Trinity Lutheran Church-Wabeno celebrates 125 years

Wabeno's Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church will be celebrating its 125th year. There will be four celebrations, and one has already been held. The 2nd one will be this Sunday, the 19th, with a meal in the afternoon and other festivities. Another will be on the 4th of August and there will be still another in October.

Trinity Lutheran was formed on May 16, 1899, and the first constitution was written for Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Congregation of Wabeno.

Forming a church is one thing, but having a church building is another. Wabeno was a new community in the Northwoods, and the building of the community had just started.

The first services were held in the boarding house of Schmitt & Storch. The C&NW Railroad donated land to the church in 1901, and a church was decided on. In 1903, two acres of land were donated for a cemetery. Logs for lumber for the church were donated by William Rummel, Louis Rummel, Nickalos Lenz, Adam Lenz, John Brenner and Theodore Brenner.

The first Trinity church building was located on the southeast corner of Windfall and Ogden Streets, one block northwest of the current church. The current church was built in 1916, and the old church saw other uses, including as a school building.

In 1911, they purchased the parsonage and the lots where the current church is located for $1,000, and a bell was bought from an English company in 1927.

The services were held in German until 1930, when an English service was added, and the German services were dropped in 1944.

There was no permanent pastor when the church started, and visiting pastors kept the church active. Pastor Weber of Crandon was installed to serve Wabeno in 1904, and he left his bed early and walked to Wabeno via Roberts Lake to conduct the 10 a.m. service. The first resident pastor of Wabeno was Pastor William Wadzinski, who was installed on July 9, 1911. Pastor William Kuether replaced Pastor Wadzinski in 1914 and served the parish until July of 1920.

There have been too many pastors to mention in this space, but many dedicated pastors followed. The current pastor is Pastor Michael Willetz.

Trinity Lutheran remains an important part of Wabeno life, and serves a dedicated congregation yet today, 125 years after its inception, as a needed spiritual addition to the community.

THANK YOU FROM THE CRANDON CLASS OF 2024 SPONSOR A SENIOR PROJECT

The Crandon High School Class of 2024 would like to thank everyone that helped to make the Senior banners project on main street Crandon possible. Your support and generosity to provide the senior tribute banners throughout downtown Crandon is greatly appreciated!

Wyatt Wilson, son of Chris Wilson and Jessica Foltz, said his favorite high school memories were building projects in shop and spending time with his friends.

In the past twelve years he's learned is 1) to listen to your teachers and coaches. They want nothing but to see you succeed. 2) Don't take a second of it for granted, because school really is the best years of your life.

His future plans are joining the work force in which he will be pursuing through North East Asphalt.

He would like to thank his mom, dad, grandpas, grandmas, coaches and teachers for constantly believing in him and pushing him to keep climbing.

Bryce Marshall, son of Kurt Marshall and Rebecca Marshall, said his favorite high school memories are Junior Prom, Homecoming and Tpiing with friends. Some of his accomplishments are earning college credits despite the difficulty level of the courses, as well as being his true self and portraying his real personality while also being a leader. In the past twelve years, he's learned that hard work pays off. Also, it is worth it to go above and beyond to better your future.

He is going to UW-Madison and majoring in Environmental Engineering. After earning his bachelor's degree, he plans to get experience in the field to first obtain his Professional Engineer License, and then earn his masters degree. He plans to specialize in water treatment to hopefully come up with solutions to provide clean water to places and people that do not have this basic necessity.

He would like to thank all of his teachers and family who have helped him get this far. Specifically, he would like to thank Senora Brownell, Mrs. Votis, Mrs. Bradley, Ms. Hansen, and Mrs. Klos for inspiring him to work hard and pursue his dreams.

CARTER HOUSE MUSEUM OPEN THIS SUMMER

Looking for something to do this summer? The Crandon Area Historical Society is inviting visitors and the community to the Carter House Museum. The museum will be open on Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays beginning June 12 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. through August 28. We will also be open in September for Art in the Square. Best of all, it's FREE!

The Carter House has a unique history. It is located on land originally owned by Samuel Shaw, the founder of Crandon. During its existence it has been used for church services, meetings, dances and a mission before finally becoming the home of Henry Carter.

It's a great way for visitors and the people who live here to learn about the origins of the city of Crandon, early settlers and their way of life.

The Carter House Museum is located just off Crandon's main street at 105 W Jackson St.

You can also learn more about our museum, our planned programs and the history of the Crandon area by visiting our website at www.crandonareahistory.org.

James Allen Wagoner Jr. of Argonne passed away May 7, 2024, at Marshfield Hospital in Marshfield surrounded by his loved ones. He was 58 years old.

