Stacey Jameson named new Chamber Director

The Forest County Chamber of Commerce has named Stacey Jameson as its new Director effective Monday, September 23rd. Ms. Jameson comes to the Chamber position after many successful years working with Forest County Potawatomi as an Executive Administrator. Mark Ferris, Chamber President, stated 'we had several qualified applicants, but Stacey's wealth of experience and years of committed community involvement really made her stand out as the individual we wanted to lead us. We're confident Stacey will do a great job. One of the traits that jumped out in the interview process is Stacey's communication skills. We look for our new Director to be actively involved with all of our businesses here in Forest County. We look forward to our business people meeting Stacey and getting to know her.'

We hope you'll stop in and meet Stacey at the Forest County Chamber office in downtown Crandon at 116 S. Lake Avenue. Stacey Jameson's email is director@visitforestcounty.com. Look for an open house to meet Stacey in the next few weeks at the Chamber offices.

Trail cleanup efforts are being coordinated by the National Forest Service and County Forestry Departments. Arrangements are being made to house and feed Team Rubicon USA while they're here, and we are looking for your help.

Donations, both monetary and food, are being sought to help feed this crew of volunteers for the 10 days that they are here clearing the snowmobile trails that were devastated in the July 19 storm. Volunteers are also needed to help serve the morning and evening meals to the volunteers. This team effort is being coordinated by Chute Pond Snowmobile Club President Deb Uhlenbrauck. Donations of money or food products can either be coordinated with Deb or dropped off at Kelly's Mountain Top, 14031 Hwy 32 in Downtown Mountain. Business hours are Mon-Fri 11am- 9pm and Sat-Sun 6:30am- 10pm. Should you be looking to help by donating, some ideas could be protein bars, fruit: bananas, apples, oranges, pears, melons, peanuts, cakes, bars, muffins, popcorn, mini candy bars, butter, grape jelly, strawberry jelly, peanut butter or monetary. All donations are appreciated. Please contact Deb at 920-373-8578 if you're interested in volunteering or donating.

Team Rubicon's mission is providing disaster relief to those affected by natural disasters, be they domestic or international. By pairing the skills and experiences of military veterans with first responders, medical professionals, and technology solutions, Team Rubicon aims to provide the greatest service and impact possible. New owner at Crandon's Best Western Hotel

By Mike Monte

Jigna Patel is the new owner/operator of the Best Western Hotel in Crandon. Originally from the country of India, she now resides in Phillips, Wisconsin with her husband and two sons. The couple has a motel in Phillips as well. She says she likes small towns like Phillips and Crandon.

Jigna plans no major changes at the Best Western. She spends time here and in Phillips, depending on her managers in Crandon to handle the running of the hotel when she is in Phillips.

The Best Western has 46 rooms available, a conference room, swimming pool and a bar just off the lobby of the hotel.

Additional roads open following July windstorm, hazards remain

The first official day of fall is here, which means visitors are exploring the National Forest to view fall colors and enjoy fall recreation activities such as hiking, riding, fishing, hunting and camping.

The Forest recognizes these uses and recently completed a detailed assessment of the roads impacted by the July 19-20 windstorm and has updated the closure order to reflect those changes.

"We understand this is a busy time of year and want to provide access to as much of the National Forest as we can for our visitors to enjoy this fall," said Mike Brown, District Ranger of the Lakewood-Laona Ranger District of the Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest.

To date, the Forest, with the help of towns,

Free Booyah, Meat Raffle, Autumn Trail Ride-Townsend

Saturday, October 5, will be a busy day in Townsend. The Old Town Hall Bar and Restaurant, 17767 State Hwy 32, Townsend is holding their 7th Annual Family Fun Booyah Day. Booyah will be ready to enjoy at 4 p.m. and will be free for donations. Here's your chance to get some of the best booyah in the Northwoods!

Wait there's more! Old Town Hall has invited the Red Arrow Snowmobile ATV club to hold a meat raffle and fall color ATV/UTV ride that day.

The ATV/UTV fall color ride will leave the Old Town Hall at 9:30 that morning and will return before 2 p.m. The all meat raffle will start at 2. The public is welcome to all the events that day.

