Holt & Balcom Logging Camp Museum presents "Lucy Loved Lakewood"

A special summer program, Lucy Loved Lakewood will be presented on Saturday July 17 at 1:00 p.m. at the Holt & Balcom Logging Camp Museum in Lakewood. Museum Director Kathleen Marsh will portray Lucy Holt, whose most well-known legacy is the Cathedral Woods, a 17 acre tract of virgin white pine and hemlock located near Archibald Lake. The site, preserved as a living historical memorial to the White Pine Era, is now owned by the Forest Service and considered one of the seven wonders of Wisconsin.

"Lucy" will share a few fond memories of her first visit to the Logging Camp in 1894 with her future husband William Arthur Holt, as well as summers spent at the family's iconic Island Lodge at Archibald Lake. Joining her will be Lakewood historian Tom Thielke, author of The History of Lakewood, Small Town Success in the Northwoods, published in 2009 (available at Lakewood Super Valu).

Born and raised in Lakewood, Tom and his wife Faye are lifelong educators who enjoy summers at their cabin on Paya Lake and winters in Mesa, Arizona. As Lakewood historian, Tom has compiled a priceless collection of memorabilia which he has shared at various venues.

Tom will pick up the story of Lucy's affection for Lakewood and her vital role in chronicling the town's earliest history. It was Lucy who championed the effort to preserve the Cathedral Woods. It was she who saved for posterity boxes of documents, letters and journals that depict a life lived "in the service of God" during the early 20th Century by a lumber baron's wife. Most significantly, it was she who had the foresight to record "woods work" using the latest available technology: film, both still photographs and moving pictures. Tom's presentation will include her rare vintage video of Holt logging in the area and the Holt sawmill in Oconto.

As always, the Museum will open at 10 a.m. on July 17, but the cook-shack will close at 11:30 to allow staff to set up for the program. Holt & Balcom Logging Camp Museum is located off Highway F in Lakewood. Take Highway 32 to County Trunk F; go east 1.5 miles. Turn right into the McCauslin Golf Course and follow the signs. Please park in the golf course parking lot. The Museum, which is air-conditioned and handicapped accessible, is located directly behind the Clubhouse. A $5.00 per person donation is requested to assist with maintenance of the facility.

Conservation Corner

Conservation Corner is a weekly article produced by the Forest County Land & Water Conservation Department. For more information contact Steve Kircher, County Conservationist-Land Information/GIS Director at 715-478-1387 or by e-mail at lcc@co.forest.wi.us.

Let's talk turtles. Now is the time of year to be looking out for them on our roads. Late May through mid-July is peak nesting season for Wisconsin's turtles. Females are making their way from water to find the perfect nesting spot. It can take some species, like the wood turtle, 12-20 years to reach reproductive maturity, so it's important to protect them.

Wisconsin has 11 different species of turtles.

1. Common Snapping Turtle
2. Common Musk Turtle
3. Wood Turtle
4. Blanding's Turtle
5. Ornate Box Turtle
6. Painted Turtles
7. Common Map Turtle
8. Ouachita Map Turtle
9. False Map Turtle
10. Midland Smooth Softshell Turtle
11. Eastern Spiny Softshell Turtle

The bolded species are threatened, endangered or a species of special concern.

As I said, female turtles leave water to seek a site to nest sometime in late May to early July. They look for gravel or sandy soils with plenty of sunshine. They can even travel up to 1.5 miles away from water for the perfect spot. This is why you can find turtles far from water in June and July. They may wander for a few hours to a few days to successfully find a site. Once the site is found, the female digs the nest, lays the eggs, and then covers the nest to avoid predation.

Wabeno Steam Up Days this weekend-Plus the Craft Fair

Wabeno's Annual Steam-Up Days will be held at the Firefighters Grounds, in Wabeno, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 9, 10, and 11. This year's theme is Fordson.

Of course, visitors will be able to see the Phoenix Log Hauler in operation, steam-powered and in as good a condition as when it hauled sleigh loads of logs to the sawmill. In addition, you can watch a working blacksmith, a steam-powered sawmill, antique tractors and gas engines, and other antique machinery.

Enjoy a Friday night fish fry, a Saturday pig roast at 3 p.m., Kiddie Tractor Pull, on Sunday at 1 p.m. and a horse pull Sunday at noon. There will be plenty of good food, including a corn stand. And, don't forget the Flea Market and the Craft Fair downtown on Saturday.

Road Closed? I didn't see any sign!

The road and beach may be marked "closed," but when it is a popular spot for so many people, signs don't mean much! The parking area not piled with dirt was full of vehicles and the closed beach had dozens of people enjoying the sand and water. That's not to mention the many who arrived by boat to enjoy the beach and water.

We just have to be patient. Eventually, the County Park at the south end of Metonga will be back in business and open to the public. In the meantime, people will just ignore the signs and use the available parking and the one of the nicest beaches in the area!