He was born August 11, 1965, to James Sr. and Dorothy (Stanley) Wagoner in Laona. He lived several years in Milwaukee as a child but relocated to the Crandon area and had resided there ever since.

Jimmy worked for many years at Hometown Trolley as an electrician until his health deteriorated to they point he was unable to. He truly loved what he did and poured every ounce of him into his work.

He was passionate about music, playing numerous different instruments. He also played as a front man in a band. He enjoyed hunting, fishing and was an excellent gardener. His most important role in life was being a father and Papa to his grandchildren, his love for his family was unwavering. To know Jim, was to love him. His gentle, caring soul made an impact on everyone he met.

In his final days, he was able to communicate to his family and medical staff that he wanted to be an organ and tissue donor, wanting to help others in need. This wish was fulfilled, and his donation(s) will provide hope for those suffering debilitating ailments for years to come.

Survivors include his children, Kelli Wagoner, Dalton Wagoner, Jessi (Seth) Senter and Sharon (Zach Love) Wagoner; parents, James Sr. and Dorothy Wagoner; and siblings, Brian (Melissa) Wagoner, Dawn (Donnie) Wagoner, Rhonda (Dave) Hollands, and Chris (Esther) Wagoner.

Jim's family would like to thank the staff at Marshfield Medical Center Critical Care Unit who took care of him in his final days. You were all wonderful and made him feel at ease. Thank you.

Per James' request, no formal services will be held. A celebration of life will be held at a later date.

Online condolences may be directed to www.weberhillfuneralhome.com.

Letters to the Editor

We welcome letters to the Editor; however the letters should be legible, in good taste, not libelous and pertinent to current issues. Names will not be withheld upon request, except for very special circumstances. NAME AND PHONE NUMBER SHOULD BE INCLUDED FOR VERIFICATION PURPOSES. We reserve the right to reject any and all letters.

To the Editor:

What has government done for me lately? We all grumble about paying taxes but where does our tax money go? What did Wisconsin gain from the infrastructure bill that was passed two years ago? So, let's follow the money. Here's a sampling of what Wisconsin gained.

- * $2.1 billion for road and bridge construction;

- * 151 million for clean water projects to address PFAS;

- * 115.1 million for public transportation;

- * 32.1 million for ports and waterway construction;

- * $100 million for broadband development and high-speed internet;

That's just short of 2½ Billion dollars coming to Wisconsin from this infrastructure package. That's great but this is not in our neighborhood, right? It would go to southeastern Wisconsin, right? Not so fast. Here's a few of the projects in northeastern Wisconsin.

- * Medford Road Construction Project

- * Marathon Co WI-13 Road Construction project

- * North Central Pavement Markings Project (Area Wide)

- * Rhinelander WI-17, US-8 Road Construction

- * Minocqua US-51 Bridge Construction

- * Crandon to Otter Springs Road and Pathway Project

- * High speed internet project (Area Wide)

- * Wabeno WI-32 Road Construction Project

These are local construction projects with local construction companies providing jobs to local workers. Any construction workers that come from outside our local area still eat at our restaurants, stay at our motels, buy gas at our gas stations, and groceries at our stores. They support our economy in our community. We all benefit. Bringing these projects to our communities is a big deal!

This was a bipartisan infrastructure bill that was approved by Congress. But let's remember how this happened. The Trump administration talked a lot about pursuing an infrastructure bill but didn't seriously pursue it. Infrastructure was a major proposal by the Biden Administration and it was only through political negotiation with both Republicans and Democrats that these construction projects are coming to our neighborhoods. President Biden understands how government is supposed to work. Biden got results when Trump could not.

So how did our representatives vote on the infrastructure bill. Congressman Tom Tiffany and Senator Ron Johnson voted against bringing these jobs to our community. Senator Tammy Baldwin voted in favor of bringing jobs to our community. Government can work for us when we have decision makers who are willing to negotiate.

When I vote this November, I will vote for results not rhetoric.

Ron Strong

Tick Season is here

Ticks are tiny, blood-sucking parasites that can pose a significant threat to human and animal health and the early spring means the arachnids are ready to catch a ride on their next human or animal.

Ashley Johnson is a Nurse Practitioner at the Aspirus Tick-Borne Illness Center in Woodruff where they provide advanced care to diagnose, control and treat tick-borne illnesses. She says there are several types of ticks in our area.

"The first one is the wood tick. Those are the larger ticks," said Johnson. "The second one is the deer tick, which is the one that is most known for transmitting Lyme disease. And then we do have a third tick that is pretty rare, but that one is called the lone star tick. And it is starting to migrate north, but it is mainly found in the Southern States."

