-6196.

THANK YOU

A big thanks to all the people and businesses and the ladies that collected the donations. You all helped make Argonne Fire Department Family Fun Day a huge success.

Forest County Aging Dept. Strong Bodies classes will begin Sept. 10th.

Healthy aging is all about quality of life. No matter how old you are, you do not have to get weaker with age. Strength training can help you stay vital, strong and independent throughout your life. The Strong Bodies Program is a 12-week, research-based exercise program for all ages of men and women. Each class includes progressive weight training, flexibility, and balance activities. Benefits from taking part in a program of strength training, which have been shown by research, include maintaining bone density, reducing falls, improving arthritis symptoms, increasing flexibility, and increasing strength. In addition, mental health benefits include improved mood and attitude, decreased depression, sleeping more soundly, increased energy levels and enjoyment of a new circle of friends.

Strong Bodies classes, both Advanced and Basic, are offered in Crandon as well as Laona. Strong Bodies Basic is intended for new participants or for those who are not interested in an Advanced session. A Basic session will be held at 9:00 am on Tuesdays and Thursdays, starting September 10 to December 4, 2018 at the Crandon Public Library, Lower Level. Strong Bodies Advanced is intended for those who have participated in Strong Bodies for at least one twelve-week session with good attendance within the last calendar year. Exercises in the Advanced class will add variety but difficulty can also be added for those who are working at a higher level of weight and are seeking challenges. Participants in the Advanced program will, as a group, determine the exercises used.

A Strong Bodies class that will be a mixture of Basic and Advanced, based on ability as well as the comfort level of participants, will take place in Laona at 10 am on Mondays and Wednesdays, starting September 10 to November 28, 2018, at the Laona Community Building. There will also be a Strong Bodies Advanced session in Crandon at 1 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays, starting September 10 to November 28, 2018, at the Crandon Public Library, Lower Level. There is no charge to participants for any of these sessions and weights will be provided. To begin the enrollment process, contact the Forest County Health Department at 715-478-3371.

THANK YOU!

The Crandon Lions Club members thank Gary Mueller, president, and all members of the Lake

Baldwin Joins legislation honoring the military service of "Hello Girls"

Congressional Gold Medal Act Would be Awarded to Women Telephone Operators of WWI

WASHINGTON, D.C. - U.S. Senator Tammy Baldwin today cosponsored bipartisan legislation honoring the groundbreaking service of the women who connected American and French forces on the front lines during World War I. The Hello Girls Congressional Gold Medal Act will award the women of the U.S. Army Signal Corps, dubbed the 'Hello Girls,' with the Congressional Gold Medal for their service and subsequent 60 year fight to be recognized as veterans.

"The 223 women who served in the U.S. Army Signal Corps during the first world war, including two Wisconsinites, connected more than 26 million calls between military officers on the frontlines, and played an integral role in the war effort," said Senator Baldwin. "I'm so proud to join this bipartisan effort to honor the brave, trailblazing women who stepped up to serve their country, and to acknowledge their decades-long fight to be given the recognition they deserve."

Women were recruited after male infantrymen struggled to connect calls quickly or communicate with their French counterparts. The bilingual female telephone operators served at military headquarters and command outposts in the field alongside the American Expeditionary Forces in France. Despite their outstanding service and the military oath they took, they were denied veteran status and benefits when they returned home. In 1977, 60 years after the first Hello Girls took the Army oath, Congress passed legislation to retroactively acknowledge the military service of the women of the U.S. Army Signal Corps.

A recent documentary by Wisconsin filmmaker Jim Theres told the story of the "Hello Girls," which included two Wisconsinites - Martina Heynen (Green Bay) and Hildegard Van Brunt Abbott (Milwaukee) who both sailed to France in the second group of phone operators in April 1918.

The legislation was first introduced by Senators Jon Tester (D-MT) and Dean Heller (R-NV).

You can tell when the chipmunks are used to being fed!
Good job Luna!

For Old Time's Sake School Days

The year is possibly 1926, as the banner on the stage in the photo below says 1926. This is a photo of the Hiles gym and auditorium, which was located in the middle of the frame schoolhouse.

