The Valley of Fright!

Get in the Halloween spirit with a visit to the Valley of Fright! Starting on October 1st, a scary walk has been made available on Hwy 8 next to Mays Bar at the wreath factory.

Visitors will make their way through a haunted graveyard. In the Spider's Nest those brave enough will be in a dark and ominous forest filled with ghouls, zombies and other scary things that go bump in the night.

It is good, scary fun, and if you scream a little, it is alright.

The Valley of Fright is open every Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m. The cost is $10 per adult, and children age 13 and under can brave the walk for $5. We recommend that kids under 13 attend between 6 and 7 p.m.

Don't be a chicken! Take the Walk!

Conservation Corner

Conservation Corner is a weekly article produced by the Forest County Land & Water Conservation Department. For more information contact Steve Kircher, County Conservationist-Land Information/GIS Director at 715-478-1387 or by e-mail at lcc@co.forest.wi.us.

Wisconsin is blessed with many kinds of wetlands. As you get out to explore, you may find yourself wondering just what type of wetland you're in. I hope this article will help you more easily identify some of Wisconsin's common wetland types.

Wetland classification systems are based on soil type, vegetation, and hydrology (the timing, frequency, and level of flooding or soil saturation). While some classification systems divide the state's wetlands into more than 30 types, I'll keep it to eight broad types of wetlands (four in this issue and four in the next). Remember, most wetland areas are actually a complex of types.

Marshes

Marshes are the type that most often come to mind when people hear the word "wetland." Marshes are dominated by aquatic plants growing in water that is six inches to six feet deep. Some marshes have standing water year-round and others for only part of the year. Fluctuating water levels is the norm. Marshes can be small to very large and are found throughout Wisconsin, commonly along lakes and rivers. Shallow marshes support cattail, bulrush, lake sedges, arrowhead, and bur-reed. Deeper marshes support submerged and floating aquatic plants, including pondweeds and water lilies. Marshes are among the most productive habitats for waterfowl, other water birds, furbearers, and aquatic insects, and they provide spawning and nursery habitat for some fish species. They are important stopover sites for birds during migration because their submerged plants and aquatic insects provide an abundant food source.

Wooded Swamps

These wetlands have abundant mature trees and soils that are saturated during much of the growing season. In the spring, they may have as much as a foot of standing water. Lowland hardwood swamps are dominated by deciduous hardwood trees, including black ash, red maple, yellow birch, and silver maple. The invasive emerald ash borer beetle threatens ash trees in these swamps.

Coniferous swamps are dominated by northern white cedar and/or tamarack and support abundant sphagnum moss (although not the continuous moss mat you might find in a coniferous bog). Coniferous swamps occur primarily in northern Wisconsin, although several large examples occur in the southern part of the state. Herbaceous plants in wooded swamps include royal fern, lady fern, jack-in-the-pulpit, numerous sedges, many flowering plants, and some rare orchids. Beware of poison sumac!

Floodplain forests

Floodplain forests are wooded wetlands associated with stream and river corridors and dominated by mature, deciduous hardwood trees. During times of high water, rivers spread out into floodplain forests, inundating soils that are otherwise well-drained or even dry for much of the growing season. A characteristic feature of floodplains is the fine-grained and fertile soil deposited during flood events. Dominant trees include silver maple, green ash, river birch, eastern cottonwood,

Our Two Room School and a Gun Shy Teacher

By Win Abney

I went to a one-room school when I was real young, five, six years old. But the one-room school burned down and the kids from that school had to be transferred to a larger two-room school, bless your life.

The two-room school had one room for grades one through four, taught by one teacher. In the other room, the upper room, there were grades five through eight, taught by a second teacher.

One of those years when perhaps I was in third grade, I learned about the experience of this upper room teacher. He had come up looking for a job that he'd heard was available in our little settlement.

Back in the early 30s, a lot of people didn't have automobiles, but we still had train service.

This prospective teacher lived in southern Wisconsin. In order to come up and interview for the job, he had to board the train and get a ride up to Pelican Lake. From Pelican Lake, the Chicago Northwestern had a spur line that ran to Crandon. On the way to Crandon, it made a stop at the little community where we lived, Nashville, Wisconsin.

