Forest County Veterans Memorial Park update

The Forestry and Recreation Department, Zoning Department, Forestry Committee and the County Board Chair are actively working with Coleman Engineering and the DNR to move the Wetland Delineation forward so that Flannery Contracting can finish the county park renovation.

This process has taken longer than the county had expected but the Wetland Delineation could not be completed until the growing season after May 1st.

The county will continue to be on top of this project and it will be a beautiful campground when finished. Please be patient and know that we understand the frustration with the closure of the county park.

Here are some highlights of the renovation project plan:

- Remove and replace the existing asphalt around the park and parking lot,
- Correct the drainage issue at the park,
- Install dense graded base materials and crusher fines for camper parking areas,
- Install water and 50-amp electrical utility pedestals at the campsites,
- Install electric to tent campsites,
- Install new playground equipment,
- All new larger campsite pads,
- New topsoil and restoration of campground,
- Painted and paved path for bikes on the side of the pavement and much more!

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Travis Wollenberg-County Forest Administrator at 715-478-3475.

Conservation Corner

Conservation Corner is a weekly article produced by the Forest County Land & Water Conservation Department. For more information contact Steve Kircher, County Conservationist-Land Information/GIS Director at 715-478-1387 or by e-mail at lcc@co.forest.wi.us.

As a musky fisherman, I consistently hear walleye fishermen stating that they'd catch more walleyes if it weren't for the muskies eating them all. They'll say, "if we're not catching walleye, then something else must be." But, people's beliefs about who's eating who often venture into the "myth" level of misunderstanding.

Let's start with the big bad muskellunge. As our largest predatory freshwater fish in Wisconsin, it's easy to picture a "musky" gobbling up all the little walleye in a lake. But, research has shown something very different. While walleye do show up in musky diets on occasion, great musky lakes in Wisconsin are often some of the best walleye lakes as well. This doesn't mean that the two species are best buddies or that they have a symbiotic relationship. More likely, it is evidence that both species do well in the same general habitats. In most big, deep, cool lakes you'll find both species doing pretty well. It is certainly not a "one or the other" scenario.

There is a somewhat different story with largemouth bass, but even this interaction is more complicated than it may seem on the surface. Largemouth bass abundance has been increasing in many Wisconsin lakes, while at the same time walleye have decreased. There are a number of likely factors driving this relationship. Climate change is making lakes warmer, sometimes weedier, and often clearer.

Largemouth bass, on the other hand, thrive in warm, weedy lakes. While the two species may have some direct interactions, we are really seeing entire lakes shifting towards more of a home field advantage for largemouth bass. This is especially true on lakes that were already on the smaller/clearer/shallower end of the spectrum for walleye lakes. If you are a little disheartened after reading these myths, I wouldn't blame you. But, managing expectations and setting a baseline level of understanding about the species is an important first step before the real work can begin.

The DNR will be working hard this year to update Wisconsin's Walleye Management Plan to provide the best strategies to meet these and other challenges walleye face. They will also be identifying key areas where partner groups, like lake associations, can help with maintaining great walleye fishing opportunities across the state.

New owners at North Trail Grocery in Elcho

By Mike Monte

Dennis and Karen O'Neil have run the North Trail Grocery, in Elcho, since 1976. Both felt it was time to sell out the business and have some leisure time.

The new owners are Joel Labute and Lauren Haidak. Like the former owners, they will be carrying a full line of groceries, meats, in-store smoking of meats, fresh produce and beer. In addition, the store also carries a line of souvenirs and other goods in the attached gift shop, plus apparel.

The store was originally built by the Fish Lumber Company as a company store back in the 1920's in a Bavarian style. The interior is original to that time as well, and there are no plans to change this traditional and historic design.

Joel and Lauren welcome your business, and the Pioneer Express wishes them good luck in their new business venture.

Carter House Museum open this summer

Looking for something to do this summer? The Crandon Area Historical Society is inviting visitors and the community to the Carter House Museum. The museum will be open on Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays beginning June 9 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. through Memorial Day. Best of all, it's FREE!

