The life and times of John Scott Blackwell

He was born on a farm near Durant, Iowa on May 12, 1862, son of John and Martha Blackwell. His father was an extensive land owner in the Durant area. Early in life, he moved to Muscatine, attending schools and college in the Tri-Cities.

He married Edna Denison, in 1891, and they had three daughters together; Margaret, Bernice, and Adele. He was President of the Muscatine Produce Company, director of the German-American Savings Bank, President of the Arkansas Southern Railway, and most notable, head of the Muscatine Bridge Company.

So how did he end up having a small town in northern Wisconsin named for him? He was a cousin to George Flanner, head of the Flanner-Steger Land and Lumber Company, as their mothers were sisters. He took the position as secretary in the organization.

A news article has him visiting the newly formed town that was only nine-months old, to close on a contract with an Indiana concern for 300 cars of basswood. Mr. Blackwell is one of the largest stockholders in "one of the greatest industries of the town."

John and Edna purchased what would be known as the Blackwell mansion, in 1900, on 206 Cherry Street, in Muscatine, Iowa.

Mr. Blackwell unfortunately passed away at the age of 68, in 1930, in Omaha, Nebraska, of an attack of "acute indigestion." His funeral took place in the home on Cherry Street, and cause of death is now listed as multiple heart attacks.

The Rev. E.M. Villum, former pastor of the First Congregational Church, conducted the service, and he was buried in the Greenwood Cemetery. Edna passed away in 1943. The house stayed in the family until 1998.

Conservation Corner

Conservation Corner is a weekly article produced by the Forest County Land & Water Conservation Department. For more information contact Steve Kircher, County Conservationist-Land Information/GIS Director at 715-478-1387 or by e-mail at lcc@co.forest.wi.us.

In celebration of National Pollinator Week (June 20-26), you can attend a Pollinator Walk near Three Lakes on June 25th@ 1pm. The walk will be held at James Lake Farms (1075 South Big Lake Loop), south of Three Lakes. Following the walk, you can learn how you can improve pollinator habitat in your own yard or relax and have lunch at the picnic table at the courthouse pollinator garden on Baird Avenue in Rhinelander. For details, check out Oneida County Land & Water's website: <https://www.oclw.org/>, or go to our YouTube Channel to watch "Pollinator Gardens": https://www.youtube.com/channel/UC4C\_r5mne9sLF0K0txZSDYw.

Birds, bats, bees, butterflies, beetles, and other small mammals that pollinate plants are responsible for bringing us one out of every three bites of food. They also sustain our ecosystems and produce our natural resources by helping plants reproduce.

Nicolet Hardwoods awarded a biomass energy grant

Nicolet Hardwoods (NHC), Laona, was awarded the USFS - Community Wood Grant for the hemlock innovation that Walters Building and NHC will be featuring for the Biomass Energy Project structure. It is a tremendous opportunity to develop a new product utilizing a lesser Midwest species and improving forest utilization at the same time.

In receiving the USFS - Community Wood Grant, letters of support for this project came from the Great lakes Timber Professionals Association, USFS - Chequamegon - Nicolet National Forest, and the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

The US Forest Service Supervisor, Paul Strong said: "The Forest supports sustainable forestry operations dependent on the use of forest products to enable the National Forest to use timber harvest to achieve habitat objectives, control invasive species and restore watersheds. Mass timber products would be an additional forest product end use and increasing the use of wood products is a laudable goal and is consistent with the sustainable management in the region."

FCED said: "Nicolet Hardwoods Corporation plays an integral role in this small northern Wisconsin community as an employer, community member and supporter of sustainable forest management on federal, tribal, state, county, and private timberlands.

The NHC - Biomass Energy Project... will provide security for those currently employed by Nicolet Hardwoods and has the potential to increase employment opportunities for additional workers in this underserved depressed area of Wisconsin.

Forest County Economic Development supports projects that promote community sustainability, forest management, mill employees, and an economic community dependent on the forest industry. The Nicolet Hardwoods - Biomass Energy Project is security for the future of Forest County."

The amount of the grant was $580,633. The grant money will be used to replace the well-used 1926 bio-mass burners. The steam generated will be used to run the dry kilns, with any extra energy used to heat mill buildings.

Ben Murray Candidate for the 36th State Assembly District

Ben Murray has announced that he is a candidate for the Wisconsin State Assembly in the 36th District. Murray lives in rural Marinette County and will turn 37 in August. The 36th Assembly District includes parts of Marinette, Oconto, Shawano, Forrest counties and all of Menominee and Florence Counties.