Aspirus saw a four percent in Lyme disease patients throughout the Aspirus system from 2022 to 2023.

In order to prevent tick bites, you want to prevent them from getting onto your skin. Some tips include:

- *Tuck your pants into your socks
 - *Wear tall boots if you're going out into the woods
 - *Use bug sprays with at least a 30 percent Deet concentration
 - *Perform daily tick checks anytime you're done spending time outside
 - *Throw your clothes in the dryer for 20 minutes on high heat which will kill any ticks that are potentially on your clothes
 - *Treat your pets, especially dogs that sleep in the beds, as they're a high risk for bringing ticks into the home
- "So, where you want to check for ticks is going to be any place that is dark, warm and cozy, so your armpits, your belt line, the groin, the hairline, behind the ears. And you want to do it immediately after you come in from any activity that is considered high risk," Johnson added. "So anytime you're in the tall grass, the woods, the fields, if you're gardening, those are all considered high risk activities for contracting a tick bite."

Removing a tick can be challenging and there are several options to extract them. Tweezers are effective and it's important that you don't squeeze the body of the tick. Place the tweezers at the head of the tick perpendicular to its body and pull straight up until it releases from the skin. Tick removal tools like the tick twister and the tick key can help to remove a tick without squeezing the body or irritating the tick.

Signs and symptoms of Lyme disease would include fever, joint pain, headaches, muscle pain, brain fog, and then also the EM (erythema multiforme) rash or a bullseye rash. "The thing to keep in mind is that you can still have Lyme disease and not develop the bullseye rash," said Johnson. "So that is a common misconception is that you have to have the bullseye rash in order to have Lyme disease."

May is National Lyme Disease Awareness Month and aims to spread awareness of how to prevent Lyme and tick-borne diseases. Anyone looking for more information on tick-borne illness care or services to treat tick-borne illnesses can visit the Aspirus website.

WABENO SANITARY DISTRICT NO. 1
CUSTOMERS HYDRANT FLUSHING
MAY 21-22, 2024

We will be flushing the fire hydrants on May 21 through 22 nd, 2024.

You may wish to draw water prior to our flushing dates and refrigerate it for drinking purposes.

During the flushing period your tap water can become discolored. Should you experience discoloration, please flush your water tap until the water runs clear.

Hydrant flushing improves water quality. Should you be interested, we invite you to observe the change in the initial, intermediate and final water quality from the hydrant during flushing. Hydrant flushing can increase water pressure, remove discolored water from the system and increase fire-fighting ability in various parts of our system. This exercise flushes pockets of stagnated water out of the water supply system and improves water quality not only in color, odor and taste. It can also remove harmful constituents before they are able to develop.

Thank you in advance for your patience during this time period. Should you have any concerns, we ask that you feel free to contract our office at 715-473-2905.

Mission Statement: "To provide safe high quality drinking water and maintain an environmentally safe wastewater treatment system ensuring pride in our community where we work and play..."

For Old Times Sake

These two buildings are still in use in Crandon today. The gas station is now a living quarters, as is the restaurant on the left. Some will remember the station as the Marsh station and most will remember when Mel Statezny ran the station and the repair shop in the back. The other building has been a number of things through the years from a barbershop to a gift shop, and for years as an apartment.

When you are coming into town on U.S. 8 from the west, these two buildings are on your right when you turn south to go down Crandon's main street, or Lake Avenue.

Wabeno and McCaslin Lions Host 70th Annual Senior Banquet

On May 8, 2024, the Wabeno and McCaslin Lions were honored to host the 70th Wabeno High School Senior Banquet. Wabeno Lion Al Harrison was head organizer, while Wabeno Lion President Paul Newton and Lion Gregg Tallier presented plaques and kept the program running smoothly. The "Pledge of Allegiance" started the program.

The Lion sponsored event was catered by Cassidy's Cafe. The dinner was held in the Wabeno High School gymnasium, and the program presented in the Nancy Volk Auditorium. Nancy was a Wabeno High School English teacher, drama director, and member of the Wabeno Lions Club.

The featured speaker was Brittany Schaefer, a 2007 Wabeno High School graduate and the daughter of Mike and Shelly Boney. Brittany earned her degree in nursing from UW-Eau Claire in 2012. She obtained a job with Aurora Health Care in Green Bay, and she is currently a Diabetic Care and Education Specialist. She helps diabetic patients live longer, healthier lives by empowering them with the knowledge to make informed decisions.

