Hemlock Woolly Adelgid

Our neighbors to the East in Michigan have reported an outbreak of Hemlock Woolly Adelgid.

These insects are considered invasive because they are not native to the state and can cause significant harm to Michigan's estimated 170 million hemlock trees. As they feed, these tiny, soft-bodied insects consume a hemlock's stored nutrients, slowly sucking the life from the tree.

Infestations of hemlock woolly adelgid have been confirmed in Allegan, Benzie, Mason, Muskegon, Oceana, Ottawa and Washtenaw counties in Michigan.

Winter is the best time to look for evidence of an infestation, according to Robert Miller, an invasive species prevention and response specialist.

"Cooler temperatures trigger feeding activity," Miller said. "As hemlock woolly adelgid feeds, it secretes a white, waxy material that creates ovisacs. The presence of these small, round, white masses make it possible to identify infested trees."

Throughout the winter, survey crews from the Michigan DNR and several cooperative invasive species management areas (CISMAs) will look for signs of hemlock woolly adelgid, conducting surveys within a 5-mile border along the Lake Michigan shoreline.

One of the CISMAs we work with in Forest County is Wild Rivers Invasive Species Coalition (WRISC). WRISC is responsible for Forest and Florence County in Wisconsin and Menominee, Dickinson and Iron counties in the UP.

Ugly sweater contest at Wabeno
 4th Grade

Mrs. Deer's 4th grade class was quite excited to hold the 3rd annual Wabeno Elementary Ugly Sweater Contest! The students have been working hard to not only design their very own ugly sweater but they had to write a persuasive paper, convincing the audience that their sweater was the ugliest and deserved to win. What made it even more exciting was that they invited their principal, Mr. Brauer, to be their judge! T hey all did a terrific job! Congratulations to Chelsie for winning the contest.

It is Job Corps way of showing appreciation for the wonderful community support received throughout the year.

The Blackwell Job Corps Civilian Conservation, which has been in this area for almost 60 years, is one of the nation's largest free residential career training programs for low-income young adults ages 16 through 24, interested in the high-demand trades of carpentry, welding, masonry, construction, forestry conservation, and wildland firefighting. ### Conservation Corner Cont. from pg. 1

Because hemlock trees can be protected from these insects with proper insecticide treatments, infested trees and any other hemlocks within the area will be mapped and tagged, then prioritized for summer treatment.

Since adelgids feed and form ovisacs only on eastern hemlock trees, it is important to distinguish hemlocks from other conifers like pines or spruces. Look for:

- Cone- or egg-shaped trees up to 75 feet tall.
- Drooping or feathery branches.
- Flat needles growing individually from the sides of twigs.
- Needles that are dark green on top with two parallel, white stripes underneath.
- Papery cones about three-quarters of an inch long that hang downward from branches.

Late fall through early spring is the best time to check hemlock trees. Look on the underside of branches for evidence of round, white ovisacs near the base of the needles.

Up close, ovisacs look like tiny cotton balls and may appear alone or in clusters. The short video "Hemlock woolly adelgid: invasive species in Michigan" provides helpful identification tips.

13th Annual Northwoods'

Invasive Species Poster Contest

The 2024 Northwoods' Invasive Species Poster Contest is in its 13th year and currently reaches school districts within 18 Northwoods' counties (Ashland, Bayfield, Burnett, Douglas, Florence, Forest, Iron, Langlade, Lincoln, Marinette, Menominee, Oconto, Oneida, Price, Sawyer, Shawano, Washburn, and Vilas). We would love to receive posters from other counties since all 4th through 8th grade students in the State of Wisconsin are eligible to enter this contest! Invasive species do not recognize county lines and neither should this contest!

Creating and submitting a poster will help students gain a better understanding of how invasive species can impact the environment. Topics can include the Emerald ash borer, Yellow iris, Rusty crayfish, Rock Snot, or one of a hundred others. Designing a poster about the Spotted Lanternfly, an invasive that is getting close to the Wisconsin border, can help create awareness about a new invader and allow resource managers to contain its spread.

If you have a student or a class interested in being a part of this contest, please visit us at the Oneida County Land and Water Conservation website at: <https://www.oclw.org/2024-northwoods-invasive-species-poster-contest.html>.

A brochure with complete instructions, drop-off locations and fillable entry forms can be found on the website. Entries are due by 4:00 p.m. on Friday, April 26, 2024. Posters and poster entry forms may be mailed in or dropped off at any one of sixteen drop-off locations. If drop-off locations are not convenient for you, or you need additional information, contact us at 715-369-7835 and we will do our best to make sure we get your posters.

