Septic System Inspections and Maintenance- Your Responsibility to Protect our Water!

Conservation Corner is a weekly article produced by the Forest County Land Conservation-Land Information Department. For more information contact Al Murray, County Conservationist-Land Information/GIS Director at 715-478-1387 or by e-mail at lcc@co.forest.wi.us.

Our article today comes from our neighbors at the County Zoning Department with respect to State requirements to provide regular inspections for Private Onsite Wastewater Treatments Systems (POWTS), which people commonly recognize as septic systems.

In 2008, the State of Wisconsin, under §145.20(5) established a maintenance program to be administered by governmental units responsible for the regulation of all POWTS. Each governmental unit responsible for the regulation of private onsite wastewater treatment systems was required to adopt and begin the administration of the program before October 1, 2019. The Forest County Zoning Department is the responsible unit for this regulation. As part of adopting and administering the program the Zoning Department is required, by state, to conduct and maintain an inventory of all the POWTS located within the county. The law also requires verification of inspection of systems once every three (3) years. Landowners should be aware that the law requires visual inspection once every three years. Inspection must be completed by a licensed POWTS inspectors, licensed POWTS installers or licensed septic pumping companies.

POWTS pumping, on the other hand, is required when the anaerobic treatment tank (septic tank) levels of sludge and scum volume equals 1/3 of the tank volume. Pumping is not required on a 3 year schedule, pumping requirements are based upon sludge and scum accumulation within the tank. A common misconception is that the maintenance program requires pumping, which is false. Note that it is sometimes more convenient and cost effective to have inspections and pumping done at the same time.

It is that time of the year again! Zoning has developed a system to provide notice and inspection

Holt & Balcom prepares for upcoming summer season

The Holt and Balcom Logging Camp Museum staff is busy preparing for its 2019 Summer Season. Camp curator and school tour coordinator Bob Brown reports that five elementary schools (Gillette, St. John Lutheran-Suring, Suring, White Lake, and Wabeno), have already booked visits for May and June.

One of the favorite activities included in the tours is a side-trip to the Cathedral Woods, an historic stand of virgin pine and hemlock located near Lakewood off Highway 32 and Archibald Lake Road. The spectacular historic site was set aside for posterity by W.A. Holt as a gift to his wife, Lucy, who spent summers vacationing on their nearby island in Archibald Lake.

Lucy and her children often rowed across the lake and hiked to the secluded site. Shaded by majestic white pines and hemlock, Lucy considered it the perfect spot for Bible study and prayer. Lumberjacks who observed this ritual took to calling the area a cathedral in the woods. The name stuck. Today the site is officially known as Cathedral Woods, but many locals call it Cathedral Pines.

Though not on staff at Holt & Balcom, Nicole Shutt has been guiding students on a Nature Walk there for several years. A USDA Forest Service biological science technician, Nicole is posted at the Lakewood Ranger

Crandon Senior Spotlights - Darlaina Boyd

Darlaina Boyd, daughter of Brooks Boyd and Juliet White Eagle, said one of her high school accomplishments includes taking in a foreign exchange student from Costa Rica for 2 weeks during the month of January 2018. During the time she was here I learned many things like the cuisine they eat, hobbies and the culture of Costa Rica. This experience also brought me to my other classmates who had an exchange student, we would all go sledding and ice skating. This experience as a whole will be something I will never forget and hope that Crandon High School will be open to more exchange programs.

She has learned over the past 12 years that she can not worry about what people think of her. She has learned to pay more attention to yourself and you will be happier. Always be nice to everyone, you don't always know what someone could be going through.

Darlaina will be attending the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee in the Fall of 2019 with a major in political science and a minor in business.

She would like to thank her father, Brooks Boyd, for all his sacrifices to push me to be a better person, without him I wouldn't be the person I am today. She also thanks her family who has supported her through every academic and extra curricular activity she has been in. Lastly, she would like to thank the whole FCP educational department. All the amazing staff that is always willing to go above standards to make sure the students education is a priority.

