Laona Chamber 2nd Annual Festival of Lights

The Laona Area Chamber of Commerce (LACC) is pleased to announce its second annual Festival of Lights, and as before, the event will be a contest divided into three categories.

School: Open to Laona middle and high school grades 7 and up. This category will involve decorating a donated Christmas tree (supplied by the LACC) in whatever theme each class chooses, whether it be holiday, sports, etc., and each class is responsible for supplying its own decorations. Trees will be decorated and displayed in the front store windows at Maple Place. Snacks and beverages will be provided and participants are encouraged to dress warmly! The date chosen for decorating is Friday, Nov. 29, from 4-6 p.m. Voting will commence Dec. 9, and end at 6 p.m. on Dec. 23. Ballots will be made available at Chamber member businesses. Completed ballots may be dropped off using the mail slot located on the southwest door of Maple Place. One vote per person please. Judging will be based on the following three criteria: creativity, presentation, and participation. The first two will be voted on by town residents; the third by LACC board members. Winning class wins a pizza party sponsored by LACC.

Homes: Open to any home in Laona (within the 674 exchange or 54541 zip code) and any theme can be used. A sign-up sheet will be created for those who wish to enter. Entrants must provide a name and address to LACC by Nov. 30, so a map can be created to let people know where to find your masterpiece. Decorating must be finished by Dec. 8. Voting will commence on Dec. 9, and end at 6 p.m. on Dec. 23. Ballots will be made available at Chamber member businesses. Completed ballots may be dropped off using the mail slot located on the southwest door of Maple Place. One vote per person please. The general public is invited to vote on what they feel is the most attractive. The winning home will receive an as-yet-to-be-determined prize.

Businesses: Open to any business in Laona (within the 674 exchange or 54541 zip code) and any theme can be used. A sign-up sheet will be created for those who wish to enter. Entrants must provide a business name and address to LACC by Nov. 30, so a map can be created to let people know where to find your masterpiece. Decorating must be finished by Dec. 8. Voting will commence on Dec. 9, and end at 6 p.m. on Dec. 23. Ballots will be made available at Chamber member businesses. Completed ballots may be dropped off using the mail slot located on the southwest door of Maple Place. One vote per person please. The general public is invited to vote on what they feel is the most attractive. The winning business receives a free, one-year LACC membership.

We invite the Laona and surrounding communities to help make this a holiday season one to remember! Please contact the Laona Area Chamber of Commerce with any questions or concerns at (715) 902-0810, www.facebook.com/LaonaAreaChamber or www.laonaareachamber.com.

Conservation Corner

Conservation Corner is a weekly article produced by the Forest County Land & Water Conservation Department. For more information contact Steve Kircher, County Conservationist-Land Information/GIS Director, at 715-478-1387 or by e-mail at lcc@co.forest.wi.us.

The DNR's reforestation program will be accepting orders starting October 7, 2019 from Wisconsin forest landowners for trees and shrubs to be planted in spring 2020. For more than 100 years, the Wisconsin DNR has provided high-quality seedlings of native species, appropriate for planting throughout Wisconsin.

Seedlings grown by the state nurseries are used for reforestation and conservation plantings on private, industrial, state and county forest lands. These seedlings can provide future forest products and revenues, wildlife habitat and fodder, soil erosion control, living snow fences and aesthetics and shade to landowners and managers in every county of the state.

A minimum order consists of a packet of 300 trees or shrubs, of the landowner's choosing, in increments of 100 of each species, 500 shrubs or 1,000 tree seedlings. Seedlings can also be purchased by youth groups and educational organizations for their reforestation and conservation planting projects.

Conifer species available this year include white cedar, balsam fir, jack, red, and white pine, black and white spruce, and tamarack. Inventories are strong for most species, but the 3-0 age class of white spruce, white pine and white cedar are limited, so consider ordering early. Hardwoods include aspen, basswood, river, white and yellow birch, black cherry, hackberry, shagbark hickory, red, silver and sugar maple, bur, red, white and swamp white oak and black walnut.

Wabeno Area Players present "Farce of Habit"

Cast of Farce of Habit (L-R) Carol Bartlein, Dan Bobbe, Sue Ferguson, Linda Harter, Time Derfus, Boyd Monte and Maline Enders. Not pictured Elizabeth Couillard and Bob Brown.

Don't miss a chance to enjoy a hilarious night or afternoon out! This show is non-stop laughter from beginning to end. It will be in the intimate setting of Madonna Hall. Drink and beverage table service will be available. This is the last production of the Players 2019 Season!