"The 36th Assembly District is one of the largest in the state and it takes two hours to drive from its southernmost community in Cecil to its northernmost in Crandon and Forrest County. People want to be heard and I am committed to listening to their concerns and working to find common ground in the State legislature to find practical solutions for our rural and Northwoods challenges," Murray said.

Letters to the Editor

Tough Times

These are some tough times. Inflation at a forty-year high, so painfully evident at the gas pump and in the grocery store; record-breaking heat waves, wildfires, drought, and flooding, both in the U.S. and around the world; heat-trapping carbon dioxide at a four million-year high in our atmosphere. What do we do?

Some folks say we should double down on oil and gas production. But then we'd also be doubling down on the heat waves, wildfires, flooding, and drought, to the long-term detriment of everyone.

Instead, how about doubling down on our transition to a clean energy economy? It will be financially challenging, but ultimately less so than having to pay for the ever-increasing costs of climate-related disasters, and in the long run, we—and this planet we all live on—will be much better off.

Our parents/grandparents/great-grandparents faced some tough times. Having endured the Great Depression, they found themselves immediately confronted with the challenges arising from World War II. They met those challenges by rationing gas, food items, and a host of other goods and materials; growing victory gardens; paying higher taxes to finance the war effort; and for some, making the ultimate sacrifice. They did it all with that most admirable "can do" attitude, for the ultimate benefit of all of us.

Are we up to taking on these tough times in a manner that will benefit our children/grandchildren/great-grandchildren? I think we are. As Rosie the Riveter once said, "We can do it!"

Bill Bussey-Bayfield WI

The Green New Deal And Renewable Energy

I've said this before that, I don't believe in GLOBAL WARMING, and I have also stated that conversion to WIND and SOLAR should not be shoved down our throats, but take place gradually as technology allows! But I have come across some new data that makes me even think twice about this conversion!

Let's first consider the ENVIRONMENTAL CONSEQUENCES going to 100% renewable energy! It would require a 1000% increase in mining to supply the necessary minerals! Ripping up millions of acres, at what environmental cost? A natural gas power plant that generates enough power for 75,000 homes would fit in less than an acre! A similar wind farm would require 10 square miles! 20 wind turbines, requiring 50,000 tons of concrete, 30,000 tons of iron ore, 90,000 tons of "NON-RECYCLABLE" plastic for the blades! Then to store the electricity for around the clock use would require 10,000 tons of Tesla-class batteries! This is just for 75,000 homes! Multiply this a thousandfold to provide electricity for all of America! I hope you get the idea! Let's go RENEWABLE ENERGY and DESTROY THE PLANET! Is this really worth it?

We have already spent 5 TRILLION DOLLARS, and only made a 2% change in electrical sources! Estimates are that it would cost 90 TRILLION DOLLAR to go all RENEWABLES, I think that might be low!

Our country sits on hundreds of years of natural gas, which actually is very clean! Along with this, NUCLEAR PLANTS can also provide a good portion of our electrical needs! More rational minds have to making these decisions, and I don't think I'm talking about feeble minded politicians!

The Senior Snoop Shop Not A Resale Shop

It has come to our attention at the Senior Snoop Shop that there is an impression that we are a resale shop. That is a misconception. We are a consignment shop for those who are aged 50 or older and either live in or own property in Forest County or the immediately adjacent counties. Everything in the shop is new, handmade and quality.

We have items from baby wear, through kitchen products, all the way to stained glass and everything in between. Crocheted and knitted items, wood crafts, sewn products, canvas paintings, greeting cards, framed pictures, doll clothes, yard art, slippers, all types of kitchen accessories, purses, jewelry, baby sweaters, toys and the list goes on. These crafts are available at very reasonable prices.

We would love for anyone interested in unique gifts or household items to stop in and "snoop." You can also find us on Facebook under "Crandon Senior Snoop Shop" and "Like" our page. You'll be pleasantly surprised at what you'll find.

Our shop is open from Monday Friday from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and Saturdays from 10:00 a.m. 2:00 p.m. We also have occasional Sundays when a volunteer is available. Please plan to stop in and be amazed.

For questions and other information, you can contact any of the officers. President: DeAnn Haga (262-385-7498); Vice-President: Debbie Papak (715-902-1387); Treasurer: Kathy Gibbs (715-478-0403) or Secretary: Ann Koziol (715-478-2785).

Death Notices

Jerylynn "Berry" Kroening, 55, of Laona passed away Tuesday, May 31, 2022 peacefully surrounded by friends and family.