Grants available to promote area events

The Forest County Tourism Commission (FCTC) is accepting applications from area groups and organizations for grants to advertise and promote their events through June 1, 2019.

The FCTC established this program to encourage and promote the expansion of tourism in Forest County. Area groups and organizations that put on events (within the municipalities which have room tax in place) can apply. Eligible events must have regional appeal, attracting visitors from outside the local area, with a goal of creating revenue through overnight stays. More specifically, your advertising and promotion must be targeted outside your area to more likely attract those overnight stays, and can include well-placed social media ads.

Applicants are required to disclose their advertising plan, budget, and source of funding to be considered. The application deadline is June 1, 2019, and only those fully completed will be accepted for consideration. The Commission reserves the right to modify or deny requests. Once you are notified of your award you will be required to fill out a short follow up form with supporting information after your event, and reimbursement will be issued promptly.

Applications are available at the Forest County Chamber of Commerce office located at 116 South Lake Avenue in Crandon. Call (715) 478-3450, or email director@visitforestcounty.com, for further information.

Financing provided for public safety initiatives in Wisconsin

MADISON- Today, the Board of Commissioners of Public Lands (BCPL) approved financing for important public safety improvements around Wisconsin.

The town of Greenville, in Outagamie County, will now be able to build a public safety building for the town's fire and police departments. BCPL is providing them with over $6 million in financing that will provide a proper decontamination area, vehicle bays, and conference rooms for planning.

"Fire, police, and other emergency services are essential to our community's overall wellbeing. We have an obligation to make sure public safety needs are appropriately financed, and I'm glad we can support the Greenville's fire and police departments," said board chair, Treasurer Sarah Godlewski.

The village of Twin Lakes, in Kenosha County, is also receiving financing to purchase a fire truck. Both Twin Lakes and Greenville fire departments operate with primarily volunteers.

"Volunteer fire departments are prevalent across Wisconsin and often lack the resources necessary to provide fast and effective service to their community. The state trust fund financing program is intended to be used by communities like Twin Lakes that provide the needed resources to local governments," stated Godlewski.

National Prevention Week May 12-19 Parade and Cookout in Crandon

The Community Coalition of Forest County would like to invite the whole community of Forest County to celebrate National Prevention Week (May 12th-19th) with a parade hosted on Crandon Main Street at 12:00 noon on Saturday, May 18th. Directly following the parade will be a cook-out at the Crandon Community Building featuring music, speakers, and children's games.

National Prevention Week is brought to us by The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), who sponsors a national campaign that takes place annually. This year's theme is "Inspiring Action Changing Lives". This event will raise awareness of the types of services available for Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse (AODA) and educate community members of the ongoing efforts that are taking place to prevent substance abuse and mental health illness.

This a community wide endeavor, involving all three school districts. The schools are invited to participate in the parade, along with their pep bands. Also in attendance will be representatives of both the Potawatomi and Sokaogon Chippewa tribes. We are encouraging business owners, community members, churches, and active groups that would like to promote positive, substance free activities in Forest County to walk in the parade and then join us at the Crandon Community Building for a Community Gathering.

The parade will be a celebration of the prevention efforts made every day in Forest County and will focus on our many positive activities. Available at the gathering will be food, information booths, and ideas for living a healthy, active lifestyle.

Any educational cultural displays are welcomed and encouraged. For more information, call Holli Denton at the Forest County Health Department at 715478-3371.

Please plan to join us on Saturday May 18 for this important community event.

Baldwin, Hoeven introduce legislation for research on CWD

Senators Working to Provide Tools to Stop Spread of Fatal, Contagious Disease in Deer, Elk Herds
WASHINGTON, D.C. – U.S. Senators Tammy Baldwin (D-WI) and John Hoeven (R-ND) introduced the Chronic Wasting Disease Research Act, bipartisan legislation to establish a Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) research grant program. CWD, which poses a serious threat to deer populations, is a fatal and contagious neurological disorder that has been documented in both captive and live herds in 26 states across the country, including Wisconsin.

