Forest County's Triumph in Boat Landing Projects with WDNR Grant Funding

Nashville, a small town nestled in the heart of Forest County, Wisconsin, has recently achieved a significant milestone in its ongoing efforts to enhance recreational opportunities for its residents and visitors. Through a strategic partnership between the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (WDNR) and the Town of Nashville, the Pickerel Lake North and South Boat Landings, along with the Crane Lake Boat Landing, have been successfully completed. These projects represent a collaborative endeavor, combining WDNR grant funding and Town of Nashville resources, to improve public access to the area's pristine waters.

Pickerel Lake, known for its crystal-clear waters and excellent fishing, has long been a local treasure. However, public access to the lake was limited, and aging infrastructure presented safety concerns. Recognizing the need for improvement, the Town of Nashville, led by Curt Haga, embarked on a mission to revamp the Pickerel Lake North and South Boat Landings.

The success of these projects was made possible through a collaborative effort that involved Forest County Land & Water assisting with securing WDNR grant funding and leveraging the Town of Nashville's resources. The grant funds provided crucial financial support, while the town contributed additional resources and manpower.

Improvements at the Pickerel Lake North and South Boat Landings included:

Enhanced Access: The boat landings were upgraded with new concrete landing pads to provide safer and more accessible points of entry to Pickerel Lake, ensuring that residents and tourists can enjoy the lake with ease. In recent years, a large 'motor loading' hole had developed at the end of the pads.

Krueger & Steinfest, Inc. installed the new pads and filled the 'hole' with rip rap to hopefully, deter motor loading in the future.

Environmental Stewardship: Careful attention was given to preserving the natural beauty of Pickerel Lake. Measures were taken to minimize environmental impact during construction and protect the local ecosystem.

Amenities: The upgraded facilities now feature amenities such as improved parking areas enhancing the overall experience for lake enthusiasts.

The Crane Lake Boat Landing project shared similar goals with those of Pickerel Lake but was tailored to meet the unique needs of the community surrounding Crane Lake. With a grant from WDNR and the Town of Nashville's support, the transformation of the Crane Lake Boat Landing has been a resounding success.

Key highlights of the Crane Lake Boat Landing project include:

Accessibility: The new boat landing provides more convenient access to Crane Lake, enabling boaters, anglers, and recreational users to enjoy the lake to its fullest.

Safety Measures: Safety enhancements, including improved lighting and signage, have been integrated into the landing, ensuring a secure environment for all visitors.

Community Engagement: Local residents played an active role in shaping the project's design and priorities, creating a sense of ownership and pride in the finished product.

These projects not only address immediate infrastructure needs but also promote economic growth and community well-being by attracting tourists and outdoor enthusiasts. As Nashville and Forest County continue to invest in their natural assets, the future looks bright, with even more opportunities for residents and visitors to enjoy the great outdoors.

The Glorious Colors of Autumn!

This photo taken last Tuesday morning shows some of the great colored leaves surrounding Lake Metonga. All are urged to enjoy these colors soon, as they don't last long! But while they are here, enjoy them. The continuing lack of sunlight makes the chlorophyll fade away and other chemicals in the leaves give us this show until the branches become bare.

FCAL holds Environmental Field Day for area students

Last Tuesday, October 3rd, the Forest County Association of Lakes held their Environmental Field Day at the Crandon City Beach on Lake Metonga.

There were various stations, and the students were split into groups and assigned about 20 minutes per station.

The students were presented with a variety of topic. R.T. Krueger covered the macroinvertebrates that occur in the waters of Forest County. Jeannie Fannin covered the topic of shoreland zoning. A pontoon tour of Lake Metonga searched for Eurasian Milfoil. Jamie Anderson did a presentation on surveying, and the Wild Rivers Invasive Species Coalition covered invasive species. Sherry Pethers did the Loon Watch topic, and Dr. Jim Zach presented the History of the Earth.

There were students from Wabeno, Laona and Crandon, with 16 attending from Wabeno, 26 students attending from Laona, and 12 students from Crandon.

Forest County, exemplify the positive outcomes that can be achieved through collaboration, vision, and dedication to preserving and enhancing natural resources. As these initiatives continue to evolve, they will ensure that the allure of these pristine lakes endures for generations to come, solidifying Nashville's reputation as a welcoming destination for outdoor enthusiasts and nature lovers.

Aspirus Health encourages women to receive regular gynecologic cancer screenings

"The sooner something is caught, the sooner it can be treated."