The Carter House has a unique history. It is located on land originally owned by Samuel Shaw, the founder of Crandon. During its existence it has been used for church services, meetings, dances and a mission before finally becoming the home of Henry Carter.

It's a great way for visitors and the people who live here to learn about the origins of the city of Crandon, early settlers and their way of life.

The Carter House Museum is located just off Crandon's main street at 105 W Jackson St.

From the left, new owners Joel Labute and Lauren Haidak. Retiring owners are Dennis and Karen O'Neil. By the way, Dennis is still going to help out in the meat department.

Crandon Public Library Take-Out Pulled Pork Lunch

The Crandon Public Library is hosting a Take-Out Pulled Pork Lunch on Friday June 18th from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 a.m. Come to the library any time during the event and pick up a lunch. Lunches include a pulled pork sandwich, side of sauce, coleslaw, and kettle chips.

The library is not charging a set fee for the lunches, but donations are greatly appreciated. Funds generated will be put towards new library materials and upcoming library programs.

The Garden Turtle

Sent in by Sherry Pethers Blackwell

I went out yesterday to water transplants in the garden, only to find that my asparagus bed was destroyed. A big, deep trench in it. I couldn't imagine what could do such a thing. Until I turned around and saw this snapper in with the dill and Brussels sprouts.

Wabeno Lions Mega Meat Raffle Fundraiser

Like most charitable organizations, the Wabeno Lions Club was negatively impacted by the 2020 pandemic. It was deemed necessary to cancel the annual Fish-O-Ree that was to be held in February. Unfortunately, that event has always been the Club's main source of funds for the year. Those funds are all returned to the community through projects such as:

- Two Wabeno scholarships
- St. John's and NEWCAP food pantries
- Wabeno Elementary Book Fair
- Rebel Youth Football and Rebel Youth Basketball Camp
- Wabeno Museum fund
- High school awards and senior banquets
- Eyeglass Early Screening Program
- Padus Gun Club Youth Trap Shooting
- Annual Veterans Golf Outing
- Senior Citizens Banquet

In an effort to raise money to continue funding community projects, the Lions Club will be holding a Mega Meat Raffle fundraiser at the Wabeno Firefighters Grounds on Saturday, June 26th from 12 p.m. to 5 p.m. There will be plenty of meat prizes, raffles, food and refreshments.

Please come and join in the fun, stock your freezer and help us to continue with our service to the Wabeno area community.

There is currently 0 active cases in isolation at home, 942 released from isolation, 1 hospitalized, and 26 deaths related to COVID-19.

The Forest County Health Department encourages community members to minimize their contact with others by staying home when possible, practice physical distancing and good personal hygiene, wear a mask or cloth face covering, and stay alert for symptoms of COVID-19. If you are experiencing any symptoms or have been exposed to someone with COVID-19, please contact your health care provider and ask to be tested.

Boat Responsibly!

MADISON, Wis. – It's National Safe Boating Week, and thousands of boaters are expected to hit the water this Memorial Day Weekend. The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) reminds boaters that wearing a life jacket could save your life.

It is human nature to think drowning can't happen to you. The majority of people who drown in boating accidents know how to swim but become incapacitated in the water such as being injured or unconscious, exhausted or weighed down by clothing.

So far this year, six people have died in boating incidents, and another 22 people died in 2020. Operator inexperience, inattention, recklessness and speeding are the four leading causes of tragic watercraft crashes, and the leading cause of death is drowning.

"Safety is an important part of water fun. Most drowning victims on Wisconsin waterbodies were not wearing life jackets," said Lt. Darren Kuhn, DNR Boating Law Administrator. "Wisconsin rivers and lakes can be relaxing and family-friendly places to spend a summer day when you put safety first and respect for the water."

The department does not track all drownings – only those fatalities linked to the use of a recreational activity item, such as a boat, kayak or canoe.

