Conservation Corner

Conservation Corner is a weekly article produced by the Forest County Land & Water Conservation Department. For more information contact Steve Kircher, County Conservationist-Land Information/GIS Director at 715-478-1387 or by e-mail at lcc@co.forest.wi.us.

This week I would like to introduce our newest addition to the Land & Water staff, Kayla Littleton. Kayla will serve as the Conservation/GIS technician. She is a lifelong resident of Forest County and a 2017 graduate from Crandon High School. After high school, Kayla attended Nicolet Technical College in Rhinelander. In 2019, she graduated with an Associate of Science degree with a Natural Resources emphasis. She transferred her credits to UW-Stevens Point's College of Natural Resources and was able to start with a Junior status.

While at UWSP, she decided to major in Soil and Land Management. In the Summer of 2020, she was able to complete an internship with AgSource based out of Antigo. She spent her days scouting potatoes and cranberries in the Antigo area and Oneida County.

Kayla graduated Magna Cum Laude from UWSP in May of 2021 and started for Forest County the Monday after graduation. While at Stevens Point, she was able to take classes in soil, wetlands and geographic information systems (GIS). She enjoys spending her free time hunting, fishing and hanging out with friends and family.

Kayla has been busy designing and implementing Shoreland Restoration projects as part of our Cost Share program. This fall she hopes to contact Forest County farmers and help them with their Nutrient Management Plans.

Kayla can be reached @ 715-478-1387 or email: lcctech@co.forest.wi.us.

You can pick the type of pizza you like best, and they have a big variety. You will find specials on their site or you can design your own pizza with types of meat and veggies you like. Order by phone. They are open Wednesday 4-7, Thursday through Saturday they are open 11 a.m. until 7 p.m.

The owners of the business are Maacah and Grace Dewing. To order one of the wood-fired pizzas call 715-478-0084 and pick your pizza up at the above location.

Remembering the signers

As we celebrate this weekend, it is good to bear in mind that this weekend wouldn't be possible without the courage of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Back in 1776, England was probably the most powerful nation in the world. She had colonies across the world and would add more. Unfortunately, she didn't treat her colonists with much respect and used their labors to enrich Britain and taxed colonists excessively without giving them a say in the matter. The American colonies had enough and decided to withdraw from the British. A long tough war followed, but we won with help from the French.

As Ben Franklin told his peers back then; "Either we hang together, or we hang separately."

Obviously, we hung together, and we were able to save England in two world wars in the years to come!

4th of July celebration for Townsend

Stray cat problem in Argonne being worked on

There has been a stray cat problem in Argonne for a few years now and thanks to concern citizens, city officials, the Fix Is In and the Forest County Humane Society, we are making a collective effort to solve the problem. An effort is being made to come in and catch as many as we can and have them spayed / neutered, vaccinated and then either adopted to people that would like an outdoor kitty or will be released back at this time until a suitable forever home can be found.

We ask for everyone's cooperation as we take on this challenge. Do not feed cats in the city hall region of Argonne as we have set up feeding stations so we will be able to catch them on surgery day, if you see traps please do not tamper with them. If you would like to adopt one of these cats free of charge and give it an amazing home, all we ask is that you take two so they have a friend to live with, you would also need to supply food, water and adequate shelter for them for their entire lives. If you would like to adopt a pair of cats please contact Angie at 715-367-2412. You will need to bring two cat carriers to transport them home in.

Wabeno Kindergarten has successful butterfly experiment

This was year two of the Wabeno Kindergarten classes' Butterfly Hydroponics Experiment. Unlike last spring, students were present at school to observe the complete process. We grew mallow plants in our butterfly habitat and later introduced caterpillars to the environment. Students observed and wrote about the process from growing the plants to releasing the butterflies. We gathered our writing together and had it published as a professionally bound book to culminate the experience.

For Old Time's Sake

This photo is from the late Ned Colburn's collection, which consists of photos from Hiles, where he lived, and Wabeno, where the Colburn family came from.

This is, of course, a posed photo. Traveling photographers collected images from all over, making the prints into postcards that were sold to the public. Many kept in touch with families when they had moved or were working in the Northwoods with postcards. They were inexpensive and gave the folks back home at where they had moved to.

It would appear that this photographer talked a couple of Potawatomi young men to stage this sneak attack. Were they paid? Probably not, but it is safe to say that they had fun.

Northwoods Six-County lakes and Rivers meeting July 16 to highlight natural shorelines and lake stewardship

Lake group leaders and members from six northern Wisconsin counties will convene via Zoom for a discussion of natural shorelines, lake stewardship, and other current issues related to lake quality and protection on Friday, July 16, from 9 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. The counties include: Oneida, Vilas, Iron, Forest, Langlade, and Lincoln.

The meeting will explore initiatives underway and planned to encourage lake property owners to keep their shorelines natural and take other measures to help protect water quality, safeguard fish and wildlife habitat, and sustain healthy lake ecosystems. The agenda includes presentations on:

- A Lake Steward program from Minnesota that champions steps shoreland property owners can take to create cleaner water and better wildlife habitat.
- Water-related initiatives involving the state legislature.
- A Wisconsin Shoreland Evaluation tool being developed by the DNR.
- Current DNR initiatives and projects related to water.
- Efforts in Oneida County to regulate the clear-cutting of shoreline properties.
- Wisconsin's Green Fire Partners for Healthy Lakes program to help lake organizations develop data-driven lake protection projects.
- Tribal efforts to improve fish hatcheries and support fish communities and habitat.
- A Shoreline Stabilization Guide for owners of waterfront properties
- Current trends and challenges related to the use of Wisconsin's recreational waters.