Brittany had some great life information to share with the Class of 2024 and the rest of the audience. These life suggestions included: use the support of the team around you; challenge yourself; make an impact on the world; and "wear sunscreen". She started and ended her presentation by pointing out three guideposts for a productive life: accountability; responsibility; and teamwork. Thank you, Brittany! You gave us all some great suggestions for becoming better people. Brittany received a plaque and flowers from the Lions.

Started by Terry Beining over 20 years ago, the Terry J. Beining Service Award (renamed to honor Mr. Beining in 2022) was presented to Lauren Harris. This award recognizes a senior for her/his donation of time and talent during her/his high school career. The Terry J. Beining Service Award honors a WHS senior who exemplifies the Lion motto, "We Serve". Donations of time and help to those who are in need is a quality that deserves special recognition. Lauren's service throughout her high school years included caring for a family member following numerous surgeries, helping animals, and cleaning up litter throughout Wabeno.

When asked what volunteering meant to her, Lauren stated, "I believe that volunteer work is a form of caring for the world around us. It is a way to spread love, whether it is to family, friends, strangers, animals, or the environment". Thank you, Lauren. A plaque was presented to Lauren recognizing her service to family and community.

The 70th Annual Senior Banquet concluded with Senior Class President Brian Sears introducing the members of Wabeno High School Class of 2024. Brian also thanked the Lions and 2024 class advisors, Mr. Colin Schubert and Ms. Katie Pintsch. He gave special thanks and recognition to Vice-President Allisia Cisneros Tuckwab for organizing and managing many class activities. Other class officers are Secretary Lawton Webb and Treasurer Sarah Gouge. Photos were taken, and the singing of "God Bless America" closed the evening.

The Wabeno and McCaslin Lions thank all who attended and participated in the celebration of the Wabeno High School Class of 2024. The Lions wish the class members luck and success in their futures.

ultimate environmental science competition. Teams of four or five students take on hands-on, outdoor field exams thoughtfully designed by natural resources professionals and educators.

These innovative challenges allow students to apply their knowledge beyond the classroom. "Envirothon was a valuable learning experience, by teaching me hands-on skills that helped me explore different career paths and work together as a team to solve a current world problem," said Riley Huth, Bay Port High School FFA student.

Despite windy conditions, student teams rotated through four outdoor testing stations: Aquatic Ecology, Forestry, Soils/Land Use, and Wildlife.

At the Forestry station, students utilized specialized tools to identify tree species and precisely measure diameters. The Soils/Land Use area required teams to evaluate the soil properties that impact engineering and agricultural decisions.

The Aquatic Ecology station tested students' ability to identify aquatic invertebrates and recognize threats to our local waterways. For the Wildlife station, competitors analyzed animal pelts and habitat restoration practices, showcasing their wildlife knowledge. Alongside the immersive outdoor tests, students spent three weeks researching and preparing presentations on a current environmental issue with local relevance. This year's topic was Renewable Energy for a Sustainable Future. The Current Issue presentation blends core knowledge with critical thinking skills, allowing teams to analyze and articulate solutions to this pressing real-world concern.

Kim Warkentin, WI Land+Water Youth Education Director, noted that this year's event featured 18 competing teams, with six of those teams being first-time participants. "We're always excited to welcome back returning schools because Envirothon is such a dynamic and one-of-a-kind competition with something new to offer each year," said Warkentin.

"We also had six teams who were new to the competition, and one of those teams took home the top prize," added Warkentin.

Cedarburg High School first time competitors at Envirothon earned the title of Overall Winner in High School competition. Their team will represent Wisconsin at the National Conservation Foundation Envirothon, which will take place on July 28-August 3, 2024 at Hobart and William Smith Colleges in Geneva, New York.

"Envirothon has been a wonderful way for Cedarburg High School students to explore the many careers associated with Natural Resources and gain invaluable skills most don't earn until college," said Katie Schlicht, Cedarburg High Science Teacher and Environmental Club Co-Advisor. "Witnessing the hard work and dedication our team had this year and the amount of joy their accomplishment created is something I will never forget."

These teams won first place in the following categories:

- Aquatic Ecology:
 - High School Ladysmith High School
 - Middle School Red Smith Middle School
- Forestry:
 - High School - Ladysmith High School
 - Middle School Fox River Academy Middle School FFA

The Wisconsin Envirothon is made possible by many generous volunteers, natural resource professionals, and educators. The event also relies on financial support of agency partners, county conservation departments, and organizations and businesses that are dedicated to conservation.