Well, the teacher boarded the train, and it just happened to be the first weekend of deer season. Before he came to our area to interview for the job, he made some inquiries. He had found out that most of the people in our settlement were people who had moved up from Kentucky.

He heard stories about the so-called Kentucks. How they were a pretty rough people. That they feuded and carried guns, and that it was almost like a wild west settlement. Kentucks were all possessors of firearms and

1300 Cases Of Covid-19 (66 Active) Confirmed In Forest County

Forest County Public Health officials have confirmed 221 additional persons have been diagnosed with novel coronavirus infection (COVID-19) in the month of September, for a total of 1300 cases in Forest County. County health officials and local partners are contacting others with whom the individuals who tested positive had close contact with. As of Friday, October 1st, Forest County has 6,080 negative test results. There are currently 66 active cases in isolation, 1,206 released from isolation, 1 hospitalized, and 27 deaths related to COVID-19.

The Forest County Health Department continues to encourage community members to practice good hand hygiene, wear a mask or cloth face covering when necessary, and stay alert for symptoms of COVID-19. If you are experiencing any symptoms or have been exposed to someone with COVID-19, please stay home and contact your health care provider and ask to be tested. If you are interested in a COVID-19 vaccine, please call our office or your primary care provider.

The vaccines work. The COVID-19 vaccines continue to be remarkably effective in reducing risk of severe disease, hospitalization, and death, including against the delta variant. We continue to see highly effective protection against hospitalizations and severe outcomes for people who are fully vaccinated. Booster doses are now recommended by the CDC for some groups of people 6 months after their second dose including:

- Older adults age 65+ and those living in long term care facilities.
- Adults ages 50-64 at high risk of severe COVID-19, due to underlying medical conditions.
- Adults ages 18-49 at high risk of severe COVID-19 due to underlying medical conditions in consultation with their Doctor.
- Adults age 18-64 for people whose jobs put them at high risk for COVID-19.

As the science and the virus evolves, so do our policies and recommendations. Booster doses are common for many vaccines. The scientists and medical experts who developed the COVID-19 vaccines continue to watch for signs of waning immunity, how well the vaccines protect against new mutations of the virus, and how that data differs across age groups and risk factors. Millions of Americans are now eligible for booster shots, but there's more guidance for others.

Pfizer was the first vaccine to be authorized, and therefore its data on any waning effectiveness was also available first. Guidance is still forthcoming about boosters for the Johnson & Johnson and Moderna vaccines and the safety of mixing different vaccines.

In an effort to keep our community members up to date on COVID-19, the Forest County Health Department will continue to update our Facebook page and local newspapers every two weeks with current COVID-19 case counts. This will include the number of negative and positive cases in Forest County. Please call our office at 715-478-3371 with any questions or concerns.

Well, a little over 8 years ago, I penned a "Thank You" letter to all our local service providers. That was after a bad motorcycle/deer accident left me lying helpless in the middle of the day, a mile from my farm.

Now it's time to say "Thank You" once again.

Last Wednesday, on 09/21/2021, a friend and I were on our motorcycles out for a ride to meet other friends in Argonne for dinner. We had rode up around Pine Lake on a beautiful but cool afternoon. We were headed back south on Hwy 32 just east of the County S intersection at about 5pm, when yet another deer decided it needed the same space in the roadway as I was using. The next thing I knew I was lying in the road, once again, badly injured and helpless. I know from talking with a few people later that there were cell phone issues in trying to report the accident. I know that rescue personnel and fire fighters from several different locations assisted me at the scene, along with Sheriff's Department deputies and 911 dispatch. I will never know all of the many people that helped me that night.

So I want to say "Thank You" to ALL our local service providers, ALL the people that staff our Sheriff's Department, local Fire Departments, local Rescue Squads...in other words, everyone that assists in keeping us all safe. In our small communities, these people are our friends, and neighbors, all there with the attitude of "Protect and Serve." Without their help, I would have lain in the road and died.

