COVID-19 cases in Forest County

At the time of printing of this edition of the Pioneer Express, September 22, Forest County has posted a total of 229 cases of COVID-19. 68 cases are active. 149 people have been released from isolation, 8 people are currently hospitalized and we have had 4 deaths. There have been 2,220 negative test results. Based on burden and trajectory the current activity level of COVID-19 is high in Forest County and the burden is 1002.

Checking the state covid sites, Forest County has the distinction of having the highest per capita covid rate in the state with the 2002 burden. Florence comes in second with about half of Forest County's rate. It should be noted, however, that the state isn't real quick to update their sites, with the last update on September 16th.

Governor Evers has extended the mask mandate into November, but their is opposition to this from the Republican side of state government.

Wearing a mask is a "big deal" to many, who ignore the warnings to wear a mask. Others look at a mask as a chance to cut their chances of being infected with the covid 19 virus, and follow the advice of the CDC officials who advise the wearing of masks. To each his own!

Conservation Corner

Conservation Corner is a weekly article produced by the Forest County Land & Water Conservation Department. For more information contact Steve Kircher, County Conservationist-Land Information/GIS Director at 715-478-1387 or by e-mail at icc@co.forest.wi.us.

By the time you read this, we will have passed the Autumnal Equinox that arrived on Tuesday, September 22nd. Did you know that Equinox comes from the latin meaning equal night? During the equinox, the sun crosses the celestial equinox creating days and nights of equal length followed by days of shorter daylight. The sun rises and sets due east and west, respectively. The sun will set before 7 p.m. from now until the middle of February.

As the days become shorter and the temperatures become cooler, a chemical change takes place within Wisconsin's deciduous (which means falling off at maturity) tree leaves. In the summer, these leaves use the process of photosynthesis - when chlorophyll (green pigment in leaves) absorbs sunlight's energy to transform water and carbon dioxide into starches and sugars - to fuel the tree's growth and release oxygen.

As the hours of sunlight decline and cooler weather comes, trees respond to these changes by making less and less chlorophyll until they stop making it. This allows the carotenoids (yellow and orange pigments) existing within the leaves to show through.

Researchers have found some tree species have leaves that produce red anthocyanins pigments at this time of year. These pigments create leaves of bright oranges and reds, and deep purple colors. The brilliance of anthocyanins each year is weather dependent. During warm, sunny autumn days, trees still produce sugars but the cooler nights prevent these sugars from moving into the branches and trunk. Anthocyanins allow these trees to recover nutrients found in the leaves before the leaves fall off.

In the fall, you can identify trees by the colors the leaves change to.

- Dogwoods and sumacs - reds/purples
- Birches - bright yellows
- Aspen/poplars - golden yellows
- Sugar maples - orange-reds
- Red maples - bright scarlett
- Hickories - golden bronze
- Oaks - reds, russet browns
- Larches/tamaracks - golden yellows

Also during this time, a special layer of cells is created at the point where the leaves attach to the branches. These special cells gradually cut the tissues that hold the leaves to the trees, while the trees seal the cut by creating leaf scars when the leaves fall off the trees. Trees lose their leaves because the leaves will not be able to survive the cold. Oak trees are an exception - they hang onto their leaves through the winter!

Forest County horse tests positive for Eastern Equine Encephalitis Virus

Protect yourself against mosquito bites

The Forest County Health Department reports that a horse in Forest County has tested positive for eastern equine encephalitis (EEE), which is caused by the EEE virus. This report follows two human cases of EEE confirmed in the state this year in residents of Eau Claire County and Chippewa County, and reports of several other EEE cases in horses in northern and western regions of Wisconsin. Prior to 2020, only three human cases of EEE had been reported in the state between 1964 and 2019.

EEE virus is spread to humans, horses, and other animals through the bite of an infected mosquito. Mosquitoes acquire EEE virus by feeding on infected birds. The virus is not spread person to person or directly between animals or between animals and humans. Presence of a EEE positive horse confirms that there are mosquitoes in the area infected with the EEE virus that can spread the virus to people and other animals.

Many people infected with EEE virus do not get sick. Those who do become ill may develop fever, headache, chills, and vomiting. The illness may become severe resulting in encephalitis (inflammation of the brain), disorientation, seizures, coma, or death. There is no specific vaccine or treatment for EEE illness available for people.

Signs of EEE infection in horses include depression, loss of appetite, drooping eyelids and lower lip, blindness, paralysis, and death. Horse owners can vaccinate their horses against EEE virus to protect them from becoming ill.

