Conservation Corner

Aquatic Invasive Species Project

Conservation Corner is a regular article produced by the Forest County Land & Water Conservation Department. For more information contact Al Murray, Land & Water Resources Technician at 715-478-1387 or by e-mail at lcc@co.forest.wi.us.

Whether they come in ballast water, on the hulls of recreation boats or from the water of an angler's bait bucket, many non-native species such as rusty crawfish, zebra mussels, Eurasian water milfoil, and spiny water flea have found their way into Forest County's waterways. Their presence can cause severe damage to local ecosystems, industry and tourism. As part of a strong partnership of public and private stakeholders Forest County Land Conservation is committed to an effective strategy of prevention, containment and control.

At the last meeting of the Land Conservation Committee, a grant application was approved to partner with Lincoln County, Langlade County and Lumberjack Resource and Development Council to re-establish a Tri-County AIS Coordinator to provide assistance across the three county area.

The shared application increases the scope of the project and makes the grant application more competitive on the State scale. Forest, Langlade & Lincoln Counties encompass 2,392 lakes, 1,891 miles of rivers/streams, many flowages and more than 300 public access points. Hopes are for grant funding of a full-time coordinator (with benefits) who will assist the three counties, residents, and local lake associations in many types of AIS projects with a special focus on education and identification of AIS issues. At this time, we are looking for letters of commitment and support from towns, residents, lake associations, and lake user groups to locate the 25% required in-kind or cash cost share. In total we need to locate approximately $27,000 of cost share for the grant.

Much work already completed by groups in their current effort can be utilized as cost share. As an example, the department just assisted the Forest County Association of Lakes (FCAL) with their letter of support. We found that work completed annually by the association will provide over $13,000 toward the required match. FCAL also voted to donate $3000 toward the grant match if the grant is successful. Good job FCAL!

Please contact our office if you or your group would like to support the AIS grant. More support for the grant will result in higher ranking of the grant and give us a better chance of getting funding. We would like to show double the amount required.

Also, soon to come on the Land Conservation web tab will be an "Aquatic Invasive Species Tab" which will provide information for water resource users. The Land Conservation tab changes each week with more information for the users of our resources, take a look.

Forest County Jail/Courthouse Committee met on Sept. 17

By Mike Monte

The full building committee for the jail/courthouse renovation met on September 20th in the courthouse. It was a full committee meeting with the citizen members of the committee in attendance. Wendel Architect David Cihaskie was also in attendance, along with another member of his firm that has designed jails.

Steve Bunda, County Board member from the Town of Lincoln, is the chair of this committee. Bunda made an effort to keep the meeting on track. With a subject this large, it is easy to have comments made by those attending that veer off the subject, and Bunda made an effort to discuss topics completely before changing to another. Bunda commented, "The intent is to get dialogue during the meeting, not after the meeting."

One of the major problems with the jail, which is actually the main priority with this building project, is the amount of inmates that periodically fill the jail to capacity, and the combination of the jailer, who also has to answer the outside line to the office as well as handle problems with the inmates. There is also a problem with enough space for female inmates.

On one of the proposed plans, the jail would have been remodeled, but it would have taken two jailers working two separate pods to oversee the inmates. Sheriff Dennee spoke of a jail design they observed when touring the Oconto County Jail, where one pod oversaw the whole range of inmates. More exploration of this plan is to be made and to see if it can be incorporated into the plan for the Forest County facility.

Other items discussed was having the courtroom fastened to the existing jail. It was brought out that the main issue at this point is the jail and a secure courtroom, along with offices for the judge, jury room etc. This would remove any security risk about moving prisoners from the jail to the courthouse and the old court room. This addition would also add some needed cells for peak times in the prisoner population.

Rod Chitko passed out a proposed addition to the west side of the existing jail that would fit into the 58 foot wide space that now exists between the jail and the north addition to the courthouse, still leaving an alleyway between the two buildings for service. There would also be cells added to the existing jail under this plan.

Architect Cihaskie said that he thought 15,000 to 20,000 square feet were needed to house a court room, the offices and child support. Bunda questioned why child support would have to be in the new addition, and said that we should start with the minimum need for this project.

During the meeting, Jailer Josh Bradley mentioned a 2016 quote that was given to modernize the

The Cowboys are back! The Lumberjack Steam Train will be robbed again!

It is that time of year again. The leaves are turning nicely, the hot and humid weather is gone, and the Lumberjack Steam Train in Laona, Wisconsin, will be making its last runs of the season, finishing up the Fall Festival on Saturday, September 29. But, it is strongly rumored that the Cowboys will be there.