Statistics show boaters who wear life jackets and take boater safety courses are most likely to stay safe on Wisconsin waters. New life jackets are much more comfortable, lightweight and stylish than the bulky orange style most boaters know. There are innovative options, such as inflatable life jackets, allowing mobility and flexibility for activities like boating, fishing, paddling or hunting, and are much cooler in the warmer weather.

Follow the basic safety tips below and enjoy Wisconsin's great lakes and rivers with family and friends.

WATER SAFETY TIPS

- Sign up now to take an online boater education course.
- Always wear a properly fitted life jacket that has a snug fit and is fastened when you're on or near the water. Life jackets will keep you on top of the water if you walk off an unexpected drop-off, or a wave or current overpowers you or you fall out of a boat.
- Enjoy the waters sober and know your limits. Alcohol blurs a person's judgment, reaction time and abilities.
- River shorelines and sandbars pose unseen dangers. Higher, fast-moving water can tax an individual's boating, paddling and swimming skills.
- Keep an eye on the weather and let someone know where you are going.
- Be ready for the unexpected and always wear your life jacket. More boating safety tips are available on the DNR website.

Prepare now for summer heat

Residents reminded to stay cool, hydrated, and informed when temperatures soar

Summer is almost upon us and extreme heat days are not far behind. Today the Department of Health Services is recognizing Heat Awareness Day and encouraging residents to be aware of the signs and symptoms of heat-related illness and to take steps to prevent getting sick.

In 2020, 689 people went to the emergency department, 67 people were hospitalized, and seven people died in Wisconsin due to heat-related causes. Emergency department visits were highest among younger populations aged 15-34, while hospitalizations were most frequent among those aged 65 and older. "Temperatures in Wisconsin are projected to keep increasing over time due to climate change. Wisconsinites need to be on alert for extremely warm days and proactively take steps to ensure their safety," said Dr. Jon Meiman, chief medical officer of the Bureau of Environmental and Occupational Health.

Some people are more likely to get sick from the heat, including:

- Older adults and younger children
- People who work outside
- People attending summer festivals
- People without access to air conditioning
- People who take certain medications like diuretics ("water pills") or psychotropics

Follow these tips to stay cool on hot days:

- Stay in air conditioning. When possible, stay in air conditioning on hot days. If you don't have air conditioning, head to libraries, malls, and other public spaces to keep cool.
- Check on loved ones. Be sure to check on older friends and neighbors who live alone.
- Avoid the hottest part of the day. If you have to be outside, stick to the cooler morning and evening hours. Wear light, loose clothing and take frequent, air conditioned or shade breaks.
- Beware of hot cars. Never leave a person or a pet in a parked car, even for a short time. On an 80 degree day, the temperature inside a car can reach 100 degrees in less than 10 minutes.
- Stay hydrated. Drink plenty of water on hot days. Avoid alcohol and hot, heavy meals.
- Stay informed. Watch your local weather forecasts so you can plan outdoor activities safely. Pay attention to any extreme heat alerts.
- Remember that anyone can get sick from the heat. In Wisconsin, people ages 15-34 are the most likely to report to the ER for getting sick from the heat. No matter your age or how healthy you are, it's important to stay cool, hydrated, and informed on hot days.

If you start feeling overheated, weak, dizzy, nauseated, or have muscle cramps, you could be experiencing heat illness. Move to air conditioning, drink water, get under a fan, and put on cool washcloths. If your symptoms worsen or don't improve, go to the emergency room. For a list of cooling shelters, call the Forest County Health Department at (715)478-3371.

For Old Time's Sake

This photo came from the Colburn collection in Hiles. However, the Colburns were originally from Wabeno, and it is likely that this photo came from the Wabeno area. It appears to be a homestead owned by a Potawatomi family, probably to the east of Wabeno.

Like all homesteaders, it was a hard scrabble life, trying to grow crops on the lands that were recently cleared of stumps and rocks. The home is obviously made from local logs that were hand-sawed from the surrounding forest. It was likely warm and snug in the winter months and too hot in weather like we are currently having.