PIONEER EXPRESS PAGE 5, DECEMBER 18, 2023 DNR offers tips on reducing, reusing & recycling waste this holiday season

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is offering tips to help families save money, reduce waste and keep recycling and trash workers safe during upcoming holidays.

"We know recycling can be confusing," said Jennifer Semrau, DNR Waste Diversion and Recycling Coordinator. "But there are some basic tips people can use to make tackling holiday waste less overwhelming. Knowing the right thing to do with things like batteries and light strings can prevent damage to recycling facilities and keep workers safe."

WHAT SHOULD GO IN YOUR RECYCLING BIN

Many items can be recycled anywhere in Wisconsin. These items, which the state bans from landfills, include:

- Cardboard – Flatten boxes before putting them in carts or bins so that recycling equipment can handle them properly
- Newspaper • Magazines • Office paper • Plastic #1 and #2 containers • Aluminum cans • Steel (tin) cans • Glass bottles and jars • Wrapping paper that can be torn and doesn't have any glitter, foil or other adornments can be recycled in the majority of programs in Wisconsin.

Be sure the items are empty of any liquids and excess gunk, but you don't need to wash them with soap or put them through the dishwasher. For cans or bottles going into a curbside recycling cart or container, don't crush or flatten them – this makes it harder for equipment at recycling facilities to recognize and properly sort things like aluminum cans.

Most communities include junk mail and other mixed paper, such as cereal boxes. Check locally for a complete list, and don't rely on packaging labels. Keep in mind that what you can recycle at a relative's home may be different than what you can recycle at your own.

WHAT SHOULD NOT GO IN YOUR RECYCLING BIN

Some items can cause serious problems at recycling facilities that aren't designed to handle them, including a risk of fire and worker injury. Many of these can be recycled at drop-off sites but should not go in curbside recycling bins or carts. These include:

- Tissue paper
- Holiday light strings, cords and other "tangles"

At modern recycling facilities, these get wrapped around equipment, meaning a facility has to be shut down for workers to cut the material loose. Some retailers, electronics recyclers and communities offer seasonal recycling programs for light strings. If that's not an option, put broken lights in the trash.

- Plastic bags, plastic film and wrap

These also get tangled in recycling equipment. Bagged recyclables also cause problems because workers can't be sure what's inside. Empty cans, bottles and other recyclables into your bin or cart, then put the bag in the trash. You can take many types of clean, dry plastic bags and wrap to store drop-off locations. Learn more about reducing, reusing and recycling plastic bags and wrap on the DNR's recycling plastic bags webpage.

- Batteries and electronics

Recycling facilities that manage cans, bottles and cardboard and waste facilities that manage household garbage aren't set up to handle batteries and electronics. Rechargeable batteries cause fires in collection trucks and facilities if they are damaged by equipment, and many electronics contain hazardous materials. Find more information on how to recycle batteries and electronics, including drop-off site locations, on the DNR's electronics recycling webpage.

For more information about what can and can't be recycled, visit the DNR's What to Recycle in Wisconsin webpage.

SAVE MONEY WITH FOOD WASTE PREVENTION TIPS

A 2020 study conducted by Penn State estimated households lose $1,866 a year on food that's thrown out.

Here are some tips to reduce and prevent food waste at home:

Understand date labels and when food items are actually unsafe. Date labels are NOT regulated by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) or any other federal agency. Manufacturers apply date labels at their own discretion, with the exception of infant formula products. The FDA advises consumers to examine foods to determine if the quality is sufficient for use. Relying on your eyes and an old-fashioned sniff test can be a better indicator of the suitability of food for your use and could help you avoid disposing of healthy and safe food. That jar of nutmeg from last year is most likely still good, so you might be able to avoid re-purchasing some special holiday food items.

Shop with a plan and prepare for gatherings. Purchasing more food than what is needed often leads to more food waste. You can reduce this problem by taking inventory of what you already have, planning meals and making detailed shopping lists.

Store food to extend its life. Storing food in the best manner for that food type can go a long way to reducing food waste and saving the time and money associated with additional grocery store runs. Save the Food's Store It guide is an excellent tool for learning the detailed recommendations for food items you buy the most or have the most challenging time keeping fresh.

Death Notices

Linda Rose Arentz of Townsend, Wisconsin, passed away on November 28, 2023, while under the care of Compassus Hospice at Meadow Brook Nursing and Rehab in Oconto Falls, Wisconsin. She was 73 years old.

Linda was born January 24, 1950, in Racine to the late Walter and Viola (Mc Cormick) Rusch. She graduated from William Horlick High School with the class of 1968.