You can be sure, they will rob every run of the Lumberjack Steam Train, riding their horses, shooting their old time guns in the air, and looking for that stash of gold that is rumored to be on the train! In spite of what the Marshall and his deputies do to stop the robberies, they always seem to succeed! Even the preacher can't talk them out of their life of banditry, and lovely ladies in vintage dress never seem to curtail their lawless ways!

If you would like to be witness to this spectacle of beautiful horses and reckless cowboys, you had better be in Laona on Saturday, September 29. Just don't wear expensive jewelry, and you had better put your cash in your boot.

Once you get to the Camp 5 Museum Complex, you can feel safe from these cowboy bandits. You might even find they are good company when you enjoy lunch in the Choo Choo Hut Restaurant or shop for souvenirs, fudge or ice cream in the Cracker Barrel store. A trip on the Green Treasure Forest Tour is both scenic and educational, and kids and adults alike enjoy the friendly animals in the Petting Zoo.

Don't forget to visit the excellent Logging Museum that will give you insight into the early logging and saw milling days of northern Wisconsin. There is an impressive array of vintage equipment and photographs.

Do you lack direction? You can sharpen your skills at finding your direction in the fabulous corn maze! It is a great photo opportunity for drone enthusiasts, and they will be glad to display your photos on their website.

Get ready for Halloween and spooky things by visiting the Haunted Slaughterhouse. You might want to wear a hat to keep your hair from standing on end!

If you would like to attend a good, old-fashioned Barn Dance, stick around for awhile. The band "FM Rodeo" will be playing some good old foot-stomping and swing your partner music starting at 7:00 p.m. until 11:00 p.m. in the big barn. You never know, you might get in a dance with one of the Cowboys!

The 1916 Vulcan Lumberjack Steam Train will be leaving the depot for Camp 5 and the Cowboys at 9:00 a.m., and the train will leave every 45 minutes, with the last run at 2:15 p.m. The depot is on Hwy 8, on Laona's west side.

To reserve a spot on the train, call 715-674-3414. To find out more about this special day, visit their website at lumberjacksteamtrain.com.

They ride fast horses and are heavily armed. They always seem to get away, even when they rob every train!

Dear Representative Mursau,

This week I attended a meeting in Crandon that was hosted by the Chamber of Commerce. The auditor for the Wisconsin Gaming Commission was the speaker. The message he came to Forest County to deliver was that most of the charitable fundraising going on here is illegal. The second part of the message was that Forest County is now on the Gaming Commission's radar, and future violations will be prosecuted with the minimum sentence being a $1,000 fine and 30 days in jail.

The types of fundraising techniques being referred to are unlicensed raffles, paddle wheels and dice games. These are the activities the Forest County Association of Lakes (FCAL) is most concerned with because of the large number of lake associations holding fundraising events over the summer months that employ these targeted games.

You are aware, I am sure, of the very large amounts of money being required of lake associations to fight the spread of aquatic invasive species that threaten our beautiful lakes. Although many Wisconsinites enjoy Forest County lakes and streams, it is the people living on the lakes who must bear the monetary and labor burdens for keeping them healthy. Our legislators are fond of telling us how much money is being allocated for environmental causes, but what is not in the news is how difficult it is to obtain these funds and how much citizen involvement is needed to do so. The funds are always given in the form of "matching grants," and so the Lake Associations applying for aid must find a way to raise these matching funds.

Our lake associations are a model of citizens in action, taking responsibility for protecting their community. While we understand that government money can only be raised in the form of taxes, and no-one wants to pay more property tax. We have been doing our part to jump through the hoops and raise the money ourselves. We are not lake association employees, we are all volunteers. Volunteers seem to be a vanishing breed. It is getting harder and harder to find people willing to fill these positions of leadership. This threat of legal prosecution will certainly decimate our volunteer forces even further.

The question I have been requested to ask of you is if there is any way that our lake associations could be exempt from penalty for using these games as fundraising devices when the funds are clearly being used to maintain or improve the lake communities we live in?

Clear lakes and streams are Forest County's life blood. We appreciate you for being our partner in caring for these irreplaceable resources.

Sincerely,
Pamela Schroeder
2018 President of the Forest County Association of Lakes

Reports of the Trustees of the Social Security and Medicare Trust Funds

By the GWAAR Legal Services Team

Each year the Trustees of the Social Security and Medicare trust funds report the financial status of the two programs. In June, the Social Security and Medicare Boards of Trustee issued the 2018 Annual Reports for Social Security and Medicare. The reports once again found that Social Security and Medicare face long-term financing shortfalls under currently scheduled benefits and financing.

The reports recommended that substantial steps are needed to address the long-term financial shortfalls. The reports once more recommended that lawmakers act sooner rather than later to fix this problem. The cost of procrastinating on changes comes with a high price because delaying changes means that even more aggressive action will be necessary. The reports pointed out that earlier action would enable the public time to prepare for the changes. It would also enable elected officials to minimize adverse impacts on vulnerable populations, including lower-income workers and people already dependent on program benefits.