Picture taking was a big event, and as can be seen, the elders are wearing their traditional dress for the occasion.

Thank You's and Personals

ATV Association Says THANKS!

Forest County ATV Association would like to take this opportunity to thank Northeast Asphalt and Brian Enders for the donation of the crushed asphalt that was put on the Nicolet State Trail in Laona.

This crushed asphalt will keep the dust down on the trail as it is being used. FCATVA paid for the trucking of the asphalt and did the grading.

Thanks to Tom & Tim Tucker as well as Dave Velie for all their work.

USDA celebrates National Home Ownership Month

STEVENS POINT, Wis., June 7, 2021 – U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Wisconsin Rural Development Acting State Director Michelle Wallace kicked off National Homeownership Month, as part of a nationwide celebration to highlight USDA's efforts to provide access to affordable housing for rural Americans.

"Affordable housing is essential to the vitality of communities in rural America," said Wallace. "Under the leadership of President Biden and Agriculture Secretary Vilsack, USDA continues investing in the people of rural Wisconsin to help them achieve the dream of homeownership."

Since 1949, USDA has helped 4.7 million families and individuals across the nation buy homes in rural areas. Last year, Wisconsin USDA Rural Development supported rural homeownership through the following programs and investments:

The Single Family Housing Direct Home Loan Program provides loans directly to families and individuals so they can buy or build homes in rural America. USDA invested over $12 million in this program to help 80 families and individuals purchase a home.

Through its Single Family Housing Guaranteed Loan Program, USDA has partnered with numerous private lending institutions, backing $331 million in loans to help over 2,100 families and individuals buy homes in rural areas.

The Home Repair Loan and Grant Program provides loans and grants to help families and individuals repair and modernize homes, making them safer, healthier places to live. USDA invested $838,000 to help 160 families improve the quality of their homes. To learn more about USDA homeownership programs, please visit the Single Family Housing program webpage, call us at 715-345-7600 or email wi-rd-sfh-so@usda.gov.

Under the Biden-Harris Administration, Rural Development provides loans and grants to help expand economic opportunities, create jobs and improve the quality of life for millions of Americans in rural areas. This assistance supports infrastructure improvements; business development; housing; community facilities such as schools, public safety and health care; and high-speed internet access in rural, Tribal and high-poverty areas. For more information, visit www.rd.usda.gov/wi. If you'd like to subscribe to USDA Rural Development updates, visit our GovDelivery subscriber page.

Secondhand Smoke Exposure in the Home: Still a Problem for Many

Dear Editor,

June is Healthy Homes Month, which raises awareness of housing-related health hazards, and encourages taking steps to make homes safe and healthy. Secondhand smoke is a major health hazard.

While overall exposure to secondhand smoke in the home has decreased, some populations are still exposed to it regularly. Non-Hispanic Black Americans; people who live below the federal poverty level; those who work in 'blue collar' industries, service occupations, or construction; people who live in multi-unit housing; and children 3-11 years old are more likely than other groups to be exposed to secondhand smoke.

Secondhand smoke exposure occurs more in multi-unit housing, which is more commonly populated by people of color and marginalized communities. Housing discrimination's and racist policies' role in segregating communities and leaving some populations at risk. Racial, ethnic, and cultural discrimination contributes to negative health outcomes, at times taking the lives of people of color. There are higher rates of menthol cigarettes in Black smokers because the tobacco industry strategically targets the community with advertising in black neighborhoods and in publications that are popular with black audiences, as well as sponsoring jazz and hip-hop festivals.

Secondhand smoke exposure can cause heart disease, lung cancer, and strokes in adults who have never smoked. Children who are exposed to secondhand smoke have higher risk of SIDS (sudden infant death syndrome) and have more health problems such as ear infections, coughing/shortness of breath, and pneumonia.

You can learn more about the benefits of smoke-free housing at wismokefreehousing.com. Call 1-800-QUIT NOW (784-8669) for free help to quit smoking, or if you are on Medicaid, talk to your healthcare provider about the free help provided through Medicaid's cessation benefit.