She moved to the Townsend area in 1978 with her children, George and Anna. She was employed with various companies over the years including O'Brien's Potato Farm, Lakewood Super Valu, and most notably St. John Lutheran Church. Linda had a spitfire personality. She enjoyed entertaining guests in her home and hosting parties for holidays and family functions all while preparing huge spreads of food. She was a die-hard Green Bay Packers fan, rarely missing a game. She also liked attending in person at Lambeau Field. She had a spitfire personality and loved to laugh. Linda loved spending time with her family, especially cooking and baking with her granddaughter, Shayla. Her faith and Love of God was endless. She will be missed dearly by all who were blessed to have known her.

Visitation for Linda will be held, Saturday, December 16, 2023, at St. John Lutheran Church in Townsend from 9 a.m. until the time of services at 11 a.m. Pastor Richard Kelm will preside. Burial will take place in Forest Home Cemetery in Townsend.

The family has established a GoFundMe page to assist with Linda's final expenses. Please consider making a donation in lieu of flowers to the following link <https://gofund.me/30f1f11b>.

Lisa (Skrzysowski) Allred, aged 59, passed away on Saturday, December 2, 2023, at Meriter Hospital in Madison, Wisconsin. Her husband and daughters were by her side during her last hours of life.

Lisa was born an only child on April 20, 1964, to Mary (Wilson) and Frank Skrzysowski at Chanute Air Force Base in Illinois. A couple of years later, the young family moved to Duluth, Minnesota. When Lisa was in junior high, they relocated to her mother's hometown of Crandon, Wisconsin. Lisa was the Salutatorian of her 1982 Crandon High School graduating class. She attended the University of Wisconsin - Oshkosh and graduated in 1986 with a degree in Business Administration. Later that year, Lisa married Curtis Allred, and the couple moved to Texas. They relocated to Crandon in 1993, where Lisa resided for the remainder of her life.

Lisa worked several jobs throughout her lifetime but working as a casino analyst at the Potawatomi Carter Casino Hotel for 15+ years was the one she enjoyed most.

Lisa is survived by her husband; her three daughters, Carly Allred, Kaele DeLeeuw (Ronnie) and Alanna Allred (Maddie); and her three young granddaughters, Raelee, Isla, and Veira. Lisa is also survived by her many aunts, uncles, cousins, and close friends. Lisa is preceded in death by her parents.

Lisa's greatest joys in life were her precious granddaughters. She adored them and spent a lot of time with them as she loved being a grandma. Lisa liked living in the Northwoods with all it had to offer. She enjoyed the changing seasons, the lakes, and the forests. Lisa was creative, artistic, and very talented. She absolutely loved talking with people and spending time with her family and friends.

Lisa made the world a brighter place, just by being in it, with her eternal optimism, sense of humor, caring nature, and warm hugs. She will be greatly missed by all who loved her.

Visitation was held at Weber-Hill & Packard Funeral Home in Crandon on Wednesday, December 13, 2023 from 10 a.m. until the time of service at 12 p.m. Pastor Don Dewing presided.

Senator Baldwin Statement on Emergency National Security Funding; Calls for Border Deal

Baldwin: "We owe it to the American people to find a compromise that helps secure our border and stops the flow of fentanyl into our communities - and I am committed to being part of the solution"

U.S. Senator Tammy Baldwin (D-WI) released the following statement after voting to advance legislation that would provide support for our allies, including Israel and Ukraine, deliver humanitarian assistance to innocent civilians, and strengthen our Southern border:

"This emergency funding package is necessary to keep Americans safe at home and support our allies abroad, and I was proud to vote to advance it. This legislation makes key investments in our Southern border, helps our allies like Israel and Ukraine defend themselves in brutal wars against terrorists and war criminals, and delivers needed humanitarian aid to the innocent people caught in the crosshairs of these conflicts, like those in Gaza.

"This bill would make long overdue investments in security for our Southern border and help stop the flow of deadly drugs like fentanyl from coming into our country - but the truth is, it's not enough. I was encouraged by my colleagues' talks to draft a bipartisan deal that will help address our broken immigration system and strengthen our Southern border, and we must come back to the table to continue those negotiations. We owe it to the American people to find a compromise that helps secure our border and stop the flow of fentanyl coming into our communities - and I am committed to being part of the solution."

Operation Christmas Child

Members of the Mission/Evangelism Committee at Forest Larger Parish Presbyterian Church (Laona, Wabeno, and Lakewood) deliver shoeboxes to begin their journey around the world to children needing something cheerful for Operation Christmas Child.

Members of the church lovingly filled the boxes with new toys and articles of new clothing. This same crew also delivered Christmas ham portions to the Christian Food Pantry in Lakewood and the Food Pantry at the Crandon NEWCAP. Pictured (left to right) are Audrey Peterson, Karen Smit, Karen Prueter, Linda Kortbein, Kathy Hilsberg, Suzanne Bell and Shirley Rohe.