My motorcycle must have landed on me at some point in the wreck. I ended up with "numerous" broken ribs, a collapsed lung, a totally shredded spleen, and other injuries. The Rhineland hospital staff was honest with me, and told me later that my injuries were severe enough that I should have been transferred into a trauma facility. However, every Hospital in the State is full, and no beds were available. So to the Staff of the Rhineland Hospital-- "Thank You" for stepping up, and literally saving my life.

One more group of people I would like to thank,---Blood Donors. I am a lifetime blood donor, but with all of my previous injuries and accidents, I had never needed a blood transfusion. In this case, I needed many pints of blood. I never got a full count, but to those of you who donate blood, "Thank You." By giving of yourself, you have given me the gift of life. Since I believe we can never say "Thank You" enough, I will say it one more time. Thank You to all who helped in any way.

The "No Problem" People

Nicolet Players present the delightfully absurd DEERS

The Nicolet Players are returning to the stage with DEERS, a play structured as four episodes of a live sitcom. Thirteen actors from Eagle River, Hazelhurst, St. Germain, Rhinelander and Tomahawk will bring to life a cast of animals who frequent a bar in the Cascades.

Performances will be held Friday through Sunday Nov. 5 to 7 and Thursday through Sunday Nov. 11 to 14.

The story follows what Seattle-based playwright Marcus Gorman describes as "a Cheers remix." Binty and Deer run a bar with regulars Bear, Bobcat, Rabbit, Raccoon, and Turtle. A love story blossoms between barkeep Owl and newcomer Emu and all of the characters get their fur or feathers ruffled by a striking feline visitor, Tiger. The play starts with the pilot episode of DEERS and takes audiences on a hilarious and heartfelt journey through a Dating Game-themed episode, a Christmas episode, and a very special series finale.

"What I love most about this play is that Marcus created it in collaboration with a diverse group of performers in Seattle," explained K. Woodzick, who directs the production. "Audiences will certainly recognize beloved characters from Cheers as the inspiration behind some of the characters, but this ensemble piece is written in such a way that each actor can truly put their own unique stamp on these animals."

DEERS premiered in 2018 at Annex Theatre, the longest-running fringe theatre in the country. The play was named one of the Top 20 Comedy Stage Plays of 2018 as awarded by ScreenCraft and won Gregory Awards People's Choice awards for both Outstanding New Play and Outstanding Ensemble.

Leading the pack of animals as Deer is Rhinelander native, Alison French. In addition to the acting talent she brings, Alison is also well-versed in a variety of creatures by virtue of her work as a small animal veterinarian at French's Homestead Veterinary Care.

Nicolet Players veteran and former technical director Steve Richardson said he's ecstatic to be in the play.

"After over a half century of stage work, after playing in everything from high drama to musical comedy, after many accolades and awards, I am on stage playing a drunken raccoon. You see, dreams really do come true."

DEERS features two Nicolet College students who have plans to further their undergraduate studies in theatre: Ashley Gardner, who plays Binty, and Jimmy Rau, who plays Owl.

The rest of the cast includes Cecily Dawson as the Newscaster and other voices, Claire Kafka Duda as Emu, Lynn Grube as Bear, Karina Orlowski as Squirrel, Malia Remme as Human, Jake Schexnaydre as Turtle, JoDee Sherwood as Rabbit, and Deb Stolze as Bobcat.

Audiences can look forward to welcoming the return of another Nicolet Players veteran, Anna Schwartz as Tiger, who audiences may remember from her performances in Noises Off, Becky's New Car, Outside Mullingar, and The Crucible. This will be the first production with a scenic, sound and lighting design by Theatre and Event Services Manager, Mike Effinger.

All Thursday, Friday and Saturday performances will start at 7:30 p.m. and the Sunday matinees begin at 2 p.m. Tickets are $10 general public, $8 for students and can be purchased online at nicoletlive.com.