According to the National Cancer Institute (NCI), in 2023 more than 106,000 women in the United States are expected to be diagnosed with a gynecological cancer, and more than 32,000 will die from one.

September was Gynecologic Cancer Awareness Month and Aspirus Health aims to educate women about the warning signs and the importance of early detection.

woman's reproductive organs, including ovarian, uterine and cervical cancer. All women are at risk for developing one or more of these cancers, and risk increases with age," says Evon Schexnaydre, MD, Aspirus Board Certified OB-GYN. "Regular screenings and exams can help detect certain types of gynecologic cancers in earlier stages, when treatment is most effective."

Pelvic exams are important to assess your gynecological health and help detect early-stage cancer. These may be done during an annual exam, or your provider may recommend one if you are experiencing unusual symptoms. A Pap test, which screens for cervical cancer, is often performed along with a pelvic exam, depending on your risk factors.

Dr. Schexnaydre adds that, "women should follow their provider's direction on timing of pelvic exams and Pap tests based on their individual risk factors and symptoms."

The CDC suggests that anyone who experiences warning signs that are abnormal for them for two weeks or longer should see their provider. Common symptoms of gynecologic cancers include:

- Pelvic pain or pressure that doesn't go away, and you don't know why
- Feeling too full, too fast, even when you eat just a little
- Unusual vaginal bleeding, like having longer or heavier periods than what's normal for you, or bleeding after you've gone through menopause
- Unexplained weight loss or weight gain
- Bowel or bladder changes

"These exams and preventative screenings can be lifesaving. The sooner something is caught, the sooner it can be treated," says Dr. Schexnaydre.

Dr. Evon Schexnaydre sees patients at Aspirus Rhinelander Clinic (715-361-4700) and Aspirus Antigo Clinic (715-623-2351). To find an OB/GYN in your area, visit www.aspirus.org/find-a-provider.

Grouse seeks new home at Century 21 in Crandon

On Wednesday, this ruffed grouse was looking for a new place to live and checked at Century 21 in Crandon. He was hard to work with, however, as he was dead. This is a shame, as Century 21 could have set him up with the type of grouse cover that they all like.

OK, he flew into the window and killed himself. Grouse go on a crazy flight period when they reach adulthood to spread the population. This would have been this years young who was moving to new grouse cover.

MADISON, Wis. – The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) today announced the release of its 2023 Air Quality Trends Report.

The annual report includes state monitoring data through 2022 for air pollutants regulated under the federal Clean Air Act, including ground-level ozone, particle pollution, sulfur dioxide, nitrogen dioxide and carbon monoxide. While concentrations of these pollutants have decreased over the last two decades, in recent years the report shows two of the most harmful pollutants – ozone and fine particulates – have decreased only modestly in recent years.

The 2023 report shows that since the early 2000s, statewide ozone concentrations have decreased 21%. With these reductions, the entire state is meeting the federal 2008 ozone standard. However, with only modest improvements, and even slight concentration increases along the Lake Michigan shoreline in recent years, the Milwaukee area and parts of Sheboygan and Kenosha counties are not meeting the more stringent 2015 ozone standard.

"Wisconsin has implemented many programs that have reduced emissions of ozone-causing pollutants from power plants, industry and transportation in the state," said Gail Good, DNR Air Management Program Director. "However, these emission reductions have not resulted in attainment because most sources of ozone-causing emissions are outside of the state's control."

As part of a massive air quality research campaign, the DNR partnered with the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and several universities to better understand ozone formation chemistry and emission sources driving ozone formation.

"The Wisconsin Air Management program is thrilled to be just one part of this unprecedented national air quality study to better understand the public health threat pollutants like ozone create," said Katie Praedel, DNR's Air Monitoring Section Chief. "These efforts will help states in the Lake Michigan region identify emission control strategies that will lead to air quality improvements and cleaner air for Wisconsin residents to breathe."

To better illustrate the latest trends, the DNR updated the interactive StoryMap which shows Wisconsin's air quality trends for each pollutant over the last 20 years. This tool, first launched with last year's trends report, provides a more user-friendly visual way to convey complex air quality data.

The 2023 trends report also includes updated national emissions inventory data through 2020. The data show that emissions of most directly emitted pollutants or their precursors have decreased substantially since 2002. Highlights from this data include:

A 72% decrease in reported emissions of nitrogen oxides (NOx) and a 28% decrease in volatile organic compounds (VOCs) – key ingredients that form ground-level ozone.