"In Wisconsin, we have a proud, longstanding tradition of hunting and enjoying the great outdoors. But season after season, our sportsmen and women continue to deal with the presence of Chronic Wasting Disease in new areas," said Senator Baldwin. "It's clear we need to invest more federal resources in researching how to stop the spread of this deadly wildlife disease that threatens Wisconsin's hunting traditions and our deer herds. I'm proud to join Senator Hoeven and provide our state and tribal partners the tools they need to take on this disease."

"North Dakota has a rich outdoor heritage with many sportsmen participating in the annual deer hunt. Chronic Wasting Disease threatens deer populations in North Dakota and across the nation, however very little is known about this fatal disease," said Senator Hoeven.

"This legislation provides grants to help bolster research into prevention and management efforts to stop this very contagious disease from impacting not only our sportsmen by protecting deer in the wild, but also our deer farmers."

Specifically, the bill authorizes up to $15 million annually for CWD research, such as:

- Detection and decontamination of disease in deer;
- Long-term suppression and eradication of CWD; and
- Determining markers for genetic resistance.

Entities eligible for the research grants include universities, state and tribal departments of agriculture, research facilities conducting CWD research, as well as tribal research facilities.

Blue Water Navy News-Sailor and Marines eligible for agent orange compensation

The Department of Veterans Affairs will not appeal a January court ruling that ordered it to provide health care and disability benefits for 90,000 veterans who served on Navy ships during the Vietnam War, likely paving the way for "Blue Water Navy" sailors and Marines to receive Agent Orange-related compensation and VA-paid health care benefits.

VA Secretary Robert Wilkie told members of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee in March 2019 that he will recommend the Justice Department not fight the decision, handing a victory to ill former service members who fought for years to have their diseases recognized as related to exposure to the herbicide Agent Orange.

This new turnaround by the VA could allow service connected compensation to be paid to tens of thousands of veterans who served on Navy ships during the Vietnam War

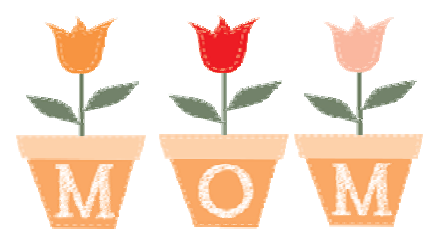

Veterans and their advocates had argued that the ships' distilling systems used Agent Orange-tainted seawater, exposing sailors on board to concentrated levels of dioxin.

The diseases considered presumptive to Agent Orange exposure, according to the VA, are AL amyloidosis, chronic B-cell leukemia, chloracne, Type 2 diabetes, Hodgkin's lymphoma, ischemic heart disease, multiple myeloma, non-Hodgkin lymphoma, Parkinson's disease, early onset peripheral neuropathy, porphyria, prostate cancer, respiratory cancers and soft tissue sarcomas.

There are still many Vietnam veterans who do not know this information. If you are a Vietnam veteran or know one who might have any of the above conditions, please share this information. It's never too late to file a claim for a presumed disability.

If you are a widow of a Vietnam veteran who died of any of the conditions listed above, there may be survivor benefits for you even if the veteran wasn't service connected at the time of his death. If in doubt, please call my office.

I can and will assist you in completing all required application forms.

Autum Schallock, daughter of Craig and Tanya Schallock, said her best high school memories are from playing sports. She is a four sport athlete who enjoyed playing basketball and softball and running cross country and track. Something she will never forget was the thrill of playing basketball at the Resch Center as a state qualifying team. A high school accomplishment that she's most proud of is becoming salutatorian of her graduating class.

In the past twelve years, she's learned that whatever she puts into something is what she'll get out of it. Therefore, she always works hard to achieve her goals. She's learned that hard work pays off.

Next fall, she plans to attend the University of Wisconsin - Eau Claire to major in actuarial science and minor in accounting. She would like to Conservation Corner Cont. from pg. 1 requirements of 1/3 of the POWTS systems in each year insuring that the State law is followed. If you have a POWTS system on your property you may receive a notice to have your system inspected or pumped before this fall. Zoning is in the process of mailing out mandatory inspection notices to 1900 property owners that must perform inspections in 2019. If you think your system is due for inspection this year and do not receive a notice, please contact the zoning office at 715-478-3893.