Comic fireworks explode in "Farce of Habit," a Southern-fried romp that takes us back to a fishing lodge in the Ozarks. Proprietor D. Gene Wilburn is looking forward to a peaceful weekend, but there are only two chances of that happening: slim and none. Why has his wife picked these three days to begin caffeine withdrawal? Why is his son's marriage falling apart so fast? How on earth would D. Gene's sister get caught up in such a bizarre undercover police assignment?

Ben Niehaus - Wisconsin Rural School Administrator of the Year

The Wisconsin Rural Schools Alliance (WIRSA) recognized Florence County Schools District Administrator Ben Niehaus as its 2019 Rural School Administrator of the Year at the WIRSA Annual Conference hosted at Glacier Canyon Conference Center in Wisconsin Dells October 27 - 29.

Mr. Robert Smudde, Past-President of WIRSA, introduced and presented Niehaus with his award stating, "Ben is the epitome of what a rural superintendent should be." Niehaus was nominated from a collaboration of institutions and individuals including Northeast Wisconsin Technical College, the University of Wisconsin - Green Bay, Florence County School Board members, Florence County School District leaders and staff along with leadership from the schools of Niagara, Goodman-Armstrong Creek and Beecher-Dunbar-Pembine.

Niehaus is currently serving in his seventh year as district administrator for Florence County schools after having previously served four years as Goodman-Armstrong Creek administrator; he was simultaneously the administrator for both districts for two years also. The nomination for this award was collaboratively submitted in recognition of his contributions to not only the school-community of Florence County, but for his efforts in advocacy for all rural schools and communities. Niehaus serves in numerous leadership roles, including serving as current president of the WIRSA Board of Directors, President of the Fair Aid Coalition, Vice-Chair of the School Administrators Alliance Legislative Committee and as a member of the Board of Directors for both Grow North Regional Economic Development Corporation and the Federal Sustainable Forest Committee.

November is National Diabetes Awareness Month.

More than 30 million people in the United States have diabetes, and 1 in 4 of them do not know they have it. Diabetes increases the risk of heart disease and stroke and can lead to other serious complications, such as kidney failure, blindness, and amputation of a toe, foot, or leg. People with diabetes spend more on health care, have fewer productive years, and miss more work days compared to people who don't have diabetes. According to the CDC, in 2017, the total estimated cost of diagnosed diabetes was $327 billion, including $237 billion in direct medical costs and $90 billion in reduced productivity.

More than 84 million US adults—that is 1 in 3, have prediabetes and 90% of them do not know they have it. Prediabetes means that your blood sugar is higher than normal, but not yet diabetes. Prediabetes puts a person at risk for type 2 diabetes, heart disease, and stroke. Risk factors for prediabetes include: Obesity or being overweight Age 45 or older Have a parent or sibling with type 2 diabetes Are physically active less than 3 times a week Had gestational diabetes, or gave birth to a baby weighing more than 9 pounds. Are African American, Hispanic or Latino, American Indian, Alaska Native, Pacific Islander, or Asian American.

There are some risk factors like age and family history, that cannot be modified. But factors like having prediabetes, being overweight, eating unhealthy food, being inactive and smoking, are all modifiable factors.

Through his commitment to advocacy and sharing a vision of student success for all students, he has been invited to present at numerous events. These include former Governor Walker's 2016 Small Business Summit, the Wisconsin Center for Educational Research (WCER) at the University of Wisconsin - Madison, UW-Stout's annual Career and Technical Education Summit and most recently at the National Forum of Rural School Advancement in Louisville, Kentucky. He serves on the Grand Challenges Advisory Board of the Rural Education Research and Implementation Center (RERIC), housed at WCER at UW-Madison, and has testified numerous times before the Wisconsin Assembly, Senate and Joint Finance Committee. He has also testified specific to rural school challenges before the Speaker's Rural School Task Force and the Blue Ribbon Commission on School Funding. Niehaus has been invited to contribute to several articles in various publications, most notably Wisconsin Business Voice, a publication distributed quarterly to thousands of readers through the business community of Wisconsin.