Berry was born June 14, 1966 to Harvey White Jr. and Carol (George) White. Her paternal father was Eugene Shawano Sr. but she was raised, loved and cared for Harvey her whole life. She was born and raised in Milwaukee, WI and got her nickname "Berry" From a family friend. She loved to eat berry pies. She and her family resided in the Milwaukee area until she was a late teen, early adult.

In 1984-85 she met the love of her life Chris Kroening and married him. Shortly after they had their first daughter, Christy, followed by Brandon and Brandii. They moved around a lot until their kids started school. Berry worked as a blackjack dealer for many years in Carter (formally known as Northern Lights Casino). From there she worked as a security guard and museum receptionist. She always took care of her co-workers, whipping up coffee, meals, and always had goodies.

Berry was truly special, smart, serious, loving, great mother and friend. She always told it like it was, good or bad and wasn't scared of anyone. She'd give you the shirt off her back and had a heart of gold. Misunderstood but loved unconditionally even when she didn't know how to show it.

Her drive was never giving up on her family, her children and especially her "grannies" as she called them were her world. She loved to gamble, play dice "10,000", shop and dress good. Her favorite color was turquoise just like her mother Carol. She knew how to dress, act, talk and throw down if need be. Her personality and arguing will be missed the most.

Berry is survived by her children, Christy Kroening (Jordan Cook), Brandon Kroening (Alicia Chitko) and Brandii Kroening (Richard Dick); 13 grandchildren, LJ, Bella, Chevy, Carter, Ciara, Caire, Cooper, Denver, Ivory, Vander, River, Ava and Ally; sisters, Tina White and Victoria White; brothers, Michael White, Harvey White and Kevin White; mother, Carol White; and father, Harvey White Jr.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Chris Kroening; and brother, James "Jimmy" White.

A celebration of life is planned for Berry and Chris, Saturday, August 27, 2022 at 2:00 p.m. at the Lake Lucerne Association on W in Crandon.

Online condolences for the family may be directed to www.weberhillfuneralhome.com.

Conservation Corner Cont. from pg. 1

Pollinating animals travel from plant to plant carrying pollen on their bodies in a vital interaction that allows the transfer of genetic material critical to the reproductive system of most flowering plants – the very plants that bring us countless fruits, vegetables, and nuts, ½ of the world's oils, fibers and raw materials; prevent soil erosion, and increase carbon sequestration.

Somewhere between 75% and 95% of all flowering plants on the earth need help with pollination – they need pollinators. Pollinators provide pollination services to over 180,000 different plant species and more than 1200 crops. If we want to talk dollars and cents, pollinators add 217 billion dollars to the global economy, and honey bees alone are responsible for between 1.2 and 5.4 billion dollars in agricultural productivity in the United States. In addition to the food that we eat, pollinators support healthy ecosystems that clean the air, stabilize soils, protect from severe weather, and support other wildlife.

Pollinator populations are changing. Many pollinator populations are in decline and this decline is attributed most severely to a loss in feeding and nesting habitats.

Pollution, the misuse of chemicals, disease, and changes in climatic patterns are all contributing to shrinking and shifting pollinator populations. In some cases, there isn't enough data to gauge a response, and this is even more worrisome.

Pollinators need help, but we know how to help them! Scientists and research partners that have been studying pollinators for over three decades have been able to show that conservation techniques work. If everyone – home owners, local governments, national governments, and private industry – made the effort we could change the future for pollinators and secure our own.

Adding natural habitat areas into farm systems works. Farms that are closer to natural habitat produce more crop yield because they attract more pollinators. Adding habitat to farms systems works too – farms that have turned a portion of their fields into green space have gained back more overall yield. Home owners can help too! Home gardens can and do attract pollinators, and in many cases suburbs and cities have been shown to have more diverse pollinator communities than nearby wildlands. Pollinators don't seem to be phased by city life, as long as there are plots and patches of flowers they will be visited by hungry bees. Pollinator gardening near community gardens also increases urban agricultural yields. If you build it, they will come and help you get bigger and better crops too!

Sidney Steven Daniels Sr. (Gawtagizhek "All Around The Sky") eagle clan, of Crandon passed away on Saturday, June 18, 2022. He was surrounded by family. He was born September 10, 1939 in Hayward, Wisconsin to William and Alice (Benn) Daniels.

He has one son, Sidney Daniels Jr., which he had loved dearly. He was blessed with two grandsons, Galen Isaac Gutierrez-Daniels and Sidney Steven Daniels III. He had loved being a grandfather and cherished his grandchildren.

Sid has a long history of employment within the tribal programs. He had said, "But the best job was as security guard in which he was post at the Gte Ge Nas head start and Rising Sun Daycare." He had loved being around all the children. He was also seated in one of the most important positions within our Anishnaabe belief system.