The owner of a POWTS system is required to report each inspection, evaluation, maintenance or service event to the Zoning Office. Owner's agents such as pumping companies or plumbers often to this reporting, but it is the owner's responsibility. Please note that if inspections, evaluations or service are not properly reported, you the owner may receive a citation of $200 for failure to comply with the State POWTS maintenance program. Annually, the Zoning Department issues 70-100 citations for failure to comply. Owners that failed to comply with maintenance requirements in 2018 will receive a citation this June if compliance requirements are not met.

Another item to note is that sellers of property should be aware that compliance with the mandatory maintenance program does not exempt you from real estate inspection requirements in the law. If you are selling your property you will still be required to provide and inspection of your POWTS system at time of sale.

If you have any questions pertaining to septic systems, system maintenance, and regulations regarding POWTS systems, please contact the Forest County Zoning Office at 715-478-3893 or by e-mail at fczone@co.forest.wi.us.

2018 CONSUMERS CONFIDENCE REPORT DATA WABENO SANITARY DISTRICT 1, PWS ID: 72101106

WATER SYSTEM INFORMATION

If you would like to know more about the information contained in this report, please contact Daniel Huettl at (715) 473-2905.
OPPORTUNITY FOR INPUT ON DECISIONS AFFECTING YOUR WATER QUALITY

The Wabeno Sanitary Board of Commissioners meet the first Monday of each month at 10:00 a.m. at the District office at 1735 3rd Street, Wabeno, Wisconsin.

HEALTH INFORMATION

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's safe drinking water hotline (800-426-4791).

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Environmental Protection Agency's safe drinking water hotline (800-426-4791).

SOURCE(S) OF WATER

Source ID	Source	Depth in Feet	Status
1	Groundwater	95 feet	Active
2	Groundwater	157 feet	Active

To obtain a summary of the source water assessment, please contact Daniel Huettl at (715) 473-2905.

EDUCATIONAL INFORMATION

The sources of drinking water, both tap water and bottled water, includes rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

- Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.
- Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm water runoff and residential uses.
- Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff and septic systems.
- Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water, which shall provide the same protection for public health.

DEFINITIONS

Term	Definition
AL	Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant, which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements, which a water system must follow.
Level 1 Assessment	A Level 1 assessment is a study of the water system to identify potential problems and determine, if possible, why total coliform bacteria have been found in our water system.
Level 2 Assessment	A Level 2 assessment is a very detailed study of the water system to identify potential problems and determine, if possible, why an E. Coli MCL violation has occurred or why total coliform bacteria have been found in our water system, or both, on multiple occasions.
MCL	Maximum Contaminant Level: The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
MCLG	Maximum Contaminant Level Goal: The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
MRL	Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level: The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
MRO	Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal: The level of drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MROs do not reflect the benefits of the use of the use of disinfectant to control microbial contaminants.
mrem/year	millirem per year (a measure of radiation absorbed by the body)
NTU	Nephelometric Turbidity Units
pCi/l	picoCurie per liter (a measure of radioactivity)
ppm	parts per million, or milligrams per liter (mg/l)
ppb	parts per billion, or microgram per liter (µg/l)
ppt	parts per trillion, or nanogram per liter
ppq	parts per quadrillion, or picogram per liter
TDR	Total Coliform Rule
TT	Treatment Technique: A required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

DETECTED CONTAMINANTS

Your water was tested for many contaminants last year. We are allowed to monitor for some contaminants less frequently than once a year. The following tables list only those contaminants which were detected in your water. If a contaminant was detected last year, it will appear in the following tables without a sample date. If the contaminant was not monitored last year, but was detected within the last 5 years, it will appear in the tables below along with the sample date.

Microbiological Contaminants

Coliforms are bacteria that are naturally present in the environment and are used as an indicator that other, potentially harmful, waterborne pathogens may be present or that a potential pathway exists through which contamination may enter the drinking water distribution system. We found coliforms indicating the need to look for potential problems in water treatment or distribution. When this occurs, we are required to conduct assessments to identify problems and to correct any problems that were found during these assessments.