During Niehaus' tenure he has initiated and progressed critical work in rural education. Most recently, in collaboration with the Woodland Consortium of schools, he relentlessly advocated for the need for mental health supports in northeast Wisconsin. Recently the four school consortium was awarded a two-year grant totaling nearly $150,000. Via partnership with Florence County Economic Development, the School District of Florence County has established a business-industry advisory council comprised of local and regional businesses that provide advisement and support to the school district in best preparing students for career opportunities available in the immediate region of northeast Wisconsin and the U.P. Niehaus strongly believes in making education relevant and applicable to learning, and strives to create learning experiences that make this connection for students. Via Log-A-Load events in the woods that showcase the importance of education for various occupations in the forest products industry, to what is now the annual STEAM Expo where students showcase their work among industry advisory members, students have the opportunity to see the connection of what they're doing today to what their future will be. Another outcome of the desire to connect school to future careers initiated by Niehaus' vision was the establishment of an "employability class" at Florence County High School. This course better prepares students for the 21st Century skills required by all employers across numerous career clusters today. Other accomplishments via his leadership include the formation of a Fab Foundation Fab Lab in 2015, one of the first in the state. Florence County schools were awarded three consecutive Wisconsin Economic Development Fab Lab grants, in addition to other match funds and gifts from local and regional industry and foundations totaling more than $120,000 in support since initiation. Additionally, numerous other grants have been written and submitted for by Niehaus with numerous awards, more recently seeing Florence County Schools receive both rounds of Wisconsin Department of Justice School Safety Grants totaling $54,299 and a Wisconsin Technology Initiative Grant for $25,000.

The continued growth of post-secondary credit attainment and employability certificates is a vision Niehaus relentlessly pursues in the interest of providing equitable opportunities for student success and opportunity at the post-secondary level, regardless of socio-economic status. With a vision for continuous improvement and expansion of these opportunities, he approached NWTC with a proposal to assume ownership of an elementary facility closed by the district more than a decade previous. Today the Woodland Consortium of Schools located at the Aurora Center of NWTC in Aurora, Wisconsin provides area schools and adults with numerous post-secondary opportunities and training for technical skills required in today's workplace. In addition, this venue now provides growing opportunities for Florence County and surrounding communities to host varying events at the center.

In addition to the aforementioned, Niehaus has led the district through three successful referendums - two operational referendums and a third being a $14.5 million capital referendum to refurbish and renovate an aging high school complex. Recognizing the burden taxpayers bear in the funding of their schools, it was paramount to work through the proposed efforts for improvement via representation of a diverse scattering of citizen representatives to put an affordable, yet suitable proposed project before the citizens of Florence County to serve generations of students yet to come. Niehaus also strives to find new ways of doing business. During his tenure he has worked with neighboring districts to initiate shared service agreements in lieu of purchasing high cost educational services from third party entities. These agreements have generated new revenues for Florence County schools, while also saving taxpayers of Florence County and other schools districts significant dollars.

"Ben is a steady voice of advocacy for the students and community he serves, moving the needle past conversation and towards change/improvement," says Brooke Holbrook, K-12 Relations Manager of NWTC.

Niehaus is a 1994 graduate of Crandon High School, a 1998 graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, with a major in Business Administration. His education continued as he earned his master's degree in Business Education from the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater in 2003, and his school business manager's license shortly after. He continued his pursuit of administrative licensure via Winona State University, earning his principal and superintendent's license. Niehaus is married to his wife of 20 years, Melanie, and has three children, Tyler, Kayla and Kenzie.

November is Hospice and Palliative Care Awareness Month

Every year, millions of Americans receive palliative care or hospice care. It's important to know the difference between the two types of care. Palliative care and hospice both provide comfort care, pain relief, and symptom management. Palliative care can be helpful at any stage of illness, while hospice care begins when treatment has stopped because it is likely that the patient will not survive the illness.

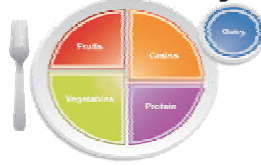

Palliative care is provided by specially-trained doctors, nurses, and other care providers, like nutritionists or social workers, who work with the rest of the patient's care team. Care can be provided in hospitals, nursing homes, out-patient clinics, or in the patient's home. The goal of palliative care is to pro-vide relief from the symptoms of a serious illness in order to improve quality of life for the patient. Palliative care can help with a range of issues, like pain, depression, anxiety, fatigue, loss of appetite, and difficulty sleeping. It can improve a patient's ability to tolerate uncomfortable treatment. Care can be provided at the same time as curative treatment and may begin at the time of diagnosis.