The Medicare trust fund report raised some concerns. The report found that current policies will deplete the hospital-care trust fund in 2026, three years earlier than last year's report found. According to the report, three factors caused the trustees to project an earlier depletion of the hospital-care trust fund. First, less money will be flowing into the hospital-care trust fund because the government will collect less in income taxes as a result of the tax law passed this year. Second, lower wages last year will translate into lower payroll taxes. Moreover, Congress reduced the penalties for failure to have health insurance to 0. Third, this means that fewer people will obtain insurance, and more uninsured means that Medicare will increase its uncompensated care payments.

The 2018 Annual Report for Social Security contained good news: things have not worsened since last year's report. However, the Social Security program's cost will exceed its income this year for the first time since 1982, forcing the program to dip into its trust fund to cover benefits. The trustees estimate the current policies will cause the trust fund to be depleted by 2034.

Federal law only permits Social Security to spend more than it takes until federal policy depletes its trust funds. When that happens, government policy will automatically cut Social Security payouts to the amount the programs will receive in revenues, regardless of benefits due at that time. The programs will only pay out 79% of scheduled benefits, based on payroll and other Social Security tax revenues projected at that time. What this means for beneficiaries is that in the absence of congressional action, the Social Security Administration could delay or indiscriminately cut benefits by 21% starting in the year 2034.

dispatch center that was $64,000. A vote was taken to have Bradley contact this company and see what a 2018 quote would be. It should be added that the Sheriff's Department is pushing to have the jailer just be the jailer, and that dispatch should no longer be combined with the jailer's position to add efficiency to both jobs.
Rod Chitko, a member of the citizen's committee on this project brought in a drawing made over an aerial photo of the courthouse and jail. This drawing was a suggestion that an expansion be made on the west side of the jail and more cells added to the current jail that are visible to the jailer's pod. This would still leave a sufficient space between the jail addition and the courthouse addition on the north side of the courthouse. This is food for thought, and it is an idea that has been had by other people involved with the project as well as observers. This plan would leave the back of the courthouse open to parking.
Another result of this meeting was a discussion on the fate of the old jail and sheriff's quarters. The original planners at the Samuels Group said it should be torn down, but they also wanted to remove the 1909 courthouse and start over. That idea was the old lead balloon. It didn't float with the public or the building committee. The current architect thinks it would be more cost effective to remove it, but met with opposition, and he made it clear that he has to be told what the county wants, so he can make plans and schematics that match what the board wants.

It came to light that a study had been made years back, in 2009, by the previous county board on the feasibility of using the old sheriff's quarters and jail for office and/or storage, and that the structure was sound. Unfortunately, this was never brought to light by those on the board at that time.
It became clear during this meeting that the building committee had to focus on issues and stay on that focus, issue by issue. It was also clear that this project can be done over a span of time, reducing sticker shock for taxpayers, with some elbow room available due to the county shop being paid for.
This committee has to determine what the citizens of the county can afford, and act accordingly, while updating the infrastructure in the jail, replacing the courtroom with one that is more secure, and doing the maintenance on the courthouse that is needed to keep it functioning.
David Cohaski, the architect, agreed with this. He said that they should be told what the county can afford and they will match the plans with the budget.
The next meeting on the courthouse building project is scheduled for October 4th at 5:00 p.m.

County agencies, law enforcement and schools aim to improve care for drug endangered children

We're all in this together. That was just one of the messages heard loud and clear on Friday, September 21st, when Forest County's newly formed Drug Endangered Children committee (DEC) offered its first county-wide training opportunity to social workers, tribal officials, probation and parole officers, law enforcement and school personnel in hopes of improving the way each agency cares for drug-endangered children in Forest County.

The training, provided by Cindy Giese, Department of Criminal Investigation Agent and Wisconsin's Statetwide DEC Coordinator, allowed participants the opportunity to discuss protocols between the agencies aimed at reducing drug endangered children's exposure to trauma. The protocols, outlined in a memorandum of understanding drafted by the Forest County DEC committee, promote a formal process for collaboration and set out guidelines of what each professional will do when a drug endangered child is identified.

The Forest County Drug Endangered Children committee (DEC) is a sub-committee of the Community Coalition of Forest County whose mission is to inform and engage all age groups and cultures in our diverse county in a collaborative effort to measurably improve the health and well-being of our residents with a focus on substance abuse and prevention. Both the DEC committee and the Coalition meet monthly to address these issues. For more information on the DEC committee please contact Detective Sergeant Tony Crum at 715-478-3331 or contact Jacee Anderson, Chairperson of the Community Coalition of Forest County at the Forest County Health Department, 715-478-3371.