Proceeds from the Red Arrow meat raffle will go directly towards repairing and maintaining the atv/utv and snowmobile trails in the Townsend area. The storm on July 19th did considerable damage to the trails. Much work has been done to repair and open some of the trails, but there is a tremendous amount of work yet to be done. Proceeds from this event will help in this effort.

Forest County Building Committee update

By Mike Monte

As previously reported, there will be a referendum in November for budgeting money to add six employees to the Law Enforcement Center should it be decided that the jailer and the 911 call center be split into two departments.

In a conversation with Steve Bunda, Chair of the Building Committee, if the voters approve the expenditure for the extra employees, the Committee will proceed with the remodeling necessary to split the two jobs. Bunda said the county has the plan and the funding to start the building.

There was much discussion over whether or not to tear down the old jail and sheriff's quarters. Subsequent studies of the building have determined that the building is sound and can still serve a useful function for the county for years to come. Currently, there is asbestos removal being done on the circa 1912 structure, which has to be done whether the building is kept or razed.

Architect Jeff Munson has been asked to come up with an amount needed to remodel the building, after which, the full board will decide the fate of the structure.

In the near future, there will be preliminary drawings made for a new courtroom, along with the support offices and a new quarters for the District Attorney's office. Bunda says they will work with the ad hoc committee on this project.

In the general maintenance part of the building program, Bunda said that the HVAC unit is installed on the Law Enforcement Center, and the new air conditioner in the north annex. The committee has approved a new roof for the south annex, along with new flooring in the D.A.'s office and removal of asbestos in the county board room. For the short term, there will be county board meetings held in a different location.

Another decision has to be made to replace the generator for the Law Enforcement Center. The full board will make that decision.

Meanwhile, said Bunda, the courthouse staff has been working hard to keep the grounds and buildings in good shape, as well as doing work at the fairgrounds and the county park.

Don't forget History on Tap!

Monday, September 30th, the Crandon Area Historical Society will host a presentation on Wisconsin's largest collection of aerial prints titled "Landscapes of Wisconsin: visualizing history through aerial photography" presented by Jaime Martindale. The program is scheduled to begin at 7:00 p.m. and will be held at the historic Hotel Crandon.

INSURANCE TIP Tree Stand Safety

Speaking from personal experience; on 11/2/2011, I had a severe accident, when my deer stand, which was 20' off the ground, broke as I attempted to climb on it. All you hunters, PLEASE, check your equipment and stands AND wear a safety harness. Check the straps that hold your stand onto the tree, for wear and tear. If the stand has been a tree for several years, the tree has grown. Check the bolts to make sure they are not stripped or that the chain has stretched beyond its strength capacity, due to the tree's growth.

I thank God that my wife did not have to use my life insurance. Are you well protected with Life and Health Insurance?

CoVantage to host 25 year anniversary celebration in Crandon

On September 25, 1994, the very first branch of CoVantage Credit Union opened in Crandon. The purpose of this expansion was to provide those who live or work in Forest County with CoVantage financial products and services. On the day of their Grand Opening, the branch was staffed with a Branch Manager, an Assistant Branch Manager, and three tellers. Today, there are nine employees who serve members at the branch.

Although the majority of staff originally hired to work at the Crandon branch have moved on, one still remains a CoVantage employee. Mary Wilson began her career as a teller and was later promoted to a loan officer. Now Mary is working out of the Antigo headquarters as a virtual lending specialist.

According to Charlie Zanayed, CoVantage Credit Union President/CEO, "We are so grateful to be celebrating 25 years of service to our member-owners in Crandon. We certainly feel an obligation to all of the communities we serve and especially Crandon where our first branch outside of our headquarters was built. Thank you for the trust you continue to place in us which allows us to continue to do well by doing good."

In honor of reaching twenty-five years together with the Forest County community, CoVantage Credit Union will be hosting an anniversary party on Friday, September 27 at the Crandon branch, located at 502 W. Pioneer St. Everyone is invited for cake, cookies, coffee, water, and milk anytime between 8:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Free gifts will be handed out along with a raffle basket giveaway. Join them Friday, September 27 at CoVantage Credit Union, 502 W. Pioneer Street.