Even though temperatures have cooled off, as long as mosquitoes are active, the risk of EEE and other illnesses spread by mosquitoes can continue through much of the fall. Since EEE virus is known to be circulating in Forest County, residents and visitors to should be vigilant in preventing mosquito bites. The Forest County Health Department offers these tips to protect yourself and your family against mosquito bites:

Avoid Mosquito Bites

** Apply an insect repellent with DEET, picaridin, oil of lemon eucalyptus, or IR3535 to exposed skin and clothing.

** Prior to heading outdoors, treat clothing with permethrin; do not apply permethrin directly to skin.

** Consider rescheduling outdoor activities that occur during evening or early morning hours, when mosquitoes are most active.

Community Change Shows Concern for Community through charitable donations

Community Change is a project of Oconto Electric Cooperative. Members can sign up to have their electric bills rounded up to the next whole dollar, with the extra money going into the Community Change fund. In addition, due to the generosity of the former Bay Lakes Cooperative, Community Change has additional funding available that will be used for special grants that can provide far-reaching enhancement for a neighborhood or community.

Libraries are a vital part of the communities that they serve, providing endless opportunities for children and adults alike. Recently, the Community Change board was able to present a donation of $600 to the following libraries in our area: Coleman, Gillett, Lakewood, Lena, Oconto, Oconto Falls, and Suring.

The libraries used some of their funding to purchase protective equipment and supplies needed to re-open their doors.

Season Championships, Saturday Night Lights and FCP Cup Finale Add Sizzle to Crandon Brush Run Weekend

Champ Off-Road to Crown 2020 Champions in 15 Classes

Off-Road's "Big House" to offer fans excitement of night racing

The thickly wooded forests surrounding Crandon International Raceway are now celebrating the changing seasons with the rich colors of fall in Wisconsin. While 2020 has been a challenging year for motorsports of all genres, for short-course off-road racing in the Midwest next weekend's Champ Off-Road season finale at Crandon will offer fans a triumphant end to the inaugural season of the new series -- plus lots more.

Originally set for Father's Day weekend in June, the rescheduled 27th annual Forest County Potawatomi Crandon Brush Run will now take place at the "Big House" on September 25th - 27th. After successfully hosting its traditional Polaris World Championship Off-Road Race and Crandon World Cup event on Labor Day weekend, the famed track is preparing to see another full weekend of competition that also incorporates some unique additions and features.

First and foremost, the 2020 Crandon FCP Brush run schedule will feature two full days and 30 races of Champ Off-Road Pro and Sportsman series competition. The Crandon Brush Run is the culmination of a 2020 season that took racers to dual events at Minnesota's ERX Motor Park in July and August for two rounds of racing, a back-to-back weekend of competition at Wisconsin's Dirt City Motorplex before coming to Crandon Labor Day weekend. Despite the logistical and executional challenges brought out by the COVID-19 virus, the sanctioning body, tracks, race teams, corporate partners and enthusiastic fans have worked together in order to make the 2020 championship a reality.

A major storyline for all of the weekend's competition will be racers putting everything on the line to bring home coveted 2020 Champ Off-Road class titles. Leading this charge will Wisconsin's own CJ Greaves, a Crandon favorite currently in position to claim three season crowns, including Pro 4, Pro Stock SxS and Pro Mod SxS. In the sport's premier class, Greaves (Monster Energy/Maxxis Toyota) lies second to Kyle LuDuc in the Pro 4 battle, but is leading the points rankings in Pro Stock SxS and Pro Mod SxS piloting a Yamaha.

Other leaders coming into the Crandon weekend include local favorite Keegan Kincaid in Pro 2 and Kyle Greaves in Pro-Lite.

The massive golden gates will swing open to welcome guests to Camp Crandon beginning on Thursday, September 24th at 12:00 noon (CST) Friday, September 25th will be free for fans of all ages to enjoy a full afternoon and evening of Pro and Sportsman practice, including a first ever night session for the Pro category racers. The Saturday night schedule includes Champ Off-Road points paying rounds for Pro Stock SXS, Pro-Lite, Pro Mod SxS, Pro 2 and Pro 4.

Track management has spent the better part of the summer of 2020 installing the new infield light towers, which will illuminate the track's primary infield

The ability to work with outside vendors and contracted services and to think critically and strategically is critical to this role.

The School District of Wabeno Area is a rural 4k-12 school district. The district prides itself on the cleanliness, safety, and maintenance of our buildings and grounds. The district owns all of their buses and vans and the Transportation Director maintains these vehicles.

Be Aware of a Text Messaging Scam Targeting FoodShare Members and Applicants

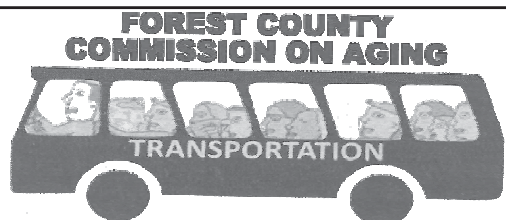

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service have become aware of a text messaging scam targeting FoodShare members.

The text might say, "You were chosen to receive food stamps or SNAP."