Argonne photos wanted for the Centennial Celebration

Those of you with a connection to Argonne and its past that might have photos of Argonne and/or its people are asked to bring the photos out of the closet and share them with those attending the celebration.

Please give the pictures to Dan Thomaschefskey or drop off at the Pioneer Express. The photos will be copied so the originals aren't put on public display.

It would be nice if all the families who lived in Argonne or still do could be represented in the photo display planned for the town hall. Your ancestors will thank you for this!

Did you know that their sex is determined by the average incubation temperature during the middle part of their development? An average temperature greater than 82 degrees will produce females and a temperature less than 77 degrees will produce males.

The biggest threat to females during nesting season are cars and roads. Road shoulders have the perfect mix of sand and gravel to provide a good nesting spot. They usually have a lot of sunshine for egg incubation, too.

When turtles nest close to a road or crossing a road, there are more people around that can interfere with the nesting process. Besides hitting them with a car, people pick them up for food or pets. It is actually against the law to pick up turtles for any reason from December 1st to July 14th to protect the nesting females. You can report violators or intentional killers to your local conservation warden with the vehicle license number or you can call the DNR's violation hotline: 1-800-TIP-WDNR (1-800-847-9367).

So, this nesting season, make sure to be alert on roads to avoid hitting turtles, especially near river crossing or lakes. If it's safe to do so, you can stop and move a turtle off the road in the direction they were headed.

He then moved to Hiles, WI. with his wife, Rosemary. He hunted and fished the area in his youth and throughout his life. He vacationed throughout The United States with Rosemary. He loved his Rosemary passionately and was immensely saddened at her death January 28, 1999. He also previously lost a son Nicholas who was an infant. He loved his children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

His favorite Northwood's activities were riding his Polaris Ace UTV around the Pine Lake area, visiting neighbors, attending Crandon athletic events, and telling stories and jokes. He loved all of his neighbors in Hiles.

Surviving are his daughter, Sally Bruno of Crandon; sons, Steve (Susan) Schultz of Hiles; Craig (Karen) Schultz of Maricopa, AZ; grandchildren, Nicholas (Christy) Olson, Natalie (Krist) Hansen, Lane (Stephanie) Bruno, Jordan (Janeen) Schultz, Michael (Amber) Ray, Kyle (Elli) Brockway, great-grandchildren, Cici, Elli, Willow, Audrey, Logan, Evan, Ivory, Waylon, Kyler, Evie, Amber, Brody, and Monroe.

He was preceded in death by his parents Peter and Mary Schultz, and Kush Holliz his grandparent who was his favorite fishing partner as a child. Also his sister, Anna Baggesen.

Mass of Christian Burial will be held at 11:00 a.m. on Friday, July 16, 2021 at St. Joseph Catholic Church with Father Kennedy Gaspar officiating. Burial to follow at Hiles Cemetery with a luncheon at Hiles, WI. Town Hall. Visitation will be held from 9:00 a.m. to time of service at church.

Nicolet Outdoor Adventure program for those seeking quality time outdoors

The Outdoor Adventure program at Nicolet College is in full swing with numerous upcoming opportunities for people to enjoy a multitude of outdoor summer adventures. "More than ever people are looking for quality outdoor experiences," said Terry Rutlin, Nicolet Outdoor Adventure coordinator. "We're seeing quite a number of new students signing up for classes, people who have never taken an Outdoor Adventure class before. Another trend is more parents taking classes with their children. Sometimes the children are kids and other times the children are adults themselves. It's been very encouraging to see."

Classes last anywhere from a couple of hours to almost a full day.

Offerings coming up July through September include Beginning and Intermediate Paddleboarding, Primitive Fire Starting, Wild Mushroom Hunting, an interpretive nature paddle, Fly Fishing, Grouse Hunting, Wild Game Cooking, Outdoor Photography, Permaculture, Dog-Powered Silent Sports, and Wild Cranberry Foraging.

For more information or to register for any class, visit nicoletcollege.edu/outdooradventure or call the college at (715) 365-4544. Details on upcoming classes are as follows:

Fly Fishing for Various Species

This course covers fly fishing for a variety of species including trout, salmon, bass, pike, musky, crappie, yellow perch, bluegill, and other sunfishes. We'll cover optimal equipment for each species for different size bodies of water and stream characteristics and fly selection for each scenario. Note that there is no casting practice in this course. Instructor Bob Paine, 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, July 17, Nicolet College Campus - Northwoods Center 208-209. $35.

Advanced Fly Fishing and Casting

This is a great course for individuals who have mastered the basic forward cast to the extent of being able to consistently and accurately cast at least 30 feet. One-on-one instruction on the following casts: pile, reach, steep, and tuck casts, as well as the double-haul and advanced mending techniques. Major emphasis is on casting and mending practice. Instructor Bob Paine, 1 to 4 p.m., Saturday, July 17, Nicolet College Campus - Northwoods Center 208-209 and Nicolet Field. $35.