Death Notices

Lanny Clyde

Lafferty of Laona passed away September 26, 2021 after a difficult two years with dementia. Lanny was born on June 24, 1941 to the late Jack and Verla (Cunningham) Lafferty. On March 16, 1960 Lanny married Linda (Manning) Lafferty, who preceded him in death. They lived in Newald until 1967 when they moved to Laona where they resided the rest of their lives.

Lanny worked for many years at the Connor's Mill as a mechanic and later as the groundskeeper at Birch Lake for Gordon and Sigrid Connor along with his wife who was their housekeeper, and seasonally with Linda for Thelma and Andy Connor. Lanny and Linda enjoyed what they did very much.

Lanny loved the great outdoors and instilled this in not only his children but also his grandchildren. He was an avid fisherman to the local lakes and enjoyed hunting as well. He has many trophy fish and deer that many of the children and grandchildren proudly display. One of Lanny's favorite things to do was camping with his wife Linda and their long-time friends Tony and Donna Milan. He had many fishing buddies throughout the years that he thoroughly enjoyed taking in his boat on Birch Lake but you can bet if they were getting the bites, the boat would somehow make its way into a circle and Lanny would be on the side the fish were biting. Levi, Arnie, Skip, Jim, Russ, Rod, Tony and of course his kids and his two brothers, Darrel and Don, were some of his favorite fishing partners.

Lanny also enjoyed golfing and was a member of a golf league at the Nicolet Country Club. In his earlier years, before Linda had cancer, they were on a couples bowling league and he was also on a men's league for many years. Lanny was a member of the Forest Larger Presbyterian Church, where his wife Linda volunteered whenever needed and Lanny would be found right by her side. They did everything together and some of their favorite things were their yearly trips to Canada, camping and traveling.

He and Linda raised their seven children together and if there is anything they taught them its that family is the most important thing, marriage is hard work but worth it and if you're going to do a job, no matter how small, do it with pride. By no means were Lanny and Linda privileged in a monetary sense, but they sure had abundant lives full of family, friends and love.

Lanny is survived by six of his children, Scott (Becky) Lafferty of Laona, Roger Lafferty of Laona, Robin Webb of Antigo, Wayne Lafferty of Wabeno, Laurie (Ron) Welnetz of Antigo and Wendy Lafferty of Rhinelander. He is further survived by 64 grand, great- and great-great-grandchildren; his siblings, Donald (Diane) Lafferty of Michigan and LaLonie Lafferty of Rhinelander; brother-in-law, Phillip Jr. "Sonny" Sheldon; and many nieces and nephews.

In addition to his wife, Linda, Lanny was preceded in death by his siblings, LaWanna Sheldon and Darrel Lafferty; his sister-in-law, Irene Lafferty; his parents, Jack and Verla Lafferty; his in-laws, Art and Roberta Belter; his son, Jeff Lafferty; and his grandchildren, Bradley Lafferty, Cynthia Lafferty and Craig Lafferty.

A memorial service will be at the Forest Larger Presbyterian church in Laona on October 9, 2021 at 10 a.m. Inurnment to follow at the Laona Cemetery with a luncheon at Jars Bar Grill afterwards. Weber-Hill Funeral Home is assisting the family. Online condolences can be sent at www.weberhillfuneralhome.com.

Our Two Room School and a Gun Shy Teacher

you'd better not fool around with 'em. You'd just better be darn careful about what you said and did that might offend somebody.

Now, remember the young man had all of this background information about our community. He boarded the train to come north to get the interview, but the train would stop periodically. As it got closer to the north area, why, some extra passengers started getting on. They got on carrying cases with rifles and shotguns. The train continued to stop at every small town to unload mail, bring on milk, or whatever they carried along with passengers, and a few more people would get on with their weapons.

When the teacher got to Antigo, he was almost petrified because a heck of a big bunch got on and they were coming up into the Pelican Lake area, which isn't too far from Nashville. That was the way to get there. The hunters, undoubtedly, had made arrangements or knew somebody they were going to live with and participate in the fall hunt.