Eating healthy from childhood

The Forest County Health Department would like to highlight ways to have a healthy lifestyle starting from childhood. September is National Childhood Obesity Month, which is a prevalent problem with approximately 1 in 5 children affected according to the Center for Disease Control and Prevention. While this is no simple solution, there are many ways communities can support children with their journey to good health.

Children with obesity are at a higher risk for having other chronic medical conditions later in life, such as diabetes, sleep apnea, bone and joint pain, and heart disease. Children with obesity can also suffer from bullying more than their normal weight peers, and can be subject to social isolation, depression, and lower self-esteem. Children with obesity are more likely to suffer from obesity in their adult life.

Childhood obesity is influenced by many factors including eating and physical activity behaviors, genetics, metabolism, family and home environment, and social factors. An easy access to high calorie foods and sugar beverages also increases the risk of obesity.

To help ensure that children have a healthy weight, follow these simple tips. Be aware of your child's growth, and make sure they are getting enough physical activity every day. Provide nutritious, lower-calorie foods such as fruits and vegetables. In Forest County we suffer from a food desert in most areas, so buying in season foods can help lower the financial burden and may have a longer shelf life. Start your child off with a good habit of drinking plenty of water, and limit sugary drinks and juice. Be a role model! Your child looks up to you, and a nutritious diet and plenty of exercise leads to a healthy lifestyle for everyone.

Try simple recipes like roasted veggies, bean soup, or baked chicken. You don't need a recipe with a lot of ingredients to create a delicious dish. Plus, when you choose a simple recipe, you can spend more time teaching kids to prepare healthy foods and enjoying your meal together. Find an assortment of meal and snack ideas on KidsHealth.org.

The fight against childhood obesity gains momentum in September, and the results can last a lifetime. All children deserve a healthy start in life: it's our responsibility to make that possible!

For more information on diet and local exercise opportunities, visit forestcountypublichealth.org or call us at 715-478-3371.

Collared Deer are Legal to Harvest During Fall Hunting Season

MADISON, Wis. - During the 2019 hunting season, hunters may spot deer that are equipped with radio collars. Collared deer are part of a mortality study in the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources and are legal to hunt with a standard Wisconsin hunting license and tags.

The DNR Office of Applied Science is conducting a five-year mortality study called the Southwest Wisconsin Chronic Wasting Disease, Deer, and Predator Project. Researchers are investigating factors like CWD, predation and hunter harvest, and specifically to what degree these affect survivorship in deer. So far, the project crew has put GPS-enabled collars on 548 deer in Grant, Iowa and Dane counties.

"One of our study objectives is to determine what proportion of our deer herd is harvested each year, and how exactly that differs according to how old the deer is, between bucks and does and between deer that are CWD-infected and those that are not," said DNR Deer Research Scientist Daniel Storm. "That objective depends on hunters essentially treating collared deer like any other deer when deciding whether or not to harvest."

Deer that are collared as part of the Southwest CWD, Deer, and Predator study are legal to harvest. Standard licensing and harvest regulations apply to collared deer just as they do to uncollared deer. Anyone who harvests a collared deer is asked to call the number on the collar so that a crew member can retrieve it. The number to call is 608-935-1940.

The DNR recommends testing for CWD for both collared and uncollared deer. CWD is a transmissible type of spongiform encephalopathy that causes fatal brain and nervous system degeneration in ungulate species like deer, elk, and moose. CWD testing is typically only done post-mortem. To better understand CWD in Wisconsin, the DNR needs to test as many deer as possible for the disease. To that end, getting deer tested is an important step. For more information, visit dnr.wi.gov and search keyword "CWD sampling."

ABLE Accounts' Impact on HUD Housing

In December 2014, President Obama signed into law the Achieving a Better Life Experience (ABLE) Act. The ABLE Act allows eligible individuals with disabilities and their families to establish ABLE savings accounts that will largely not affect their eligibility for various public benefits. The ABLE Act resulted from nearly a decade-long grassroots effort that originated with a group of parents of children with Down syndrome. These parents recognized the unfairness of not being able to save funds in their child's name for fear of losing needed government benefits. Multiple advocacy groups have heralded this law as the most significant disability law since the Americans with Disabilities Act.