During the past year, we were required to conduct 1 Level 2 assessment(s). All assessments were completed on time. We were required to take 3 corrective action(s). We completed all necessary Corrective Actions on time.

Assessment Description	Status	Due Date	Completed	Violation
Perform Level 2 Assessment: Multiple Level 1 Triggers	COMPLETE	12/8/2018	11/15/2018	No
Corrective Actions

Health effects for any contaminants with MCL violations/Action Level Exceedances

Contaminant Health Effects

LEAD Infants and children who drink water containing lead in excess of the action level could experience delays in their physical or mental development. Children could show slight deficits in attention span and learning abilities. Adults who drink this water over many years could develop kidney problems or high blood pressure.

ADDITIONAL HEALTH INFORMATION

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Wabeno Sanitary Dist 1 is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at www.epa.gov/safewater/lead.

Letters to the Editor

Garnet Louise Gryczkowski, 76 of Crandon, WI, passed away peacefully on Saturday, April 27, 2019 under the care of her family and Ascension Hospice.

Garnet was born on May 24, 1942 in Rhinelander, WI, to the late William and Genevieve Johnson. She was raised in Jennings, WI and later moved to Crandon with her parents and siblings. Here she met the love of her life, Edwin Gryczkowski. They married on July 2, 1960 and raised 5 beautiful children together.

Anyone who was fortunate enough to cross paths with Garnet in this lifetime knew of her love for her family and friends. She was devoted to her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren and loved spending time with them.

Whether you were sitting at her table sharing one of her amazing home cooked meals or receiving one of her lovingly crocheted gifts, a visit with her always left a smile on your face.

She will be greatly missed but always remembered for her work ethic, strength, kindness and love of life.

Survivors include five children: two sons, Donald (Melody) Gryczkowski and John Gryczkowski, both of Crandon, and three daughters, Lorri (Jim Wallace) Pozorski of DePere, MaryJo (Mike) Bocek Sr of Crandon and Brenda (Allan) Murray of Laona; six grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

In addition to her parents and husband, she was preceded in death by her brothers, Mason, Minitry (Mick) and William (Bill); and sisters, Evelyn and Ella.

A celebration of life will be held on Saturday, May 18, 2019 from 1-4 p.m. at St Luke's United Methodist Church, 301 S Lake Ave, Crandon, WI. Please join us for great food and conversation in honor of this amazing woman.

We welcome letter to the Editor; however the letters should be legible, in good taste, not libelous and pertinent to current issues. Names will not be withheld upon request, except for very special circumstances. NAME AND PHONE NUMBER SHOULD BE INCLUDED FOR VERIFICATION PURPOSES. WisDOT Secretary: Now is the time to invest in our roads, economy and future

Addressing our growing transportation needs has become a hotly-debated topic at the state and national levels. In Wisconsin, Governor Tony Evers' proposed transportation budget offers a responsible and urgently-needed path forward to address an issue that has been studied, debated, avoided and delayed for well over a decade.

One issue that's no longer open for debate is the overall decline in pavement conditions. Anyone who analyzes pavement condition reports or regularly drives Wisconsin roads will come to the same unavoidable conclusion: pavement conditions across our state are worsening. And without prompt action, we can expect that trend to continue.

Finding consensus on a long-term transportation funding solution has proven elusive, sending policymakers down an ill-advised path of least resistance: borrowing. Currently, close to 20 percent of Wisconsin's transportation revenues are used to pay off debt service (compared to about 10 percent in 2006). While bonding has a role in funding larger, long-term projects, it is clearly on an unsustainable trajectory in Wisconsin.