His interests included spending as much time with his grandsons: taking them fishing, taking long drives listening to pow wow music, old country, rock n' roll and attending and dancing at pow wows. He had just enjoyed spending as much time with his grandsons as possible. He was a traditional dancer, and he made all his regalias. He took a lot of pride in being self-taught with all his indigenous crafts. He enjoyed sharing his cultural and history with his community. He always felt a sense of great pride to dance at pow wows throughout his life, especially with his brothers, sisters, nephews, nieces, and community members. He would also sing and drum. He knew a lot of those old songs from way back in the day. He enjoyed watching old black and white western shows. One of his favorite shows was "John Wayne." He said, "I want my hair fixed like a young John Wayne." He was a gentle man and had enjoyed the simple things in life.

He was a strong believer in those old ways, and it was important for him to carrying on those traditions. He had always shared those old stories and talking about back in the day. He admired the younger generations practicing our cultural ways. He was always happy to help and answer questions about our cultural and history. Always stressing how we must understand who we are as Anishnaabe people.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by sisters, Mary, Florence and Elizabeth; and brothers, Ned Sr., Julius, and William Daniels Jr.

Surviving includes son, Sidney Jr.; grandsons, Galen and Sidney III; and community of nieces, nephews, family, and friends.

The Forest County Potawatomi have lost the last of the original Daniels generation. Sidney was a traditionalist in his Native American culture and was an inspiration to many. He was well loved and will be truly missed a long to come.

Visitation began on Tuesday, June 21, 2022 after 3 p.m. at the Potawatomi Cultural Center in Crandon. Native American Service was Wednesday, June 22, 2022 with James Thunder Officiating.

Murray is an eleven-year veteran of the Navy having served ten deployments on submarines. He worked in intelligence gathering at sea and ashore defending our country from its enemies. After living in nine different States, Murray chose to move to Wisconsin with his wife and daughter to make it their permanent home. Besides his family, Murray shares his small hobby farm with three dogs, one cat, one horse, five goats, and 13 chickens.

Murray said he thinks of himself as an "independent Democrat" that will judge each issue on how it affects his district and the small communities in it. "The rural vote is taken for granted by the other political party; I want to show that there's room for a more independent voice in Madison. I'm not a straight party-line vote type of guy and I'm going to work like heck to prove that to the voters in northern Wisconsin."

Key issues for Murray are protecting our natural resources from sulfide mining, regulating dangerous PFAS chemicals in groundwater and drinking water, and increasing state support for better rural roads, rural rescue squads, clinics, and high-speed internet service. "Nothing would please me more if we could find a way to bring back small businesses to those empty storefronts on main street that I see in every small town across our state," he said. "There's so much to be done to keep our rural communities thriving, and our lands and waters safe for our children and generations to come. I think by listening to the folks that live here is a good way to start that work toward common sense solutions."

Candidate Murray will face off in the November 8, 2022 General Election against eighteen-year incumbent Jeffrey Mursau of Crivitz. This is Murray's first try at elected office.

His campaign can be contacted by email at benforstateassembly@yahoo.com or visit his website at benforstateassembly.com or follow Ben on Facebook.

FOREST COUNTY COMMISSION ON AGING

Yet another message from Mark Gatton... Are you there???

I'm confused! I've checked the map and I know that there are more towns in Forest County than Crandon and Laona. I'm dying to pick you up in Armstrong Creek, Alvin, Wabeno or wherever you live. I'll pick you up at home and, with most trips, return you home by 2 p.m. We even help with your packages. All for just $4.

So if you need to do some shopping, need to stop at your pharmacy or bank, want to do lunch, or just want a day trip to socialize (we don't bite) and get out of the house, give me a call at 715-889-0859.

Until we develop an established ridership, we will attempt to provide service to anyone who desires to join any trip.

Forest County to Rhinelander: Arrive about 10 a.m. Walmart complex and Aldi's plus any reasonable suggestions. Will stop for lunch. Depart Rhinelander by 2 p.m.

Forest County to Antigo: Arrive about 10 a.m. Walmart and Fleet Farm plus any reasonable suggestions. Will stop for lunch. Depart Antigo by 2 p.m.

Forest County to Iron Mountain: Arrive about 10 a.m. Walmart plus any reasonable suggestions. Will stop for lunch. Depart Iron Mountain by 2 p.m.

Thursday, June 23: Rhinelander
Tuesday, June 28: Antigo
Thursday, June 30: Rhinelander

Destinations may change based on rider's needs or wishes. Call at least the day before riding.