Hospice, on the other hand, is for patients who have decided not to continue receiving treatment for their terminal illness. Instead, hospice care provides comfort for the patient and support for the entire family. The patient may continue receiving medical care for conditions other than the terminal ill-ness. Hospice care is typically offered only when the patient is not expected to live for more than six months. Care is not tied to a specific location hospice services can be provided at the patient's home or in hospitals, nursing homes, or even a separate hospice center. The hospice care team includes doctors, nurses, social workers, spiritual advisors or members of the clergy, and trained volunteers. In addition, respite care is available if family caregivers need a break.

Medicare covers 100% of hospice care if: a patient's regular doctor and hospice doctor agree that the patient is terminally ill and not expected to live for more than six months, the patient accepts comfort care instead of care to treat the terminal illness, and the patient signs a statement choosing hospice care instead of other Medicare-covered care to treat the terminal illness and related conditions. After six months, a patient can continue to receive hospice care as long as the hospice medical director or hospice doctor recertifies that the patient is terminally ill. While receiving hospice services under Medicare, the patient may need to pay a copayment of no more than $5 for each prescription drug for pain relief and symptom control. In addition, the patient may need to pay 5% of the Medicare-approved amount for inpatient respite care. Medicare does not cover room and board for a patient who receives hospice care at home or in another facility, like an assisted living facility. If you have another type of health insurance, check with your insurance company to find out whether your insurance will cover any hospice services.

You can learn more about palliative care and hospice from the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization at <https://www.nhpco.org/>.

FLAG ESSAY by Abby Enchautegui

My flag is the Gadsden flag. The Gadsden flag is a historical American flag with a yellow field depicting a timber rattlesnake coiled and ready to strike.

I chose this flag because I thought it look cool, and the fact that it has a snake in the middle is awesome!

There aren't stars on the flag, but the snake on the flag was a popular symbol of America, it was a trend started by Ben Franklin in the 1750's, he published America's first political cartoon, a snake divided in eight parts with the caption "Join or Die" which represented Franklin's idea that the colonies needed to join together.

The flag is named after American General and politician Christopher Gadsden (1724-1805), who designed it in 1775 during the American Revolution.

Something important that happened was the Army was ready to defend and preserve America. The first time the flag was used by Continental Marines. The Gadsden Flag was used given to the Commander in Chief of the Navy, Esek Hopkins, for use on his flagship to represent America.

38 STAR FLAG by Autumn Warden

I chose the 38 Star Flag. It is arranged like a rectangle, but missing one star in the second row and one star in the fourth row. I chose this flag because I liked it and it looked nice and spoke to me.

This flag was established on July 4th, 1877. This was the 20th out of 27 designs. This flag lasted for 13 years. There were five presidents that served under this flag: Rutherford B. Hayes, James A. Garfield, Chester A. Arthur, Grover Cleveland, and Benjamin Harrison. The next flag was the 43 Star 13 years later. The states added were North and South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, and Washington. It is not known who made the 38 Star Flag. In 1877, Queen Elizabeth II became the empress of India. Crazy Horse and his warriors fight their last battle with the United States Cavalry at Wolf Mountain (Montana Territory). American Chester Greenwood patents earmuffs, after inventing them at 15. Also what happened when the 38 Star Flag was flying Agatha Christie was born September 15th 1890. She was a famous author for horror books. Idaho population then was 88,548. The Oregon Trail opened in 1842, but for two decades, people merely crossed Idaho over it; virtually no one settled. In 1860, 14 years after Idaho had officially become US land through the Oregon Treaty with the United Kingdom, Mormons from Utah established Franklin, Idaho's first permanent settlement.

I liked learning about this flag and I hope everyone else did too. This was a great flag that flew in 1877 to 1890. There were many more things that happened under this flag and this was just a few.

AMERICAN FLAG ESSAY by Bailey VanEperen

I chose the 48 star flag. I picked it because it was the flag that my great Grandpa Louie fought for in World War two. He was in the Navy.

The 48 star American flag was flown from 1912 to 1959. In 1912 there were two stars added to the 46 star flag representing Arizona and New Mexico. At that time Alaska and Hawaii weren't states yet. The flag was arranged with six rows of eight stars each. There were 13 stripes representing the thirteen original colonies. The blue rectangle with the stars on it represent the heavens.

The 48 star flag was flown during both World Wars. In World War One, about two million soldiers died plus millions of civilians. It was one of the bloodiest wars in history. In World War Two, the bombing of Pearl Harbor took place. 2,403 soldiers and civilians died. The Holocaust also occurred in Europe during the war. More than six million people were killed by the Nazis.