Named "Facility of the Year" exactly one year ago at the Performance Racing Industry (PRI) show, Crandon International Raceway hosted more than 85,000 guests at its two massive off-road races in 2023 -- a season that including a KISS "End of the Road" tour concert at the Labor Day weekend Polaris Crandon World Championships. Event attendance records were set at both June's 30th anniversary Forest County Potawatomi Brush Run and September's Polaris Crandon World Championships and Red Bud World Cup Sunday.

The new 2024 schedule also reflects a reunification with the Minnesota-based Championship Off-Road series after operations of a newly-formed national Pro short course series unexpectedly ceased operation a few short weeks ago. Crandon International has signed a new, three-year contract with the Championship Off-Road Series to exclusively bring short-course off-road racing to the facility known by fans as the "Big House."

The 2024 Crandon schedule will kick-off with the 31st Forest County Potawatomi Brush Run races, taking place Friday, June 21 through Sunday, June 23. Gates of Camp Crandon will opening for weekend camping at 12:00 noon (CST) on Thursday, June 20. The popular weekend will feature practice and qualifying sessions, as well as two full rounds of racing for all Pro and Sportsman categories that make up the AMSOIL Champ Off-Road series presented by Air Force.

Race fans can expect large and highly competitive fields of truck, buggy and SxS classes, including the spectacular Pro 4 and Pro 2 unlimited trucks. The weekend concludes on Sunday afternoon with the prestigious Crandon Forest County Potawatomi Community Cup race, an all-out competition for Pro 2 and Pro 4 racers on the track at the same time with a time staggered start.

In the world of motorsports, Labor Day weekend is synonymous with just one thing -- the annual Polaris Crandon World Championships. Next year's 55th running of the sport's biggest and best off-road race returns for a four-day schedule of on-track competition, concerts, camping and more from Thursday, August 29 through Sunday, September 1. Comprised of 2,300 sites, the massive Camp Crandon is expected to be sold-out early again this year, with gates opening to racers and the public at 12:00 noon (CST) on Wednesday, August 28, 2024.

A record event crowd of just under 60,000 people enjoyed more than 425 teams from across America competing in more than 50 races spread over four days and nights. The massive race weekend is the largest, oldest and most prestigious short-course off-road race in the world, and includes a complete schedule of Pro and Sportman AMSOIL Champ Off-Road series racers going all-out to win both season championships and Crandon World Champion title and rings for all classes.

Also confirmed for the fourth consecutive year will be the Crandon Class 11 World Championships, a fan favorite featuring nearly stock vintage Volkswagen Beetles.

Capping off the weekend on Sunday, September 1 will be the 9th annual Red Bull World Cup, with the sport's best Pro drivers earning coveted Crandon World Championship titles in a variety of classes. The World Championship weekend ends with the biggest prize of all -- the annual Red Bull Cup race finale. In 2023, local favorite Keegan Kincaid took home the Red Bull Cup with a Ford Pro 2 unlimited truck, along with a Crandon "Top Gun" engraved Henry rifle.

The race track today also released event on-sale dates for Camp Crandon campsite and Grandstand seat reservations. Last year, reservation for Camp Crandon on Labor Day weekend were sold-out six months in advance -- also a new Crandon record. All reservations for 2024 can be made online by visiting www.crandonoffroad.com.

Pre-event reservations will open Monday, March 4, 2024 at 12:00 noon (CST) for the 2024 Forest County Potawatomi Brush Run. Fans with Brush Run camp reservations will be allowed to reserve Camp Crandon sites and grandstands seats for the Polaris Crandon World Championships/Red Bull Cup from Monday, March 18 at 12:00 noon (CST) through Sunday, March 24. On Monday, April 25 at 12:00 noon (CST) reservations for the World Championship weekend will be open to all.

Teams can purchase racer camping for either or both Crandon race weekends beginning on Monday, April 1 at 12:00 noon (CST).

GREAT CRANDON TRADITION: For more than five decades racers, teams, race cars and fans have gathered in downtown Crandon on Friday morning of Polaris World Championship for the annual Lucas Oil Labor Day Parade. Thousands of spectators will return for next year's 55th anniversary parade, which will take place on Friday, August 30, 2024. (Photo: Jason Zindrowski)

Jingle shopping 2023 at Wabeno Elementary

Wabeno Elementary students once again participated in Jingle shopping. Students were able to shop for family and friends and support the Christian Thrift Store. This event is co-sponsored by the Wabeno Home and School Organization.