Without knowing anything about hunting season, it's easy to imagine the fright he underwent when he saw all of these fellow travelers getting aboard the same train on which he was riding, all bringing their weapons, some taking them out, oiling them, priming them and getting them in tip-top shape ready for the hunt. It occurred to him that they may be coming up to wage some kind of a war or campaign, and he was almost petrified by the time he got to his destination. He began to think that he was getting into a nightmarish situation he wouldn't be equipped temperamentally or skill-wise to cope with. He was not a hunter. He was not a gun lover. It shows how one's imagination can run away with someone when they are unaware of the circumstances surrounding the frightful events that are going on before their eyes.

He got the job, all right, and it was a couple years later when we heard him talking. We laughed about it time and time again because it was an unusual thing.

Actually, the people that he was coming to serve and teach were pretty peace loving. They did like to hunt, true enough, but weren't always 'a feudin' like the Martins and the McCoys who were legendary as a feuding society. (Note: In 1946, The Martins and the Coys was an animated feature produced by Disney. It was a thinly disguised Hatfield-McCoy feud story and probably accounts for Dad's use of "Martins" in the sentence above.)

This story is a chapter from Win Abney's book, "Win Abney Tells a Good Story." This book is available at the Forest County Historical Society in the museum and on their website.

American elm, and black willow. Woody vines are more common here than in other wooded wetlands and include wild grape, Virginia creeper, and moonseed. Herbaceous plants can be sparse and include jewelweed, nettle, and some sedges. Within floodplains, ephemeral ponds, side sloughs, beaver ponds, "islands" of upland habitats, and areas of open sand provide diverse habitat for many wildlife species. During high water, these forests also provide important feeding and breeding habitat for fish.

Ephemeral ponds
Ephemeral ponds form in low spots on the land. They capture, store, and slowly release runoff from rain and snowmelt. They're wet in spring and dry by late summer, and they're often small. Together, they hold and manage a lot of water, slowing the flow and allowing the water to soak into the ground. Ephemeral ponds can provide important stopover habitat for migratory waterfowl and shorebirds because they provide protein-rich seed and insect food sources. Ephemeral ponds in forested areas are abundant in northern Wisconsin but often do not show up on wetland maps. These areas have bottomland trees (you may see water stain marks several feet up on their trunks and most trees will have shallow root systems) but few ground-layer plants. Ephemeral ponds in open and agricultural areas may have seed-rich plants like nutsedge, smartweeds, grasses, and beggarticks.

PSC Accepting Applications for WI Refueling Readiness Grant Program

Applications are due on Wednesday, November 3, 2021
MADISON – The Public Service Commission of Wisconsin (PSC or Commission) is now accepting applications for the third round of Wisconsin's Refueling Readiness Grant Program. The program is designed to foster fueling infrastructure resilience and assist Fueling Points of Distribution or Designated Disaster Fueling Facilities to stay open in long-term power outages or declared emergencies. The Commission is expected to award up to $215,000 by December 2021. Applications are due on Wednesday, November 3, 2021, by 4:30 p.m. "Investing in facilities that provide essential services to our first responders and utility line trucks during an emergency is critical to protecting public safety," said PSC Chairperson Rebecca Cameron Valcq.
The program is part of the PSC's ongoing coordination of energy assurance planning and exercise activities with other key agencies such as Wisconsin Emergency Management; the Wisconsin National Guard; the Wisconsin Department of Transportation; the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade, and Consumer Protection, as well as Tribal and county emergency managers. Grants could be awarded to fund general electrical panels, labor of electricians, transfer switches, tap switches and other necessary accessories to maintain access to vehicle fuel during power outages.
Eligible facilities for funding include:
• Privately, municipally, and Tribally-owned convenience stores with both unleaded and diesel fuel availability;
• Municipally and Tribally-owned highway shops;
• Bulk Petroleum Storage Facilities: A privately owned facility used in the storage or marketing of petroleum products (including propane), which has a total bulk storage capacity of less than 50,000 barrels and receives product by rail, barge, or truck.
For more information on Wisconsin's Refueling Readiness Grant Program, the PSC will host a webinar on Wednesday, October 6, 2021, at 1:00 p.m. Interested parties can register here. For instructions on applying for funding, visit the PSC's Office of Energy Innovation website.