Emissions of sulfur dioxide (SO2) decreased by 93%, with the largest reductions coming from the electric utility fuel combustion sector.

Emissions of carbon monoxide (CO) decreased by 58%, with most of the reductions coming from highway vehicles and the off-highway sector.

Scientific Process

Fifth graders in Mrs. Zelle's & Mrs. VanKauwenberg's classes started out the school year learning about The Scientific Method as an introduction to our first reading unit on inventors. Students became scientists and inventors through observation, developing a hypothesis, experimentation, and writing a conclusion on how to drop an egg from the school's rooftop without cracking it.

Students worked in teams of two to create an egg contraption while using the Scientific Method Process. Mr. Mattern, high upon a hydraulic lift, dropped each egg contraption from above the roof while students excitedly observed the results from below.

In the end, some eggs were broken while other remained intact. Students were responsible for writing a conclusion to their hypothesis. The experiment itself was fun and engaging for all who participated.

Senator Mary Felzkowski Encourages Senate Scholar Participation

Senate Scholar Program now accepting applications for the spring of 2024

Madison, WI – On Tuesday, State Senator Mary Felzkowski (R-Tomahawk) called on high school juniors and seniors from around the 12th Senate District to apply for the Senate Scholar Program in Madison.

Senator Felzkowski and the Wisconsin State Senate are proud to offer a unique educational experience to high school juniors and seniors. The Senate Scholar Program is an elite program designed to challenge Wisconsin's best students. One student from each of the 33 Senate Districts may participate in the week-long program in Madison.

The Senate Scholar Program has created an advanced government curriculum that includes classroom instruction, roundtable discussion sections, and a lab component. During the first part of the week, the Scholars will spend a couple days in a classroom setting where experts teach Scholars about constituent relations, research and development of legislation, and bill drafting. Scholars engage in roundtable discussions with support agency directors and staff, media, and lobbyists throughout the week, providing them with unique insights into all facets of the legislative process.

Throughout the remainder of the week, Scholars will put their knowledge into action. Scholars staff the Senate floor during an actual legislative session and witness the Senate debate on legislation. Scholars will also draft their own bills and amendments, form their own mock committee, and elect committee leadership. Finally, the lab component culminates in Friday's committee hearing that includes testimony from experts and members of the public. Although the daytime curriculum is rigorous, fun evening activities are planned for each group of Senate Scholars. Scholars are required to stay at the Concourse Hotel in downtown Madison. Program facilitators stay at the hotel and are available to Senate Scholars 24 hours a day.

"The Senate Scholar Program is a very special and unique learning opportunity for high school juniors and seniors," said Felzkowski. "Whether they're interested in getting involved with the government, or they just want to have a better grasp on the state legislative process, it's truly a fun educational experience. I encourage anyone who is interested to apply."

Applications will need to be received no later than November 17, 2023. A digital copy of the application and more information can be found at: www.senatescholar.com.

Help slow the spread of CWD this season: avoid baiting and feeding deer

MADISON, Wis. – The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) reminds hunters and the public to help prevent the spread of chronic wasting disease (CWD) by following all baiting and feeding bans and refraining from baiting and feeding in areas where no bans are in effect.

CWD is an always-fatal disease that affects the nervous system of deer, elk, moose and caribou caused by a misshapen prion protein. The disease can spread through contact with an infected animal's saliva, urine or feces. It can also spread indirectly through exposure to a contaminated environment. CWD prions are extremely resilient, and they can stay in the soil for a long time, making containment of an affected area a challenge.

Baiting is the intentional placement of any material, including food, scented materials, salts, minerals and grains, to attract wild animals for hunting purposes. Feeding is the deliberate placement of material used to feed or attract wild animals for non-hunting purposes, including recreational and supplemental feeding, except as allowed for birds and small mammals.

Baiting and feeding encourage deer to congregate unnaturally around a specific location, creating an environment where infected deer can quickly spread diseases like CWD through direct contact with healthy deer.

Infected deer can also leave behind infectious CWD prions in their saliva, blood, feces and urine, creating a risk to healthy deer that visit the site in the future. CWD can spread rapidly when these prions remain in an area where more deer are sure to congregate, such as a feed pile.

To mitigate these risks and slow the spread of CWD, state law directs the DNR to impose baiting and feeding bans within any county with a confirmed CWD-positive deer.