FoodShare members and applicants should never share personal information with individuals or organizations they do not know. Personal information includes a Social Security number, bank information, or QUEST card number and PIN.

If members or applicants receive a text message that they think is a scam, they should not reply to it. Instead, they should delete it. If they are unsure if a request for information is valid, they should contact their income maintenance or tribal agency.

As a reminder, DHS recommends using the ACCESS website to apply for benefits and the ACCESS website or MyACCESS app to manage benefits. The ebtEDGE mobile app can also be used to view FoodShare account information.

configuration. The upcoming Brush Run "Saturday Night Lights" competition will be the first for Pro-category competition in Crandon's rich history.

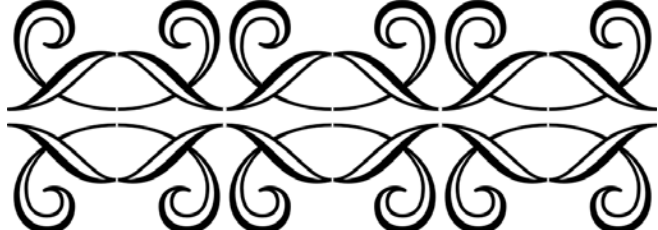

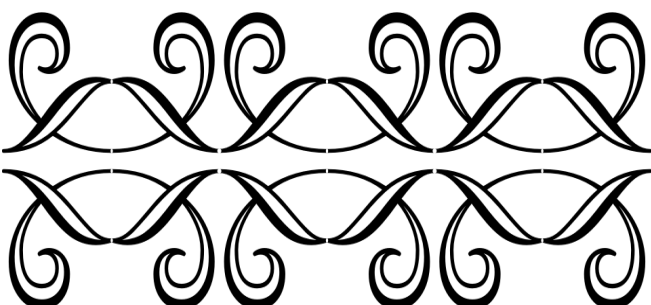

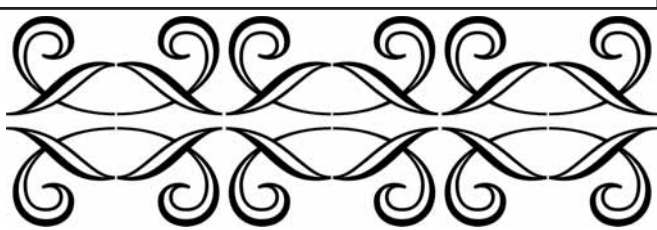

Crandon fans have been enthusiastic about their excitement for this historic first. After announcing news of the track's "Saturday Night Lights" event last week.

The weekend and 2020 Crandon season will culminate in the always dramatic Forest County Potawatomi Community Cup race, an all-out competition that pits unlimited Pro 2 versus Pro 4 trucks in a staggered time start. This year the Chairman's Cup will also represent the final bragging rights and paycheck of the year for Midwest short-course off-road racing, as a total purse of $28,000 in cash is on the line (including a $10,000 cash payout to the winner).

Crandon International Raceway has released a comprehensive 2020 COVID-19 operational plan to local law enforcement and health officials, as well as fans, racers and corporate partners, on its new website at www.crandonoffroad.com. Series officials in the Champ Off-Road will also be working closely with Crandon officials to ensure that all phases of the race weekend protocols are executed in an integrated manner.

Crandon International race fans and teams will continue to retain all of their original 2020 Brush Run event camping, pitting admission and grandstand reservations. There is no refund policy, but reservation holders can transfer their admittance and Camp Crandon tickets to other fans if desired. Those seeking help or assistance can contact the Crandon office directly via email at trackoffice@crandonoffroad.com.

Admission ticket, camping and grandstand reservations are still available for the 27th Forest County Potawatomi Brush Run by visiting www.crandonoffroad.com.

For Old Time's Sake

This view of the parade that began the Brush Run gives a good idea of the variety of vehicles that entered this race through mud and rocks. Racers often had to help each other through mudholes, with plenty of laughing and joking. That, of course, added to the fun.

The early off-road races weren't quite as sophisticated as the races today! The racers left the fairgrounds on Crandon's east side and put in four 25.25 mile laps that added up to 101 miles. Thus the name: Brush Run 101.

In truth, few vehicles completed the race, and one year, none did. The winner was the racer that went the furthest before breaking down. But, it was fun!

Hunters and organizations encouraged to join the fight against chronic wasting disease

No one cares more about Wisconsin deer than Wisconsin hunters, which is why for the past two years, individuals and organizations around the state have partnered with the Department of Natural Resources to place more chronic wasting disease (CWD) self-service kiosks and carcass disposal dumpsters for hunters to help monitor and slow the spread of CWD.

This year, the Adopt-a-Kiosk (AAK) and Adopt-a-Dumpster (AAD) programs are looking for more volunteers to help us to continue to grow these programs, bringing convenient CWD testing and proper carcass disposal options to even more hunters in Wisconsin.