Wabeno and McCaslin Lions Celebrate Spring by Donating to Wabeno Elementary Book Fair

Each year, the Wabeno and McCaslin Lions help support the Wabeno Elementary Book Fair. Wabeno Lion Cheryl Ehlinger presented a $1500 check to Reading Specialist Laurie Christianson, on behalf of the Wabeno Lions, for the Book Fair. This event is held annually for 4-K through 5th graders.

The Book Fair, sponsored by Scholastic, was Friday, May 3. It consisted of several book displays featuring various reading levels. The Book Fair books were offered at a special rate of two books for the price of one. Each student from 4-K through 5th grade was allowed to choose her/his own book from the display cases, and the order was placed with Scholastic.

On Friday, May 10, the books were distributed to the students by Wabeno Lions Carla VanCamp, Paul Newton, Clare Huisman, and Gerianne Whitney. Photos were taken by Reading Specialist Laurie Christianson. She also had the books sorted and personally identified for each classroom. It was rewarding to see the looks on students' faces as they received their personally chosen books. The Lions received thank you cards from each classroom. These cards will be shared at the next Lions' meetings. It was a great day for all involved.

For Old Times Sake

Railroads made it possible for small northern sawmill towns to exist. The rails not only brought food, clothes and other necessities, but made it possible for lumber cut at the local sawmill to get to market. This photo is of the Chicago & Northwestern depot that sat in Crandon's northwest corner. It was on that angle street that goes from the old Himes Lumber Company to Hwy 8. It is called Railroad Lane yet today, but this area is full of houses now.

The C&NW line was a spur that was built from Pelican Lake to Crandon. It enabled the Page & Landeck sawmill to be built, as there was a way to get the lumber to market. It tripled the size of Crandon in a few years from about 800 people to around 2,400 people.

People celebrated when the first train came to town and Crandon was connected to the outside world with a railroad. This was in 1901. This photo was taken in 1940 according to an inscription on the back of the photo. But, the love affair didn't last long. There were increases of rates and other things that made people angry. Soon, another railroad was started in Crandon called the Wisconsin Northern. The first construction was a line to Argonne to connect with the Soo Line that had been there awhile and ran east and west. After that, the construction was south eventually connecting to Neenah.

The C&NW ran into the fifties we think, and eventually the line was closed. Oliver Morella tore down the depot and used the lumber in a construction project. It was gone but it did its job connecting us to the rest of the world with a steam engine.

Crandon Senior Spotlights - Caden Palubicki

Caden Palubicki, son of Chad and Sara Palubicki, said his best high school memories were being able to play two years of high school sports with his brother.

Some things he's learned over the past twelve years are to never take anything for granted, and never give up on yourself.

His future plans are to attend UW-River Falls to play baseball and study exercise and sports science.

He would like to thank both of his parents for always pushing him to be his best, his brother for always being by his side and all of his family and friends for supporting him.

Resch Brownell has instilled a love of learning about other cultures and the world among students. She helped bring the Global Scholars Program to Crandon High School, through which students learn about the world, explore diverse perspectives, engage in intercultural communication, and collaborate to address global issues. Global Scholars in Crandon have embraced this learning through student-led book and film clubs focused on world issues.

"Ms. Resch Brownell exemplifies what it means to be a quality educator and a positive influence in the lives of not only her students, but those around her," State Superintendent Dr. Jill Underly said. "From helping her students learn about the world and diverse experiences in unique ways, to going out of her way to create opportunities for colleagues and the surrounding community to grow as individuals, Ms. Resch Brownell is so deserving of this honor. I congratulate her on being named the Global Educator of the Year."

In addition to helping students understand other cultures and languages through field trips and virtual exchange, Resch Brownell created a Global Learning Guide for staff, and sustains lifelong learning through travel and professional development. She also welcomes Indigenous leaders into the school to share their culture with the school community and inspires students to continue global learning into college. As this year's Global Educator of the Year, Resch Brownell will receive a Council on International Educational Exchange scholarship to represent Wisconsin on a visit to a site.

The Global Educator of the Year Award recognizes outstanding educators who have succeeded in providing high-quality learning experiences and opportunities for students in global education. Visit the DPI's website for more about the Global Educator of the Year Award program and the selection process.

National Day of Prayer held in Townsend

A program for the National Day of Prayer was held at the Townsend Town Hall on a very rainy May 2. The program included presentation of the colors, the Pledge of Allegiance, the National Anthem, and prayers offered by pastors or other representatives of five different church denominations and civic leaders from local towns. Music was provided by the F.L.P.P.C. Praise Band.

The most common comment from those in attendance was that it was so uplifting to see all the different churches come together in such an uplifting event!