Counties fall under a 3-year baiting and feeding ban when a wild or farm-raised deer tests positive for CWD in the county. If the CWD-positive deer is found within 10 miles of a county line, the adjoining county will fall under a two-year ban. If additional CWD cases are found during the lifetime of a baiting and feeding ban, the ban will reset for an additional two to three years.

Find more information on baiting and feeding regulations and a map of counties with active bans on the DNR's baiting and feeding regulations webpage.

Looking forward to Friday playdates

The Wabeno School District's Friday Playdate Program is off to a great start. The children, ages two and a half to four, have loved coming to school to play. Parents have enjoyed the provided resources and special time with their children. One mother said, "We had such a fun day at Wabeno Elementary for Playdate Day! Seeing (my daughter) in a school setting was really something. Thank you Wabeno Area School District for putting this together! We look forward to Friday Playdates!"

Playdates are offered to district residents with young children every Friday that school is in session and begin at 9:00 a.m. Lunch is also provided free of charge. No registration is necessary. Contact Mallory Niefert, district 4K teacher, with any questions at mniefert@wabeno.k12.wi.us. We hope to see you there!

Alzheimer's Association to host two upcoming workshops

Alzheimer's disease affects more than six million people in the United States, including more than 120,000 people in Wisconsin alone. The Alzheimer's Association will be hosting two programs in the area during October to help educate and raise awareness.

The first program, Understanding Alzheimer's and Dementia, will be held on Tuesday, October 17, at the ADRC of Oneida County (100 Keenan Street) in Rhinelander from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. This program provides a general overview for people who are facing a diagnosis as well as those who wish to be more informed about the disease. Understanding Alzheimer's and Dementia:

- Explores the relationship between Alzheimer's disease and dementia.
- Examines what happens in a brain affected by Alzheimer's.
- Details the risk factors for and three general stages of the disease.
- Identifies FDA-approved treatments available to treat some symptoms.
- Looks ahead to what's on the horizon for Alzheimer's research.
- Offers helpful Alzheimer's Association and local community resources.

The second program, Healthy Living for Your Brain and Body, is offered in partnership with the ADRC of Vilas and will be held on Monday, October 23, at the Olson Memorial Library (203 N. Main Street) in Eagle River from 10:30 a.m. to 12 p.m.

At any age, there are lifestyle habits we can adopt to help maintain or even potentially improve our health. These habits may also help to keep our brains healthy as we age and possibly delay the onset of cognitive decline associated with Alzheimer's disease.

To help people age well, the Alzheimer's Association® is offering the Healthy Living for Your Brain and Body program. This workshop covers areas of lifestyle habits that are associated with healthy aging includinghalvejan@rhinelander.k12.wi.us:

- Cognitive activity.
- Physical health and exercise.
- Diet and nutrition.
- Social engagement.

To learn more about these programs, or to register (registration is appreciated), please contact Julie St. Pierre at (715) 352-4091 or jstpierre@alz.org. Individuals can also register by reaching out to the Alzheimer's Association 24/7 Helpline at 1.800.272

DEATH NOTICES

Beth Schuelke, nee Marion Stickley, entered her heavenly home on October 2, 2023 and was joyfully reunited with her beloved husband, Guy. Beth was born on June 14, 1946 to Rothwell and Marion (Garritty) Stickley who preceded her in death.

Beth started her 38 year nursing career at Langlade Hospital, moved to Milwaukee for 34 years, and retired from the Forest County Health Department, retiring on November 7, 2007. She was a volunteer at the Langlade Sports Medicine Center.

Beth was a member of St. Paul Lutheran Church in Crandon. She loved to sing and was a member of the Milwaukee Choristers for 28 years. Beth also loved to play bridge with her friends.

Beth and Guy were married on September 7, 1991 and had 16 years of happiness together before Guy passed away on October 26, 2007. Guy taught Beth, a city girl, to hunt and fish. They moved to their dream home up north in 2004.

Beth is survived by a sister, Kathy (Jon) Johnsen of Milwaukee; two brothers, Roth Stickley of Milford, Michigan and David Stickley of Wheaton, Illinois; a niece, Abigale Johnsen of Milwaukee; three nephews, Gabriel Johnsen of Milwaukee, Benjamin Stickley of Seattle, Washington, and David (Sandy) Stickley of Lombard, Illinois; four grand-nieces and nephews; and many, many other family members and friends.

In addition to her husband and parents, she is further preceded in death by her sister-in-law, Marion Stickley; and uncle, Dr. John (Ellen) Garritty.