Breakouts for meetings of county lakes and rivers associations will be held after the program.

The event is jointly sponsored by the Oneida County Lakes and Rivers Association (www.oclra.org) and the Vilas County Lakes and Rivers Association (www.vclra.org). For more information, visit the OCKRA website or Bob Martini at 715-282-5896.

For Old Time's Sake

Many of you still tip a beer in this Crandon saloon; tavern these days. At this time, it was owned by Clarence Robbins, and that is Dorsie Robbins, Clarence Robbins' brother, tending bar. The big guy in the white shirt is Bob Ison, Alton Ison's father. Shag Thornbury is on Bob Ison's left, and the others weren't named, unfortunately, on the back of the photo. And, by the way, the place is now called Pack 'Em Inn. Yes, it has changed through the years. The bar was owned by Tom Fannin, we think, after Clarence Robbins died in 1937. His son, Ken Fannin, ran the bar for years, and we think he is the owner that modernized the decor of the tavern.

Doris Cecelia (Cole) Bauman
August 01, 1928 - June 16, 2021
"To know her is to love her"

On June 16, 2021, surrounded by her loving family, our dearest Doris Cecelia Bauman entered eternal peace. Doris was born on August 1, 1928, in Townsend, WI, to the late Earl and Elizabeth (Dobner) Cole.

Doris graduated from Wabeno High School in 1946 and went on to marry Oliver "Ollie" Henry Bauman Jr. After they married, they built their home, started a family and ran a business. For fun,

Ollie & Doris liked to ride their Harley with friends. Doris had an adventurous spirit and although busy raising a family and running a business, she still found time to get her pilots license. Ollie passed away on May 11, 1971 leaving behind his wife and 7 children. Doris worked hard, sometimes having 3 jobs at a time, to make sure they never went without.

She will forever be remembered for her generous heart, kind nature, sense of humor & quick wit. Doris loved spending time and making memories with her children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great-grandchildren any chance she got. Her family was the light of her life and she was the heartbeat of her family.

She is survived by her sister, Mildred "Mitzy" Cole, and her children: Judy (Jack Fohrman), Susan (John Klementz), Timothy (Meyoung), Betsy, Colleen, Thomas (Carol); and many grandchildren, great grandchildren, great-great grandchildren, nephews and nieces.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Earl & Elizabeth Cole; her husband, Oliver "Ollie" Bauman Jr.; her infant daughter, Patti Jean; her son, Oliver "Smokey" (surviving spouse Quyen); her two brothers, John "Roger" (Yvonne) and Edward "Eddie" (Sandra) Cole.

A celebration of life will be held at a later date.

What do you do if you find a fawn?

MADISON, Wis. - As the start of summer brings more opportunities to enjoy the great outdoors, the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) reminds Wisconsinites and visitors of the possibility of encountering white-tailed fawns.

As we approach Independence Day weekend, most deer rehabilitators have filled their capacity to take on new fawn patients, making it more important than ever to know what to do if you find a fawn in the wild.

In almost every case, the fawn is doing exactly what it should. In the first few weeks of life, fawns stay quiet and hidden while their mothers look for food nearby. Their spotted coats and low scent are their best defenses in the first few weeks of life. While fawns can walk from birth, they need a few more weeks to grow fast enough to keep up with their mothers and avoid predators.

By the Fourth of July, most fawns are on the move alongside or nearby their mothers. Mother deer still spend most of the day away from their fawns while they forage for food. Fawns lie still in brush or grass, keeping quiet until their mothers return, but now they have the speed and agility to run from danger.

"If you come across a fawn lying still and quiet and you don't see mom around, that's a good sign," said Amanda Kamps, DNR Wildlife Health Conservation Specialist. "That fawn is doing exactly what it's supposed to do to keep safe."

Fawns have very specialized diets and can easily become dependent on people (habituated) for food, making release into the wild impossible.

"Beyond risking the health of the fawn, taking possession of a deer isn't a good idea for people either," Kamps said.

Holding any wild animal, including a fawn, for more than 24 hours is illegal in Wisconsin and can result in a citation with a monetary fine. The 24-hour grace period is allowed for transporting an injured or sick animal to a licensed wildlife rehabilitator without delay.

It is rare that unaccompanied fawns have been abandoned. If you find a fawn lying alone unless the fawn is sick or injured, leave it alone. Leave the area and do not go near the spot again. The mother will not return if people or dogs are present. Do not touch the fawn or bring children, dogs or friends to look at it. Doing so could endanger the fawn by giving away its location to a predator, and its mother won't return to nurse the fawn while people or dogs are nearby.

What To Do If You Find A Fawn:

If you find a fawn lying quietly in brush, high grass or even your lawn, the fawn is most likely healthy and safe. If you are concerned, monitor the fawn from a distance. Its mother will return periodically to feed and move it to a new location.

If a fawn is in an unsafe location, such as near a roadway, it's okay to move the fawn back from the road several yards. Be sure to wear gloves and a facemask to protect the health of the fawn, and be sure to consider your own safety when walking near a road.

If a fawn appears visibly sick or injured, call the DNR or a licensed wildlife rehabilitator for further guidance. Visit the DNR website for contact information for a county near you.

For more information on what to do if you find a fawn or any other baby animal, visit the DNR website.