"We know hunters want to participate in providing CWD sampling and proper carcass disposal options because the original idea for these two programs came from hunters themselves," said Amanda Kamps, DNR wildlife health conservation specialist. "The AAK and AAD programs give more hunters convenient opportunities to participate in CWD management around the state."

Proper disposal of deer carcass waste is a major factor in containing the spread of CWD. The DNR is committed to providing safe, convenient disposal options to hunters, especially in areas where options are limited or unavailable.

CWD is a contagious neurological disease of deer, elk moose and reindeer that is caused by an abnormal protein called a prion. These prions cause brain degeneration in infected animals and lead to extreme weight loss, abnormal behavior and loss of bodily functions. This always fatal disease was first found in Wisconsin in 2002 through testing of hunter-harvested deer in November 2001.

CWD can be spread among deer by both direct contact between animals and indirectly through exposure to environments contaminated with CWD prions, the protein that causes the disease. Exposure to an area where a CWD-positive carcass has decomposed could be enough to cause infection in deer. Because of this risk, it is vital that deer carcasses are disposed of in a way to reduce this infection risk.

Participants in both programs are responsible for all costs associated with the adoption of dumpsters and kiosks as a donation (with the exception for those enrolled in cost-sharing for dumpsters are responsible for their share), and for following program guidelines. Volunteers will receive DNR recognition and a certificate of appreciation at the end of the season. For the second year, a cost-sharing option is available to those wishing to participate in the Adopt-a-Dumpster program.

Visit the DNR website to learn how you or your organization can get involved with Adopt-a-Kiosk or Adopt-a-Dumpster this year.

Northwoods Fall Art Tour October 9,10,11

Wave Dance, 29 x 29 wall quilt, cut free hand, machine pieced and quilted, embellished with Swarovski crystals and Angelina fibers. It has a sleeve on the back to make it real for hanging. by Louise Schotz, Outback Studio, Irma. Outback studio is open

While many things have changed during this challenging year, some of the things that we love and that renew our spirit have remained the same. Our beautiful backroads of Iron, Vilas, Oneida and Lincoln counties are getting dressed in their most stunning colors to welcome guests. The artists of the Northwoods Fall Art Tour are getting studios ready to share their newest art work and inspirations with visitors.

Members of Northwoods Art Tour will be welcoming visitors in a variety of ways this Oct 9th,10th and 11th. The 39 studios and three guest artists each made individual decisions regarding their ability to safely be open to the public during the current Covid 19 Pandemic. Twenty-one studios will be open as usual. Five will be open by appointment only. Four will be closed, but offer online options for viewing and sales. Ten will be closed for the fall tour. Open studios will welcome visitors from 10am 5pm each day. A status list of all the studios with links to their contact information including webpages is available on the Northwoods Art tour website:

www.northwoodsarttour.com. Because tour members value and respect their visitors, all open studios and galleries will be following recommended safety guidelines. Visitors should be prepared to wear masks, use hand sanitizer and observe social distancing conventions.

Guests are invited into the private sanctuaries where artists live and create. Tour members have been working throughout the year so all open studios will have new work to share and artists will be demonstrating their approaches to art making. Whether visitors are shopping, wanting to learn about art processes, or just browsing, all the artists are pleased to welcome you to their creative space, to share their joy in art making, and their knowledge of process.

Old friendships will be renewed and new ones made, with the sharing of ideas and creativity, Each tour provides a unique experience for both the visitors and the artist.

Each studio and artist is special. Whether your interest lies in pottery, painting in many media, photography, art glass, practical or decorative fiber works, sculpture in wood or clay, reproduction or original prints, jewelry, handmade or custom furniture or just learning more about art, there is something for a variety of interests and tastes. You might just find that unique one-of-kind gift or a piece for your home that elevates your space and your spirit.

The tour is self guided. Studios are like open houses in which you come and go as your schedule allows. Visitors select which studios to visit based on their interests and time. Colorful brochures featuring each studio with driving directions, contact information and a map are available at area Chambers of Commerce and brochure racks located in many area businesses and on the tour's website. Because brochures were printed early in the year, a list of the open status of each studio is only available the website: www.northwoodsarttour.com

Back in the Woods, one of a kind foiled, stained and fused glass Lantern by Jack Stayer, Sand Lake Trading Company, Lac du Flambeau. While the trees may look like prints, they are actually etched glass enamel paint designs created by Jack and then fired into the four wispy white glass panels. The piece is further highlighted by original "tree bark" sculptured soldering and patina work. Sand Lake Trading Company will be open for the tour.

After the Rain, oil on canvas, 24 x 18 by Sandy Cashman, Manitowish Waters. Sandy's birchbark Studio will be open to the public for the tour.