An ABLE account is a tax-advantaged savings account that qualified individuals with disabilities may open. The designated beneficiary must be a person with disabilities, whose disability began before the individual's 26th birthday and who meets the other statutory eligibility requirements.

Any person (the account beneficiary, an employer, family and friends) may contribute to the account. Individuals contribute on an after-tax basis. Earnings from ABLE funds grow tax-deferred and are tax-free if used for qualified disability-related expenses.

The ABLE Act promotes the quality of life of individuals with disabilities. Language within the ABLE Act established that ABLE accounts would not impact eligibility for Social Security and Medicaid. In contrast, the ABLE Act did not explicitly address how other means-tested programs should treat the income in ABLE accounts. Rather the law simply has a general catch all language that provides that other mean-tested programs should not count income in ABLE accounts.

Many people with disabilities rely on assistance received from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). This assistance from HUD can make a significant impact in preventing individuals with disabilities from being homeless. Generally, HUD rules base eligibility on an individual's annual gross income.

HUD program rules do not have an asset test, but HUD's definition of income includes income derived from assets. Moreover, if an applicant's net assets are greater than $5,000, a housing authority will impute income to the applicant even if the assets do not provide actual income to the applicant.

HUD has not updated its handbook since November of 2013, which was before the passage of the ABLE Act. So, some housing authorities have continued to include the assets in ABLE accounts to determine an applicant's income.

In the past two months, HUD released guidance for the treatment of ABLE accounts. The guidance clarified that housing authorities should disregard amounts held in ABLE accounts. This means housing authorities should not count actual or imputed interest from an ABLE account as income. Further, housing authorities should not treat distributions from the ABLE account as income. The guidance did place some limits on the favorable treatment of ABLE accounts. The guidance provides that housing authorities should continue to treat all wage income received as income, regardless of whether the income goes into an ABLE account.

Thank You

Additional roads open Cont. from pg. 1 contractors and others, has been able to clear just over 400 miles of road. These miles are identified in green on the map, indicating that they are open and the right-of-way has been cleared. In addition, just over 155 miles of road are open (identified in yellow) however, hazards remain as there is debris along the roadways in the right-of-ways. There are just over 192 miles of road identified in red that remain closed to motorized vehicles.

To view the latest map, please visit the website at <http://go.usa.gov/xyA8D>.

For the miles of road that remain closed, some are actively being cleared by contractors, others are in the queue to be cleared or will be added into timber sale contracts and will be opened as timber sale activities take place. Updates will be made to the closure order and map as they occur.

"We encourage folks to check our website for updates to the map. The map will be updated as roads are opened in as close to real time as possible," said Brown.

In addition to roads, ATV trails were opened at the end of August. The Forest has been coordinating with the counties and snowmobile clubs for the clearing of snowmobile trails prior to winter. Additional information will be shared regarding the status of trails as winter approaches.

Visitors interested in visiting the general forest area this fall for hunting or dispersed camping are encouraged to do so with caution. Hazards remain on much of the forest including trees laying on the ground in a multitude of directions, leaning trees, hanging branches and broken off trees and stumps.

"Many areas of the Forest that were in the path of the windstorm are very hazardous, visitors driving, hunting or recreating should maintain situational awareness," said Brown. "Trees and limbs are continuing to come down that were weakened during the storm event. Everyone is encouraged to take it slow especially around corners where hazards could be lurking on the other side or during and after weather events such as rain or wind."

As a reminder motorized vehicles of any type are only allowed on roads and trails designated for such use in the Chequamegon-Nicolet's Motor Vehicle Use Map (MVUM) at <https://www.fs.usda.gov/main/cnnf/maps-pubs>.

Visitors may notice an influx of active timber sales and contractors working to clear areas damaged by the windstorm.

"We appreciate everyone's patience as we work to address the damage," said Brown.

For the latest list of what is open and closed please visit the website at <http://go.usa.gov/xyA8D>. A closure order remains in place for roads, trails and recreation sites that remain closed due to the storm.