In response to these challenges, Governor Evers has provided a comprehensive strategy to break this decade-long impasse. Many of these same concepts were unanimously endorsed by the state's bi-partisan Transportation Finance and Policy Commission established under Governor Walker back in 2011. Key components of Governor Evers' transportation budget:

*an 8-cent increase in the state motor fuel tax costing the average Wisconsin driver $3.30 per month (comparable to a Mocha Frappuccino at a popular coffee venue)

*restarting gas tax indexing to keep pace with inflation increasing heavy truck fees, original and transfer title fees
In return, Wisconsin can finally begin making long-overdue investments in its multi-modal transportation system with an emphasis on preserving existing infrastructure in every part of the state:

*$320 million increase for state highway rehabilitation
$66 million increase in general transportation aids to ease pressure on municipalities

*finishing work on the Zoo Interchange, Wisconsin's largest, most economically-vital interchange investments in public transit, elderly and disabled transportation services, freight and passenger rail, airports and harbors

For many decades, motor fuel taxes have functioned adequately as a user fee to support transportation needs - and they remain a viable funding source into the foreseeable future. Most importantly, the time to act is now. Adjusting the motor fuel tax involves no administrative or infrastructure costs and can be implemented promptly to address our pressing needs.

Since 2013, 30 states have agreed on funding plans to support needed investments in transportation services and infrastructure. In each of those states - red and blue - this involved adjusting motor fuel taxes. Under Governor Evers' leadership and with a willingness from state policymakers, Wisconsin is finally positioned to make a similar investment in our state's transportation network that will support public safety and mobility, economic growth and our quality of life.

Letter to the editor:

This is to address a problem we are having with the up keep of the Veteran's Building and ground's. We just do not have enough members or people to help the Forest County Veteran's Memorial association do the work.

We are down to 3 people trying to keep the FCVMA going. This task was given to us some year's ago. The south west corner of the court house square was given to the veteran's. Thus the FCVMA was given the responsibility to see that the building and ground's were taken care of. Kerry Groat, Tim Bahr, and myself Shirley Mills have been doing what we can to keep it going.

Membership has gone down. The Veteran's are all getting older and the younger Vet's do not join any Veteran's organizations. You do not have to be a Veteran to join the FCVMA. Membership is $5 a year or you can just volunteer.

Our dinner's we used to have on Nov. 11th used to help us pay the bill's. The business's used to donate items and even individual's for our raffle's. We have not been able to have dinner's because we do not have the people to help set up the table's and etc. at City Hall Community building. It takes a lot of work to organize and set up. We never made anything on the dinner itself. Not when you have it catered. Our money was on the raffle's.

Do you know who pays the light bill on the memorial building? The FCVMA. These light's help keep vandal's from damaging the building at night.

The chamber use's our south west corner for all their events. A few year's back they also plugged into our electricity for what they called the food court and music.

/s/Shirley Mills

Overcoming Addiction workshop May 17 at Nicolet

Leading experts on addiction from across the state will present the first of three workshops in the Overcoming Addiction Together series from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday, May 17, in Northwoods Center 208 at Nicolet College.

The series will launch with the Working Together Towards Understanding Addiction and Facilitating Recovery workshop. Dr. David Mays, a clinical faculty member at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, will give the plenary address and provide closing remarks.

"It is only in the last 20 years that we have had the tools to understand the physical mechanisms by which addiction can change people's brains, distort their personalities and cripple their will power," Dr. Mays wrote describing his presentation. "Although there is still much to learn, what insights we have can lead to novel treatments and increase our compassion for those who suffer from this disease."

During the session the audience will be introduced to the latest medical understanding of addiction including epidemiology, brain mechanisms, social neuroscience insights, and evidence for treatment. Workshop participants will then choose two of three breakout sessions. These will include:

- SBIRT (Screening, Brief Intervention, and Referral to Treatment) Training, presented by Laura Saunders, MSSW, with the Great Lakes Addictions, Mental Health and Prevention Technology Centers and State Project Manager for the State of Wisconsin.
- Introduction to Motivational Interviewing, with Mia Croyle, MA, a behavioral health specialist with Metastar.
- Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT), presented by Michael Larson, Ph.D., a clinical psychologist in pain management with the Marshfield Clinic.

Dr. Mays will then provide closing remarks.