Make it a healthy school year

It won't be long before kids head back to the classroom for the start of another school year. While you need to make sure your child has all the school supplies they need to succeed, it's just as important to make sure they have a healthy school year.

Here are some tips to help your child stay healthy to get the school year off on the right start.

1. Wash away the germs. Encourage your child to wash their hands often. Whether it's soap and water or hand sanitizer, clean hands go a long way in reducing the spread of germs and infectious diseases.
2. Don't skip the shots. Before your child walks into the classroom, make sure their immunizations are up to date. And don't forget about the flu. It is recommended that all school-age children get the flu vaccine, unless they have an allergy to the vaccine or a health problem that will cause complications from the vaccine.
3. Visit the doctor. A check-up is a wonderful way to make sure your child's school year gets off to a healthy start. It's also an opportunity to get a physical for your child, which is usually required for kids who will be playing a sport.
4. Getting sleep schedules back on track. Before they head back to classroom, get your kids back on their school year sleep schedule. Start readjusting bedtimes several days out so children are hitting the pillow earlier. And encourage them to cut back on playing games and watching their favorite programs in the evening.
5. Healthy food = good health. A healthy diet is the fuel children need to succeed in the classroom. Make sure you child is eating whole grains, fruits, vegetables, lean meats and foods low that are low in fat and rich in protein, such as fish, eggs and beans.

The start of a new school year is exciting, but it can also be a little scary for some children. It's a big shift from summer's freedom to the measured routines of school and sometimes that can build up in to big, emotional outbursts and other classic signs of anxiety.

Here are some additional tips to ease back to school anxiety for children:

1. Listen to your child Be available and give your child your undivided attention to express his/her feelings or fears. Tell them it's normal to experience these things.
2. Focus on the positive aspects of going to school such as being with friends, learning a favorite subject and playing at recess. Talk through previous triumphs and remind them of their own successes with previous situations.
3. Pay attention to your behavior Kids often feed off the anxiety and energy they sense in the adults around them. That's why it's important that you remain calm and positive. The more confidence and comfort you can model, the more your child will understand there is no need to worry.
4. Get back into a routine A week or two before school, start preparing your child for the upcoming transition by getting back into school year routines like realistic bedtimes and selecting tomorrow's clothes.
5. Be patient Erasing anxiety can take time and each day can bring new challenges. Be patient with your child and with yourself, there isn't a one-size-fits-all solution to childhood anxiety.

Nicolet Players auditions Sept. 10, 11 for Over the River and Through the Woods

The Nicolet Players community theater troupe will hold auditions Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 10 and 11, for upcoming productions of the rambunctious comedy Over the River and Through the Woods.

The play has roles for six individuals: a man and a woman in their late 20s and four grandparents.

The story swirls around carefree Nick, a single, Italian-American guy from New Jersey.

When his parents retire to Florida, Nick settles into the routine of staying close to family by having dinner every Sunday with his grandparents. Then one day the company he works for offers him his dream job as a marketing executive. The catch: it's across the country in Seattle.

The news doesn't sit well at all with the grandparents and they quickly devise a scheme and play matchmaker by inviting the lovely – and single – Caitlin O'Hare over for Sunday dinner.

"This is when things get crazy and comedy ensues as the grandparents pull out all the stops and do everything they can to make the two a romantic couple with hopes Nick will stay in New Jersey," said Nicolet College Theatre Director Jim Nuttall.

Written by Joe DiPietro, the acclaimed play enjoyed a run of more than 800 performances over two years at the esteemed John Houseman Theatre in New York City.

Nuttall noted that actors eyeing a grandparent part do not need to be grandparent age. "With makeup we can age most people over 40 to look the part," he said

As always, everyone is welcome to audition. Those interested do not need any acting experience and they do not need to be Nicolet students. No preparation is required, but actors are typically better prepared if they have read the script beforehand, Nuttall added. Scripts are available for a three-day checkout from the Richard J. Brown Library, located in the Lakeside Center on the Nicolet Campus.

Cast members will need to be available Sept. 12 to Nov. 1 for rehearsals, which run from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. typically about four nights a week. Performances are scheduled for Nov. 2 to 4 and Nov. 8 to 11.

Anyone with questions can contact Nuttall at (715) 365-4476, or by email at jnuttall@nicoletcollege.edu.