Six presidents served under the 48 star flag. Their names were William H Taft, Woodrow Wilson, Warren Harding, Calvin Coolidge, Franklin D Roosevelt, and Harry S Truman. Calvin Coolidge and Harry S Truman both served two terms, and Franklin D Roosevelt was the only US president to serve more than two terms.

In conclusion, I chose the 48 star flag because it has family history. There were two stars added to the previous flag representing two new states added to the Union. It had been through two harsh wars and six presidents before it was changed in 1959 to the 49 star flag. God bless America.

FLAG ESSAY by Mazzie Williams

I chose a flag made in 1776. I chose it because it's very historic, and the first flag of the United States of America. This makes everything including the research more interesting. I find it astonishing how we somehow kept track of all the flags, and their history. Another reason I chose this flag, I want to learn about it in the process of writing this essay.

The flag has 13 stars. It resembles the 13 colonies unity. The circle of stars defines the "Betsy Ross" design. As a matter of fact, this flag is supposedly designed by Betsy Ross. This flag design is found on two state flags, the flag of both Rhode Island, and Indiana.

This flag was the official flag when the final draft of The Declaration of Independence was submitted, June 28th 1776. In 1776 another important event occurred, on June 12 Virginia adopted the Declaration of Rights.

Here is an interesting fact about the 13 star flag. In 1776 the 13 colonies declared independence and established a new nation called the United States of America. It also has the prestige of being the first state to ratify the Constitution of the United States.

Nicolet Promise tuition assistance now available to eligible high school grads

Nicolet College is now accepting applications for its popular Nicolet Promise program which so far has paved the way for more than 50 students to attend college tuition-free.

"The Nicolet Promise puts college within reach for many recent high school graduates who otherwise may not have been able to attend college," said Nicolet Dean of Enrollment Erika Warning-Meyer. "This program creates the opportunity for eligible students to learn the skills they need for successful careers."

Miranda Maney started at Nicolet three years ago. This spring she'll graduate with two associate's degrees, one in Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse (AODA) and the second in Human Services, made possible with financial support from the Nicolet Promise program. After graduation she plans on starting a career helping others in the Northwoods.

"It was very encouraging to know that I had the college behind me, supporting me," Maney said. "I'm really excited to see what my future holds, thanks to the Promise program and the Nicolet College Foundation."

To be eligible, students must have graduated from high school or have earned a GED/HSED between 2016 and 2019 or plan to graduate or earn a GED/HSED in 2020, and meet additional requirements such as minimum GPA and ACT scores. To see all requirements, please go to nicoletcollege.edu/promise. Students must also be eligible to receive federal Pell grants as determined by the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

The current application period is for students planning on attending Nicolet in the fall of 2020.

Under the program, the Nicolet College Foundation will pay the balance of tuition and fees for eligible students after federal and state grants have been applied. The Foundation will cover this cost for 12 to 15 credits per semester over four consecutive fall and spring semesters.

"Many people may feel that college is not an option for them because of cost," Warning-Meyer explained. "Others might be reluctant to enroll because they think they will be overwhelmed with student debt. The Nicolet Promise addresses both of those issues."

The program also aims to encourage young adults to stay in the Northwoods at a time when many leave seeking opportunity elsewhere.

"The chance to earn a tuition-free college education is a huge incentive for young adults to stay in the region," she said. "The skills they will learn are in high demand across the Northwoods. Our hope and goal is for these students to graduate and start careers that are financially and personally rewarding in area communities."

Prospective students have until March 1, 2020, to complete the Nicolet Promise requirements. Interested individuals should go to nicoletcollege.edu/promise to complete the Promise Inquiry Form and view all program requirements.

Nicolet Foundation Executive Director Heather Schallock said the Nicolet Promise is made possible by ongoing fundraising efforts and generous donors financially supporting students through their gifts to the Foundation.

"All of our donors have a great deal of faith in students attending Nicolet and want to do whatever they can so everyone who wants a college education has the opportunity to earn a college education," she said.

Individuals interested in attending Nicolet are encouraged to make an appointment with an Admissions Representative by calling (715) 365-4493, 1-800-544-3039, ext. 4493; TTY 1-800-947-3529 or 711.

Nicolet currently offers more than 60 associate degrees, diplomas, certificates, and apprenticeships. Many of these credentials are offered in the highly flexible Nicolet My Way format that allows students to complete the coursework at times that best fit their schedules.

locations and deer carcass disposal locations on the DNR website as well as in the Hunt Wild app.