"Addiction is a long-term life threatening illness. Resuscitating an overdose victim is only the beginning step in saving a life," he said. "Treating the causes of addiction and providing the ongoing support for people who are struggling to recover requires the coordinated effort of emergency responders, healthcare providers, social service workers, and others in the community."

Cost is $20 for one workshop or $50 for all three. Topics of future workshops include Building Resilient Families and Communities: Moving Beyond Trauma/ACEs and Addiction Friday, July 19, and Taking Care of Ourselves as We Care for Others, Friday, Aug. 16. Professionals working in addiction fields well as members of the general public are invited to attend.

All workshops will also be held in Wausau a day prior to the workshops at Nicolet.

For more information, and to register, visit northcentralwiahec.org/overcoming-addiction-together.

The workshops are being presented by Wisconsin Area Health Education Centers in partnership with Nicolet College, Ascension, Northcentral Technical College, Oneida County Health Department, Marshfield Clinic Health Systems, Americorp, UW-Madison Extension, Marathon County Health Department, North Central Health Care, and Options Counseling Services.

Crandon Senior Spotlights - Maddi Stroik

Maddi Stroik, daughter of Tammy and Jim Stroik, said her best high school memories are going to basketball games. In the past four years, she has participated in volleyball, basketball, track and field, and she was Crandon's delegate for Badger Girl's State.

In the past twelve years, she has learned that hard work pays off, nothing comes easy and you don't have to impress everybody.

In the fall, she will be attending Fox Valley Technical College so she can become an occupational therapy assistant.

She would like to thank Tressa Votis for being the best teacher and aunt she could ask for, Hollie for always listening to her problems, and her parents for always pushing her to have good grades.

How to Maximize Your FoodShare Benefits

By the GWAAR Legal Services Team (for reprint)

Whether or not you receive Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits through Wisconsin's FoodShare program, we could all use extra tips and reminders for smart food shopping. This article offers suggestions on how to stretch your food dollars by planning ahead, budgeting, making smart food choices, and preparing low-cost recipes.

BEFORE Shopping

• Plan your weekly meals and snacks. Preparing in advance will help you know what you need and also help you put leftovers to good use.

• Use store circulars and go online to look for coupons, sales, and store specials. Only use coupons to buy foods you normally eat. Make sure the coupons give you the best value for your money.

• For added savings, sign up for the store discount card or bonus card at your local supermarket.

DURING Shopping

• Have something to eat before you go shopping. It's easier to stick to your shopping list when you are not hungry.

• Try store brands. They are usually the same quality and cost less.

• Compare products and prices for the best deal. Use unit pricing and also the Nutrition Facts labels to get the best product for your money.

• Check "sell by" or "use by" dates. Buy the freshest food possible.

AFTER Shopping

• Store food right away in the refrigerator or freezer to keep it fresh and safe.

• If you buy a large amount of fresh food like meat, poultry, or fish, divide it into meal-size packages, label the food, and freeze it for later use.

• Use foods with the earliest expiration dates first. BEST BUYS for COST and NUTRITION

BREADS AND GRAINS

• Choose whole-grain breads. Look for bargains on day-old varieties. Buy regular brown rice and old-fashioned oats and grits instead of instant varieties to save money and consume less sugar, salt, and calories.

VEGETABLES

• Buy large bags of frozen vegetables. When choosing canned vegetables, look for "low sodium" or "no added salt" on the label.

FRUITS

• Buy fresh fruit in season - it generally costs less. Frozen and canned fruits are available year-round, can save you money, and have similar nutrition values to fresh fruit.

LOW-FAT OR FAT-FREE MILK PRODUCTS

• Buy low-fat or fat-free milk, yogurt, and cheese in the largest size that can be used before spoiling. Typically, larger containers cost less per serving than smaller sizes. Ultra-pasteurized milk found on store shelves has a longer expiration date and won't spoil as fast.

MEAT AND BEANS

• Dried beans and peas are a good source of protein and fiber. They can last a year or more without spoiling. Canned tuna packed in water is an inexpensive healthy protein choice. Light tuna has less mercury than white (albacore) tuna.