Photography: Seeing the Outdoors in a New Light - There's a big difference between simply clicking the shutter and taking a picture and creating exquisite photographs that tell a story and are pleasing to the eye. You'll understand the difference after this class geared for beginning outdoor photographers who are looking to take their skills to the next level. Instructor Jack Flint, 9 a.m. to noon, Saturday, August 7. $35

For Old Time's Sake

This lawn party was held at the Harry and Edith Keith residence, probably around 1912 to 1915. As can be seen, the fashions of the day covered a bit more skin than they do today! Then again, there was no problem with sunburn!

The Harry Keith house is located on the south end of Lake Avenue where it meets Lake Metonga, on the corner where the road turns to the east.

For Old Time's Sake

Pictures like this were taken by Phoenix Steel from Eau Claire. It was the company that built the Phoenix. It is unlikely that the Phoenix hauled very many loads this large to the Jones sawmill, but it did sell more machines to other companies. The Phoenix was, and is, a remarkable machine. See it run this weekend at Wabeno's Steam Up Days!

Urinary Tract Infections May Change Behaviors

It is easy to dismiss forgetfulness, confusion, irritability, or withdrawal as just typical signs of aging or dementia. However, most people would be surprised to learn that urinary tract infections or (UTIs) can create these behaviors, as well. If an older person has a sudden and unexplained change in behavior such as increased confusion, agitation, or withdrawal, it may actually be because of a UTI.

A UTI is an infection in any part of the urinary system such as the kidneys, ureters, bladder, and urethra. Women are more commonly affected by UTIs than men. Most UTIs can be treated with antibiotics and do not create any further problems. Complications are uncommon, but they can be serious and include kidney damage and blood poisoning, which can be fatal.

Urinary tract infections don't always cause signs and symptoms, but when they do, they may include a strong, persistent urge to urinate; burning sensation when urinating; passing frequent, small amounts of urine; urine that appears cloudy; urine that appears red, bright pink or brown (a sign of blood in the urine); strong-smelling urine; and pelvic pain in women.

Older adults, however, may experience different symptoms compared to young or middle-aged adults, and those symptoms can be much more severe. Further complicating matters is that older adults with cognitive impairments or dementia may not realize there is an issue or be able to communicate their UTI symptoms to caregivers. Even more, common symptoms like burning and urgency to urinate may not occur in older individuals at all. Sometimes, the only sign that an older adult has a UTI is the sudden and unusual behavior changes, confusion, or delirium.

For these reasons, it's important for older adults and caregivers to know the signs and symptoms of UTIs so they can be recognized and treated quickly. Diagnosing a UTI in an otherwise healthy older adult can be difficult to begin with, but this task is even more challenging when someone has dementia or other cognitive impairments. Hopefully, a family caregiver or other individual who regularly interacts with the older adult can monitor their cognitive function and behavior to determine what is "normal" and detect anomalies to the best of their ability. Otherwise, an older adult may be presumed to have permanent symptoms of dementia when, in fact, they are experiencing temporary cognitive issues due to a UTI. A key distinction in determining whether delirium, agitation or confusion is caused by a UTI is whether treatment with antibiotics results in any improvement in mental status.

Remember, older adults are often managing multiple health conditions and taking several different medications. The best UTI treatment and prevention strategy for each individual may vary, and should be discussed at length with one's medical providers.

Wabeno Lions Club Senior Banquet

Ms. Joy Sisler, featured speaker, pictured with Lions Gregg Tallier, Al Harrison, Paul Newton. Ms. Sisler is employed by Wolf River Lawyers, SC in Dale, WI, serving the Valley and surrounding area.

The Wabeno Lion's Club held its 66th Annual Senior Banquet just prior to the graduation of the Class of 2021 at Wabeno High School. The Lions honor the graduating class, as well as present the Service Award plaque to the top volunteer in the Class of 2021. The event was held at Wabeno High School, with the Banquet catered by Cassidy's Cafe.

Joy Sisler, 2006 graduate of W.H.S., gave the keynote address to the class, their loved ones, Wabeno School Board, and the Lion's Club members. She is an attorney focusing on family law. Her inspiring speech was very informative, entertaining, and even included some valuable legal tips for the Class of 2021 as they venture out into the "real world".

Class President, Emma Harris, introduced the class to all attendees. The Wabeno Lion's Club selected Grace Novak for the Service Award, honoring the top volunteer in the Class of 2021. Her essay included her volunteer activities in her community, school and church, as well as gave a thorough overview of what it means to her to serve others.

The Wabeno Lion's Club concluded the evening's events wishing the best of luck to the Class of 2021, and the singing of "God Bless America".

Class of 2021 President Emma Harris and Service Award winner Grace Novak.