Baiting and Feeding

Hunters are reminded that baiting and feeding is prohibited in some counties. Check the DNR's baiting and feeding webpage frequently for updates. No counties in the state will be removed from the ban during the 2019 deer hunting seasons.

Prevent the spread of CWD

Voluntarily following recommended practices can reduce and prevent the spread of CWD. Those include proper carcass transportation, handling and disposal, also reporting sick deer, following baiting and feeding regulations and cleaning and decontaminating equipment. Hunters may also follow urine-based scent recommendations.

Sick deer reports

DNR staff members are interested in reports of sick deer. To report a sick deer, contact local wildlife staff or call the DNR Customer Service hotline at 1-800-847-9367.

Test results

To view CWD results for a harvested deer, visit DNR website. Hunters will need to enter a customer ID or CWD sample barcode number to view test results. The average turnaround time from when the deer is brought to a sampling station to when the results are available is typically two weeks.

If test results come back positive for CWD, advice from the Centers for Disease Control, Wisconsin's Department of Health Services and the World Health Organization is for hunters not to consume venison from that deer.

More information regarding CWD in Wisconsin, is available on the DNR website.

As part of NorthLakes Community Clinic, Dr. Habeck will be able to see a broader scope of patients. In addition to accepting most commercial insurances, NorthLakes accepts Forward Health/Medicaid and provides a sliding fee scale for those who qualify. This is particularly helpful for those who are uninsured or underinsured.

Dr. Habeck has owned and operated Habeck Chiropractic Center since 2013. Prior, he worked at Nobles Chiropractic Wellness Center in Lakewood. He received his Bachelors of Science degree in Biology from the University of Wisconsin Stevens Point and his Doctorate in Chiropractic Medicine from the National University of Health Sciences in Lombard, Illinois.

Dr. Habeck has immediate openings available and can see patients without a referral. If you are interested in scheduling an appointment or learning more, please call 888.834.4551 or 715.276.6321

If this isn't enough to thwart D. Gene's weekend plans, he's got a gaggle of nuns who've converged on the Inn for a nature retreat. Add to this a nationally known relationship guru whose colossal ego threatens everyone's sanity; a shy retiree anxious to cut loose and embrace his "inner caveman" and a couple of wild women who may or may not be who they claim to be. Throw in a storm of the century, and D. Gene has no prayer of baiting a hook any time soon. Oh, and did we mention there's an axe murderer on the loose? If you love hilarity, then laughing your way through this comedy is one habit you'll never want to break!

The play will be performed on November 21-23 at 7:00 p.m.; November 23 and 24 at 1:00 p.m. at Madonna Hall, in Wabeno.

Tickets for the event are $15 for Adults and $10 for Students. Seating is limited for each performance, please purchase tickets ahead of time. For Tickets Call (800) 838-3006 or order online at: wabenoareplayers.brownpapertickets.com. If seating is still available, the doors will open 6:30 p.m. for ticket sales.

2020 Keep Wildlife Wild Poster Contest Invites Students to Celebrate Wisconsin Wildlife

MADISON, Wis. - The Department of Natural Resources' Keep Wildlife Wild initiative is announcing its second annual poster contest, inviting students to create artwork celebrating the initiative's mission to ensure that Wisconsin's wildlife stays healthy, safe and, most of all, wild. Students currently participating in fourth through sixth grade instruction may submit a poster for the contest.

"Last year, our first annual poster contest was a huge success, with more than 200 entries submitted," DNR wildlife health conservation specialist and chair of KWW Amanda Kamps said. "We are excited to see the students' creativity again this year and look forward to their help spreading the Keep Wildlife Wild message."

Posters submitted for the contest must adhere to the following guidelines:

The poster entry must contain the words "Keep Wildlife Wild 2020" and follow the theme of the Keep Wildlife Wild tagline: "A young wild animal's best chance for survival is with its mother!"

All posters must consist of original artwork of Wisconsin native wildlife.

Posters must fit an 8 1/2" x 11" sheet of paper.

Posters must be submitted individually; no team creations.

The contest runs Nov. 1, 2019 to Feb. 14, 2020. First, second and third place finalists will be selected for each grade level, and finalists will be announced April 5-11 during the third annual Keep Wildlife Wild week.

The Keep Wildlife Wild initiative began in 2014, with a focus on providing information about wildlife species natural behaviors, tips on how to determine if a wild animal is truly orphaned and what to do if someone finds a wild animal in need of assistance.

Winning posters from last year's contest and additional details about contest rules and submission procedures are available by visiting the DNR website and searching the keyword "Keep Wildlife Wild."