Burial will take place in Big Falls Cemetery in Big Falls.

Beth loved her Lord, and her sustaining Bible verse was Philippians 4:13 "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

Bradley Funeral Home is assisting the family with arrangements. Online condolences www.bradleyfh.com

Baldwin Calls out NFL's poor scheduling that leaves Packers Fans High and Dry, and reintroduces Go Pack Go Act

Ahead of conflicting Packers, Vikings, and Lions games this weekend, Baldwin rallies support for guaranteeing Packers broadcast for all Wisconsinites

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Today, U.S. Senator Tammy Baldwin (D-WI) re-introduced her Go Pack Go Act, legislation to ensure all Wisconsinites can watch Green Bay Packers game broadcasts. Baldwin's Go Pack Go Act requires cable and satellite providers to provide their Wisconsin subscribers with access to programming from broadcast television stations in a Wisconsin media market.

Senator Baldwin also called on the National Football League (NFL) to take better care of Packers fans when scheduling games and help ensure they are able to watch the Green and Gold. The ask of the NFL comes as the Green Bay Packers, Minnesota Vikings, and Detroit Lions are all scheduled to play at the same time this weekend, leaving Packers fans in Western and Northern Wisconsin in jeopardy of being unable to access the Packers broadcast.

"As the only NFL team owned by the fans, the Green Bay Packers are beloved by Wisconsinites in every corner of our state. But on weeks like this one, where the Vikings and Lions are playing at the same time, thousands of Packers fans in Wisconsin could be denied the chance to see their team play," said Senator Baldwin. "I'm proud to again introduce the Go Pack Go Act because every Packers fan across our state should be able to watch every Packers game. But, until that happens, I am calling on the NFL to do a better job scheduling games and help ensure every Wisconsinite that bleeds Green and Gold is able to watch their Green Bay Packers."

In Wisconsin, more than 415,000 people live in 13 counties that have been assigned to an out-of-state market, in either Minnesota or Michigan. As a result, Wisconsinites in these counties cannot receive some, or any, TV broadcast stations based in Wisconsin. These Wisconsin residents may therefore lack access to programming most relevant to their Wisconsin communities – such as local news, information about local and state government, and sports. This means Green Bay Packers fans in 13 Wisconsin counties may end up with Minnesota Vikings or Detroit Lions games, not Packers games, when those teams are playing at the same time.

The Go Pack Go Act would require cable and satellite providers to provide their Wisconsin subscribers with access to programming from broadcast television stations in a Wisconsin media market. These local broadcasts may be more relevant to their daily lives and help them stay informed and entertained by Wisconsin-focused programming, including Packers games.

Packers fans in the following Wisconsin counties would benefit from Senator Baldwin's Go Pack Go Act: Ashland, Bayfield, Douglas, Iron and Sawyer Counties in the Duluth-Superior media market; Barron, Burnett, Dunn, Polk, Pierce, St. Croix, and Washburn Counties in the Twin Cities media market; and Florence County in the Marquette, Michigan media market.

Ahead of this week's NFL games, which has the Packers, Lions, and Vikings all kicking off at the same time, Senator Baldwin also sent a letter to NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell to urge the league to consider how scheduling these teams simultaneously impacts Packers fans.

"Wisconsinites love the Green Bay Packers, and when we can't be at Lambeau Field, we watch them play on TV," wrote Senator Baldwin. "Due to scheduling conflicts and local television markets that mismatch our State's border, however, nearly half of a million Wisconsin residents can receive the wrong broadcast when the Packers play at the same time as a neighboring football franchise. I urge the NFL to take additional care in its scheduling to avoid these conflicts and ensure every Wisconsinite can watch regular Packers broadcasts."

This season, the NFL's schedule includes four instances in which the Packers are scheduled to play at the same time and on the same network as these teams. These conflicts disappoint fans and are avoidable. I know that Green Bay Packers fans are the most loyal in the nation. The NFL should reward that loyalty with better scheduling practices to ensure they can watch the Packers, not the Vikings or Lions.

My Go Pack Go Act would solve this problem once and for all by requiring cable and satellite providers to give their Wisconsin subscribers access to programming from the broadcast television stations in a Wisconsin media market, and I will continue to fight for its passage. Until then, the NFL should take better care of Green Bay Packers fans by avoiding these conflicts in the first place. On behalf of the thousands of Packers fans in these affected counties, thank you for your prompt attention to this matter.
